NOT MEALY MOUTHED

Is Ex-Senator Wallace, When Discussing the Homestead Troubles.

HE HITS OUT FROM THE SHOULDER,

Dealing Out the Law and Standing by Its Guns to the Last.

JUSTICE'S DEMANDS ABOVE ALL ELSE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] GREENSBURG, Aug. 3.-National day at Ridgeview Park was celebrated by the Chautauqua Assembly this atternoon, and ex-United States Senator Wallace delighted a great gathering of people with an eloquent talk on the condition of affairs at Homestead, the punishment of Private Iams, the remedies that must be applied to labor troubles and the regard in which the law should be held.

Senator Wallace remained at the park only an hour. He came direct from New York to make his speech, and immediately after delivering it he hurried to a train and returned to the metropolis. The Senstor is looking remarkably well, and he seems to be growing younger every day. Two bands and several Grand Army posts met the Senator at the train and escorted him to the grove. On account of his being in a hurry to get away Senator Wallace was allowed to make the address. He was introduced to the gathering by Rev. Mr. Weaver. The Senator said:

Life Is Not a Theory. Life is not a theory. At every point of contact between our dearest interests and the world we learn that it is full of practical realities. In Western Pennsylvania this sad lesson is taught us severely. Our lives, our realities. In Western Pennsylvania this sad lesson is taught us severely. Our lives, our liberties and our property are the sacred things that demand the protecting ægis of peace and safety, but recent events tell us of force, of violence and of bloodshed. That government is best that is least felt, but when its strong arm is raised to shield us in our daily lives, we are sharply taught that we live in an intensely practical world. We do not how to King or Kaiser, to Czar or Sultan: no autocratic rule commands and coerces our wills.

Our sovereign is law. We bow before its majesty. We glory in its universality. We boast its absolute supremacy. It is our own rule, and men can respect and obey it, because they recognize the power they have themselves created. The people rule. Our Government should rest upon their intelligence. Each voter is a part of the executive power. He makes law by his opinion, crystallized in the ballot, He executes and enforces law by his ballot, for his subordinates in office, whether that subordinate be President, Governor or constable. He aids in creating the instrumentality that can condemn his property and demand his life as a sacrifice for violated law.

Our theory teaches men to think of their own governmeut, and to learn to make constitutions and laws for themselves, and it compels purity and economy because the eye of the master is on the servant hourly.

Tyranoy of a Democracy.

But a Government of the people, if it becomes tyranny is infinitely worse than the government of one man, just as the government of 10,000 tyrants is worse than that of a single tyrant. And that it will quickly be come a tyranny, if the law be not obeyed, and is not enforced with judgment and decision, we are now learning.

The tribunals of our own creation can alone deprive us of our property; they alone dare inflict punishment, and that cannot be cruel and unusual, and they only can demand our lives as a sacrifice for murder done.

The right of every man to labor for whom and at what waye he pleases is as potent as the other right to organize, to quit work and by peaceful means to elevate wages and lessen hours of labor. Compulsion and force are at enmity with the spirit of the law and whether they be used upon the one side or the other are to be treated as enemies of the necola.

Men accustomed to another system than ours—the Latin, the Pole or the Hun, even educated men—do not grasp the elementary ideas of our Saxon freedom. Our local selfmeas of our Saxon freedom. Our local self-government, our grand jury system, our absolute legal control are enigmas and sealed books to them. Their system seizes the person, then procures the authority; ours, inflexibly demands hawful authority before home or person be invaled.

ours, inflexibly demands lawful authority before home or person be invaded.

Our system is a simple and plain one. We have vested the power and dignity of the state in its chief head. A few terse sentences demonstrate where and what it is. "Supreme executive power shall be vested in the Governor, who shall take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

The Governor Subordinate to Law. "The military shall at all times, and in all places, be in strict subordination to the civil power." Note the language—the supreme executive power is vested in the Governor, his duty is plainly defined—to see that the laws are faithfully executed. The power is supreme, the duty imperative.

This involves the very essence of the State, and the Government instituted by those and kindred clauses must be supreme in relation to all the offices, authorities and instrumentalities by which it performs its functions. It must be eight power or law. As Com-It must be civil power or law. As Com-mander in Chief of all our military the Gov-ernor himself is part of the military, and is strictly subordinate to the civil power and ernor nimself is part of the military, and is strictly subordinate to the civil power and to law.

In him resides the power of the people and the malesty of the law. It is his highest duty to protect the lives, the person and the property of the citizen. Civil power defines by law the powers and duty of military as well as civil officers, and disgrace and punishment can only be visited upon an offender by either, according to that law. All interior officers are his subordinates. Omissions or neglect to preserve civil rights endangered by violence or riots, or through the neglect of interior civil officers like sheriffs and constables do not relieve the supreme executive officer from his duty to see that the laws shall be faithfully executed. His power is the supreme one. His duty is to execute the law and to support and sustain all civil magistracy. The supreme executive afficer is missing the power and dignity supreme executive authority embodied in his person represents the power and dignity of our 5,000,000 of people, and that power and dignity firmly displayed in the midst of excited thousands of our people is worth 10,000 troops. The majesty of law bravely prociaimed by its supreme executive head will compel obedience where attempted compulsion by military lorce only serves those who helieve they are right, to armed resistance of the military power.

A Sheriff With Pluck.

I have seen a single armed sheriff awe and control 600 angry and excited miners, but the officer knew his duty, and was fearless in its discharge, and the men he controlled were fairly intelligent and understood the system of which they felt they were a part. I do not believe "that peace and order will have to be enforced at the point of the bayonet." I cannot think so ill of the bayonet." I cannot think so ill of the masses of the people of Allegheny county. If I did, I would despair of the inture of the Republic. I believe that the intelligence of that people is ample to defend themselves as well as to hold to a rigid account those who forget that the civil power was above the military, and inflicted punishments that have made us blush for the civilization of our State. Much there was that is to be regretted, but it is not to be charged to those who acted in hot blood, that they are aliens to our laws and traitors to our system.

