No one doubts the rights and duty of the Controller to refuse to certify to claims which in his opinion are illegal and to require a legal decision thereon, but it was neither necessary nor proper for him to set forth the fact that he and his clerk had taken an oath to perform their duties faithfully. It was improper for him to undertake to reflect upon the District Attorney's administration of his office and to draw comparisons between him and his predecessor. By the act of 1863 he was to collect forfeited recognizances, and the Court allowed him a percentage, usually 10 per cent. By the act of 1871 the salary was made $4,000 per year. The supplement of 1872 gave him in addition 50 per cent of the fees and comsions allowed by court and by law, thus making it part a salaried and part feed office. Section 5, article 14, of the Constitution was quoted, providing that in all counties of over 150,000 population the county officers should be paid by salary, the fees to be turned into the coun-ty treasury. Legislation was necessary to carry these provisions into effect and the ect of 1876 was passed to carry into effect this section. man said the cold wave was already with us, but the people on the streets were sadly unaware of the fact. Men stood on street corners or sat on door steps and fanned themselves with their hats. The thermometer was erratic yesterday, as it did not reach its top notch until evening, and after dark it was much warme than in the middle of the day. The long forenoon rain, refreshing alike to man and beast and growing plants, was accountable for this. The farmer sat in his easy chair, looked abroad on his acres fair, rubbed with glee his horny hands and watched the rain sweep over his lands. Between daylight and noon yesterday there was a fall of 11/4 inches of rain, the heaviest in the same length of time since the early spring showers. The temperature at 8 in the showers. The temperature at 8 in the morning was 73, and it rose to 76 at noon, holding at that figure until 5 o'clock, when it began again to rise, and shortly before 7 P. M. had reached 79, the highest for the day. While this was considerably lower than for a week previous, the weather was very oppressive because of the excessive humidity. At 5 o'clock in the evening the percenter of humidity was 85. This means percentage of humidity was 85. This means that the atmosphere contained 85 per cent of the amount of moisture it could contain without precipitation. The percentage is very high, and in such a condition of the atmosphere a high degree of heat is felt much more than when the air is drier. The highest temperature during the month was 961/2° last Tuesday. The lowest point was 54 on the 4th and 5th. During eight days, from July 22 to July 29, inclusive, the maximum temperature each day ex-ceeded 90°. The greatest rainfall was half an inch in ten minutes, just after noon Friday.

During all this hot spell there was always a good breeze, so that the motormen on electric cars did not know that the weather was very warm. On an average about 140 miles of air blow over Pittsburg in each 24 hours. That means that the ave age velocity is about six miles an hour. From noon July 15 to noon of July 16, 221 miles of wind passed over this city, and on many other days the velocity was above the average. The highest velocity of the wind was 34 miles, which was reached on Wednesday and on Friday. The weather man says it will be cooler to-day, and that there may be more rain with lightning and thunder.

Five or six weeks ago he concluded that he ought to have some of the furniture in the house at Rayburn, as he had bought it all, and he requested that he be allowed to take away enough of it to furnish a room for himself in the city. The wife refused to part with anything. One day three weeks ago, with two men, one of whom was a con-stable and the other a ferryman at Rayburn, Byron Fahnestock went to the house and demanded entrance. The building is to be demolished to make room for a handsomer edifice, and the old church, that has stood since 1845, will be a thing of the past. This is the church in which the famous trial of the young ministers for indorsing the East End platform was held a year and a half ago, at which time it became familiar to readers of church matters all over the demanded entrance. The woman would not open the door. It was then forced open, but the woman made such a vigorous defense of the house that it was deemed best not to country. It is a small, modest brick structure, but it has been the scene of many important meetings, and its walls and roof have resounded to the tones of some of the greatest divines in the Reformed Presbyattempt to remove anything that day. MORE BOND OPINIONS. LOEFFLER'S LETTER His Circular to the Window Glass Workers Made Public.

PRODUCT SHOULD BE INCREASED. ber received yesterday was about 40. Prices Must Be Lowered to Compete With Foreign Stuff.

