GAMBLE ON THE GREEN

Beltzhoover Annoyed by Lads Who Play Cards on the Grass.

A MODEL BOROUGH WITHOUT LAWS

The Law and Order Society Agent Declines to Take a Hand.

CRUSADE AGAINST PROFESSIONALS

Beltzhoover borough, a village of more han 1,000 inhabitants, between Thirty-first and Thirty-second wards, with Knoxville on he south and West Liberty on the west, is norally almost a model town. They have 30 hotels or saloons, no lawyers, no doctors, so drugstores and no graveyard.

It is true that the cows graze on the highways and swine wend their ways leisurely along the pavements, but that is not the cause of much complaint from the good citizens. What is looked upon as greater cause for alarm is this: While the town Council supposed the people were so good that no laws were needed, the youth of the town were gradually acquiring the habit of gambling, and, like most bad habits, it soon spread and became popular.

Play Cards on Sanday

Now squads of young men and boys may be seen most any time, but especially on Sundays, sitting on the ground in a circle with the "deck" in the center and each fellow with his "chips" by his side.

The Sunday gambling used to be confined to Boggs' and Butcher's groves, but when the boys learned that the borough has no ordinance against the practice, they became more bold. Constable W. L. Reed says they could be arrested on the charge of gambling under the State law, but the constable, when he makes the arrest, must see the money on the table, and here comes in the trouble. The young men all know Constable Reed, and when they see him coming they put the money into their pockets or hold their hands over it so he cannot see it, and continue playing. Mr. Reed thought the best way to get shead of the boys would be to deputize some stranger to make information against them. Declined by the L. & O. Man.

He paid a visit to the headquarters of the Law and Order Society of Pittsburg, where he was informed, so he says, that that so-ciety would not send a man to Beltzhoover unless the people came down liberally. Mr. Reed said his fees and salary amounted to $38 a year and he would give one week's salary, but he could not entice the Law and Order man to take the job and the boys continue to gamble. The constable and many others of the town think that Council ought to pass an ordinance prohibiting card play-ing in the borough on Sunday.

An open sewer along Murray avenue is another cause of much complaint from the people of this borough. At one place the stench is so great that the people have to close their windows during these hot days to keep it out. There is some talk of prose-cuting the Burgess and Council for main-talping a nuisance in the borough.

BUGS AND MOTORMEN.

yances Suffered by the Employes Rapid Transit Roads.

You cannot imagine what trouble thes tle bugs are to us," said a Pittsburg Tracn motorman as he was having one of them extracted from his eye. "It would be onder if we manage to get through a trip thout eatching three or four of them. oing at the rate of speed we do, they come saking it no easy matter to get the pests out again. I hear a great many conductors complaining about breathing them in. I never have experienced any difficulty in that way, for my mustache, which is quite luxuriant, protects me."

CRUSADE AGAINST GAMBLERS.

Iwo Informations Made and Forty More Are to Follow.

Warrants were sworn out vesterday before Alderman Hartman, of Pius street, for William Reed and John Quinn, of Sixteenth street, on the charge of maintaining Both men will be arrested to-day. It is alleged that they plaved "shell racket" and "chocolate bank." The informations were made by Constable Best, of Knoxville, and there are about 40 more to follow in the near future.

It Was a Silly Boy's Trick.

It appears that Ben Schoenman, the young man who came here from New York two weeks ago to attend the wedding of a former sweetheart, and after the ceremony disappeared, leaving a letter indicating that he had suicided, did not carry his threat into execution. The police learned yester-day that he had returned to New York and was living with his family there. His friends in this city have been visiting the morgue daily, expecting to find his body there.

Her Confidence Was Well Founded.

GOES BACK TO BAKING.

Mollick, the Alleged Anarchist, of Long Branch, Is Discharged and Set at Liberty by Judge Gripp-Evidence of the Police

Frederick Mollick, who was arrested at Long Branch, N. J., on suspicion of having been connected with Berkman, who attempted to assassinate H. C. Frick, was, after a hearing before Judge Gripp yesterday afternoon, discharged from custody.

Only two witnesses were called in the case. The first was Inspector McKelvy. His testimony was that on the Monday following the shooting of Mr. Frick he learned through the Adams Express office in Allegheny that a package of money had been sent Berkman from Long Branch, N. J., by F. Mollick and at once made an in-formation against Mollick and ordered his and took charge of the prisoner. Mollick did not deny sending the money to Berkman, and said that he was simply paying back a loan. Superintendent O'Mara found a number of papers on the prisoner, but none of them were of any importance. One of the papers was a postal card, written by Berkman from Allegheny, in which he said:

"I have received what you sent me. Give my regards to my friends. Live well."

There being no other evidence, and Attorney Henry Meyer not desiring to make any defense the magistrate discharged Mollick, and he left the office with a smile on his face, accompanied by his attorney. Mollick will return to Long Branch to-night and resume his duties as a baker.

NOT ENOUGH SALOONS

To Bring the Revenue From Liquor Licences Up to the Estimate of the Finance Committee - Water Does Better Than Strong Drink.

County Treasurer Bell turned over to the city treasury yesterday the city's share of the money collected on liquor licenses, amounting in all to $350,874 06. In making up the appropriation ordinance the Finance Committee had estimated $400,000 from this source, and in consequence of granting fewer licenses than anticipated the estimate has fallen short nearly $50,000. There were 392 licenses granted to saloon keepers in the city and it was confidently expected that at least 400 would be given out. This would have covered the estimate and left a balance of some $20,000. There are some other estimates that are alleged to be short, but on the statement of Chief Clerk Torrence, of the City Treasur-er's office, the supposition is wrong. The collections for water rents were said to be short some $60,000, but the collections will amount to about $100,000 more than the estimates of the Finance Committee. The source in the appropriation ordinance, but Mr. Torrence said yesterday that the collections would run up to between $750,000 and $775,000. He had not footed it up exactly, but it would be about that in round

The return from the business tax is another source of satisfaction about City Hall. It was thought the total would fall short of the estimate by some tens of thou-sands, but it will not. The estimated return from this tax was $117,500, and the collections have footed up an excess, or an actual return of $118,528 02. Some three or four thousand dollars will be cut off this by exonerations, but probably $2,000 will be added by the collections going through the hands of Del inquent Tax Collector Ford.

Worse Than a Lock-Out. The statement of Mr. J. Sterling, of Wickliffe, Ky., will be of especial interest

Wickliffe, Ky., will be of especial interest to mechanics, many of whom have had a similar experience.

"I am a cooper by trade, and for many years worked in Chicago. About 12 months ago I had an attack of diarrhos, which became chronic. I was treated by two prominent physicians of Chicago, but from them received no permanent benefit. I then went to Texas, where I was again treated by a leading physician with results similar to those I had previously experienced. In May I came to Wickliffe, Ky., in a very debilitated condition, consequent upon this long continued trouble. I went to a drugstore for relief, Chamberlain's Colie, Cholera and Diarrhos Remedy was recommended. The first dose relieved me, and two 25 cent bottles cured me. I consider myself well to-day."
