time a well posted one, as he talked intelli-gently of what the Social-Democratic party had accomplished in Germany against the repressive hand of the Iron Chancellor. "Carnegie and Frick," he said, "were all the time inventing machinery to rob the work-ingman." "The capitalists," he said, "will not help themselves by driving the work-ingmen to poverty. The social revolution may come in this country at any time. When people are driven to poverty they When people are driven to poverty they are liable to do anything." As the shoemaker arose with a smile, he said: "I can't shoemake all the time, and I can't read all the time. I have to mix them up." Then Albrecht turned to the reporter for THE DISPATCH, and upon him poured forth in German a terrible tirade of abuse of the hirelings of the capitalistic press. Then he slapped his big black hat on his head and strode out of the office.

Will Ask for Bail,

Heinrichs Bauer and Carl Knold, the alleged Anarchists charged with conspiracy and with being accessories before and after the attempted assassination of H. C. Frick, will appear in Criminal Court before Judge Ewing at 9.30 this morning, and will ask to be released from jail on bail. In the charge of conspiracy against the prisoners Judge Gripp after their arrest fixed bail at $2,000 The magistrate refused to fix bail on the other charges, however, and they were turned over to court. It is probable that their bail in both cases against them will be fixed at $5,000. Their friends, many of whom were at the jail yesterday, say they can furnish that amount of real estate bail, and it is probable, therefore, that both will and it is probable, therefore, that both will be released this morning. No effort is being made to secure the amount of bail, $10,000, fixed by Judge Gripp in the case of Berkman, the assailant of Mr. Frick. Attorney Friedman, who will appear in court this morning in behalf of the other alleged Anarchists, said yes-terday that he took no stock in the report that Berkman's friends in New York were endeavoring to raise funds to defend him in court here

Murphy's Authority Questioned.

There has been considerable talk on the part of friends of Bauer and Knoldholding some sort of a concert or exhibition to raise money to defray the trial expenses of the prisoners. Chief Murphy, Chief of the De-partment of Public Satety of Allegheny, has ordered that no such meeting shall be held.

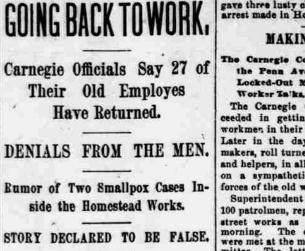

The Chief's order has created somewhat of a sensation among the foreign element in Allegheny. A committee of Bauer's triends called yesterday on Attorney Friedman, and consulted with him in regard to Chief Murphy's order, Mr. Friedman advised them that the Chief had no authority to in-terfere with their concert or exhibition so long as they made no demonstration or in no way threatened the peace. It is a question now whether the order of Chief Murphy prohibiting such meetings or the attorney's advice will be followed. Both Bauer and Knold are without money and their friends are earnest in the belief that money must be raised for them.

MAKING STEEL AT THE UNION MILLS

Twenty-seven locked-out men of Homestead applied for work yesterday. This is given on the authority of Treasurer Curry, of the Carnegie Steel Company. The leaders of the locked-out men deny it.

Mr. Curry was found at the mills yesterday afternoon. This is what he had to say: "There were 27 applications made to-day by the old men for their positions. All but three of these men were accepted by the company. The rejected ones were refused employment, because they were objectionable people. The men who want to come back represent all departments in the mill. Some them were Amalgamated men, the others are mechanics and laborers. One of the applications is from a man who has for several years filled one of the most important positions in the mill. He is a member of the Amalgamated Association, but he has not taken a very active part in the recent trouble. The workman who had the night turn on this same position has sent word to General Manager Potter that he will call and see him about returning to work. To-day a great many men have been calling to lift their deposits. We take it for granted that when a man lifts this money we have on interest for him that he means to quit our employ forever. There are a number of them that will have to do that, even though they have not lifted their deposits, and there are a certain number of them that will be given work if they apply immediately.

Filling Up the Mills.

"We are rapidly filling up our mills. The Tide made two trips this morning. The first one only brought up the carpenters and some of the other employes who had gone down to Pittsburg to stay over Sunday. The other trip brought 68 men up.

