BEIVELY'S RETIREMENT FROM POLITICS

(FROM & STAFF COBRESPONDENT.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 .- Never since the war has preparation been made for any gathering at the Capital like that which is now at the highest pitch for the entertainment of the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, whose annual encampment will begin about the middle of September. It is as though a new war had broken out and barracks were being erected for the housing of the defenders of the seat of the Government. Inauguration pageants are not to be spoken of in the same breath, and the conclave of the Knights Templar, a few years ago, becomes insignificant compared

Under the shadow of the Washington Monument and on the banks of the beautiful carp ponds of the Government, long rows of skeletons of houses are already erected, and the weatherboarding is about to begin. These barracks are intended to house upward of 15,000 veterans, who, if they be not furnished the comforts of home, will at least have quarters more satisfactory than they had for the most part during the time of ectual war.

Over to the south of the Capitol, in Garfield Park, which is becoming more beautiful day by day, barracks are building for about 15,000 more, and in the prettiest part of the Mall, north of the Army Medical Museum and the Smithsonian Institution, provision is to be made for upward of 3,000 members of the Veteran's Union.

Nearly 100 posts of Pennsylvania veter-mus have signified their purpose to attend with pretty near a full complement of men. Among those from the western part of the State are the Colonel J. C. Hull, the Mc-Phorson and the Lieutenant E. R. Geary, of Pittshurg: the Emary Fisher of Johnson Pittsburg; the Emory Fisher, of Johns-town; the Strong Vincen, of Erie; the Reno and the Colonel D. S. Berrows, of Will-iamsport; the Major W. B. Mays, of Frank-lin; the Colonel Elisworth, of Scottdale; the Sergeant Peiffer, of Meadville; the G. S. Whiteworth of Angelle; the G. Shively's Retirement From Politics.

Hon. Benjamin Franklin Shively, of the Those benjamin Franklin Shiyely, of the Thoreenth Indiana district, one of the most brilliant and popular members of this and two preceding Congresses and of a portion of the Forty-eighth Congress, when he was the youngest member of the House, is one the few members who this year have re-fused a renomination with the intention of retiring parameters from colline. retiring permanently from politics. Of course it need not be said that it is the GREAT GATHERING 1889 speech on trusts. Representative Brvan's speech on the same subject is being called for throughout the Northwest. The tariff speech delivered by Represen tative Crisp two years ago is going out quite numerously, and so are the remarks of Rep-resentative McCreary on woolen goods. Representative McKinney's speech on pensions is being widely circulated, but no more so than the anti-force bill effort of Senator McPherson. Henry George's "Pro-tection or Free Trade," which was published as a serial in the Record, will be sent out in as a serial in the Record, will be sent out in great quantities. Democrats in the South are afraid of General Weaver and the party that is be-hind him, so the committee is susplying them with unlimited quantities of a Re-publican speech delivered by Representa-tive D. R. Henderson, of Iowa, in which General Weaver is finely exposed and abused.

For the time being it might be said that the National Committee has absorbed the Congressional, as the large corps of clerks which occupy the house from attic to base-ment are under the direction of the National Committee, with Mr. McPherson to see especially to the Congressional end of the campaign Titles of Some of the Works.

To give an idea of what the committee has done and will do, it is enough to say that no less than 5,000,000 large envelopes and 8,000,000 wrappers will be used. In these will be mailed about 30 distinct pub-lications. Many of these belong to a regular series-the voters' library-and they in-clude W. H. Michael's "Better Dead than Homeless," "Free Traders Unveiled," "A

These quarters are intended to furnish free lodging for members of posts who are least able to spend for their own entertain-ment, and caterers will deal out grub to them at a price fixed by a committee. Out-side of these free quarters it is expected that the "boys" will be able to provide for themselves at hotels or at the legion of private boarding houses, at all of which, it is asserted, the most reasonable rates have been agreed upon. Certainly, if Washing-ton has ever been accused of extorting un-reasonable charges from visitors upon great occasions, it will not be at this time. Nearly 100 posts of Pennsylvania veter-ans have signified their purpose to attend with pretty near a full complement of men. Among those from the western part of the General Dunn was the youngest member of the famous Committee of Seventy which unearthed the famous Tweed frauds. As a wisest act of his life. Mr. Shively says it is with a deep sense of satisfaction that he contemplates complete divorce from official ite after his term expires, the 4th of next He is only turned 35, and practi-March. cally has his whole life before him

He being from the State which has been proud to call Judge Walter Q. Gresham a lavorite son, I asked Mr. Shively to-day what he thought of the Judge's flop to the People's party. "I have not yet been able to make up my mind that Judge Gresham has really turned his back on his old party," answered Mr. Shively. "The proof yet seems to be rather vague, and probably I shall not be convinced that the report is true until I hear of him on the stump. It would be perfectly logical, however, for the Judge to leave the Republican party, as he has not been wholly in sympathy with it for years, and as he could not go into the Democratic party, the only landing place would be with the new party."

Bound to Be of Influence.

"If it be really true it is hard to estimate the influence it will have, especially in In-diana and Illinois. Of course the fact that he has not been a strict Republican for two or three years would somewhat detract from the force of his exodus, but it will, never theless, have great weight, and not only with Republicans alone. Judge Gresham is not a crank. He is a gentleman of refinement, diguity, and of a logical and judicial mind. He does not act from impulse, from chagrin, from jealousy or from vindictiveness. You may depend upon it if he has really gone over to the People's party he will st the right time give a good reason for it. As for the effect of such a transformation, generally speaking, let me tell you that if half a dozen men like Judge Gresham were to leave the old parties for the new one, no one could measure the impetus it would give to the movement. Even as it is," continued Mr. Shively, "it is mpeculating in the dark to guess what will be the result of the schism from the old parties. They who have an interest in doing so may talk against General Weaver as they please, but he is a very shrewd politician and one of the best stump speakers I have ever heard. The movement of the farmers is a most extraordinary one. It looks as though the great body of them, in the South and West at least, were permanently separated from the old parties.

No More Use for Old Parties.

"It is impossible any longer for leaders or speakers of the old parties to get a hearing at all among them. They meet in secret at their schoolhouses and curse the old parties to each other, and they go home full of enthusiasm for the new movement and will listen to none of the arguments that a few years ago would arouse them to the highest pitch of party fervency. "A friend of mine from Colorado was telling me the other day that on the occasion of a visit to his city of several distinguished gentlemen, among whom were two or three United States Senators, they got up a barbecue. It was especially intended that the farmers should be assem-$15. bled to hear how they were being led astray by the new isms. The affair was advertised in the most attractive way throughout all the rural region roundabout, and a great army The meeting proved to be a still one, at best, and there were not 75 farmers, all told, in the crowd. I tell you, the third party movement is not a thing to be sneered at. It is a substantial fact." Democratic Hustlers at Work

Secretary Lawrence Gardner, o the Democratic Congressional Committee, is one of the busiest men in Washington these days, and he is in the thick of preparation tor the flooding of the country with mount-ainous chunks of "frozen truth" in the shape of campaign matter going to prove that the Ecpublican party is the most vicious party on the face of the earth, and that the tariff is the greatest crime of the age. Of the speeches that are being sent out, the greater demand is for the tariff oration delivered by Senator Carlisle. Already there are orders for 250,000 of these. A vast number of people want Rep-resentative W. L. Wilson's speech on duties on wool and woolen goods and also for his
