RAILROAD BONDS FIRM AND ACTIVE

NEW YORK, July 26.-The stock market to-day displayed a little more animation during the forenoon, and while this is regarded as only an incident in the dullness now prevalent, the strength in a few stocks points to the formation of pools here and there in the list whose operations may serve as the nucleus of a more extended upward movement in the market when the time is ripe for it. The industrials now occupy most of attention, and to-day while Sugar was by no means neglected it was less prominent than during the last few days, and Distillers and the Cotton Oil stocks were successively brought forward and advanced. This prominence of the industrials, those which are well-known to be subjects of manipulation, is looked upon with some disfavor by many who look for a more substantial movement in the market, but in the past material gains in the railroad list have been inaugurated by the lifting of the industrials.

The railroad list for some time responded to the buying and considerable activity was developed in Erie, Atchison, Rock Island and St. Paul, but the movements in the stocks mentioned were no more than the final operations in the movements of the last few days, and they soon died away, the whole railroad list sinking back into dullness, with almost utter stagnation in values. A sharp and sudden rise in Lake Shore on the exeand sudden rise in Lake Shore on the execution of a few buying orders was followed by the same collapse, and the low priced and inactive shares generally were barren of fenture to the close, which was very dull and stagnant at concessions.

Railroad bonds displayed the effects of some new demand and there was not only more animation but many of the inactive issues scored landsome advances over their last previous sales, but the speculative issues were quiet and made few movements of intetest. The transactions reached $1,205,600, but there was no special animation in anything.

The total sales of stocks to-day were 130,-251 shares, including: Atchison, 7,275; Eric, 7,415; Hocking Valley, 2,200; Lake Shore, 3,250; leading, 5,300; St. Paul, 10,300.

Watson & Gibson to Oakley & Co: "It is surprising that this market should hold as well as it has and does when we are sweltering with this heat and humidity. It seems a very inappropriate season to inaugurate a buil market, but, as we have so freely pointed out, the situation and conditions are tavorable. There is only one serious trouble and that is the labor matters at Pittsburg; but as a well informed man from that city said to us to-day, that will be settled and before long. It is difficult to state just how and when, or if wage-payers or workmen will win, but a settlement will come. There seems to be an increasing folor workmen will win, but a settlement will come. There seems to be an increasing following of the leaders in the upward movement and they in turn will become more aggressive as supporters come in. Among the industrial stocks Cotton Oil common has come prominently to the front to-day, and with a large trading it has scored a handsome advance. We have from time to time called attention to the merits of this property and its management, and expressed an opinion that it would sell considerably higher. It is now verifying our indorsement, and why not, when industrial stocks are now all the fashion, and both investors and speculators indulging their fancy? It has had but a comparatively small advance, when we look at Sugarand Cordage and consider the possibilities of Cotton Oil product. There was also good buying of Sugar to-day, and if, too, scored quite an advance. It has been well sustained and 110 is still freely talked for it."

CORN LEADS THE CEREALS

In an Upward Direction, but Gains Are

Chicago, July 26.—The corn market was again the leader in activity among the cereals, and the better business was at higher prices. It advanced he at the first jump, but only he was added to the former prices. To a considerable extent wheat was governed by the advance in corn. It opened, however, he higher than it closed and was barely 1-16c over yesterday's resting price at the end of the session. September opened at 78hc, sold at 78hc, went up to 78hc and closed at 78hc. Receipts here were 280 cars and in the Northwest 341 cars. September corn opened at 50hc, reached 50hc and closed at 50hc. Bryant is said to have taken advantage of the market to liquidate 500,000 bushels of his line of Long wheat.

Outs were quiet and firm early on crop advices, but then eased off. September sold Slight-Provisions Higher.

from 31½c early to 35½@35½c, finally recovered to 31½c, and closed at 31c.

Provisions were inactive, but very firm. The principal trading in futures was in barreled pork. Lard and ribs were comparatively neclected. The feature of the business done in pork was the buying of it for January by the Cudahy Packing Company, and a further widening of the difference between that month and September was the consequence, and the advance in pork was 7½c and in lard and ribs 2½c each. Offerings were light.

Allegheny Heating Company Scores the Only Significant Change.