"Of the evictions I have little to say, be cause I think the subject is exhausted. At the start we notified 38 families to vacate our houses. Nearly all of them have done so. Those who moved on Saturday through the rain did it of their own free will. They could have waited for a better day to flit. They have until 12 o'clock to-night to get out, according to the papers we issued. Of those who have not left the houses two families have sent in a physician's certificate stating that their health will not permit a change. In these two cases nothing will be done until the houses are rid of sickness. If to-morrow should be rainy, of course we will not force the peo-

It may be, though, that instead the 33-inch mill may be started again. If that is the case the ten-inch mill will not be put on double turn for a number of days." The Other Side of the Story. Acting Chairman Crawford, of the Advisory Board said: "I know nothing of that was known. number of men going back to work. All that I have positive information of are two mechanics. They are Edward Lyon and Charles Geotel. Lyon is a brother of Walter A. Lyon, United States District Attorney at Pittsburg. He is a machinist. Geotel is a pipe fitter. Some time ago we were locked out he was given a good position in the 40 inch mill." The men at the headquarters of the mechanics and laborers would say scarcely anything about the men returning to work. The gentleman who furnishes the press with information said last night that he would make a statement to-day. The com-mittee was then investigating the claims of the company as regards old men going back. It would take until to day to finish the investigation. Vestigation. Yesterday a peculiar feeling of unrest was noticed among the locked-out men. They seemed to be holding long discussions which at times would grow quite animated. THE

The Carnegie Company yesterday suc ceeded in getting 12 skilled non-union workmen in their Thirty-third street mill. Later in the day all the machinists, gas makers, roll turners, blacksmiths, engineers and helpers, in all about 300 men, came out on a sympathetic strike and joined the forces of the old workmen.

Superintendent O'Mara, accompanied by 100 patrolmen, repaired to the Thirty-third street works as early as 4 o'clock in the morning. The city official and his men were met at the mill by a Workers' Com-mittee. The latter informed Superinten-dent O'Mara that no violence would be attempted and anyone entering the works would not be molested. A number of the committeemen assisted the police in keeping the crowd back.

At an early hour yesterday morning the entire Upper Mill was ready for a full start and all it required was workmen. The latter came later. At 6:30 o'clock a passenger train on the Allegheny Valley road drew up in front of the Thirty-third street mill. Twelve men alighted and quickly made their way into the works. There was no violence offered them. Quick as they were in getting into the mill, however, they were recognized. They are said to be former employes of Moorhead's mill. When the workmen in the mechanical de-partment, the engineers and blacksmiths learned that the firm had at last put their

One of the heaters among the non-unionists is Andrew Teemer, a brother of John Teemer, the famous oars-man. It is said he put a heat into the furnace yesterday, but could get no one to take it out for him. It is said it will cost the company $5,000 to get it out of the fur-nace nace.

Thomas Warren, probably one of the best known mill workers in the Penn avenue district, said last evening: "I have just re-ceived a telegram from the East stating that Florence Sullivan, a puddling boss in the Lower Mill, an ex-Vice President of the Amalgamated Association, and a deserter from our ranks, is traveling around through the Eastern section of the State, including Philadelphis, Catasaqua, Ferndale, Bethle-hem, Pencoyd and Phœnixville trying to secure non-union men for the Upper and Lower mills."