NO MONEY IN THE GLASS BUSINESS

During the recent convention of the delerates to the American Window Glass Workrs' Association in the Southside Turner Hall, a communication was presented by William Loeffler advocating certain changes in the rules of organization wherein the wages of the men would be increased by adding to the production. It has been customary for several years past at local and national gatherings of the Window Glass Workers to receive a similar mmunication from Mr. Loeffler all of which have been given due consideration. At the last convention however, his letter was laid upon the table and no action taken upon it. It was not made public and is still in the hands of William E. Springer, the National Secretary. Ever since the con-vention a pressure has been brought to bear upon Mr. Loeffler to give out the letter he sent to the Window Giass Works and last evening he consented.

The letter begins with a greeting to the lelegates to the convention. The writer then states that since the last advance was paid, which increased the price of glass, the manufacturers have been unable to operate ten months in the year, and that at least five reductions have been made in Belgium since that time, although the McKinley bill did not increase the tariff on window glass excepting a small advance on sizes, 24x36.

Effect of Foreign Competition.

The paper then goes on to state that foreign glass can be imported and laid down in New York as cheap as the average cost of glass in this country. That double, especially, and extra large sizes in particular can be imported extremely low. Owing to such low price all the large jobbers buy foreign glass of extra large sizes, and plate glass is taking the place of large double to a great extent. The delegates therefore should be impressed with the fact that while single blowers are making high wages that double blowers are earning much higher wages, and if a reduction is made that the largest reduction should be made on the wages of the double blowers, but which can be equalized if double blowers are permitted to make 32 boxes weekly. The letter then states: "Delegates should know that in the wages conference of last year the manufacturers asked for a reduction, and agreed to pay expenses of a work-ers' committee to visit New York, Chicago, etc., to prove the low price of foreign glass, but the proposition was declined. They ought to know that at the same conference the manufacturers demanded to be relieved of the payment of any part of the wages of the anapper of the big blower, but the manufacturers were informed it was un-necessary to include it in the settlement, because L. A. 300 never fixed wages of snap-pers, and therefore they would not inter-fore if the manufacturers refused to pay it, and yet after the manufacturers started, L. A. 300 forced payment to be made by the manufacturers. All should know that the workers had it pretty much their own way, but as a result no manu-facturer started before October 2, 1891, and many did not commence before October 20, and throughout the entire year about 400 pots were idle. No Money in the Glass Business,

"These pots would not remain idle, and the rest, both pot and tank furnaces, only operate eight to nine months if there was money in the glass business. The failure of five manufacturers and the vol-

Mayor Kennedy yesterday received a large number of letters from taxpayers in answer to his circular in relation to the issuance of street repaying bonds. The num-

William A. Carr, Secretary and Treas-urer of the Union Trust Company, writes: "I think that in the contemplated repaying of North, Cedar and other avenues around the parks the streets should not encroach upon the pavements next to the park. I reside on North avenue and know that many roperty owners prefer that the street width be left as it now is. The south side pavement of North avenue is well shaded and a favorite walk of many. This is particularly noticeable during church hours of Sunday." P. Revmer, the senior member of the firm of Reymer & Bros., writes: "We not only want good streets, but good light (not tower lights) and also good water, and l think the sooner we get them all the better for us. We will not then have so many vacant houses." Dr. J. S. Phillips says: "Let us have good water, light and streets and the future cosperity of our city is assured."

From Judge W. D. Porter came the following: "The suggestions contained in your letter of the 5th inst. are without doubt founded in good business sense. The improvements indicated would be of present and lasting benefit to the municipality. The financial plan proposed seems unob ectionable, and either that or one of similar nature ought to be adopted. In your efforts for the advancement of the interests of the eity all good citizens ought to sympathize." John Huckestein, the contractor, ex-presses his ideas in the following manner: "If I may take the liberty I would like to contract the whet the states are improved suggest that where the streets are improved the plan should contemplate first the laying of all pipes for water and gas, and connection made to the curb at each lot, whether tion made to the curb at each lot, whether the lot is built on or not-thus to prevent as far as possible the tearing up of the paving. Where the lots are not built on, the city could carry the cost of this extension to the curb until such time as the owner may build, and then collect from the owner a fixed charge for this ex-tension " ension.

William Eberhardt, the brewer, writes in opposition to the measure. He does not think it fair that all the city should be taxed for the repaying of the streets in favored parts of the city.

During the drenching downpour of rain about 11 o'clock vesterday morning a woman carrying a small child in her arms entered the Twenty-eighth ward police station on the Southside and related a most touching tale of desertion and destitution to Sergeant McQuaid, who was in charge. They were both poorly clad, and, having no pro-

She claimed to be in search of her husband, who, she said, deserted her about four months ago.

