THE VETO WRITTEN.

Mayor Gourley Has One Ready on the Highland Park Addition.

MORE LAND IS NOT NEEDED THERE.

He Would Rather Buy Small Parks in Other Parts of the City.

COUNCILMEN MAY SUSTAIN THE ACTION

Mayor Gourley yesterday publicly announced for the first time that he had decided to veto the resolutions providing for the purchase of the Fite, Flinn and Lockhart properties as an addition to Highland Park. The veto messages were written nearly a month ago when it was expected there would be a special meeting of Councils. The Mayor declined to say at that time what he proposed to do about the resolutions, though it was generally supposed that as he had not signed them he intended to turn them down.

Now that his action in the premises is definitely known, there is much speculation as to what Councils will do. A considerable effort was required to persuade a majority of the Councilmen to vote for the passage of the bills, and, as some members have since stated, those who favored the purchase used the argument with Councilmen, in order to secure their votes, that the Mayor was in favor of adding this property to Highland Park and would surely sign the resolutions.

Much Opposition to the Measure.

Several members who are usually passive in matters of this kind opposed the resolutions vigorously, though it was represented to them that the measures did not provide for an actual purchase, but were merely necessary to keep alive options on the land, so that next February, if Councils choose, an appropriation of $250,000 can be provided and the property purchased.

John Lambie, Dr. Evans and others opposed this argument, stating that by the terms of the bills the city would be bound, if they became law, to buy and pay for the property, no matter what statements might be made to the contrary. It required adroit maneuvering on the part of the other side to counteract the effect of Mr. Lambie's argument, and several members in voting explained their position by saying they voted for the resolutions with the understanding that only the holding of options on the property was contemplated, and that they would not vote to buy outright.

Serious Charges by the Mayor.

It is now believed that not enough members of Councils can be secured to override the Mayor's veto. He will not make public the nature of the arguments he uses in his disapproval message, but it is understood that he will charge misrepresentation on the part of certain Councilmen and others, both as regards his position on the resolutions and the ultimate effect of their passage. It is known that the Mayor is opposed to increasing the size of either of the present parks. He did, at first, favor the purchase of the Fite property because he believes that the present entrance to Highland Park is too small and insignificant for the beautiful stretch of land beyond, and that with the addition of the Fite strip on the east side of Highland avenue there would be room enough to arrange an entrance commensurate with the size and importance of the park. But he is opposed to buying the Lockhart and Flinn properties and, while he would have been willing to buy the Fite tract, he feels that he cannot consistently favor the purchase of one and not all.

The Mayor has given much study to the park question within the past six months, and has arrived at the conclusion that Highland and Schenley Parks are already large enough. He thinks that Highland Park is too far out to become as popular with the mass of the people as it should be, that its location is such that it will always remain so, and that, barring a comparative few who can remain close to it, the people must always pay car fare to get to it. As to Schenley Park, he believes it will soon be the center of the city's population, and will always be the most convenient and the most popular with the common people.

Favors a Southside Park.

He also thinks that unless one owns a horse and carriage even Schenley Park is too large. No one, he thinks, cares to walk over a tract of more than 100 acres, and it would be far more beneficial to the people to have several parks of that size than two large ones in one end of the city. He thinks the next money spent for parks should go to the Southside. Twenty, 50 or 100 acres could be bought on the Southside hills, and with a little improvement would be a vast comfort and benefit to the large population of that section. The people of the Lawrenceville and Bloomfield districts should have a park also, he thinks, and then those of the West End. He uses the same argument for immediate purchases in these various sections that Chief Bigelow does for extending the territory of Highland Park, that is, that now is the time to buy, because in a few years property will have so increased in value that the expense will be more than double as great as at present.

Another point the Mayor will probably touch upon in his veto message is that while the figures on the various tracts in question are probably lower than market values he is opposed to buying unnecessary land, when for lack of money the city is leasing and paying exorbitant rents for property for the public works and safety departments in various parts of the city which public economy would indicate should be owned by the city.

ADVERTISING THE TOWN.

City Clerk Booth Gets a Magnificent Map of Melbourne, N. S. W.

City Clerk Booth received a communication yesterday from John Clayton, the town clerk of Melbourne, N. S. W., containing an order of the town council requiring Mr. Clayton to send to this city a map of Melbourne. It is a drawing in detail of the business houses and buildings from a bird's-eye view, and is a most excellent and beautiful picture, calculated to impress one with the importance and magnificence of the place.

Mrs. Cutkisky Died of Strangulation.

The autopsy ordered by the Court on the body of Mrs. Max Cutkisky was held in the Hebrew Cemetery yesterday by Dr. J. W. Boyce, of Mercy Hospital. He was assisted by Drs. J. Guy McCandless, J. P. McCord and R. E. Warner. The examination failed to show any signs of foul play, and the woman evidently died of strangulation.

Struck by a Cable Car.

A wagon belonging to George Harrison, a sign painter, was struck by a cable car at Thirty-ninth and Butler streets last evening and was completely demolished. The driver, Edward Lang, was thrown to the street, but escaped with a few bruises.

Judge Acheson Hands Down a Decision in the Case of John Matthews Against the Fidelity Title and Trust Company—Court Notes.

In the United States Circuit Court yesterday Judge Acheson handed down an opinion in the case of John Matthews against the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, as trustees of the Lawrence Bank, to recover $21,000 on a mortgage. The mortgage was given by Moorhead, McCleane & Co. to Matthews, who deposited it in the Lawrence Bank. The latter gave it as collateral security to the Union Bank. It was subsequently paid by Moorhead, McCleane & Co., and the Union Bank credited the amount to the Lawrence Bank. The Lawrence Bank paid most of its idebtedness to the Union Bank and the latter made it all good with some of the mortgage money. The balance, $21,000, was turned over to the Lawrence Bank's trustee, the Fidelity Title and Trust Company, and Matthews sued to recover it.

Judge Acheson decided that the mortgage had been merely loaned to the Union Bank and that Matthews was entitled to the amount sued for.

A Requisition for Tapper.

District Attorney Burleigh yesterday signed an application to Governor Pattison for a requisition on the Governor of New York to obtain B. Tapper, who is under arrest in New York City. Tapper is charged before Magistrate McKenna with the larceny of $200 worth of clocks and wringers from the C. F. Adams Company of Liberty street. He was arrested in New York Wednesday, on a telegram sent to the police officials by Superintendent O'Mara. He will be brought back as soon as the papers are obtained.

Want a Jury Trial.

William Voigt and wife yesterday filed a petition for a jury trial in the matter of their claim of damages for injury to property caused by the grading, paving and curbing of Grandview avenue, Thirty-second ward. They claimed $3,000 damages, but the viewers allowed them only $1,000.

An Illegal Liquor Seller Sentenced.

Michael Cloonan, of the Fourth ward, McKeesport, who was indicted for illegal liquor selling, yesterday pleaded guilty. Judge Ewing fined him $550 and sent him three months to the workhouse.

Claims He Was Slandered.

Henry Weising yesterday entered suit against George Quigg for $5,000 damages for alleged slander. Weising says Quigg accused him of stealing a pig. A capias was issued for Quigg's arrest.
