His term expired yesterday, and he was turned over to Marshal Harrah, who brought him to Pittsburgh.

He was run over and had three ribs broken, his head cut and was hurt otherwise. Peter Brunder, the driver of the rig, was convicted of assault and battery in the Criminal Court as a result of the affair. For his injuries, Reich now wants $7,000 damages from Schaub, the owner of the sleigh.

FORGOT TO SUICIDE.

Alice Mitchell intended to Kill Both Freda and Herse, but Neglected Half the Task—Three More Experts Believe That She is Insane.

MEMPHIS, July 26.—At the Criminal Court this morning the defendant, Alice Mitchell, did not show the slightest sign of the seven days' trial, looking as well as up on the first day. Dr. E. B. Sale, of this city, asked concerning hereditary insanity, explained why it was that offspring should inherit such traits from the mother, rather than the father. He then gave his opinion that the defendant was insane, the opinion being based on a personal examination and in interview with her last Sunday.

He was first struck with a lack of sympathy in the face. The witness then detailed an interview with the defendant touching the murder, the murderer's love for and intention to marry Freda, which materially agreed with those testified to by Dr. Sims and Dr. Turner. His opinion, based on this interview, was that the defendant is insane. As to her final cure witness said defendant might be made a very useful person in an asylum, but he believed she would never be mentally sound.

Dr. J. H. Callender, Medical Superintendent of the Central Insane Asylum, said the first thing that impressed him was the strong scientific presumption in the case; that Alice was of insane temperament inherited from her mother. Dr. Callender said Alice told him it was her intention to kill Freda and then cut her own throat. When asked why she did not kill herself, she replied: "Why, doctor, I forgot all about it." He would say he considered Alice Mitchell a subject for section.

Dr. Campbell, Superintendent of the Insane Asylum at Knoxville, gave his opinion that Alice was insane at the time of the homicide, and could not be held responsible. This closed the case for the defense, and court adjourned till to-morrow.
