WESTERN UNION RISES

And Gains Are Scored by a Number of Other Shares.

READING ACTIVE AND HIGHER.

A Reduction in Sterling Exchange Reassures the Bulls.

RAILROAD BONDS MORE ANIMATED.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 .- The dullness in the stock market continued unrelieved today, but the firm temper was maintained and large fractional advances were the rule among the leading active stocks, while specialties were lifted from 1 to 2 per cent, though the general list was held dull and almost stagnant. The reduction in sterling exchange rates seems to have put a stop to the gold exports for the time being; at least there is no indication of any intention to ship at present, which is a circumstance reassuring to the buils in the stock market.

The absence of pressure to sell was the most prominent feature of the trading during the last two days, but while there have been efforts to pick up stocks quietly, and the strength of the market attests the excess of the demand, it is not believed that much success has attended these tactics, and it is thought that any forcing of the covering would result in much sharper gains in the leading shares. A story that the Pennsylvania was working in harmony with the Reading combination, subsequently contradicted by the Pennsylvania folks, had the effect of increasing the amount of business in Reading and advancing its price somewhat, but without exception the rest of the leading shares were dull throughout.

The market closed firm under pressure and most stocks showed small gains over their last night's figures, while Western Union, which had been the strong feature of the afternoon, scored a rise of 1% percent. the Pennsylvania was working in harmony

Railroad bonds were a little more ani-mated, but failed to show the strength they have of late, and while in the great majority of issues the changes were slight there were a few losses of note. Covernment bonds were dull and steady.

Watson & Gibson to Oakley & Co.: "We are buils on the stock market and recommend purchases particularly of all our stocks which are known to the American department of the London Stock Exchange, We may mention Lake Shore, Erie, St. Paul, Ontario and Western and Reading as our favorities. The crop news to-day shows that the dispatches of Monday, which indicated dire disaster to corn, were false. The market to-day has not been particularly active, but it was very firm and some specialties made marked advances. St. Paul carned $12,000 the first week of August this year more than in the same week last year. Western Union to-day sold at its top price, an advance of nearly two points from yesterday's close. The market did not close at its best figures, but its record for the day was good." Watson & Gibson to Oakley & Co.: "We some specialties made marked advances. St. Faul carned $112,000 the first week of August this year more than in the same week last year. Western Union to-day sold at its top price, an advance of nearly two points from yesterday's close. The market did not close at its best figures, but its record for the day was good."

CORN BREAKS

And Everything Else but Oats Goes With It-The Crowd, However, Continue to Be Strongly Bullish-Reports of Rains Exaggerated.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 .- There were rains all over the corn belt yesterday and last night as noted in the Associated Press dispatches. As a consequence the price of corn was 11/2 11/2 lower at the opening of the Board of Trade this morning. In sympathy with that cereal everything else was lower at the start. But at the recession the demand outstripped the supply and there was a unanimous advancement, though it was accomplished in hog products only after a little further decline. The result of the day's near where they stood at the close yesterday with provisions considerably lower. The wheat market was dull throughout, stagnant at times, in fact. Aside from the weakening effect of the break in corn at the weakening effect of the break in corn at the opening, weak cables assisted to start prices on a slightly lower plane, but the buying by shorts and longs prevented any further recession, and prices moved gradually up and the closing was within a point of the top. The continued liberal shipments to Europe more than counterbalanced the bearish effect of Bradstree's available supply statement, showing an increase of 1,654,000 bushels Fast of the Rocky Mountains and of 237,000 bushels on the Pacific Coast.

The chief interest centered in the corn pit, where there was a crowd of excited operators. A good many traders were disposed to whit for the United States crop report due this afternoon, but there was still a good deal of activity, and the general rains in Kansas. Nebusic and other States caused a sharp break in prices. Around the opening September corn sold at 513/c and a decline of 13/c from last quotation of yesterday, but there was such an active demand that it rose later to 53/c. Crop reports are still conflicting, but conservative people refuse to believe the stories about a ruined corn crop that are being circulated on the Board. Still, most of the crowd are strongly bullish, which accounts for the fact that the shorts were glad to come in at the break. Another builtish piece of news was the report of the Signal Service officer at Kansas City saying that the newspaper reports about yesterday's rains were greatly exaggerated.

Oats were active and comparatively stronger than corn, closing with an advance of 3/c for September.

Provisions failed to show the great activity noticed yesterday, but there was a good amount of business. On the call board Wright took all the October ribs offered. The Cudahy Company sold a good amount of January lard to Byan and English packers. The Cudahys have sold a great quantity of provisions within the last three days, and it is sunposed that they have quarly liquidated their lines. September pork sold at $12.70 just after the opening, a decline of $3/c from yesterday's closing price, but advanced to $12.95 on active buying, and closed at $12.82%, a loss of 17/c compared with yesterday. Lard is 10@20c lower, and ribs 16@17/cc.