THE SOLDIERS ARE RESTING. They Put in a Very Quiet Day at Camp

Sam Black,

The remnant of the troops at Homestead put in a quiet day vesterday and thanked the signal service for the cooler weather. One of the engines that furnishes the water supply broke down, but the damage was soon repaired. Beyond the drills, dress parades and the ordinary routine of camp life there was very little stirring at Camp Sam Black. The provost guard is almost entirely con fined to guarding the river bank and the fences about the mill. The guard yester-day was made up of the first battalion of the Fiith Regiment in command of Major Elder. This battalion is made up of Com-panies C, B, F and I under the command of panies C, B, F and I under the command of Captains Bell, Reber, Simpson and Mc-Namara. The only trouble they had was on the river bank holding the crowds in check as the Tide passed up with its loads of non-union men. Men, women and chil-dren would collect there as soon as the boat any of the there is and the back ple out into the wet. We will give them and we did not want to run the nak of catching the disease." Driver's statement was corroborated by his companions. The smallpox report was received in Homestead last night. Mr. Potter most em-phatically denied the story. He said the company had a physician at the works all the time and so far there had been no sickness worth speaking of. At present there is not a man who is not well. The story first got out several days ago. Mr. Potter was coming from Pittsburg to Homestead in a car. Seated in front of him were two mill workers, but they did not know him. The men were discussing the Homestead trouble. Finally one of them said: "Do you know that four of the men employed in the mill have died from smallpox and that man Potter has buried them in the mill yard." Mr. Potter thinks this is how the story started. had any dealings with him.

A BREAK AT DUQUESNE.

Thirty of the Oid Men Reported to Have Returned.

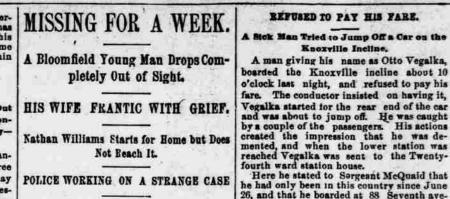

The Duquesne Steel Works management yesterday made the first move looking to an early resumption of work with non-un ion men. Yesterday morning several of the office force posted in conspicuous places the following notice:

following notice: Individual applications for employment at the Duquesue Steel Works will be re-ceived by the superintendent either in per-son or by letter until 6 p. M., Wedne-day, August 3, 1892. It is our desire to retain in service all of our old employes whose past record is satisfactory and who did not take part in the attempts which have been made to interfere with our rights to manage our business. Such of our old employes who do not apply by the time above named will be considered as having no desire to re-enter our employment, and the positions which they held will be given to other men, and those first applying will have the choice of unfilled positions for which they are suit-able. The route which must necessarily be taken by a person going from Dr. Norris' office to Williams' home is in places very dark and lonely. The houses are set far apart and the foliage from the trees so heavy that they totally exclude the light from the widely separated electric lamps. Pedestrians are few, and at the time Williams started home, between 10 and 11 at nicht one walks for sources ever.

No effort was made to-day to prevent men entering the mill and about 30 of the old men reported for duty and many more are expected to do so before Wednesday evening, the time set by the company for all old men desiring to retain their posi-tions. These men are most skilled work-men. The firm state that they will likely start up Thursday, but they will hardly be able to get started before next Monday, as it will take until that time to make repairs which are under way. The amalgamated people are quiet and have very little to say. They assert the notice posted to day is only a bluff on the part of the firm to scare the men into returning. A MASS MEETING TO-DAY.

the Homestead Men Fall of Hope Over the Outlook.

The Homestead Advisory Committee's ount. work was again routine last night, the most important thing they gave out being the notice that a mass meeting of the lockedout men would be held this afternoon. at 2 o'clock, in the rink. The meeting they say, is for the purpose of hearing re-ports from the Advisory and Kelief Com-mittees. Jerry Dougherty and W. A. Carney, of Pittsburg, will make addresses. Watching the Men at Work.

They would go up to Munhall station. At that point a fairly good view of the works is gained. When this prominence was reached each group would hastily survey as much of the inclosure as their point of ob-servation would permit. The greater part of them would come back to town, while of them would come back to town, while the others continued on up the Monongabela toward Duquesne. Why they should go there could not be understood. The leaders claimed these men were all from Duquesne. This was hardly credited, however, when these same men were seen com-ing back into town late in the day. They would not give out any information as to their whereabouts or business. The whole attitude looks very much as though there was to be a change of some kind soon. The people about town are commencing to talk this way now. Many of them think that this week will see the men.

The deputies deny the story that they had anything to do with the people who lived in company houses vacating them in the rain Saturday. They say they have not been given any writs yet, and until then cannot evict anyone.
