

JACK COOLEY KILLED
Not in a Battle With Officers of the Law, but as a Common Thief,
BY MEANS OF A TRAP SPRING GUN.
His Family Concealed the Accident Until Death Approached.
FARMER COLLIER FEARS FOR HIS LIFE

EXTON TOWN, July 23.—Jack Cooley, one of the notorious Cooley gang, was shot Thursday night while attempting to break into Thomas Collier's milkhouse, near Fairchance, and died from the wounds this morning. Jack Cooley, in company with his brother Frank and Jack Ramsey, were trying to effect an entrance into the milkhouse when the accident occurred. When Jack forced the door open, the trap for thieves was discharged, and the load struck Cooley in the abdomen. The wounded desperado was picked up by his comrades and carried to his father's home, three miles away.

But little is known of the accident or of the subsequent events at the Cooley residence. Some but the Cooley gang and their next relatives knew that Jack had been shot, and they hoped to conceal the fact that he had been shot to avoid arrest. It was for this reason that it was not until 2 o'clock this morning, two hours before the outlaw breathed his last, that Dr. Holbert was summoned. When he arrived at the house he found the wounded man past all medical aid.

The grief of the outlaw's Aired Father. Old man Cooley came to Fairchance this morning and secured a coffin. The old man wept bitterly, and was so overcome with grief, and he was literally as he related to a number of friends the occurrence that led to his son's death. He related the story of the accident as follows:

"The boys were out from home Thursday night, where I did not then know. Along about 2 o'clock Friday morning they returned, hearing the bleating from Jack. The poor fellow said he realized that the end was near. I wanted to go for a doctor, but he and Frank would not let me. They said the wounds were not fatal, and that a doctor would be sent to spread the alarm and cause their arrest. I finally agreed not to go for a doctor, and we spent all day yesterday in doing what we could for the poor boy. Shortly before midnight he became unconscious, and I then went for Dr. Holbert, but when he arrived it was too late. Jack died about 4 o'clock this morning.

The old man then gave Frank's version of the shooting. The three boys were trying to get into Mr. Collier's milkhouse. Jack opened the door and the gun was discharged. He uttered a groan and fell back. The boys were terrified.

They thought they had fallen into the hands of the Sheriff and his posse. Without waiting to return the fire or see who had fired the shot, they picked up the wounded man and bore him to his home.

Thomas Collier was seen this morning. He said his milkhouse had been robbed several times and he determined to catch the thief. He placed the gun, which was loaded with buckshot, in the milkhouse with the muzzle pointing toward the door. He tied a string to the trigger so that whoever opened the door would be shot.

About 1 o'clock at night his wife awoke him and said the gun had been discharged. He did not go down until the morning, when he found the ground in front of the milkhouse covered with blood. He also found two large lead-wad revolvers, which indicated that the Cooleys had fled precipitately.

Mr. Collier is fearful of the results. He is afraid the Cooleys will have revenge for Jack's death. He said today he would not be surprised if they would slay him or burn his house any night.

Jack Cooley was the younger of the two desperadoes, and was the most fearless. He led the boys in every undertaking accounts for his death.

A Death Blow to the Gang. It is the opinion of the leading citizens of the Cooley settlement who were in town today that the band will disperse and live in the country.

A delegation of Fairchance citizens called upon Sheriff McCormack this morning and requested him to collect a posse and go to the house. They felt confident that Frank Cooley and Jack Ramsey were at home and could be captured. The Sheriff willingly complied and sent Deputy Sheriff Allbaugh up with posse to take the two remaining outlaws. Nothing has yet been heard from the posse. The Sheriff will go up this evening with several deputies to watch the Cooley house.

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—Four of the passengers of the British steamer Kaffir Prince, which arrived Wednesday night, did not land with the others. They were Chinamen. Custom House officials would not let them go ashore. Yesterday, however, they were examined and were allowed to land, largely by reason of their "certificates,"—big book-like affairs with several pages of Chinese letters and the stamps and seals of the Chinese consul—ever here and there. They were introduced by the Spanish authorities at Havana, the port from which they were brought to this city.

Two of the four Chinamen are members of the firm of Lee, Wick & Co., who keep a Chinese store at 915 Race street, each having a few thousand, invested. These are Chew Young, 28 years, and Wing Chin, 24 years. The other two are members of the quartette are Chow Young, 18 years, and Ward Young, 16 years. These are brothers and are of a noble family. They intend to remain in Philadelphia for two years studying theology.

