Parcelled Out Among as Many Committees of the New Cabinet.

PLANS FOR COLONIAL DEFENSE.

Arrangements for the Monetary Conference Not Overruled.

NEWS FROM THE EUROPEAN CAPITALS

ICOPYRIGHT, 1892, BY N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS.] LONDON, Aug. 19.-Mr. Gladstone's selection of some minor members of the Radical section for minor posts in the Government, has not remedied the tactical mistake made in the exclusion of Radicals' representatives from the Cabinet. Thorough Radicals further declare that there is not a man among the whole of the latest appointments who is genuinely attached to progressive opinions, Sidney Buxton, perhaps, excepted.

The three new whips, Messra Causton, McArthur and Ellis, though nominal Radicals, have never shown that sympathy with democratic movements which is now recognized as the leading inspiration of the left wing of the Liberal party. The fact is now universally recognized that Mr. Gladstone has carefully avoided admitting to office men who are in any wise identified with Independent Radicalism. Pseudo-Radicals like Mr. Burt, the miners' delegate, who is a submissive Gladstonite, and Mr. Ellis, who is called a Radical because he is strongly in tavor of church disestablishment, were admissible because they have never made a covenant with the Progressives, while those tainted with democratic notions, men of the Labouchere stamp, have been ignored.

Gladstone Meets Threatened Dangers, The exclusion of Mr. Stansfeld is explained by Gladstonian papers as due to his expressed desire not to hold office, but Mr. Stansfeld himself says it must have been due to other causes. Mr. Stansfeld was ready to accept office and seemed to expect his former Cabinet post, but Mr. Gladstone never communicated with him.

Mr. Gladstone's plans to meet some of the dangers threatening an early overthrow of the Government are already seen in the formation of Cabinet committees. At today's Cahinet council, during a two hour's sitting, devoted to alloting work and preparing measures embodying part of the Newcastle programme, three committees in addition to the Home Rule Committee were formed. One committee is charged with labor questions, another is to draft bills for rural reform and local option and the third portance—reforming electoral registration. With masterly promptitude the Grand Old Man has already cut out work for his colleagues that will make the coming session fruitful.

No Interference With the Conference. The Associated Press has high authority to state that the new Government will not No powers were vested in the delegates at pointed by the Conservative Government to assent to anything that might be proposed at the conference without prior consultation with the Treasury. The instructions given the delegates are exactly similar to those given the British delegates to the Paris Conference in 1881. They are charged to decline to discuss any proposals entailing an alteration of the monetary system of England, but they are authorized to consider proposals whereby India might join an influential league of States for fixing the ratio of silver. If such a league should be ratio of silver. If such a league should be formed, the directors of the Bank of England would be empowered to act on the bank charter act, permitting them to hold one-fith of the reserve in silver. In official circles here the question whether these instructions are likely to lead to any such practical result as will induce the United States Government to proceed with the conference. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the new Chancellor of the Exchequer, does not interest himself in the mat-ter, and if the Washington authorities want to enlarge the basis open to the British dele-gates for discussion, they cught to try to in-fluence Mr. Gladstone, who has an open mind on the subject, somewhat modified by views formed since 1881.

After approval of the scheme, Mr. Gladstone will be asked to summon a conference of colonial statesmen to discuss the scheme with representatives of the Imperial Government.

the Kaiser, at a Banquet. BERLIN, Aug. 19.-After the review of the Garde du Corps yesterday at the Templehol, a banquet was given by Emperor William at the new palace. In speaking to a toast, His Majesty declared that he derived great pleasure from the fact that the date, August 18, the day when the Garde du Corps had so honorably fulfilled their duty at the battle of Gravelotte in the Franco-Prussian war, coincided with the birthday of Emperor Francis Joseph, ot Austria, who presented a bright example to soldiers of a ruler who was imbued with a most noble sense of devotion to duty. The Emperor added: 'The alliance between himself and myself is the surest guarantee of peace."
In conclusion, Emperor William called for three cheers for his Austrian ally, and the guests responded heartily.

According to the National Zeitung, the Emperor at yesterday's banquet denied that the Government intended to adopt the proposal for two year's military service in-stead of three years, as at present. The National Zeitung declares that His Majesty and be would rather have a smaller army with longer service.

