unpleasant habit of walking all over the necks of the haughty Bean Esters. To-day's game illustrated the uncertainties of baseball. The Bostons started in at a winning gait, scored three runs without half trying. Then they sat down to rest. That is where they made a mistake, for Tom Burns had prepared some adhesive plaster with which he adorned the fullness of the trousers worn by the Bean Esters. The longer they rested, the closer the plaster stuck and when they took alarm at the ter stuck and when they took alarm at the spurt made by the Strikers, they essayed to rise, but could not. The shooters were classified as "experts," who shot from un-known traps and at unknown angles; "semi-experts," who shot from known traps at un-known angles, and "amsteurs," who shot from known traps at known angles. The shooting was managed by John Parker, of Detroit, Mich., and James R. Malone, of the Baltimore Gun Club. The great event-a ten-man team-will be shot today. Headaches!

Miller. In the next inning, after two men were out, Long and Bennett hit safely, and the former scored on the latter's hit, after stealing second base. That run was the last that Boston made during the game. They came within an ace of scoring in the sixth inning, but a phenomenal throw from center field by Joe Kelly shut out Nash at the plate.

But the Pittsburgs had no idea of crying quits just because the Bostons had a lead of three runs. In the fourth inning, with Beckley out of the way, Smith hit to center, took second on a passed ball, third on a wild pitch, and scored on Ehret's drive to left field. Then there was a lull in the seoring until the eight inning, when Pitts-burg tied the score. Shugart fell an easy victim to Nash and Tucker.

Two Very Timely Thumps.

Beckley drove the ball past Long and was safe. Then Smith, who had already done his share of the batting, came to the front with a beautiful home run drive over front with a beautiful home run drive over the right field fence. It was such a long hit that the crowd forgot all about the deadly consequences and cheered the bats-man as be ambled around the bases and tied the score. Charley Farrell kept the ball rolling with another single, but Joe Kelly struck out and Ehret closed the inning by forcing Farrell to second. Miller was given his base and was advanced to second by Donovan's sacrifice in the ninth. Bierbaue gave Long a chance, but that player threw wildly and before the ball was recovered little Miller had crosed the plate and Bierbauer was on second. Shugart fouled out to Tucker and Beckley made his third hit of the game, a hot liner to center, but Bier-bauer only reached third on it and was left there, but Miller's run was sufficient, for the Bostons were retired in order in their half. KING STILL HERR.

The New York Pitcher Explains One or Two Baseball Matters.

Charley King, the pitcher of the New York club, is still in the city. During a conversa-tion yesterday he said that his salary had been reduced $750, and that the club wanted him to suffer a reduction of $1,000. To this he him to suffer a reduction of $1,000. To this he emphatically objected and the compromise on $750 was agreed on. He added: "I have been sick; that is why I am not with the club. I wired Manager Powers last evening that I am now ready for work, but I have not heard from him. If a deal is made for me to go to Cincinnati and Mullane to go to New York I will be very well astisfied. Oh yes! I was fleed $100 and several other fines were imposed, but none have gone yet. I suppose the $100 has to go, though." King thought that the New York club had made a great mistake in letting Gore go. King also thinks that Crane and Rusie are two great plichers with good support.

ABOUT THE PACERS.

Allan Lowe Has Something to Say Regard ing Rebus and Joe Jett.

Allan Lowe, the Eastern turf writer, has the following to say about the race won by Rebus at Point Breeze:

The greatest races of the week, so far as bitter contests faces of the week, so far as bitter contests are concerned, were in the pacing classes, and especially in the Bing-ham stake, where Rebus got a mark of 2:15%, and won after 'six heats had been fought out. He proved himself a great horse, an will now get a chance to show his ability out. He proved minself a great horse, and will now get a chance to show his ability, for he has passed into the hands of Ed Odell, one of the best pacing horse drivers, in the country. Rebus has been driven by so many that it ought to do him good to be handled by one man, and a most capable one at that. In this race Linden proved himself a rare good horse, and though Phelps seemed to be having all the hard spots to get, still his horse lost none of his frience by the gallant struggle that ended in his defeat. There was another horse in that race that will go phenomenally fast some day. That was Joe Jett, a 4-year-old (inte foai) by Billy Wilkes. He was handled by a great team-ster in Charley Forth, who beat a lot of older horses by clever driving and a clear head. This is the man who handles Bud Onward, which used to be owned by George Bixby, of Boston, and he showed that few can steer a side wheeler any better.

Another Millionaire Turfite

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.-Ex-Senator James G. Fair, it is said, is soon to become a turf patron on a large scale, and in addition he is said to be negotiating for a site close to San Francisco, on which he will establish race course equal in equipment and modern race course equal in equipment and modern improvements to anything the country boasts outside the few great tracks about Chicago and New York. Fair's interest in racing grows ont of his son's recent ventures in high-priced horse flesh. He will put up a training stable and track on a large ranch near here, where the dozen or more young-sters now owned by young Fair will be quartered and prepared for work.