Aiming at the Freedom of the St. Lawrence.
OTTAWA, Ont., July 23.—A prominent Government official says the American policy is a much broader one than the mere question of canal tolls, comprehending as the ultimate object the right of navigation through the entire St. Lawrence system, perfect equality with British subjects, and under an unlimited guarantee.

To the Public.
I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the public, as I do to my friends and patrons. I used it myself after other well-known remedies failed, and it cured me in a few minutes. I feel confident it candidly and cheerfully upon its merits, not from a financial standpoint, because I have others in stock on which I make a profit. But because Chamberlain's is the best remedy I know of for bowel complaints. There is no doubt about it, it does the work. JAMES FOLEY, Druggist, TWENTH

RAVAGES OF CATARRH.

Hardly a Mucus Surface or Organ in the Entire Body but is Affected Either Directly or Indirectly by It.

Eye Trouble, Earache, Deafness, Headache, Dyspepsia and Chronic Diarrhoea, as well as Bronchitis, Nervous Prostration and Consumption, are in the Wake of this Insidious Enemy of Mankind.—Series of Cases Illustrating It—The Plain Truth.

If those persons familiar with the anatomy of the upper part of the throat, the back portion of the nose, the middle ear, and the eye and its appendages, would remember how the same delicate mucus lining membrane envelopes these organs continuously, and how inflammation of this membrane extends from one part to another by what is known to physicians as continuity and contiguity of tissue, they would readily understand and appreciate how a simple catarrhal congestion or inflammation starting at its original point at the junction of the back portion of the nose and upper part of the throat, right back of the soft palate, extends upward into the ear through the eustachian tube, causing roaring, buzzing and ringing noises, partial or complete deafness, earache, discharges, etc. Moving on up to the eye and its appendages through the lacrimal duct, it causes the most intense pain at times, intolerance to light, granulated sore lids, conjunctivitis, coritis, scleritis, etc., often ending in blindness.

It has been stated above that the original starting point of the disease is the back portion of the nose and upper part of the throat. All physicians who have had special knowledge know this to be a fact, and there is a pathologic proof for this. The two mucus surfaces at the head lie in close contact with each other and thus collect and retain the secretions. The mucus which they dry up into little nodules and putrefy, causing the surrounding mucus membrane. Pathologic proof is furnished by constantly hawking and gagging to dislodge these secretions. From this point the catarrhal inflammation also often extends to the respiratory tract, invading the larynx, windpipe, bronchial tubes and the lungs, causing on its way according to the parts affected, laryngitis with hoarseness and partial or complete loss of voice, bronchitis or chronic cough, asthma, consumption, etc.

The alimentary tract consisting of the mouth, esophagus, stomach and bowels also frequently participates in the catarrhal extension, producing dry and fissured tongue and the most dyspeptic indigestion, heartburn, water-brash, palpitation, alternate diarrhoea and constipation, loss of flesh, etc., and in consequence of the debilitated condition of the body, a long time of nervous troubles such as "wall-gone" feeling, trembling of hands and limbs, aching over the whole body, hot and cold flashes, despondency, etc., etc.

As catarrh then is found to affect at different times and in more or less aggravated and complicated cases the whole mucus tract of the body, producing in turn a long train of symptoms, from the simple local annoyance of a stopped up condition of the nostrils to the complete breaking down of the system as in consumption, or other nervous prostration from general debility, the utility of any other method of treatment is a combined local and internal one is apparent. This is the method of treatment Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers have used for years, and the large army of grateful patients they have raised up testifies to its curative results.

THE CASE OF MISS LIZZIE KELLY ILLUSTRATING THE EXTENSION OF CATARRH TO THE EYE AND ITS APPENDAGES, THE RAVAGES CAUSED BY THIS CATARRHAL INFLAMMATION, AND ITS ULTIMATE CURE BY DR. COPPELAND, HALL AND BYERS.

The case of Miss Lizzie Kelly, residing at No. 1 Ferry street, Sharpburg, clearly illustrates the extension of catarrhal trouble to the eye and its appendages. When Miss caused by the light. The ulceration had extended from the conjunctival mucus membrane to the eye proper thus making a mass of ulcerated surface, causing partial blindness. What a great change has been wrought in her condition since then. To-day she has a pair of very blue eyes as any lady who visits their office. We leave Miss Kelly to tell her story in her own words:

Dr. John A. Wilson, Perry, Pa.