EUROPE'S HOT WAVE.

The Highest Temperature Ever Known in Vienna, but Even Worse in Buda-Pesth -Military Maneuvers Stopped-Berlin

Suffering-A Little Cooler in Paris. VIENNA, Aug. 19.—This city is sweltering beneath a heat that is more intense than has ever prevailed here within the memory of the living. It is not believed that such tropical warmth has ever before been experienced in Austria. To-day the mercury has reached 1100 in the shade. The garr on maneuvers have been stopped and the whole city lies idle and suffering. Several persons have died from sunstroke to-day.

But in Buda-Pesth with the murcury at 1100 the weather would be regarded as comparatively endurable. There the mercury touched 116° in the shade to-day, and were it not for the fact that the air is dry life would be scarcely endurable.

The heat throughout Germany continues intense. The thermometer in Berlin regisintense. The thermometer in heriin regis-tered 90° in the shade to-day. Owing to the fear that the workmen in the Spandau gun factory would be prostrated by the heat, operations were suspended there to-day. Instruction in the municipal schools was suspended this afternoon because of the hot weather. This action was taken in consequence of a request from the Emperor.

To-night the heat is lessening in Paris and the people are looking forward to more endurable weather to-morrow. The change in the temperature has already brough about a marked change in the appearance of the people, and this evening the boulevards are crowded with people comparing their experiences during the hot period.

CHOLERA BREEDS ANARCHY.

Persians Frantic Against Foreigners Who

They Believe Brought the Plague, CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 19.—Anarchy reigns in many towns of Persia owing to the cholera. The disease is raging with fearful virulence. At Tabriz, capital of the Province of Azerbaijan, the Armenian and European colonies are panic-stricken and have left for the hills. This colony is a great center for commerce with India and Central Asia, and the ignorant people are frantic against foreigners from those re-gions whom they suspect of having brought the pertilence.

The authorities have added to the popular excitement by adopting measures repug-nant to the public feeling, such as ordering the removal of cholera patients in carts of most squalid description resembling pack-age cases hoisted on wheeled platforms, and of so sinister an aspect that they were said by the crowd to be fit for nothing but dogs. The passage of these carts through the streets was the signal of all sorts of vituperation on the part of the populace, who even stoned the drivers. In the pillaging of shops the mob displayed the greatest animosity against the Russian merchants, who have been regarded with favor by the townspeople, and who at pres-ent are objects of special aversion.

He believes that if prompt action is not taken the missionaries will be in serious danger in other places.

The building of Dr. Bartlett's residence was originally stopped by the local authorities. On application being made for permission to complete the same it was refused, unless Dr. Bartlett would furnish a bond or guarantee to neither hold religious worship nor instruct children on the premises. The withholding of the permit was claimed to be under orders from Constantinople. The Legation applied to the Sublime Porte for such permission, claiming that treaty rights of Americans extended not only to the purchase of land, but to the enjoyment of the same. The permit was finally granted by the Sultan, and it appears that immediately after the receipt of this permit by the local authorities the house was burned.

Secretary Foster promptly cabled the protection, indemnity, punishment of the guilty parties and reprimand of the authorities if found remiss. The United States cruisers Newark and Bennington will be ordered to the vicinity of the outrage to support this demand. support this demand.

LATEST GOSSIP FROM BOTH CAMPS

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.-Among the callers at Republican head quarters to-day were J. Sloat Fassett, ex-Collector Joel B. Erhardt, Chauncey L Filley, of St. Louis; Collector Hendricks and C. C. Shayne. Mr. Filley announced that the Republicans would probably capture Missouri this year. The Republicans have organized for an aggressive campaign, he said, and added: "The Democracy there is a party of shreds and patches, the colors of which refuse to blend. The Republicans are united, and there is no disturbing element in the party. Is there a Farmers' Alliance in Missouri? Well, I should say there was, as the Democrats will find out to their sorrow."

