A Plain Illustration of the Success of McKinley's Tariff.

New Mills in Operation as a Result of the Republican Policy. HOW CLEVELAND INJURED THE TRADE

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., Aug. 11.-There is a little creek which wanders down from the highlands overlooking the valley of the Mohawk at this place, and after running athwart the lower part of the city, flows into the river. Thronging the sides of this small stream in its descent from the hilltop, are scores of factories. Chief among them, high in the air and commanding a view of the city, are the large carpet mills of S.

Sanford & Sons. The carpet mills are Amsterdam's pride. They were first started here in 1840 by John Sanford, father of Stephen Sanford, the present head of the firm, with 14 machines and 25 hands. The pay roll was insignificant. Under the beneficent operations of the protective system, mill after mill has been added until there are now employed about 2,500 persons, who receive in wages $750,000 yearly, and manufacture carpets worth several millions of dollars.

There was suffering among the operatives of the carpet mills at the time of Mr. Cleveland's former attack upon the tariff. In 1887 and 1888, business fell off and the mills were only running five days in the week, and then only on half time. But General Harrison was elected, and business again became brisk in the carpet trade. Work Is Constant Now.

Now, every day, the mills are in opera-tion, and every man and woman employed in them works all day. Moreover, Mr. Sanford feels so much encouraged by the operation of the McKinley tariff that he is now executing a mill for the more treating a mill for now erecting a mill for the manufacture of now erecting a mill for the manufacture of moquette carpets, in which he will employ 1,000 persons; and in 1893, he intends to erect an additional carpet mill for the employment of 1,000 persons. The people of Amsterdam, and especially the tradesmen, are highly pleased that 2,500 persons are thus to be added to the population of the place, for it will bring greater prosperity to all who live within the borders of the

Has this business success of the carpet Has this business success of the carpet manufacturer and this prosperity of the working people been gained at the expense of the purchasers of carpets? No; for prices have been lowered. Mr. Sanford makes in his mill velvet and tapestry velvet carpeta, upon which the duty was raised by the McKinley tariff act respectively from 25 cents to 40 cents a yeard and ively from 25 cents to 40 cents a vard, and from 30 per cent to 40 per cent a yard; and tapestry brussels, figured and plain, from 20 cents to 28 cents, and from 30 per cent to 40 per cent a yard. Mr. Sanford said: "We are selling tapestries from 40 to 6234 cents a yard, and velvets from 75 cents to $1 15 a yard. Upon all these grades of goods there has been a reduction of at least 10 per cent since the year when the McKinley act was

A General Reduction in Prices. "In fact, there has been a reduction of the same percentage upon all grades of carpets that we sold at 70 cents a yard in 1890, which we are now selling at 6214 cents a yard, a reduction of 714 cents a yard, and in many lines of carpets the reduction is greater. In my 50 years of experience as a manufacturer of carpets, I have never known carpets to be as low as they are now; yet on account of the great demand for American goods and the volume of sales our business is satisfactory. What is best of all we have been enabled to maintain the wages of our men, despite this reduction in the price of our goods. Those wages are no lower than when the McKinley act was passed. What is very pleasing is the absence of English carpets from our markets; and, indeed, nearly all foreign carpets. The manufacturers in this councarpets. The manufacturers in this country are able to make all the goods consumed here. Indeed, they are able to make more than we need, and it is their competition this year which has reduced the price of carpets to the lowest point ever reached in the history of the carpet trade. If the tariff on carpets be reduced, English carpets would come in, and whatever amount they may be, whether $1,000,000 or $5,000,000 worth, it will take just that volume of pro-duction away from this class of working people in this country, and force them into other occupations or else deprive them of

"You do not, then," I asked, "favor a reduction of the duty upon carpets?"
"I do not, and I have had an experience "I do not, and I have had an experience which is worth telling as to the effect of a threat to reduce the tariff. After Mr. Cleveland sent his message to Congress in 1887, advocating a reduction of the duties upon manufactured goods, we suffered from stagnation in our business. Merchants who formerly would give an order for 40 or 50 pieces of carpets refrained from doing so, not knowing what might happen. They would give orders for five or ten pieces only. They thus worked along from hand to mouth, and we were forced to run our works on half time.