"I had been troubled with my eyes for a long time," says Miss Kelly, "and doctored for them almost continually with little or no benefit. I went to Dr. Copeland, Hall and Byers. Every doctor I consulted previous to visiting them prescribed some eye lotion which relieved for awhile, but soon I was as bad as ever.

"Under Dr. Copeland, Hall and Byers' system of treatment I soon experienced improvement. I feel very grateful to these doctors for the benefit received as it has allowed me to stay under treatment six months. As I was impressed with their knowledge of my symptoms I readily gave the required promise, when they put me on a thorough course of treatment, both local and internal.

to mine and I determined to write to them. I have only been taking their medicine a little over one month, started my second month on July 2nd and am glad to say that I have improved in health and weight wonderfully. My weight has increased from 100 pounds to 125 pounds and I feel better than I have for two years. My sleep is sound, as I am not troubled with the dropping of mucus and the racking cough has disappeared.

I feel like an entirely different person. If anyone doubts the truthfulness of this statement they can call or write and I will verify the same."

SICK HEADACHE RESULTING FROM CATARRH.

A Very Common but Painful Affection Easily Cured by Dr. Copeland, Hall and Byers' Treatment. Many persons suffer from neuralgic or sick headache and are constantly taking patent headache powders for relief of same. These powders are dangerous, as the principal ingredient is often antipyrine or antifebrin, drugs which should never be used excepting under directions of a physician, on account of their sedative action on the heart.

Dr. Copeland, Hall and Byers' treatment is mild and safe and permanently cures these distressing head symptoms which nearly always are associated with catarrh. I had purchased and used several headache powders and through their use nearly all the time," says Miss Sarah Irwin, of Mansfield, Pa., "and a choking up of mucus into the throat which kept me hawking and spitting, a raw and irritated condition of the throat, with all the bad symptoms we usually read of as accompanying this affection. Now I am happy to say that I am freed of all these annoying and distressing symptoms, and I cheerfully recommend Dr. Copeland, Hall and Byers' treatment to all my friends and the public."

Treatment by Mail. To the Public: The system of mail treatment pursued by Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers guarantees the same effective results to those who desire to submit their cases through correspondence as to those who come in person. Their "question blank," if properly filled out, will diagnose your case in a thorough way, and, as medicines are promptly shipped, those living out of the city have the same advantages as those who come to the office.

Many cases treated successfully by mail. Send a stamp for question blank.

Rheumacura SURE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM GOUT & LUMBAGO

HEAR WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT IT ON THE PACIFIC COAST. MCKENNEY HILL, CAL., July 18, 1892. Messrs. McKinnie & Chessman Mfg Co., Pittsburg, Pa. GENTLEMEN—Some time ago I sent for three bottles of your Rheumacura Remedy, the same which I received in due time. I gave two bottles to two friends of mine and took one bottle myself, and must say it performed a miracle, as I have not felt the slightest ache nor pain since taking it, which is saying a great deal, as I had not passed a day in 20 years without being in misery more or less and at times being almost confined to my bed.

EVERY 5 Minutes at Kaufmann's
The second and last week of this liberal enterprise will commence to-morrow morning, and all those who have not yet availed themselves of this golden opportunity to get their purchases free of charge had better come in during the next six days. Many thousands of dollars were distributed during the week just past, and an army of people made happy. Our stock, we are happy to state, shows the heavy onslaught made upon it, and, by August 1st, we confidently expect to have reduced it considerably. This was our aim, and, although the means employed will cost us a small fortune, the end justifies it. Let other dealers pack away their summer stocks after the season will be over—WE WON'T. We know the first loss, great as it may be, to be the best, and we accept it cheerfully. For one week longer this far-famed free distribution of merchandise will be in force. The gong will sound every 5 minutes, and every sounding means that another name has been added to the already gigantic list of happy recipients of free purchases. Buy whatever you please, 5 cents or fifty dollars' worth, and if your money happens to be the first received after any lapse of 5 minutes, back it goes to you, and your goods cost you nothing. Twelve customers must thus get their purchases free every hour, or 108 from 9 A. M. till 6 P. M. There can be no misconstruction or ambiguity about this. We mean just what we say. Each day last week we published the names and residences of the people who got their purchases free on the preceding day, and thus gave everybody prima facie evidence of the truth of all our claims. Now, bear well in mind, this will positively be the last and final week of this glorious free distribution of merchandise. Be on hand promptly, and, if you don't get your merchandise free altogether, you will at least effect a big saving of money. It's a case, where you have all to gain and nothing to lose.