STANDARD PLATE GLASS AT AUCTION

TUESDAY, July 26. Another midsummery market. Excessive torridity the chief restricting factor of the moment, with the industrial troubles still figuring as the underlying depressing influence. "It is not to be expected," said one of the brokers, "that there will be much business while the weather continues so warm as to practically prohibit outdoor operations, or while such a feeling of illy suppressed uneasiness prevails in financial and general business circles in consequence of the unrest in the labor ranks. So far as local securities are concerned, however, the situation is inherently strong. Bargains seem to be fairly numerous, also, and when the restrictive factors mentioned lose some of their influence, it is fair to suppose that a good degree of activity will set in, accompanied by an upward tendency in most values. There is a good argument in favor of the belief in a higher range in the fact that while prices are holding up steadily there are few stocks pressing on the market. In times of dullness stocks are usually freely offered, especially if they have no foundaoffered, especially if they have no foundation of merit, but during the present dull spell there has been a marked lack of pressure brought to bear against anything on the list, the declines that have occurred being mainly the result of the sales to realize accrued profits. I believe the market to be in a position favorable to a general advance, and I would not be surprised if the expected activity would materialize shortly alter the turn of the month. A vast amount of money is the month. A vast amount of money is awaiting investment and it will seek it

The leading natural gas companies, while in good shape as to supplies of gas, are prodding the earth outte actively in search of fresh supplies. Down the river the Ohio Valley Gas Company is putting down a well on the Shields farm, near the mouth of Little Sewickley creek. The Bridgewater Company is putting down one on the Neely farm in the same vicinity, and another on the Wilson farm just back of Leetsdale. The People's Natural Gas Company is engaged in putting two new holes in its property in the Pinhook region, and the Manufacturers' and the Equitable are also making one or two fresh ventures, the former on the Pinhook anticlinal and the latter not far from the McDonald oil field. The Philaphia Company is drilling seven wells on its tract of land in the Milltown district, near Verona. They are on the anticlinal line extending to the northeast of Verona. Three wells owned by the same company near Wildwood are located on the Thomas Steele and Boyle farms, about five miles northeast of Wildwood. Three wells are being drilled in Moon township, near Coraopolis, on the Onstoat, Weigle and Summerville farms. Four are going down near Ckartiers on the Cole, Leach and Aiken farms. The well on the Cole lease was expected in to-day. It is in the extreme northeast end of this district. A well being drilled by the company in the Bellevernon field is being closely watched, as it is regarded somewhat in the light of a test well. It is near Centerville. Five of its wells are being put down in Washington county. Two are near Venice on the Sterling farm, one at Linden on the Weller lease and two near Finleyville on the McGowan and Legger farms. The company is also drilling for gas on the Lovott iarm near Turtle Creek.

Reginald H. Ward, in a financial letter to the New York Recorder, writes on electric Stocks as follows: "Take the Edison General Electric Company, which has a practical monopoly of electric lighting, power, etc. The only opposition of moment is the Westinghouse Company, and this, in my judgment, will not be outside for a long time. The management is the best and the possibilities of electricity are practically boundless. The earnings for the stock are marvelous, Bearing upon this point the earnings of the company for the past two months are semi-officially stated at about 100 per cent increase. It is clear that with such earnings shareholders are bound to receive enormous returns."

Henry Villard is reported as telling to his friends that he has direct advices from London and Berlin that operators and capitalists at those centers will take an active interest in American securities as soon as they get any encouragement from New York. He expresses the opinion that there is going to be a large advance in railroad securities in this country within 12 months. Illinois Central has declared a 2% per cent dividend, payable September L.

LANDS AND HOUSES.

A Good Market for Medium-Priced Structures, but Others Slow-Good Property Tied Up by Legal Restrictions-East End Attractions-Special News and Gossip.

There is no particular scarcity of house in Pittsburg at the present time, but it should not be inferred from this that the city is overbuilt. Houses are intended to meet the wants of all classes of people. The large majority of buyers are of limited priced houses, costing from $2,000 to $5,000. The demand for these keeps pace with the The demand for these keeps pace with the supply. On the other hand, the market for high-priced properties, being more restricted, is easily satisfied. From this it will be seen that while this one may be scarce the other may be in oversupply. This is about the situation in Pittsburg. While owners of low-priced houses have little trouble to sell or rent, pretentious structures, such as adorn the fashionable avenues of the East End, are slow of sale. Builders should bear this in mind in making plans for future operations.

