TALMAGE'S LATEST SUNDAY SERMON

LONDON, July 31 -- Dr. Talmage's sermon selected for publication. this week is entitled "Pre-eminent," the text being John 3-31. "He that cometh from above is above all."

The most conspicuous character of history steps out upon the platform. The finger which, diamonded with light, pointed down to him from the Bethlehem sky, was only a ratification of the finger of prophecy, the finger of genealogy, the finger of chronol-ogy, the finger of events-all five fingers pointing in one direction. Christ is the over-topping figure of all time. He is the vox humana in all music, the most graceful line in all sculpture, the most exquisite mingling of lights and shades in all painting, the acme of all climaxes, the dome of all cathedraled grandeur, and the peroration of all splendid language.

The Greek alphabet is made up of 24 letters, and when Christ compared himself to the first letter and the just letter, the alpha and the omega, He appropriated to Himself all the splendors that you can spell out either with those two letters and all let-ters between them. "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last." Or, if you prefer the words of the text, 'above all.' Christ the Supreme Tople of Preaching.

It means, after you have piled up all Al-pine and Himalayan altitudes, the glory of Christ would have to spread its wings and descend a thousand leagues to touch those

First, Christ must be above all else in our preaching. That sermon is most effectual which most pointedly puts forth Christ as the pardon of all sin and the correction of all evil, individual, social, political, naevil, individual, social, political, na-tional. There is no reason why we should ring the endless changes on a few phrases. There are those who think that if an exhortation or a while the scheme of the second states of the second states and the states and the scheme states and the second states and the sec

Of course, thought is the cargo and words are only the ship; but how fast would your cargo get on without the ship? What you need, my friends, in all your work, in your Sabbath school class, in your reformatory institutions, and what we all need is to en large our vocabulary when we come to speak about God and Christ and heaven. We ride a few old words to death when there is such ing and jumping toward the fire, glad to go to Jesus and to die for Him. Sir Charles Hare, in his last moment, had such rapturous vision that he cried: "Up-ward, upward, upward!" And so great was the peace of one of Christ's disciples that he put his fingers upon the pulse in his wrist and counted it and observed it; and sogreat was his piacidity that after awhile he said: "Stopped," and his hie had ended here to begin in heaven. A BRIGHTER OUTLOOK was his placifity that after a while he sald: "Stopped," and his life had ended here to been in heaven.

But strander than that was the testimony of the worn-out first missionary, when, in the Manartine durgeon, he cried: "I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my de-parture is at hand; I have fought the good dight, I have finished my course, I have kept a crown of righteousness, which is the Lord, the faith; henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which is the Lord, the righteous Judge, will give me in that love His appearing?" Do you not see that Christ is above all in dying alleviations?
Toward the last hour of our earthly resi-dence we are speeding. When I see the sun-set I say, "One day less to live." When I see this Bible on Subath might I say, "Another sabuath departed." When I bury a triend I say, "Another carthly attraction gone lorever."

they go at a bound. There is a place for us.

Stand on some high hill of heaven, and in Stand on some high hill of heaven, and in all the radiant sweep the most glorious ob-ject will be Jesus. Myriads gazing on the scars of His suffering, in silence first, after-ward break forth into acclamation. The martyrs, all the purer for the flame through which they passed, will say: "This is Jesus for whom we died." The apostles, all the happier for the shipwreek and the scourg-ing through which they went, will say: "This is the Jesus whom we preached at Corinth, and at Cappadocia, and at Antioch, and at Jerusalem."

reverberation of gladness and peace and triumph. Edward L was so anxious to go to the Holy Land that when he was about to ex-pire he bequeathed $160,000 to have his hears, after his decease, taken to the Holy Land in Asia Minor, and his request was complied with. But there are hundreds to-day whose hearts are siready in the Holy Land of heaven. Where your treasures are, there are your hearts also. John Bunyan caught a glimpse of that place, and in his quaint way he said: "And I heard in my dream, and loi the bells of the city rang again for joy; and as they opened the gates to let in the men I looked in aiter them, and lo! the city shone like the sun, and there were streets of gold, and men walked on them, harps in their hands to sing praises with all; and after that they shut up the gates, which when I had seen I wished my-self among them!"