On being closely questioned by the Ser geant, she admitted that she had nothing to reant, she admitted that she had housing to eat for two days. She was given a refresh-ing meal, alter which she was sent to Chief Elliot, of the Department of Charities. The police will try and find her husband.

The steamboat owners concluded it must be so, and for years a little coterie of men reaped a harvest on the river. Three men, charged with violating the city ordinance relative to peddling on the public streets, were picked up by the Penn avenue police yesterday. Wirt Switzer, Charles Venchinsky and Max Earnstein were each fined $5 and costs by Judge Mc-Kenna. James W. and Reuben Lewin were looked up later on the same charge and will be sized a bearing to day.

John Fox Sent to Louisville.

John Fox, aged 68, who has been an inmate in the Home for Aged People on Washington street, was before Mayor Ken-The Seven-Octave Plane-Organ. This new invention combines the ad-vantages of the organ and the plano. In its case, the number of its keys (seven oc-taves), its light action and improved pedals, it is like an upright plano. It is the only organ made on which plano music can be satisfactorily performed, while it costs but one-third the price of a plano. Send for catalogue and prices to the agents, H. Kleber & Bro., Limited, No. 506 Wood street, Pitts-burg. nedy of Allegheny yesterday, charged with disorderly conduct. He became so obnox-lous that he had to be turned out. The De-partment of Charities will send him to his home in Louisville.

Going to Indianapol

The Pioneer Tourist Club, numbering from 50 to 60 people, will leave for Indianapolis on Monday over the Lake Erie road. The members will return next Saturday. Last summer the club spent a week in Cincinnati. Their object is to visit some place of interest every year.

discontinuance of business untary of three concerns tells its own story. An exceptional fairly successful manu-facturer is not evidence of profit in the business, nor is the fact that some manu facturers are enlarging their plants evidence of prosperity, because it is done in the hope of cheapening the product and to thus be able to stand competition and to save from loss the money already invested and which cannot be withdrawn. Nor does the starting of new factories indicate prosperity ecause some are started because they receive money bonus and land and fuel free, and those starting without such inducements display a hopefulness worthy of a better

"The imports figure up about 1,200,000 boxes of 50 feet, yearly, which is a disgrace to the American manufacturers and work-ers, and both should unite, determined to keep out foreign glass by a low price of American, and by making a better quality and enforcing a higher standard in every factory, in assorting, so that the picture, show case and coffin trade, etc., will feel justified in using American glass exclusive-ly. It is not sufficient for a dozen factories ly. It is not sumetent for a dozen factories to make glass equal to imported; every factory in the country must do likewise. The cost of American glass must be reduced in every possible way, and by the adoption of the latest methods, when proven a suc-sess and when same is not at the expense of conditional statest the second of cost the quality, but in this reduction of cost the workers must be willing to stand their share to successfully compete with foreign glass.

How Pittsburg Is Affected. "The blowers of R. C. Schmertz & Co. (Limited) average 71 cents per box single and $1.81 per box double, which is equal to $34.08 per week for single and $54.30 per week double, if the blowers make 48 boxes single or 30 boxes double in 5 blowings per week of 8 hours each, and this is sup-posed to be about the average per box made posed to be about the average per box made in other successful factories. It is an intice to manufacturers in Pittsburg and the West to permit blowers to work for 10 per cent lower wages in New Jersey and New York States, especially as about one-third of their glass is sold in the West. The manufacturers prefer to employ none others than members of the Workers' Union, but said organization must supply a sufficient number of skilled workmen who are sober Men's wood-brown suits at $2 48, worth $10. and industrious, otherwise manufacturers

Don't jump to the conclusion that this is a story about a bathing suit. It ain't! We never talk about other people's business. That ain't our style. A little talk about our Home-Made Suits at this time will not be amiss. The story isn't a long one. All there is of it is this: Fine material, the finest possible finish inside and out and prices low enough to make other dealers stare. Our price on them is less than you'd have to pay for the material untouched by scissors or needle. How does $8, $10 or $12 strike you for one of these fine Suits? Did you ever see the like before? Be honest! It's a purchase that will establish your reputation as a shrewd, keen buyer.

About our stock of Trousers, the FAVORITE is catching on quick. Our Home-Made FAVORITE Pants are all wool, and sold for only $2.25. They come in about 12 styles