The Executive Committee was increased to-day, by the election to membership of William Hahn, who was Chairman of the Republican State Committee of Ohio, and conducted Major McKinley's campaign for Governor, last year. Mr. Hahn was elected for the purpose of running the speakers' bureau, of which he will take charge next Monday. Mr. Hahn will help to make up the quorum of five members for the daily transaction of business in place of William A. Sutherland, the member from this State, who has been appointed a special agent of the State Department to visit London, Paris, Berlin and Stockholm in a diplomatic capacity.

"The Republicans imagine they are going to press us very hard, and count on the third party to draw strength from the Democracy. They are counting without their host. The force bill issue has cemented all Democrats together."

F. G. Dubigon, ex-President of the State Senate of Georgia, spoke in a similar strain regarding the issue in Georgia. He said: "I have been making several speeches in Georgia against the Third party men, and think that the Democratic organization has the situation well in hand. I am convinced there is no danger of our party's losing the State, and that she will roll up our accus-tomed Democratic majority in November." Mr. Dubignon will remain in the city for several weeks. He has promised the National Committee to make several speeches in the North, and he will probably be heard here.

LIZZIE HATED HER FATHER.

New Story Beering on the Fall River Tragedy-Mr. Borden Complained That His Daughter Wouldn't Est at the Same Table With Him.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS., Aug. 19.-This afternoon the Standard prints the following story, which, it states, is worthy of more than usual credence, as it com es from Captain Orrick Smatley, Chairman of the Over-seers of the Poor. Captain Smalley was enjoying his vacation at Craigville when the Borden murders were committed, and the next day when discussing the news from Fall River he made a remark that it was impossible for the daughter to have carried out such a horrible deed.

"There were those on the piazza," said Captain Smalley, "who did not agree with me." A stranger to whom the Captain was talking was the one who related a conversation with Andrew J. Borden, which has since opened the eyes of those who have heard it. This gentleman, who is George W. Hathaway, a traveling agent, said that not long since, while he was out on one of Mr. Borden's farms, the old gentleman, with whom he was acquainted, came out very much disturbed. Upon being questioned he remarked that he did not take much comfort at home with Lizzie; that she would not eat at the same table with him, and that only that morning, when he accidentally went into the room where she was eating, she got up from the table and left the room.

"Hathaway also said that Mr. Borden told him this with tears in his eyes, and further remarked that when he left the house Lizzie told him she hoped he would come home a corpse, and that probably he would before long."

Captain Smalley, in relating this, said he was thunderstruck, and not being acquainted with Hathaway, who told the story, he made inquiries concerning him. The Captain learned that he was a trustworthy person living in Fall River. He is prominently connected with one of the Fall River

A HARMLESS CRANK.

He Supports a Request for a Ticket With Postry und Bible Quotations.

A very eccentric character applied at the Department of Charities yesterday for assistance. A man walked into the chief office and sat down on a chair opposite Examiner Hoffman, and said, "I want a ticket to Taoma, Wash."

Mr. Hoffman looked him over. He was a large, healthy man, and he asked him what claim he had for a ticket? The fellow then claim he had for a ticket? The fellow then started on a lengthy harangue, incoherent in places and at times. It was impossible to tellow him, so rapidly did he talk. In his speech, which was composed of verses from the Bible, quotations from popular poets, and everything in general, he told Examiner Hoffman that his name was Hiram Fresher, and he lived at Shelton, Mason county, Wash, where he had a claim. He said that the Sheriff of the county had put him and his where he had a claim. He said that the Sheriff of the county had but him and his family off his claim, and that he had tried in vain to get redress in the courts and could not. Finally he decided to go to Washington and see the land commissioners. His errand proved fruitless, and he was now trying to get back home.

GLADSTONE PLEASED

To Learn That He Has So Many Sympathizers in America.

HE HAD BEEN TOLD OTHERWISE.

Major Lyrne Undeceives Him and Thanked for So Doing.

THE GRAND OLD MAN FEELS HIS AGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.-Major John

Byrne, who has just returned from Europe after a few weeks' absence, had a long talk with Gladstone while in London. "I did not go as a peace commissioner," said Major Byrne, "nor with a purpose of in any way intruding myself into British polities. I was on private business, but being in London on the reassembling of Parliament I, of course, had the opportunity of meeting many public men of the Liberal and Irish parties. I heard the debate in Parliament on the Tuesday preceding the vote of want of confidence. I was introduced to Mr. Gladstone by Mr. Morley. Mr. Gladstone expressed a special interest in knowing the true condition of public sentiment in America on the cause to which he had dedicated his remaining lifehome rule for Ireland.