GEN. CLARKSON WILL NOT RESIGN NOW

the President's policy the responsibility will rest upon them and not upon him.

But it is not believed that they will refuse to join hands with the President. The conference between the President and Chairman Carter, ex-Chairman Clarkson, Collector Hendricks, J. N. Huston, of Indiana, and others have led to all sorts of reports.

Not in a Belligerent Mood.

Private telegrams have reached New York to the effect that the President was in an offish mood and that there was little proba

an omin mood and that there was little proda bility that he and the New Yorkers could come to an understanding. The reverse, it is now said, was the truth. The President was not offish, it is declared. These recent conferences were vastly different in character than those the President had with General Clark-

The Choice of Carter.

NEW YORK, July 31.-[Special.]-Presi dent Harrison does not want to ride down Pennsylvania avenue with a Democrat on March 4 next. The President therefore desires that harmony shall exist all along the line, especially in New York and Indiana. This harmony will prevail if the President's efforts What nimble feet the years have! The roebucks and the lightnings run not so fast. From decade to decade, from sky to sky, are successful. How it is to be brought about or when no one seems to know. Certainly the Republicans with whom the President has consulted in the last week are whether marked or not, where you and I will sleep the last sleep, and the men are now living who will, with solemn tread, not aware, but they have faith in the President's determination to bring smooth rela-tions and in his ability to do it. Should the Republicans of New York State, now at the helm, decline to enter into the spirit of now living who will, with solemn tread, carry us to our resting place. Ay, it is known in heaven whether our departure will be a coronation or a banishment. Brighter than a banqueting hall through which the light feet of the dancers go up and down to the sound of trumpeters will be the sepulcher through whose fift the holy light of heaven streameth. God will watch you. He will send His angels to guard your slumbering ground, until, at Christ's behest, they shall roll away the stone. So also, Christ is above all in heaven. The Bible distinctly says that Christ is the chief theme of the celestial ascription, all the thrones facing His throne, all the palms waved before His tace, all the crowns down at His feet. Cherubin to cherubin, seraphim to seraphim, redeemed spirit to redeemed spirit shall recite the Saviour's earthly sac-rifice.

What Children and the Multitude Say, Little children clad in white will say:

those the President had with General Clark-son at the White House. After that event the President was not particularly affable. He wanted a trank statement from the Gen-eral of the reasons why Clarkson, Platt, Miller, Filley, Foraker and others had op-nored his renomination "This is the Jesus who took us in his arms and blessed us, and when the storms of the world were too cold and loud, brought us Josed his renomination. General Clarkson frankly stated the reasons to be that he and his friends thought either Mr. Blaine or Mr. McKinley would be a more available candidate. The President did not think these merces were scool amounts and he into this beautiful place." The multitudes of the bereft will say: "This is the Jesus who comforted us when our heart broke." Many who had wandered clear off from God Many who had wandered clear off from God and plunged into vagabondism, but were saved by grace, will say: "This is the Jesus who pardoned us. We were lost on the mountains, and He brought us home. We wereguilty, and He made us white as snow." Mercy boundless, grace unparalleled. And then, after each one has recited his peculiar deliverances and peculiar mercies, recited them as by solo, all the voices will come to-pether in a great chorus, which shall make the arches echo and re-echo with the eternal reverberation of gladness and peace and triumph. these reasons were good enough, and he directed that General Clarkson should not have charge of the Republican campaign. Had it not been for General Clarkson's arguments he would have been elected Chairman of the National Committee de-spite the President's wishes in the matter.