The natural and architectural beauties of he East End must be seen to be appreciated the East End must be seen to be appreciated at their full worth. Such a display of wealth and taste as represented by splendid residences and grounds cannot be duplicated in America. Here are the homes of many of the leading citizens of Pittsburg. There are no ruins in this part of the city. Everything is new. Along the handsome avenues, at frequent intervals, piles of building material denote that the murch of improvement has not been stayed. Fire nomes, many of them of stone, are going up in all directions. Ten years ago this district was little better than a "howling wilderness." Rapid transit has wrought the change.

Between Pittsburg and East Liberty there is a large amount of vacant land, varying in dimensions from ordinary building lots to dimensions from ordinary building lots to large tracts. This is a puzzle to some people. With such a demand for residence and business sites as is known to exist, they cannot account for these open spaces. The explanation is simple. This ground is owned for the most part by estates, and is so hedged around by legal restrictions that it cannot be put on the market until somebody dies or comes of age. Owners would gladly sell, but their hands are tied. In some instances owners are waiting for a rise, and in others they want the property for their own use, and will improve it as soon as their circumstances will permit. Several tracts released by death within a year or two have been sold off and built up.

A BETTER MOVEMENT

In General Merchandise Is Passing Than Is Usual at This Season-Trade Active in Some Lines-Grain Looks Like Improving-Crop Gossip and Current Prices.

TUESDAY, July 26. Notwithstanding this is the time of the year when a light volume of business is expected in wholesale mercantile lines, and despite the labor troubles and excessively warm weather, the clearing house figures continue to indicate that the movement is larger than usual at this season. There is no larger than usual at this season. There is no special animation observable in any line, but outside of the grain trade no positive dullness is reported, and in some branches of trade, notably provisions, groceries and garden stuff, business is reported active.

It is reported on excellent authority that, wi ... the exception of last year, the growing crop of spring wheat promises to beat all records, and that harvesting will be general in Southern Minnesota and South Dakota this week.

Crop prospects being bright helps to this week.

Crop prospects being bright helps to weaken prices for the cereals, and wheat continues to sell at low prices. Corn, though theaper than a year ago, sells around 50c for No. 2. Provisions are greatly strengthened by the reduced stocks and active shipping demand, as well as by the high prices for hogo.

by the reduced stocks and active shipping demand, as well as by the high prices for hogo.

Reports from the northwestern range country are so far favorable concerning condition of the cattle grazed in that section. Abundant rams have created a luxuriant growth of grass, and as this is the necessary element in producing fat cattle there is every reason to believe that the cattle marketed from Montana and Wyoming this season will be fully up to the standard in point of fat and finish as compared with last year. Texas cattle that were run north early in the season have filled out well, and some of them will be ready for market next week. A late spring has put the range backward, and so shipments will be about 20 to 30 days late compared with last year. It has been conservatively estimated that the supply from the Northwest will be about 30 per cent short of the usual crop. This shortage may have a favorable effect in bringing about a better range of prices if it is true that the supply from this same trans will be curtailed. Western ranchmen enjoyed a prosperous season last year, and it looks now as if their good for tune may continue, but it is a little premature to prognosticate.

Certain exceptionally fine quality gallon canned apples, of which sales were made last week at $2 25@2 50 per dozen, are now held at $2 60 at factory and $2 65 in New York. At under $2 25 few, if any, really standard goods can be obtained.

Gallon canned tomatoes at $2 25 per dozen have been about all cleaned up, and $2 50 is now named as a popular quotation.

The new crop California prunes are quoted for the four sizes, forward shipment, and it is stated that sales have been made for Chicago upon that basis.

A number of spot parcels of standard three-pound tomatoes were disposed of in the East at 32½ last week, and most holders are now very firm at 35c for ordinary brands.

Sales of dried California lima beans were reported at as high as $2 10 per bushel on the enot in New York. There is not, however,

The best Baltimore bargains in canned peaches at the moment are $1.85 for 3-h standard yellow, $1.70 for 3-h seconds and $1.15 for 3-h pie. Most holders ask about 5@10c on those prices. Grain, Flour and Feed.
