

FIGHTING FOR LIFE.

The Schenley Park and Highland Railway Company Asserts

IT IS STILL A LIVING REALITY.

Wants Chief Bigelow Restrained From Interfering With It.

THE NEWS OF THE COUNTY COURTS

Attorneys Knox & Reed yesterday filed a bill in equity in behalf of the Schenley Park and Highland Railway Company against the city of Pittsburgh and E. M. Bigelow, Chief of the Department of Public Works. The plaintiff company states that it is the successor to the Squirrel Hill Railway Company, which became insolvent and sold its line to the plaintiff. The line runs from Forbes and Duquesne streets, Fourteenth ward, to a point near the Colfax schoolhouse, in the Twenty-second ward, and $85,000 was expended by the Squirrel Hill Company in the construction of the line, $49,000 of which was in the grading, filling, etc., of streets. Owing to neglect, etc., there were washouts and slides along the line, necessitating considerable repair work, and since the purchase the plaintiff company has expended $18,000 for that.

The city has awarded to Booth & Finlin the contract for grading and paving with asphaltum, Woodlawn avenue, formerly French and Joncaire streets, from Forbes street south to the steel entrance to Schenley Park. The contractors have made a change in the former grade of the street, and in several places have lifted the tracks of the plaintiff.

Chief Bigelow, it is asserted, says the company has no right to lay its tracks and maintain a railway, claiming that it had forfeited its rights by not having completed its work within 18 months of the passage of the ordinance granting a right of way to the Squirrel Hill Company, such a provision being in the ordinance. In consequence he threatens to take up their tracks and won't allow them to relay the rails on Woodlawn avenue. The plaintiff company claims it has not forfeited its rights, but that the road was completed within the specified time, and that the work to be done now is repair work.

It is also claimed that Chief Bigelow has in many ways admitted the rights of the plaintiff company, and that it has been in operation for some time. They desire to relay their tracks in accordance with the altered grade on the street in question, and ask that the city and Chief Bigelow be enjoined from interfering with them, and from tearing up their tracks or hindering the operation of the line. Judge Ewing granted a preliminary injunction until further order of court.

OBJECT TO THE TRUST.

The Wife and Daughters of a Hoboken Man Contest His Will.

There was a further hearing yesterday before Register Connor in the contested will case of John Ballantine, late of Hoboken. The principal objection to the will is that it provides for a trust extending beyond the lives of his immediate heirs, in that it makes the Fidelity Title and Trust Company the trustee of the estate, giving the wife and children an interest only until their death, when it goes to the grandchildren.

The wife and two daughters—Mrs. Mary B. Montgomerie, Anne E. Ballantine and Hattie Dunbar, the latter a child raised by the family, who is also provided for on an equality with the daughters, all join in the protest on the ground that the deceased was of unsound mind when the will was made.

CLAIMS HE WAS COUNTED OUT.

William Eberhart Wants to Be Recognized as a P. A. & M. Director.

An argument was heard before Judge Ewing yesterday on the application of William Eberhart for a writ of quo warranto to compel the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Manchester Traction Company to recognize him as a legally elected director of the company. He claimed to have had enough votes to elect him, but that the judge of election threw them out. The defendants contended that the votes thrown out were cast by those who held stock as trustees, and who had no right as such to cast the votes.

Major A. M. Brown argued for the plaintiff, and F. M. Magee and A. M. Nepper for the defendant company and its officers. A decision was reserved.

Says He Was Falsely Accused.

Charles F. Parker yesterday entered suit against Samuel F. O'Brien, James Kelly and Margaret Kelly for $1,000 damages for alleged malicious prosecution. He asserts that on June 18, 1892, the defendants conspired together to injure him. As a result, they caused an information to be lodged against him before "Squire Baird," of Sharsburg, charging him with cruelty to animals. He was arrested, but upon a hearing was discharged and now wants damages.

Wants $5,000 for False Arrest.

Thomas A. Watson yesterday entered suit against S. B. Davis for $5,000 damages for alleged malicious prosecution. Watson alleges that on April 23, 1892, at McKeesport, Davis, intending to injure him and deprive him of his good name, made an information against him before Alderman Skelley, charging him with fraudulently altering a written instrument. It was arrested, indicted, tried for forgery and acquitted, and now wants $5,000 damages.

River Boats Labeled.

In the United States District Court yesterday ten intervening bills for work and supplies were filed by various persons against the boats of the Tennessee River Navigation Company.

Taking a Trip to Europe.

Deputy District Attorney Goehring will leave to-day for an extended trip through Europe. He will be back in time for the opening of the Criminal Court the first week in September.

When the mucous surfaces of the Bronchia are sore and inflamed, Dr. D. Jayne's Expecto-rant will afford prompt relief. For breaking up a cold or subduing a cough you will find it a certain remedy.

Take Good Care of the Children.

If you have children you will be interested in the experience of Mr. John Cook, of Pilot, Vermilion county, Ill. He says: "Two years ago two of my family, a young man and a girl, had very severe and dangerous attacks of bloody flux. The doctor here was unable, after a week's time, to check or relieve either case. I threw the doctor overboard and began using Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Improvement was seen very soon and my children arose in a few days from what I feared would be their death-bed. It is a grand, good medicine." J. W. H. S.

OUT OF MORGANZA.

Secretary Dorente Endeavoring to Secure the Release of an Unfortunate Boy—Hard Times Experienced by Motherless Children—The Case Being Investigated.

Secretary Dorente, of the Anti-Cruelty Society, has made application to the Board of Managers of the Reform School to secure the release of Russell Zollinger, who was, it is alleged, surreptitiously committed to that institution by his father. The lad is about 16 years of age, and is subject to falling fits, superinduced by an injury to the head received some years ago. Zollinger is a son-in-law of Andrew Moon, and since the death of his wife, Mr. Moon and other relatives have had charge of Zollinger's children. The boy Russell for a time lived with Mr. Zollinger's sister, who wanted his father to provide for him. Zollinger recently married again, and his wife and the step-son failed to agree. The boy ran away from home and would be gone weeks, making his way over the country after the manner of a tramp.

Mr. Zollinger, it is claimed, failed to support any of his children, particularly the boy named, and complaint was made to the anti-cruelty societies. Zollinger was sued before Alderman Kerr and fined, the Alderman saying the testimony developed showed most shocking neglect on the part of the father. All the children were placed in the care of the anti-cruelty societies, and the boy Russell placed in the care of his father, who was told that he must provide for him. In the course of a couple of weeks Zollinger complained that the boy was uncontrollable, and was told the matter would be looked into. Action was not taken soon enough to suit Mr. Zollinger and a neighbor went before Alderman Leslie, and upon their oaths the boy was sent to Morganza. In the meantime Mrs. John Shaner, an aunt of the boy, made arrangements to have him admitted to the hospital, for the purpose of having an operation performed on his head, to cure his falling fits, and when a messenger was sent after the boy he could not be found. Mr. Zollinger refused to tell where the boy was, saying he had him cared for, and not paying for him. It was discovered that the boy was in Morganza, and application was made to the Board of Managers.