Result of the Election of 1888. "When the news of General Harrison's election came I immediately started our mills on full time, and have run them in that way ever since. The average reduction in the price of carpets since the McKinley act was passed has been 10 per cent. What a reduction in the price of carpets there has been! My father sold carpets at $3 a yard for which I now can obtain only 621/2 cents a yard."

Mr. Sanford's workingmen and workingwomen look happy and contented. They receive good wages, and many of them have saved a competency. Hundreds of them own the houses in which they live. Amsterdam prides itself upon having a larger proportion of her population living in homes owned by their occupants than any other city in the State. The operatives of the mills own a large proportion of these buildings.

If the increased duty upon carpets is a "tax," the consumers of carpets in Amster-dam are not aware of the fact; and the followers of Mr. Cleveland in the city ac-knowledge that in this instance, at least, he was mistaken. Nor can they see that the McKinley act, so far as carpets are concerned, has done any harm. Before their eyes are hundreds of American workingmen and workingwomen employed at good wages the year round. They know that Mr. Sanford intends within a year to give employ-ment to 2,500 more Americans, and they are aware that the prices of all grades of car-pets manufactured in this city have been reduced 10 per cent. Under these circumstances a great many protection Democrats declare that they intend to sustain the American tariff policy, which has wonder-fully benefited their town, by voting for Benjamin Harrison for President.

OUR OCEAN COMMERCE THE BEST. Figures Show That Uncle Sam Is Away

Ahead in Mexico. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. - Minister Ryan, in transmitting to the State Department recently published statistical tables of Mexican foreign and domestic shipping movements for 1891, calls attention to the highly gratifying condition of our ocean commerce with the neighboring republic. He says:

"It will be seen that more American steamers entered the Mexican ports than those of all the other nations of the world combined: that American sailing vessels entering were infinitely in excess of those of any other country; and that Mexico's do-mestic or international commerce was carried by more American steamships and sailing vessels than those of all other nations com-bined, with the single exception of Mexico itself. Another table manifests the great increase in Mexico's maritime movement during the said fiscal year over the preced-ing. How large a part the United States contributed thereto is indicated above."

CHILE WANTS TO SETTLE,

And a Claims Commission Will Meet in Washington to Arrange Matters. WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Minister Egan has definitely agreed with the Chilean Government upon a convention for the settlement of all unadjusted claims of citizens of the United States against Chile by means of a claims commission, to meet in Washington. This action of the Minister chronicles the satisfactory termination of a negotiation which has been pending for a long time. No general claims convention has ever been celebrated with Chile, and claims of American citizens date back for more than half a century, though a great portion of them have their origin in the Chilean-

Peruvian war, 12 years ago.

Mr. Egan reports that in all negotiations leading up to settlement the Chilean Government has met him in most friendly spirit. Much satisfaction is expressed at the Department of State at the successful result of our Minister's efforts in this and other matters result be brought to a conclusion. ters recently brought to a conclusion.

Messiah Schweinfurth Will Establish Church in Keckuk.

ROCKFORD, ILL., Aug. 11.-George Jacob Schweinfurth, the Messiah, will abandon Illinois and create a new haven in Iowa, just south of Keokuk, on the Missouri line. Schweinfurth says he has grown tired of the persecutions heaped upon him and his flock by the people of Illinois. He and his flock by the people of Illinois. He claims that his flock has grown throughout the country, and that he now has 4,500 followers. He proposes to colonize them all near Keokuk. The land which he seeks to purchase covers 25,000 acres.

The men and women will be compelled to live apart as at Rockford, and it is proposed to organize the colony on the communistic plan, with a Board of Supervisors, all under one spiritual head, Schweinfurth, with Angelica Weldon in charge of the women's work. The good people of Keokuk are said to be greatly provoked.

A Model of the Kearsarge to Be Built, WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.-A novel feature of the reunion of the naval veterans here at the coming G. A. R. encampment will be the erection of a model of the old warship Kearsarge, the conqueror of the Alabama, on the grounds adjacent to the White House. The model will be 240 feet long, built mainly of wood, armed with four guns, and have a cannas over the deck. The addresses are to be delivered from the poop deck, while the berth deck will be fitted with hammocks for the accommodation of the guards. of the guards.