Lake freights were easy at 2/c for corn to Bulfalo.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 10. There was fair trading in local securities on 'Change to-day, and, with the exceptions of weakness in P. & B. Traction and a slight reactionary tendency in Duquesne Traction, the active shares continued to tend upward. P. & B. Traction, Wheeling Gas, Philadelphia Company, People's Pipeage, Duquesne Traction stock and bonds and Union Switch and Signal were the items traded in, and all but the exceptions mentioned scored more or less significant gains. The only really weak spot was P. & B., which sold at 261/2 and closed on an offer to trade either way at 2614. The stock is only being pressed for sale from one source, however, and there is not, apparently, much of it for sale; but there is o support, which makes it an easy matter to put the stock down. Duquesne Traction was rather freely offered at 29%, but, as in the case of P. & B., the offerings came from one source. There was also a lack of sup-port after a few lots had been absorbed, and one source. There was also a lack of support after a few lots had been absorbed, and the close was rather unsteady at 28% 22%. The stock was not regarded as weak. The reaction was looked upon as a natural one, and the general opinion seemed to be that a speedy recovery would ensue. In the other tractions little change occurred, Central and Pleasant Valley were stronger, however, the demand for the latter being comparatively active. It was said the deaf for the absorption of the road by the Pittsburg, Allegheny and Manchester was being discussed in one of the downtown offices by those who have been engineering it ever since its inception, with a prospect of something definite being arrived at. No one seemed to know the place of meeting, however, and those who are popularly supposed to know all that is going on with respect to the deal appeared to be afflicted with tetanus when approached on the matter.

The gas shares were higher. Philadelphia Company sold up to 21½ at the third call, at which point a little more stock was offered, apparently, than was wanted. The stock closed at 21½ 21½, with the demand, strangely enough, reported quite as good as ever. People's Pipeage was higher at 1½ sales and a close at 1½ 26, and Wheeling Gas moved up to 19 sales and bid under a pretty general inquiry. The strength of the latter was ascribed to the advancing tendency of oil and the prospects of a resumption of dividend payments this fall. There was a good deal of quiet looking around for the stock on the street, where 19, it is said, was freely bid. Every advance in oil favorably affects the gas companies owning producing oil territory, and as the Wheeling owns more valuable oil territory than any other it responds most readily to the advances in oil.

Union Switch and Signal joined the upward movement, selling up to 17 and closing at 17 bid. The bidding was rather eager and came partly from sources that bay a lways

Union Switch and Signal joined the upward movement, selling up to 17 and closing at 17 bid. The bidding was rather eager and came partly from sources that have always looked at the stock through bearish spectacles, which added significance to it. So far as could be learned, there was nothing new in the company's affairs to stimulate a demand for the stock, but it certainly looked at the close as if it was going higher. Airbrake improved to 129½ bid, which comprised the noteworthy movements of the day. The market closed with all the strong stocks looking acod for further advances, with the possible exception of Philadelphia Company, and the weak ones looking as if they might go lower.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the United States Glass Company this afternoon a dividend of 4 per cent was declared on the preferred stock and one of 3 per cent on the common out of the earnings of the past six months, both payable September 1. The transfer books will be closed from August 21 to 31, both inclusive. This sets at rest the long-talked-of matter of a dividend on Glass and explains in part the comparatively speaking, and evidence was furnished showing that the accounts of the faithful are being steadily augmented. The upward turn of prices, is awakening interest, not only among the producing classes, but among the speculators as well. There seems to be an impression that the building of the independent pipe lines is responsible for the reviving tendency, the argument being that the Standard proposes to take a hand in the market for the purpose of encompassing the destruction of its rivals on the same old plan. If the independent lines do not sell out to the S. O. C. the producers will have three buyers for their production instead of one, prices will go up, production will be increased and the speculative end of the business will have a show.

Established banks, of course, do not look with favor upon new competitors, says the Tribune, and they find a good many reasons why new panking incompetitors, says the Tribune, and they find a good many reasons why new banking institutions cannot make a great success, but in spite of that promoters are finding it easy work floating bank stock. The statement of the State banks, in answer to the last call of the State banks, in answer to the last call of the State banks, in answer to the last call of the State banks, in answer to the last call of the State banks, in answer to the last call of the State banks, in answer to the last call of the State banks, with the condition a year ago. It is interesting to go still further with that comparison, and unite the totals from the reports of both National and State banks, and compare them with the totals of a year ago. Exact correspondence of dates in the comparison is not possible because the calls for statements of the National and State banks were made on different dates and at irregular intervals. But taking the statement for the date nearest the present period for 1891 and 1890, a most remarkable increase in totals will be noted. The aggregate capital has increased from $24,532,000 in 1898, to $34,477,000 this year. The increase in the capital of the National banks has been rather larger than in the case of the State banks. There has been an enormous increase in all the principal items. The following table will show the chief of these:

There was undoubtedly some buying for voting purposes at the annual meeting of the stockholders to be held next Wednesday, however, and it remains to be seen how much there is in the stories that have been current for some, time of discord among the officers and in the board. The declaration of the dividends, as noted, which were about what was expected, would seem to indicate a fairly harmonious condition of affairs. It is hinted, however, that the voting at next Wednesday's meeting will result in the election of some new members to the directory.

