Since Thursday, the Pittsburg cyclers at the National Wheelmen's meet have been straggling homeward. Some of them shook the dust of Washington from their clothes before the last run was completed and reached this city early Thursday morning, while others took their time and a few will not be here until this week. Each has the same tale to tell, of a most successful meeting, of delightful runs and royal entertainments and every one was exhausted when the time came to break away from the pleasant surroundings. Several who had intended to come back by way of the roads were so tired that they concluded to forego mountain scenery and the delights of a run across the country, for the more rapid and easier means of transit. the cars. Some of these gentlemen st they took in everything there was to be the Allegheny Cyclers and the Keystone Wheelmen Associations kept together, elected C. H. Petticord captain, and repre-sented Allegheny county in an admirable manner. As one of them says, they cer-tainly gave the people at the meet good reason to suppose that the wheelmen in this inity are a lively set of people. They all came back covered with badges, their pockets tull of mementoes and sun browned faces that tell of the great and joyous out-ing that has passed into history as the best on record.

The East End Gyms has gone out of existence, that is, the members have decided to change the name of their organization to the Pittsburg Athletic Club. This -tas done to a special meeting of the association held for the phipose of making radical changes in the constitution and bylaws early in the week. Pennsylvania produces some wonderful marksmen with the shotgan, men who are the equals of any of the professionals. The recent international shoot in London demonstrated that fact, for in Charles Macalester and H. Yale Dolan, of the Philadelphia Gun Club, the Englishmen met more than their match. Both carried away prizes valued at about $5,000. The Interna-tional cup was won by Mr. Oakleigh Thorne, of the Westminster Gun Club. Oakleigh At Lewisburg, this State, there also re-sides an amateur expert with the gun, Mr. Coleman K. Sober. He is a wealthy and prosperous lumberman—at the head of one the yield in everything there was to be seen, and if they had attempted the journey over the mountains, they might have been tempted to stay away altogether or for a longer time than their business would permit. The cyclers from this part of the country took a prominent part in the proceedings at the meet. About 25 of them, members of the Allerdenv Carlers and the Kayston 1888, 47; 1886, 117; 1886, 108; 1887, 40; 1888, 47; 1888, 47;

At the trap he is wonderfully expert and performs over 100 feats with the shotgun. He shoets from either shoulder with the greatest accuracy, breaks glass balls, etc., with coats tied around the barrels of his gun or with the muzzle of his gun thrust through objects ranging in size from a cigar box to a flour barrel. In 84 shots with these obstacles in his road he missed but four times.

Arrangements have been perfected by the Board of Managers of the Washington, Pa., Young Men's Christian Association, by which a field day will be held in that place during the coming tall. It is the intention to place upon the programme the Allegheny, McKeesport and Wheeling will e permitted to enter.

A Skipper Makes His Solitary Way From Alaska to the Golden State. SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.-Captain F.

Vehling has arrived here, the captain, pilot and crew of the little steam launch Kussiloff, from Alaska. Years ago the launch Kusiloff was sunk off Karluk, Alaska. Vehling bought the boat for a triffing sum, and early this season, after providing her with schooner rigging, shipped's crew and prepared for a trading trip among the Indiana. One day Vehling allowed his men to go ashore at Karluk. About noon a heavy wind came up and the vessel broke he cable and drifted out to sea. Vehling made the best of the situation and steered the boat out to sea. By dusk the Kussiloff was wind blew a gale. Vehling stood by the helm and scudded under bare poles. Next morning the wind changed and blew him toward the San Juan Archipelago. The captain saw it was impossible to make Karluk and turned the bow of the boat toward San Francisco. At night Captain Vehling would shorten sail a bit, tie his rudder and go to sleep in the cabin. He cooked his own meals, manned his own boat and was king and captain of all he looked upon. The Kussi-loff proved herself an excellent sailor. Early this morning Captain Vehling got in sight of the Heads. He was not able, however, to get his craft into the Golden Gate. He signaled for help, and the schooner Kodiak, which happened to be coming in, took the Kussiloff in tow and brought her into the harbor, where she anchored in the stream. hored in the stream.

When the pores open freely, is the time of all others to cure heat humors, itching and burning eczemas, scaly and blotchy eruptions, and every species of torturing and disfiguring skin and scalp diseases, with loss of hair. At no other time are the celebrated Cuticura Remedies so speedy, effective, and economical.

My little girl was troubled with itch-ing, burning sores. Doctor called it Italian Itch. He doctored her three months, did not do her any good. Every part of her person was covered with gores, excepting head. After the-ing CUTICURA REMEMENTS two weeks the itch stopped, and in four weeks the sores ware all gone. CHARLES M. took a leading part in athletic affairs of the city, they labored under a disadvantage in expecting one man or one set of ma to do too much. There are several different special lines of athletics is which the members are interested. For instance, there is a wheelmen's division; another clique play tennis; others give their sole attention to field events; and there are in project mandolin clubs, etc., all of which have to be provided for. It was too much expect one man or one committee to keep things moving in each branch, and the constitution and bylaws have been so changed as to provide for the appointment of committees for each specialty. These committees will supervise the arrangement of events and keep the interest of the mem-bers, which had begun to flag, at fever heat.

