A truest company to handle electric stocks and bonds is among the projects rumored in Wall street. Long Branch correspondence of the Wall Street News has it "on the very best author-ity" that negotiations have been pending for some time been the General Electric and the westinghouse people, looking to a consoli-dation of interests. At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Ex-change of New York, held yesterday, the following was adopted: Besolved, That until further orders the rule governing trading in and clearing of pipe line certifi-cates be applied to the trading in and clear-ing of grain, with the excention that all de-liveries are to be made in Chicago, such de-liveries to be warehouse receipts that are a good delivery at the Chicago Board of Trade. The limit of trade shall be 1,000 bushels, and trading in splits to be per-mitted. Besoluted that the company is earn-ing franking capacity of the American Sugar Refineries Company, in the present total ab-sence of competition, consider the estimate recently printed that the company is earn-ing fixed in Sugar whose name has been prominent in connection with the in-dustry for years past states emphatically that the company is earning from $30,000 to $100,000 per day net, All of the re-fineries now running are working night and day. ## A FAIR TRADE IN PROGRESS,

And Merchants Regard the Future Hopefully-Good Conditions Prevalent in the West and Sonth-Current Crop and Business Gossip and Revised Prices. WEDNESDAY, Aug. 17.

The movement of general merchandise is not large, but it is fair, all things considered, and merchants are confident that the autumn trade will be large and profitable. They are counting on the Exposition helping all lines of business, and believe that, within another month, the industrial situation will be such as to stimulate rather than depress trade. Generally speaking collec tions are fair.

Western reports note a fair trade outlook, and correspondents at all important South-ern points report that in general business the conditions are quite satisfactory for the season of the year. Reports as to injury by the cotton worm are frequent, and the pros-pects for the new crop are not very flatter-ing; production will be materially decreased. The cercal crops are in good condition, and the yield of corr in the central South is larger than usual. The practical settlement of labor trouble in the iron region shown by the signing of the wage scale and prepara-tions for resuming by many concerns will increase the demand for Southern iron, the price of which is still very tow. The lumber market is decidedly stronger, and a small advance has been ordered in the price of yellow pine. The interest in the home man-instant of the interest in the home man-set decided is have recently been arted. Western reports note a fair trade outlook, 78%c.
