CRISIS OF THE SOUL

Life Is Before, Death Is After, and No Man Knows When It Comes.

SEEK THE LORD NOW AND BE SAFE.

Search the Scriptures and Come to the Savior Through Prayer.

TALMAGE'S LATEST SUNDAY SERMON

LONDON, July 24.—Dr. Talmage's sermon selected for publication this week is entitled "The Soul's Crisis," from Isaiah, lv., 6. "Seek ye the Lord while He may be found." Isaiah stands head and shoulders above the other Old Testament authors in vivid descriptiveness of Christ. Other prophet give an outline of our Savior's features. Some of them present, as it were, the side face of Christ; others a bust of Christ, but Isaiah gives us the full length portrait of Christ. Other Scripture writers excel in some things. Ezekiel more weird, David more pathetic, Solomon more epigrammatic, Habakkuk more sublime: but when you want to see Christ coming out from the gates of prophecy in all His grandeur and glory, you involuntarily turn to Isaiah Isaiah was not a man picked up out of insignificance by inspiration. He was known and honored. Josephus and Philo and Sirach extolled him in their writings. What Paul was among the apostles, Isaiah was among the prophets.

My text finds him standing on a mountain of inspiration, looking out into the future, beholding Christ advancing and anxious that all men might know Him; his voice rings down the ages: "Seek ye the Lord while He may be found." The Texts Suits All Times.

"Oh," says someone, "that was for olden times." No, my hearer. If you have trav-eled in other lands you have taken a circu-lar letter of credit from some banking house in London and St. Petersburg, or Venice or Rome, or Antwerp, or Brussels, or Paris: you presented that letter and got financial help immediately. And I want you to understand that the text, instead of being appropriate for one age, or for one land, is a circular letter for all ages and for all lands, and wherever it is presented for help the help comes: "Seek ye the Lordwhile He may be found."

help comes: "Seek yethe Lordwhile He may be found."

I come to-day with no hair-spun theories of religion, with no nice distinctions, with no elaborate disquisition, but with a plain talk on the matters of personal religion. I feel that the sermon I preach this morning will be the savor of life muto life, or of death unto death. In other words, the Gospel of Christ is a powerful medicine; it either kills or cures. There are those who say: "I would like to become a Christian. I have been waiting a good while for the right kind of influence to come:" and still you are waiting. You are wiser in worldly things than you are in religious things. And yet there are men who say they are waiting to get to heaven—waiting, waiting, but not with intelligent waiting, or they would get on board the line of Christian influences that would bear them into the kingdom of God.

Now, you know very well that to seek a thing is to search for it with carnest endeavor. We may pay our debts, we may attend church, we may relieve the poor, we may be public benefactors, and yet all our life disobey the text, never seek God, never gain heaven.

God Is Not a Despot But a Father.

God Is Not a Despot But a Father.

I remark, in the first place, you are to seek the Lord through earnest and believing prayer. God is not an autocrat or a despot scated on a throne with His arms resting on grazen lions and a sentinel pacing up and down at the foot of the throne. God is a father seated in a bower waiting for His children to come and climb on His knee, and get His kiss and His benediction. Prayer is the cup with which we go the "fountain of the cup with which we go the "fountain of living water" and dip up refreshment for our thirsty soul. Grace does not conte to the heart as we set a cask of water to catch the rain in the shower. It is a pulley fastened to the throne of God which we pull, bringing the blessing.

I do not care so much what posture you take in prayer, nor how large an amount of voice you use.

The get down on your not pray right inwaring, there would be no response. You might cry at the top of your voice, and unless you had a believing spirit within, your cry would not go farther up than the shout of a plowboy to his oxen. Prayer must be believing, earnest, loving.

Prayer is a warm, ardent, pulsating exer-be believing, earnest, loving.

Prayer is a warm, ardent, pulsating exercise. It is the electric battery which, touched, thrills to the throne of God! It is the diving bell in which we go down into the depths of God's mercy and bring up "pearls of treat price."

O impenitent soul, have you ever tried the power of prayer? God says: "He is loving and faithful and patient." Do you believe that? You are told that Christ came to save sinners. Do you believe that? You are told that all you have to do to get the pardon of the gospel, is to ask for it. Do you believe that? Then come to Him and say: "O Lord, I know thou canst not lie. Thou hast told me to come for pardon, and I could get it."

Seek the Lord Through Bible Study,

Seek the Lord Through Bible Study. Oh, that you might have an altar in the parior, in the kitchen, in the store, in the barn, for Christ will be willing to come again to the manger to hear prayer. He would come in your place of business as he confronted Matthew, the Tax Commissioner. I remark, again, you must seek the Lord through Bible study. The Bible is the newest book in the world. "Oh," you say, "it was made hundreds of years ago, and the learned men of King James translated it hundreds of years ago." I confute that idea by telling you it is not five minutes old, when God, by his blessed Spirit retranslates when God, by his blessed Spirit retranslates it into the heart. If you will, in the seeking of the way of life through Scripture study, implore God's light to fall upon the page, you will find that these promises are not one second old, and that they drop straight from the throne of God into your heart.

