Alderman Kerr Imposes Fines Upon Unnatural Parents.

There were two hearings before Alderman Kerr last night of persons charged with cruelty and neglect by Agent J. W. Jack, of the Anti-Cruelty Society.

Michael Hollahan, who lives at 2621 Penn avenue, was accused of ill-treating his 14year-old girl, sending her out to beg, and into saloons to buy beer. He was fined $10 and costs.

James and IsabellaCrawthom were charged with cruelty and neglect of their three chil-dren. They are the persons who were so able to work some circuits, as Boston and Montreal, for several minutes by that force alone and without our batteries. This, of course, was only temporary, because the force of the current is so variable, and it reverses from positive to negative so rapid-ly that we could do nothing practical either with it or with our batteries. that are put upon the market in the guise of infaut oods. Beware of the dangers of stale milk, and milk child, use lactated food. Lactated food is the most perfect substitute there is for mother's milk. Like nature's food, its basis is the purest sugar of milk. With it is combined the nutritious elements of the great cereals, wheat, harley and oats, so prepared as to be readily digested and assimilated. The addition of the salts found in mother's milk makes it a perfect substitute. With the increase of cholera infantum, there has come from physicians and nurses an extraor dinary demand for it.

There was hot sparring, the prisoner's counsel showing pugnacious powers. The Government's demurrer was finally sustained, and Mr. Jennings filed an exception. He moved for a trial at once. The safe belonging to Mr. Borden was opened this afternoon by a safe expert. District Attorney Knowlton and Lawyer Jennings will examine the contents to-mor row.

Miss Borden Behind the Bars,

Miss Borden entered a cell at Taunton jail at 4:25 this afternoon. Her entry took the form of a public ceremony. The ex-citement was high. Arriving at the Central passenger station, Miss Borden was conducted to a curtained hack by Minister Buck and City Marshal Hilliard, Detective Seaver acting as guard and clearing the way. The only sign of interest she manifested was when Taunton was reached, when she aroused from her lethargy for a second, then dropped her head on her hand and closed her eyes. Arriving at jail she was at once placed in a cell, the minister conducting her to the door and Marshal Hilliard seeing that the door was properly secured. Mrs. Wright, wife of Sheriff Wright, an old friend of the Borden family, hurried to the cell with a glass of water, which the prisoner eagerly drank. When Miss Borden entered the jail office her face was composed and there was no sign of consciousness given. She passed through corridors, apparently seeing nothing and noticing nobody.

The sherifl stood by the inner door, and he was affected almost to fears when he saw the daughter of his old friend passing in the apartments usually occupied by the most degraded females. Minister Buck emerged from the cell room white and agitated and not disposed to talk.

She Bejects a Chance to Explain.

It was learned to-day that Lizzie Border was told at the last session of the inquest that she had at last a chance to explain away the evidence the police are said to have accumulated against her. But to their first question was her answer to them all: "I have nothing to say." She then said this slowly, as if weighing every word: "I have said everything I could; there is nothing more."

Mr. Dolan and Dr. Edward Draper, the medical examiners for the Southern district of Suffolk county, were busy at the cemetery yesterday morning examining the re-mains of Mr. and Mrs. Borden. The body of Mrs. Borden was examined first. The wound on the right side of the forehead and the slight wounds on the back of the head on the right side were all pointed out by Dr. Dolau. Dr. Draper then began an in-dependent examination of the body. He discovered a wound on the back directly beneath the left shoulder blade. It is a clean cut and is the width of the blade of a medium-sized hand az.

A Strong Point Against Lizzie. How Dr. Dolan could have overlooked it is not clear. His examination must have been at least superficial. The cut is vertical, and was made, the police argue, while Mrs. Borden was standing erect. If she was standing and fell when she was cut, why didn't Lizzie Borden hear the fall? Conferee McGovern, of Jefferson, says the conference sticks out over Sunday a nomination can be made on Monday. He argues that everyone will have so much time to get together on Sunday that the question will be solved when the conference convenes Monday. His statements are rather favorably received by many. They cannot see how an adjournment from another week or more will help anyone. Several of the conferees said to-night that an adjournment only served to make them more stubborn. When they go home they are bolstered up by their friends and come back as freely determined to play the baby act as ever, while if they stay in session it is different. Their stubborn feeling then wears off and they grow freer with their votes. It might be possible, however, that an adjournment would take place to-mor-

A Popular Vote Not Wanted, This morning Conferee McConnell, of Westmoreland county, offered as a resolu-tion the proposition Mr. Laux yesterday submitted to the conference. It was to let the selection of the condidate go to the vote of the people of the district. It was voted down by a vote of 9 to 3, every county being against it but Westmoreland. When it was brought up Chairman Patton on some ground ruled it out of order, and he was sustained by his own and Indiana and Jefsnake in it. This is the way with all propferson counties. They thought there was a ositions. The conferees are all afraid

The feeling in Punxsutawney is still in-creasing for Colonel Huff. To-day the town was nothing but Huff. The business men, the protessional men and the farmers are all for him alike.

At Brockville the Senatorial conferees are afraid to ballot. This morning after a couple of ballots had been taken they ad-journed. In the afternoon they went to see a ball game and did not meet again till to-night, and then nothing was done.

All the cables, Commercial and Western Union, running under the sea from hers to Nova Scotia, felt the aurora. At times it was found possible to operate the land cir-cuits from here to Rockport, Mass., with the auroral current alone. "We were bothered a great deal for a whole hour, from 12:50 to 1:50 P. M.," said Superintendent Smart, of the Commercial Cable Company, "but it was worse during the first half hour. The trouble was just as bad on the long cable, from Nova Scotia to Ireland, as on the cables wholly on this side. The cables of the Western Union from Nova Scotia to Penzance were equally af-fected and interrupted, and it was reported from Great Britain that the telegraph circuits over there were very much disturbed by auroral currents. This would indicate that the auroral forces existed over an immense area.

Chicago was laid out in all directions to some extent, at times wholly interrupted, and it is a long reach from Chicago to England, but the aurora seemed to stretch The thunderstorms which have bothered the land circuits so much in the past week have not troubled the cables at all. Experience has proven that pure food and pure air are the only panaceas for the illn infancy.

Thousands of mothers have found that nothing but instated food will agree with their children Mrs. August Soubler, 59 Merrimac street, Haverhill, Mass., writes:

"We have used lactated food for our little girl, and it furnished her nourishment when everything else failed. I send two photographs of her, one when she was nine months old, the other when 13 months old. [The latter appears above.] We began the use of the food when she was seven months old, at a time when she was very ill. She was quite backward in cutting teeth. Our family physician stated that she received no nourishment from my milk and recommended lactated food, which our friends also recommended. I am satisfied that to it she owes life and health. ""