It is unwise and unreasoning to charge crime upon the many for the wrongs of the lew. The law is in tull lorce. The scales of justice cest in the hands of honest judges, and the guilty will be punished. If it be true, as I fear it is, that the violence committed lies at the door of those who find their birth and teaching in other lands, then we must remember that the stream cannot raise higher than its head. We must purify and invigorate the springs of power. We must recognize and appreciate our great responsibilities as makers and executors of the law.

Must Learn One Truth.

We must learn and practice the pregnant truth, first enunciated by a great English Judge, that "to be free is to live under a government of law." We are not free when the best men of the State decline to take part in the enactment of law, or stand-idly by while its execution is defied. We are not tree when the venal, the ignorant and the Iree when the venal, the ignorant and the corrupt are permitted to diotate the control of the law-making power, or to defy the law when made. We are not free when the body politic grows illiterate and stupid through the introduction of enormous masses of foreigners who are utterly incompetent to appreciate the rule of the law.

Is this another proof of the wrongs we suffer from that new element, with which we are now being gorged to feed the demand for cheap labor?

Force and vigor with caim judgment and wise conservation in the execution of constitutions and laws are essential to our safety and our stury progress. Education in the duties of the ditizons or the State, the correction of vicious control by the venal and the ignorant, by narrowing future suffrage through educational qualification, and the performance of their duties by those who serve the State, are the gates to peace, order and the supremacy of law.

Senate Welliage's peace was roundly

Senator Wallace's speech was roundly applauded, and while he hurried off to catch his train an outburst of cheers fol-lowed him on his way. James S. Beacon, Ex-Lieutenant Governor Latta and others made short speeches, and the celebration concluded with religious exercises, in which thousands of people took part.

CHANGED THEIR MINDS.

Heirs Unwilling to Shire Equalty When They Learn There Was a Wil- 1 Wife Asks for a Divorce-News of the Courts. Register Conner yesterday held a partial bearing in a peculiar will case. Mrs. Caroline Herbert died during the month of June. She owned considerable property in various portions of Allegheny. In her will, which was destroyed after her death, she had bequeathed the small sum of $10 to all her children and grandchildren, with the exception of two sons, Leopold and Fallen, who were made executors and were bequeathed an equal share of the remainder of the estate. At the time the will was destroyed the two ons did not know its contents, and all the heirs entered into a mutual agreement to share the estate equally. The subsequent finding of papers changed the minds of the favored sons and they now desire to know what the will contained. A further hearing will be held to-day.

Didn't Stay at Home Nights.

Mrs. Alice A. Westbrook filed an applic tion vesterday for a divorce from her husin 1889. Cruelty and neglect are alleged. For the past year it is claimed the husband has been away from home for months at a time, and once, while under the influence of liquor, he drove his wife from the house at the point of a revolver.

The Bum of the Courts. JOHN HALL & Co. filed a suit vesterday against William M. Craig for $261 22, an action on a note.

THE Pittsburg Printing Company filed a suit against Max Adler & Co. yesterday for An execution was issued yesterday by Boyd, White & Co. against W. F. Shroeder & Co. for $886 40, an amount claimed to be due on an account. $300, an action on an account.

G. W. Jones, through whose property in G. W. Jones, through whose property in the Twenty-first ward, the proposed new Park avenue sewer is to run, filed an appeal yesterday from the award of the Board of Viewers and asks to be given a jury trial in

W. E. WALTERS entered a suit yesterday against Miller & Co., the real estate agents, to recover $99) 84, with interest amounting to $119 80, making a total of $1,110 64. The detendants, it is alleged, had sold a lot of property for Walters and for some time have refused to turn over the money accruing from the sales.

In the matter of the petition of the city of Pittsburg for the appointment of viewers to assess costs and damages for the construction of sewers on Fifth avenue, along St. Piere street and through the property of Mrs. Schenley and on Lincoln avenue, the Court yesterday appointed R. H. Lee, R. L. Pearson and Parker L. Walter.

In Time of Peace Prepare for War. Have you ever thought what you would do in case you, or some one of your family, was taken with a severe attack of colic, cholera morbus, dysentery or diarrhoea. In such cases it is not unusual for fatal results to follow before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. There is nothing that will give permanent relief so quickly as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It never fails and Diarrhoes Remedy. It never fails even in the most severe cases either for children or adults. Why not keep it at hand? 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by duggists.

CLARA BELLE'S JEWELS SOLD ouement of a Domestic Scandal in

Righ California Lite. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL, Aug. 3,-The sensational case wherein figured R, H. Mo-Donald, the banker and temperance advocate, his son, also a banker, his son's charming wife, Clara Belle, and a gay deceiver, Seneca Swalm, had a queer sequel vesterday. At noon the diamonds bought for the erring wife by the young husband were sold at auction in a dingy alley in front of the morgue, a deputy coroner front of the morgue, a deputy coroner acting as auctioneer. The crowd was composed mostly of jewelers' agents, pawn-brokers, clerks, "sure thing" operators and police court rounders.

The jewels, which cost every cent of $14,000, sold for $2,030, and it is said that the young banker was, for the second time, their purchaser. The sale was held to satisfy judgments against Clara Belle for dry goods. The jewels were given by her to Swaim, the alleged alienator of her affections, and he was arrested for their their. Swalm is in prison now and Clara Belle is living on a tarm in California.