There are many people to whom the Bible does not amount to much. If they merely look at the outside beauty, why it will no more lead them to Christ than Washington's tarewell address or the Koran of Mahomet or the Shaster of the Hindoos. It is the inward light of God's Word you must get or die. Alas, that so many stop at the outside door of God's Holy Word, looking at the rhetorical beauties, instead of going in and looking at the altars of sacrifice and the dome of God's mercy and salvation that hovers over every penitent and believing soul! oul!
O my friends, if you merely want to study the laws of language, do not go to the Bible.
It was not made for that, Take "Howe's Elements of Criticism." It would be better than the Bible for that.

The True Scope of the Scriptures. But if you want to know how to have sin pardoned, and at last to gain the blessed-ness of heaven, search the Scriptures, "for in them ye have eternal life." When people are anxious about their souls—and there are some such here to-day books. That is all right. But I want to tell books. That is all right. But I want to tell you that the Bible is the best book under such circumstances.

I remark, again, we must seek God through church ordinances. "What" say you, "can't a man be saved without going to church?" I reply, there are men, I suppose, in glory, who have never seen a church; but the church is the ordained means by which we are to be brought to God; and if truth affects us when we are alone, it affects us more unightly when we are in the assembly—the feelings of others emphasizing our own feelings. The great law of sympathy comes into play and a truth that would take hold only with the grasp of a sick man, beats mightly against the soul with a thousand heart throbs.

When you come into the religious circle, come only with one notion, and only for one purpose—to find the way to Christ. When I see people critical about sermons, and critical about tones of youe and critical about tones.

purpose—to find the way to Christ. When I see people critical about sermons, and critical about tones of voice, and critical about sermonic delivery, they make me think of a man in prison. He is condemned to death, but an officer of the Government brings a pardop and puts it through the wicket of the prison and says: "Here is your pardon. Cours and get it." "What! Do you expect me to take that pardon offered with such a voice as you have, with such an awkward manner as you have! I would rather die than so compromise my rhetorical notions!" Ah, the man does not say that; he takes it! It is his life.

Now Is the Accepted Time,

And if, this morning, that pardon from the throne of God is offered to our souls, should we not seize it, regardless of all criticism, we not seize it, regardless of all criticism, feeling that it is a matter of heaven or hell?
But I come now to the last part of my text. It tells us when we are to seek the Lord. "While he may be found." When is that? Old age? You may not see old age. To morrow? You may not see to morrow. To night? You may not see to-night. Now! O, if I could only write on every heart in three capital letters, that word N-O-W-Now!

Sin is an awful disease. I hear people say with the toss of the head and with a trivial manner: "Oh, yes, I'm a sinner." Sin is an awful disease. It is leprosy. It is dropsy. It is consumption. It is all moral disorders in one. Now you know there is a crisis in a disease. Perhans you have had some illustration of it in your samily. Sometimes the physician has called, and he has looked at the patientand said: "That case was simple enough; but the crisis has passed. If you had called me yesterday, or this morning, I could have cured the patient. It is too late now; the crisis has passed." Just so it is in the spiritual treatment of the soul—there is a crisis. Before that, life! After that, death! O, my dear brother, as you love your soul do not let the crisis pass unattended to!

There are some here who can rememoer instances in life when, if they had bought a certain property, they would have become very rich. A few acres that would have cost them almost nothing were offered them. They refused them. Afterward a large village or city sprang up on those acres of ground and they see what a mistake they made in not buying the property. There was an opportunity of getting it. It never came back again.

Chances for Pardon That Slip By, And so it is in regard to a man's spiritual and eternal fortune. There is a chance; if you let that go, perhaps it never comes back. Certainly, that one never comes back. There is a time which mercy has set for leaving port. If you are on board before

There is a time which merey has set for leaving port. If you are on board before that you will get a passage for heaven. If you are not on board, you miss your passage for heaven. Why defer this matter, O, my dear hearer? Have you any idea that sin will wear out that it will evaporate? that it will relax its grasp, that you may find religion as a man accidentally finds a lost pocketbook? Ah, no! No man ever became a Christian by accident, or by the relaxing of sin. The embarrasments are all the time increasing. The hosts of darkness are recruiting, and the longer you postpone this matter the steeper the path will become. I ask those men who are before me this morning whether in the 10 or 15 years they have passed in the postponement of there matters they have come any nearer God or heaven?
Oh, if men could only catch just one glimpse of Christ, I know they would love him. Your heart leaps at the sight of a glorious sunrise or sunset. Can you be without emotion when the Sun of Righteousness rises behind Calvary, and sets behind Joseph's sepulchre? He is a blessed Savior! O, my blessed Jeans! Light in darkness! The Rock on which I build! The Captain of my salvation! My Joy! My strength! How strange it is that men cannot love Thee!