Then came the search for a Chairman, which ended in the election of the Hon. which ended in the election of the Hon. Tom Carter. The Executive Committee ap-pointed by his immediate predecessor, W. J. Campbell, was composed largely of the men who had opposed the President's re-nomination at Minneapolis. The New York State situation was troublesome to Mr. Car-ter. The Platt and Miller people had their hands upon the New York State machine and declined to let it move until some un-derstanding could be reached. This was the situation when Mr. Carter, # derstanding could be reached. This was the situation when Mr. Carter, General Clarkson, Collector Hendricks and others visited Washington on Weduesday last. It is known that Mr. Carter was ex-ceedingly amazed and that he favored peace. It is also known that General Clarkson went to Washington determined that it was about time for him to hand in his resignation as a member of the Executive Committee. The President was very much more affable to

The school boy's composition asserted that pins had saved the lives of many people by their not having swallowed them; so lard has saved the lives of thousands by their having avoided food of which it forms a part. # The Scriptures a Faithful Mirror.

Can it be that you are so desperately egotistical that you feel yourself in firstrate spiritual trim, and that from the root of the hair to the tip of the toe you are scarless and immaculate? What you need is a oking-glass, and here it is in the Bible. Poor, and wretched, and miserable, and blind, and naked from the crown of the head blind, and naked from the crown of the head to the sole of the foot, tull of wounds and putrelying sores. No health in us. And then take the fact that Christ gathered up all the notes against us and paid them, and then offered us the receipt. And how much we need Him in our sor-rows! We are independent of circum-stances if we have His grace. Why, He made Paul sing in the dungeon, and under that prace St. John from desolate Patmos heard the blast of the apocalyptic trumpets. After all other candles have been shuffed out, this is the light that gets brighter and brighter unto the perfect day; and after, under the hard hoofs of calamity, all the pools of worldly enjoyment have been trampled into deep mire, at the foot of the eternal rock the Christian, from cups of granite, filly-rimmed and vine covered, puts out the this of his soul. Proposed for the Settlement of the Cour d' BOISE CITY, IDA., July 31 .- A project is now on foot for some of the leading men to induce both parties in the fight to submit the whole question to a commission of prom-thirst of his soul. Again, I remark, that Christ is above all in dying alleviations. I have not any sympathy with the morbidity abroad about our demise. with the morbidity abroad about our demise. There are men who are monomanical on the subject of departure from this life by death, and the more they think of it the less they are prepared to go. This is an unmanliness not worthy of you, not worthy of me. God grant that when that hour comes you may be at home! You want the hand of your kindred in your hand. You want your children to surround you. tled only by arbitration.

A More Than Human Friend Wanted.

I think that is the wish of all of us. But is that all? Can earthly friends hold us when the billows of death come up to the girdle? Can human voice charm open heaven's gate? Can human hands pilot us through the nar-rows of death into heaven's harbor? Can an earthly friendship shield us from the arrows of death and in the hour when Satan earthly triendship shield us from the ar-rows of death and in the hour when Satan shall practice upon us his internal archery? No, no, no, no? Alas! poor soul, if that is all. Better die in the wilderness, far from tree shadow and from tountain, alone, vul-tarres circiling through the air waiting for our body, ansnown to men, and to have no hurial, it only Christ could say through the solitudes, "I will never leave theo, I will never forsake thee." From that pillow of stone a ladder would soar heavenward, angels coming and going; and across the solitude and the barreness would come the sweet notes af heavenly minstrelsy. Gordon Hall, far from home, dying in the door of a heathen temple, said: "Glory to Thee, O God!" What did dying willberiorce say to his wife? "Come and sit beside me, and let us talk of heaven. I never knew what happiness was until I found Christ." What did dying Hannah More say? "To go to heaven, tiltuk what that is? To go to Christ, who died that I might live! Oh, riorions grave! Oh, what a glorious thing it is to the! Oh, the love of Christ, the love of Curist?" What did Toplady, the great inyun maker, say in his last hour? "Who can neasure the depth of the third haven? on, the sunsidine that fills my soul! I shall soon be gone, for surely no one can live in this world after such glories as God has soon be gone, for surely no one can live in this world after such glories as God has manifested to my soul." A friend of the President said at the Oriental Hotel, Coney Island, yesterday, that he did not believe it would be advisable for Secretary Tracy to appear on the stump in Brooklyn during the cama home rule measure, followed by one-man-one-vote and the payment of members' bills and a radical budget. The Government will also introduce the principle of faxing ground rents. The second session of Par-liament will be devoted to agricultural bills, including the compulsory allotment measure.