Under Way and Under Contemplation for the East End-Another New Plan in the Vicinity of Schenley Park-No Complaints of a Dull Market.

A tour among the architects to-day disclosed the fact that the city will shortly be beautified with some new buildings, mostly in the line of residences. Some very fine structures will be commenced within a few days, while plans and specifications are being drawn for quite a number of others, to be hurried through as quickly as possible. These dwellings are mostly to be built of stone, and quite a number will be of a very fine grade of granite. Permits have already been issued for the building of several. While the architects who are drawing plans for the others mentioned refuse for the present to give their location or the names of the parties for whom they are to be built, it is a well established fact that the houses, with but lew exceptions, are to be located in the East End. Among the costly dwellings to be erected is one for W. S. Guffey, at the corner of Liberty avenue and Baum street, the estimated cost to be $20,000.

A New Plan Near Schenley Park. The eight neres of land situate at the junction of Forward and Salina avenues, owned by S. J. Fleming, has been laid out into a plan of lots and named the Park Ter-race plan. Mr. Fleming has been negotiating race plan. Mr. Fleming has been negotiating for the sale of this property in acreage for some time, but not being able to consummate a deal in that manner, he decided to lay it out in lots, and hes done so as stated. There are 121 lots in all, and four lots, 20x123 feet each, have been sold for $1,020. This property is in the Twenty-seventh ward and overlooks Schenley Park.

No Complaints of Duliness. Few sales are being reported this week, mainly because of absenteeism and the high temperature, but no complaints of positive temperature, but no complaints of positive duliness are heard. On the contrary the agents are talking in a very cheerful strain regarding the prospects for the remainder of the year and nearly all of them have any number of irons in the fire, some of them in good shape for the finishing touches. The improving condition of affairs industrially is helping the tone of the market very perceptibly, one evidence of this fact being that a number of deals in lots and small houses, which were checked by the strike troubles, are being taken up a.ain. In the line of big transactions Tag Disparcy hears a little talk in high circles of one involving $250,000 that is likely to come to a head about the first of next month. There are any number involving $15,000, $20,000, $25,000 and $30,000 and from these amounts on up to a $400,000 deal in these amounts on up to a $40,000 deal in acreage, in hand, but the parties interested in nearly all of them cannot be brought to-gether until the vacation season is ended.

The following building permits were issued to-day: G. H. Schanweker, a two-story brick dwelling, Forty-first street, between Foster and Willow streets; cost, $2,000. Grace Luthern Church, a one-story brick church, Luthern Church, a one-story brick church, South Twenty-third street, corner Sidney street; cost, $17,000 J. B. Kaercher, a two-story brick dwelling. Center avenue, near Neville avenue; cost, $4,985. Best, Fox & Co., a four-story machine shop, Railroad street, corner Twenty-fifth street; cost, $29,000. W. S. Guffey, a two-story stone and brick dwelling. Liberty avenue, corner Baum street; cost, $29,000. Mrs. Sarah E. Risch, a two-story frame dwelling, Ivory street, near Stanton avenue; cost, $1,300. Fred Lee, a two-story frame dwelling, Susquehanna street, near the city line; cost, $1,300.

FIRMNESS THE RULE

the Local Mercantile Markets, With Breadstuffs, Groceries, Provisions and Dairy Products in the Lead - Current Trade Notes and Price Changes.

WEDNESDAY, August 10. Trade in general merchandise in Pittsburg and throughout dependent sections is fair, despite the high temperature and the insettled condition of affairs at the Carnegie mills, and the firmness which characterizes the leading markets is accepted as a very encouraging indication. Breadstuffs, dairy products, groceries and provisions show the most strength, as well as the most activity, with lumber, hardware and genat good prices. Collections are not as easy as they might be, but no serious complaints at good prices. Collections are not as easy as they might be, but no serious complaints are heard. In the Chicago speculative markets interest is centered in corn, oats and provisions, which have of late shown much activity and an upward tendency. Higher prices have been chiefly due to the fact that thrashing returns on oats have been disappointing, and advices from Kansas have had much to say about damage to the crops by high temperature in districts where there was an insufficient moisture. There have been reports just as strong to the effect that the damage was confined to small and unimportant areas, but the Kansas State crop report was quoted in confirmation of the reports of damage. In oats, corn and provisions the short interest is known to be very large, and this has added to the confidence of the bulls. Wheat has rather trailed along after other grains and has shown little advancing tendency.

In the South mercantile business is in a more satisfactory condition and is increasing. One of the good features is that payments are made more promptly. The crop reports are more encouraging; new cotton was marketed hat week in Georgia and Alabama; the weather has been favorable for all growing crops. The iron furnaces continue in blast, nearly every turnace being in operation, but prices are very low. The labor troubles in the North have not been feit in Southern industries. There is an increased demand for all kinds of machinery and positive evidences of an improving situation in industrial pursuits. Lumber continues active. Textile plants are in prosperous condition.