The Tremendous Interests at Stak .. Why should I stand here and plead, and you sit there? It is your immortal soul. It a soul that shall never die. It is a soul that must soon appear before God for reviewal. Why throw away your chance for heaven? Why plunge off into darkness heaven? Why plunge off into darkness when the gates of glory are open? Why become a castaway from Gol when you can sit upon the throne? Why will ye die miserably when eternal life is offered you, and it will cost you nothing, but just willingness to accept it? "Come, for all things are now ready." Come. Christ is ready, pardon is ready. The Church is ready, Heaven is ready. The church is ready, Heaven is ready. You will never find a more convenient season, if you should live 50 years more, than this very one. Reject this, and you may die in your sins.

Why do I'say this? Is it to frighten your soul? Oh, no. It is to persuade you. I show you the peril. I show you the escape. Would I not be a coward beyond all excuse, if, believing that this great audience must soon be hunched into the eternal world, and that all who believe in Christ shall be saved, and that all who reject Christ will be lost—would I not be the veriest coward on earth to hide the truth or to stand before you with a cold, or even a placid manner? My dear brethren, now is the day of your redemption.

It is very certain that you and I winst soon.

My dear brethren, now is the day of your redemption.

It is very certain that you and I must soon appear before God in judgment. We cannot escape it. The Pible says: "Every eye shall see Him, and they also which pierced Him, and all the kindreds of the earth shall wait because of Mim." On that day all our adyantages, will come up for our glory or for our discomflure—every prayer, every sermon, every exhortatory remark, every reprox, every call of grace; and while the heavens are rolling away like a scroll, and and the world is being destroyed, your destiny and my destiny will be announced.

Seek the Lord White He May Be Found.

Seek the Lord White He May Be Found.

But I want you to take the hint of the text hat I have no time to dwell on-the him that there is a time when he cannot be found. There is a man in this city, 80 years of age, who said to a clergyman who came in, "Do you think that a man 80 years of age can get pardoned?" "Oh, yes," said the clergyman. The old man said: "I can't; when I was 20 years of age-I am now 8 years—the Spirit of God came to my soul, and I felt the importance of attending to these things, but I put it off. I rejected God, and since then I have had no feeling." "Well," said the minister. "wouldn't you "Well," said the minister, "wouldn't you like to have me pray with you?" "Yes," replied the old man, "but it will do no good. You can pray with me if you like to."

The minister knelt down and prayed, and commended the man's soul to God. It seemed to have an effect upon him. After a while, the last hour of the man's life came, and through his delirium a spark of intelligence seemed to flash, and with his last breath he said: "I shall never be forgiven!" "O seek the Lord while He may be found."

BETRAYED BY A DIARY,

Greek's Own Handwriting Likely to Convict Him of Murder, NEW HAVEN, CONN., July 24. - [ Special. ] -Conclusive evidence has been obtained by Detective Fuller, of the Fuller Bureau New York, that Leonida Vourgares the Greek arrested here yesterday for assault, is really guilty of the murder with which he is charged with committing in the Mediterranean, in 1886. In a secret compartment in Vourgares' chest was found a sort of dairy in his handwriting, in which the following appears: "March 25, 1886, I killed a man. My name is no longer Leonida, but Nicholas." He had that paper with him for six years.

Vourgares was present when the chest was

KAUFMANNS FREE DISTRIBUTION MERCHANDISE

Will commence this morning, and all those who have not yet availed themselves of this golden opportunity to get their purchases free of charge had better come in during the next six days. Many thousands of dollars were distributed during the week just past and an army of people made happy. Our stock, we are happy to state, shows the heavy onslaught made upon it, and, by August 1, we confidently expect to have reduced it con siderably. This was our aim, and, although the means employed will cost us a small fortune, the end justifies it. Let other dealers pack away their summer stocks after the season will be over-WE WON'T. We know the first loss, great as it may be, to be the best, and we accept it cheerfully. For one week longer this far-famed free distribution of merchandise will be in force. The gong will sound every 5 minutes, and every sounding means that another name has been added to the already gigantic list of happy recipients of free purchases. Buy whatever you please, 5 cents or fifty dollars' worth, and if your money happens to be the first received after any lapse of 5 minutes, back it goes to you, and your goods cost you nothing, Twelve customers must get their purchases free every hour, or 108 from 9 A. M. till 6 P. M. There can be no misconstruction or ambiguity about this. We mean just what we say. Each day last week we published the names and residences of the people who got their purchases free on the preceding day, and thus gave everybody prima facie evidence of the truth of all our claims. Now, bear well in mind, this will positively be the last and final week of this glorious free distribution of merchandise, Be on hand promptly, and, if you don't get your merchandise free altogether, you will at least effect a big saving of money. It's a case where you have all to gain and nothing to lose.