Only two cities have made any pretensions for bidding for the annual championship meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union. Worcester, Mass., wants the championship held there and the Manhattan Athletic Club, of New York, has also put in n plea for it. There is no reason why Pittsburg's associations should not make a bid for the event. The city is centrally lo-cated and therefore more likely to draw talent from the West than either of the cities named. The trouble seems to be that the athletic associations here are too modest. They seem to think that they could not comnete with the Eastern associations in making a bid for the meeting, and in conse quence they have not tried. A bid should be put in any way, and even if Pittaburg does not get the meet this year it may suc coed all the better next season for having made a ciain at this time.

The Cornopolis Lawn Tennis Club will hold an invitation tournament at Coraopolis on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, between the hours of 2 and 7 each afternoon. Entries will be received and first and second prizes awarded in both singles and doubles, and those defeated in the preliminary round by the winners in the finals will have the right to play the runners up for second prize. All matches will be played between the hours desig-nated unless the respective contestants otherwise agree. Players desiring to re-main over night may be accommodated at the Ridge Avenue Hotel at the rate of $1 50 per day. The drawings for the preliminary round will be made at 1 o'clock P. M., July 27, at the office of T. Ed. Cornelius, 135 Fifth avenue, to which all interested are invited to be present, and players may know their respective antagonists in the preliminary round by consulting THE DIS-PATCH of July 28.

Invitations have been extended to the following clubs of Western Pennsylvania, most of which have promised a representa-tion of at least two members: Washington, Mansfield, Crafton, Beaver, Rochester, Beaver Falls, New Brighton, Sharpsburg, Wilkinsburg, Blairsville, Latrobe and Salts-

To assist in perfecting the arrangement entries are requested at the earliest date possible and will be received till Wednesday, July 27, at 12 o'clock (noon) by either T. Ed. Cornelius, Secretary, W. T. Tred-way, President, or H. W. Burns, Treasurer.

Football enthusiasts are already talking of the coming season, which will open about the 1st of September. Judging from present appearances, there will be a lively time of it when the season opens, for the fever which began last fail has reached a heretofore unknown height now. It is more than likely that the following associamore than likely that the following Associa-tions will have teams in the field: The "Three A's," Pittsburg Athletic Associa-tion (formerly East End Gyms), Wilkins-burg A. A., Sewickley A. A., Sharpsburg A. A., Homewood A. A., not to mention each of the colleges that form the Intercollegiate League of Western Pennsylvania and

A reason for the change of name of the East End Gyms to the Pittsburg Athletic Club is found in the determination of the association to send its members abroad to compete in open events. It was argued that if the men were sent out to represent the East End Gyms none would know to what city they belonged, whereas none will now have to stop and inquire from whence the athletes hail. The first athletic asso-ciation to set the example in sending men to distant meets was the Allegheny A. A., and the Pittsburg Athletic Club has some good talent, as it found when its represent-ntives carried away prizes at the open meet-ing of the "Three A's," to which not only Allegheny and Pittsburg, but Detroit, Phil-adelphia, New York and the surrounding towns sent runners and athletes. If the what city they belonged, whereas none will towns sent runners and the surrounding towns sent runners and athletes. If the Pittsburg Athletic Club's men were able to carry off honors then, there is no reason why they may not do the same thing else-where Entries for the Keystone Bicycle Club's 15-mile road race will close to-morrow. Up to last night but few of those who are to compete for the prizes had sent in their names but it was known that 12 or 15 men would start. Some of them have been in active training during the past week and fast time is anticipated. It is not expected that the 15 miles will be made quite so quickly as if there were no hills to climb, but there will be nothing slow about the affair. The course has been carefully marked out and if the weather clerk is ac-commodating enough to provide rain on Thursday the road will be in excellent there. shape.

Our tennis players made a good showing at the Altoona tournament during the early part of the week, altough Moorhead was defeated in the singles early in the contest. Altoona has furnished several players who are proving themselves worthy opponents of the experts of the Pittsburg Tennis Club. Later on it is expected that more will be heard of Buch, Fay and Whelen than in the past. will probably eclipse anything of the kind ever held here.
It is suggested that the A. A. U. should make a fair table of standard, say the hammer at 80 reet and the 35-pound weight at not to exceed 30 feet, and that these standards should not be changed for five years.
Arataric clubs are now turning their attention to the encouragement of all around athletes. The trouble has been that the championship in a single line has been too mach sought, at the expense of health. The N. Y. A. C. is offering prizes for all-around club contests and the Boston A. A. has taken the same action.
If Yals and Harvard decide to go to the bick of the country they will find it the hardest battle of their lives. There are any number of experienced swephandlers who think that Cornell University can turn out a criss on from start to finds. It's one thing to row a match race on the Thames and stul another to meet the best production of the country. It appears, from those who were at the meet at Washington, and from the newspapers published at the scene of action, that George Banker really won the one-fourth mile championship of America race, although it was awarded to Barrett, of Chicago.
