A LARGE FAMILY OF BEGGARS.

Dependent Upon Chance Charity and Reighborly Kindness.

THE PATHER PLACED UNDER ARREST

Last Saturday evening Agent George Adams, of the Humane Society, was strolling about the streets of Allegheny when he was accosted on Federal street by a pale little boy, clad in dirty and ragged gar-black, frame house, three stories high, where the boy entered a harrow and dark doorway leading to a rickety stairs. "You go ahead," said the agent, "and show me the way." The boy led him up a dark, dirty passage, with several turnings, until he reached an open door, and entered a room bare of carpet, with only a few pieces of cheap furniture, where a woman in a dirty gown sat in an old rocking chair holding a baby 16 months old. There were four other children standing or sitting about, the eldest being a boy of 13 years. Agent Mc-Donald sat down carefully and began to question the woman about herself and her family. Yes, she had a husband, but he did not work. She was not able to work, for she expected that the seventh would be added soon to her family. She did not quote Wadsworth's tender poem, "We are Seven," but a few tears trickled down her cheeks which recited many poems of human The Husband's Story of Poverty.

Just then the husband and father burst into the room. He was not sober, his face was red and his clothes were miserable. He was angry when he saw the visitor and raved about taking care of his own house. but Agent Adams told of his authority and ordered the man to sit down and keep quiet. The order was obeyed, and the story was then down from the husband and wife.

His ... me was Charles Fette. He used to work when he was young, but he had not done anything for many years. He confessed that he did not like to work; he was too tired. He had acquired a love for drink and he could do nothing else. He had sent his children out to beg, and thus enough of money was secured to save the family from actual starvation. Most of the coin, however, went to a speak-easy near at band, and neighbors helped out a little on the food. As the agent looked on the puny with their countries with their contributions. children, with their gaunt eyes, hollow cheeks and dirty faces and rags, his heart went out to them. Poor little things, flowers of innocence, suffering without any fault of their own, from the curse of rum. The eldest boy had work in a shop last spring which brought in a few dollars, but that aid was now lost, and he, too, had been added to the list of child beggars.

Criminal Proceedings Instituted. On Monday the agent visited the neigh-On Monday the agent visited the neighborhood and made inquiries. He learned that on the preceding day the only food the family had was a bucket of somp given by one of the neighbors. The little boy of 7 had, however, contributed to the family's sustenance by getting 10 cents worth of beer from the adjacent speak-easy. The father feared that he would be refused and he had sent his innonent child.

he had sent his innocent child.

Yesterday afternoon Agent Adams went before Mayor Kennedy and made an infornation against Charles Fette, charging him with neglecting his children. The man was arrested and taken to the lockup, where he spent the night, thirsty. He will be arraigned before Mayor Kennedy at 10 o'clock this forenoon, at which hour his wife was notified to appear as a witness. The children will be placed in some comfortable

When Mr. Adams had related his story When Mr. Adams had related his story to Mayor Kennedy, the Mayor expressed surprise that there were such cases of poverty in Allegheny. "Why," said the agent, "last week I found six people living in one room. They slept on straw on the floor, and all were in such tawdry rags that they were half naked. They were, in fact, so destitute of clothing that I was almost ashamed to take them through the streets. ashamed to take them through the streets in the patrol wagon. I put my rubber overcoat around the girl to cover her form until we reached the station house. These are scenes which we see weekly, sometimes daily, in these rich cities."

Troublesome Boys Arrested.

O. F. Mills, special officer for the Juncion Railroad, entered suit yesterday before Alderman Warner charging J. Seibert, Joseph Hilliard, James Hanna, John Thurkle and John Rigmore, boys ranging from 12 to 16 years in age, with malicious trespass. He alleges that the boys are in the habit of stealing coal, iron coupling pins and other articles from the road, and if they found an unguarded caboose they would go through it and steal anything of value they found. The boys were held for a bearing Saturday.

Caught Robbing a Hotel.

Joseph Moore, 24 years old, who claims to hail from the Southside, was caught robbing the Hotel Albion yesterday afternoon. One of the employes observed Moore coming out of a room and chased him down stairs. The thief sought refuge in the cellar, where he was captured by Officer Connelly. When searched at the station a gold watch and chain, a pair of cuff buttons and other goods stolen from the room were found on his person.

If you have children you will be interested in the experience of Mr. John Cook, of Pilot, Vermilion county, Ill. He says: "Two years ago two of my family, a young man and a girl, had very severe and dangerous attacks of bloody flux. The doctor here was unable, after a week's time, to check or allows either case. I threw the doctor relieve either case. I threw the doctor overboard and began using Chamberlain's Colie, Cholera and Diarrhosa Remedy. Improvement was seen very soon and my chil-dren arose in a few days from what I feared would be their death-bed. It is a grand, good medicine."

IT IS HOBSON'S CHOICE.

