MISS BALSLEY DEAD.

The End Overtakes Her at the Allegheny General Hospital.

HER UNHAPPY LOVER AT HER SIDE.

Story of the Accident That Caused the Woman's Death.

AN ALLEGHENY FAMILY MAY DISSOLVE

Poor Blanche Balsley, before she died yesterday morning at the Allegheny General Hospital, recovered consciousness and recognized her relatives and friends, who were at her bedside. . There were present her father, W. W. Balsley, of Connellsville; her sisters, Miss Sudie Balsley and Mrs. Jean Sypher, of No. 16 Jefferson street, Allegheny. There was a fourth mourner, whose grief seemed to be the most scate of all, a fine-looking, well-dressed, heavily-built man. This was Matthew Kelly, the proprietor of the Scottdale House, at Scottdale, Pa. He was betrothed to Miss Balsley, and it was evident that her death was a severe blow to him. It was just about 1 o'clock when the sufferer, holding the hand of her sister, passed from life to death.

The relatives soon left the hospital, and vesterday morning the body of the young woman was viewed by the Coroner's jury, and afterward placed in charge of Undertaker Anthony Meyer. The corpse will be shipped to Connellsville this morning, and the funeral will take place there to-morrow afternoon.

She Was Young and Pretty.

Miss Blanche Balsley was 25 years old in June. She was the second daughter of W. W. Balsley, a cigar manufacturer of Counellsville. She was a very pretty young woman, with heir nearly black, and dark brown eyes. Her face was round and her figure plump. About a week ago she and her sister, Sudie, came to Allegheny to visit their married sister, Mrs. Sypher, whose husband, a fine looking young man of erect carriage, is a eigarmaker.

The accident which caused Miss Balsley's death occured about 10:30 o'clock last Friday night, when she and Samuel Sharp fell over a cliff on Monument Hill. The police were called to the scene, and sent the injured man and woman to the hospital. The officers discovered that Sharp and Miss Blanche were accompanied by another gentleman and lady, who at the time of the acci-dent were sitting near the monument, below where their companions fell. The second gentleman gave his name as Alexander Cameron, and it developed that he was Sharp's room-mate at No. 43 Sandusky street. The other lady said her name was Sullivan, and there has been a great mystery as to her identity. This mystery was solved yesterday, when a DISPATCH reporter discovered that this second lady was the dead girl's sister, Mrs. Jean Sypher.

Always Been a Good Gir!.

Yesterday morning a Coroner's jury viewed the body of the dead girl and an inquest was begun later in the Coroner's office in the Court House. W. W. Balsley office in the Court House. W. W. Balsley identified the deceased as his daughter. He said she had always been a good girl. He did not know whether she knew Sharp before last Friday night or not, but his youngest daughter, 14 years of age, had told him after she saw the account of the accident in the newspapers that she knew Sharp and had seen him several times in Concellertlle.

Connelisville. Alexander Cameron was then called. He is a clerk in the office of Gebbie & Co., publishers of fine art works at No. 95 Fifth avenue. He said he had known Miss Balsley since last fall, having made her ac-quaintance in Allegheny. He was sure that Sharp had not known her or the other lady prior to last Friday night. Cameron said that he met Miss Balsley and her companion at the concert in the Allegheny park last Thursday evening. They spent some time together and the ladies then asked some time together and the nucles then asked him to meet them at the bridge in the park on the next evening and take them to the concert in Highland Park. He agreed to do so, and met them accordingly. They sat down on a seat, and by and by Sharp came along. Then it was suggested that, as it was rather late to go to Highland Park, they should go to Monument Hill, have a good night view of the two cities and get a look at the fiery planet, Mars.

A Handsome Business Block to Adorn the Lower Part of the City. Charles Bickel has drawn up the plans for large new brick business block to be crected at the corner of Liberty avenue and Eighth street. It will have a frontage of 30 feet on Liberty and extend back 120 feet.

With ten stories it will be one of the tallest buildings in the city, and its location is such as to make it appear to great ad-The front of the first two stories will be

The front of the first two stories will be of granite, and those above of pressed fire brick with stone trimmings. The front rooms will contain a number of large plate glass windows, which will afford an abund-ance of light and add much to the general appearance. Double elevators are to be put in, while the sanitary and heating ar-rangements will be on the most approved plans. The first floor will contain two storerooms and the remainder of the buildstorerooms, and the remainder of the building will for the most part be devoted to The structure will take the place of that formerly occupied by the Household Credit Company, destroyed by fire some time ago. It is to be erected by Mrs. John Harper. Work is being pushed forward rapidly. The foundation has been eleaned out, and work on the stone part commenced. It is estimated to cost $75,000.

A PITTSBURG MINISTER.

Ite Is Called to ap Important Charge at Lowell, Mass.

Rev. George F. Kenngott, a former Pittsburger, and a graduate of the class of '52 of the Pittsburg High School, has recently resigned the pastorate of the Congregational Church of Newport, N. H., and has accepted a call to the largest Congregational Church at Lowell, Mass. Mr. Kenngott is one of the most success-ful ministers in the East. He is the author of the "New Hampshire Experiment," which is an important church work.

SUSTAINED THE MASTER.

Another Decision Rendered in a Pen Bank Case.

Judge Stowe yesterday handed down an opinion dismissing the exceptions to the Master's report in the case of H. Warner, assignce of the Penn Bank, vs T. Hare and others. No reasons were found for sustain ing the exceptions, and a decree in accord ance with the Master's finding was ordered Taken Home for Burial.

The body of Congressman Warwick passed through the city yesterday bound for Massillon. Mrs. Warwick, W. K. Warwick, a son, and Miss Karthous, a friend of the family, accompanied the remains. The Congressional Committee consisted of Hane and Donovan, of Ohio: Carruth, Kentucky Bynum, of Indiana, and S. S. Yoder, Serceant-at-Arms of the House. The Senate Committee will meet the body at Massillon.

People Going to the Falls.

A large number of excursionists left the Union depot yesterday for various points. General Passenger Agent J. P. Anderson, of the Allegheny Valley road, was very busy looking after the pleasure seekers bound for Niagars and Chautsuqua. A special train with 200 people was run on the C. & P. to Cleveland.

Going to London for Fridence

Judge Acheson yesterday ordered that estimony be taken before the American Consult in London in the case of the Johnson Railway Signal Company versus the Union Switch and Signal Company, a con-test for the possession of a patent on what is known as the Sykes system.

They Had Met by Chance.

They went. Cameron and his lady friend ast down at the foot of the monument and talked about the stars and other things, while Sharp and Blanche strolled up on the hill above the monument. Cameron heard a woman's scream, and looking back saw two bodies fall over the perpendicular 20-toot cliff back of the monument. Cameron was asked the name of his lady companion and he replied: "She gave her name as Sullivan. I did not know her bebut I think she lives on Jackson "Sharp told him that Miss Balsley street. started to run toward the monument, hold-ing him by the hand. She did not see the cliff in the dark and pulled him over with her. This story of the accident Sharp corroborated yesterday at the hospital. He said he did not know either of the ladies before that evening. The inquest will be continued this morning.

A DISPATCH reporter visited the Sypher home on Jefferson street yesterday atternoon, and there found a greatly perturbed condition of affairs. Mr. Sypher was very angry with his wife for going out at night. He had been at the Coroner's office, where Cameron's testimony had been read to him. Mrs. Sypher, a very pretty black-baired woman, had evidently been in tears, and was reluctant to say anything. She finally told a story of the accident which agreed told a story of the accident which agreed with the accounts of Sharp and her eister. She acknowledged that she had given her name to the police as Sullivan, but she said she did that because she was married and did not wish her real name to get into the newspapers. She contradicted Sharp by saying she had known him for a long time, and said: "Sam Sharp needn't lie even if he has his leg broken." Mrs. Sypher was much worried by her husband's displeasure, and declared that she and her dead sister and declared that she and her dead siste had intended no wrong.