Senator Teller Says a Free Silver Democ Would Have Carried Several Western States-Re Is in Sympathy With the limited last evening going home. He was one of the leading anti-Harrison men, but since Cleveland was nominated he has be since Cleveland was nominated he has become passive, but not reconciled. Free silver is his hobby, and he says it is only a question of time until a bill is passed.

"The fact is," he said, "there is not much enthusiasm anywhere for Harrison. If Blaine had been the candidate, the people would be awake all over the country. As between Harrison and Cleveland it is Hobson's choice for the free silver men. We can't help ourselves now and I suppose our people will adhere to party. Cleveland is even more pronounced against silver than the President. If the Democrats had nominated a free silver man, they would have carried ments, who begged for a few pennies to buy bread. Mr. Adams asked the child why he was begging in the street. "I haf to, Mister," he said, "we aint got nothin' to eat to home."

"Show me your home and we will see," said the agent, and the little starveling led the way toward Main street, where many of the poor of the Fourth ward have their quarters. They came to an old, almost black, frame house, three stories high.

The Senator asked the direction of Home-The Senator asked the direction of Home-stead, and then he said: "My sympathics are always with the workmen. I see the firm is charging some of the men with murder. My opinion is that the workers are in a position to turn the tables. The company, by sending armed guards to their works, incited the riot, and are directly responsible. It is not fair to blame the tariff for the outbreak. I have always voted for protection on the ground always voted for protection on the ground that it maintains wages, and if I didn't think the system had this effect, I would never advocate it again. The time has come in this country when capital is able to take care of itself. It is the workmen that we must protect. the workmen that we must protect. I don't blame them for organizing and insisting on their share of the profits. It is their right. The Pinkertons should be suppressed by

DOCTOR AND JEWELER. They Occupy the Same Cell and Help One

A jeweler and a doctor occupied the same cell in the Allegheny lockup yesterday for several hours. The doctor was Samuel Anderson, of 22 Western avenue, who was charged with disorderly conduct. A few days ago M. J. Slattery, of 164 Jackson street, Allegheny, met Anderson and said that Anderson had insulted Mrs. Slattery on the street, but that if the doctor would apologize all would be forgiven. Anderson failed to make the spology, and when Slattery met him yesterday in front of the City Hall he sailed into the doctor and gave him a black eye and several loose teeth. Detective Aiken arrested both men, and Slattery deposited a forfeit to appear this forenoon. Shortly afterward Samuel Harowitz, who keeps a jewelry store at 183 Federal street, was brought in and locked up with Ander-son. Joseph Crawford alleged that he had taken a watch to Harowitz for repairs, receiving meanwhile a cheap watch to carry, and that when he went yesterday to get his good watch, the jeweler failed to deliver it. He accused the jeweler of deliver it. He accused the jeweler of larceny as bailee.

Harowitz and Anderson apparently put their heads together, After three hours E. T. Cooper, Anderson's father-in-law, appeared and signed a bail bond for Harowitz. The jeweler hurried to his store, and having gathered up some cash, returned to go ball for Anderson. His scheme of reciprocity was defeated, however, for in the brief interval a druggist ever, for in the brief interval a druggist friend of Anderson had appeared and secured his release. There may be some interesting testimony at the Anderson-Slattery hearing this morning.

THE PERRYSVILLE ROBBERY.

The Third Man Arrested and the Fourth Will Appear To-Day,

The third man accused of complicity in the assault and robbery on Perrysville avenue last Sunday evening, Charles Smith, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Kornman and Patrolman Shume at the electric machinery shop of R. D. Nuttall & electric machinery shop of R. D. Nuttall & Co., on Grant avenue, Alleghenv. Smith is well known and has had a fair reputation. He is only 19 years old. A fourth man, Lally, is also wanted. He has been working at Nuttall's shop, and Smith promised to have him at the hearing this morning before Mayor Kennedy.

Smith says that the only part he took in the assault on Blumer, Lutzinger and Nagle was to try to stop the affair. Several times, he says, he drew Gildernew away, but that ferocious young man returned to the attack.

ferocious young man returned to the attack. It was Gildernew, Smith says, who took Blumer's watch and afterward threw it in a ditch. Smith got the chain and returned it to Blumer. Smith says that Gildernew and Thompson were drunk when they made the attack.

loarding School for Boys, Preparing Them for College or Business. Home school, Military, limited number, refined surroundings, healthful location, spacious and beautiful grounds.

From the Rev. R. W. Grange, Pittsburg, Pa.:

'I take pleasure in saying a word or two in cordial recommendation of Trinity Hall. As one of its patrons for the past three years, I have been deeply interested, of course. I have seen the school life and have looked into the course of study and the methods of teaching. All these are very antisfactory. I have seen too, that the care is kindly, the food excellent, and the discipline administered with rare good sense and judgment. Trinity Hall, to my mind, is the most 'home-like' of any school I ever saw.'