"It had been claimed by certain parties that a complete revulsion of public sentiment had taken place in America which worked an indifference to Ireland's fate and a hostility to Gladstone and his policy. As a leading American had put it, 'Nine tenths of the Irish in America are anti-Gladstone and pronounced Parnellities.'

No Foundation for Such a Claim. "I was glad to be able to assure Mr. Gladstone that there was no foundation for such claim, that the contrary was the fact, and that all men in America, of any value or worth as American citizens or Irish sympathizers, where unquestionably with him and the majority of the people of Ire-land; that no man or party in America could get a respectable hearing on any issue adverse to home rule or Gladstone's olicy in promoting it.
"Mr. Gladstone seemed much gratified, and said he had placed great reliance upon the friends of liberty in America. He valued very highly the sympathy and support of Americans, including those of Irish blood, and it would grieve him deeply and sorely disappoint him to lose that sympathy and support which had always been a source of great encouragement and comfort to him, and that he could not understand the change that it was claimed had taken lace. He was much gratified to learn tha

"Mr. Gladstone said he felt sure that all true friends of Ireland would feel fully satisfied with his course toward Ireland, and would be glad if I would say to the friends of the cause in America that no doubt a bitter fight was ahead, but that if all remained true there was no question as to the successful result. He asked me to thank America cordially for the aid given to Ireland in the late election.

Impressed With Gladstone's Sincerity "I was deeply impressed with Mr. Glad-stone's sincerity, and came from the conference firmly convinced of his entire good faith and firm resolve to make Irish self-government the work of his life. I heard Mr. Gladstone's speech in reply to the Queen's speech, delivered subsequent to my conference with him, and found confirmation of sell he had said to me.

After the approval of the Committee on Appeals and the Grand Chancellor's report the entire forenoon session was devoted to the discussion of the instructions which were to be given to the Supreme Representatives, this being left unfinished at the time of adjournment Thursday night, An old time subject was revived propos ing an amendment to the Supreme Lodge constitution providing for the clothing of the Supreme Chancellor with authority to suspend lodges. The vote was decidedly in the negative. W. H. Wilbur, the First Supreme Chancellor of the order, gave an interesting and complete history of the so-ciety from its inception up to the present for services caused a decidedly warm debate. Nominations of officers for the ensuing year were made. The nomination for Grand Inner Guard was hotly competed, there be-ing 21 candidates, including William Sellers and Joseph G. Jackson, of Pittsburg. When the request was made for the Secretary to read the names of the nominees, some brother sug-gested the reading of the entire roll of the Grand Lodge. Nearly all of the Past Grand Chancellors were nominated for the Supreme Representatives to be elected Supreme Representatives to be elected.

William Hart, of Philadelphia, was nominated Grand Trustee with no opposition.
The nominations are considered during the year and are then voted upon by Past Chancellors in subordinate lodges the last meeting night in June and the result certified to the Committe on Elections, who report to the Grand Lodge. Never before has the meeting place been so hotly contested for. Some 20 cities in the central part of the State were voted upon in succession. Gettysburg was first chosen on a vote of 168 to 165, but the selection was reconsidered and Sunbury was then selected on a vote of 180 to 100. York was very near the winner. After the adoption of the Supreme Trustees' report and complimentary votes to the reception committee, Mayor Gourley and Pittsburg citizens generally, the Grand Lodge adjourned.

Grand Master of the Exchequer, had a busy time vectories. He established him. busy time yesterday. He established himself in the manager's offices of the Opera House with $7,600 to pay the mileage of the representatives. As this is disbursed in sums ranging from 75 cents to $20 it was no easy task. Besides this he devoted the whole evening at the Seventh Avenue Hotel in paying off other small bills. A great many representatives left for home last night, all declaring that Pittsburg stands pre-eminent when there is need of hospitality.

A large number of the representatives and divisions will leave for Kansas City to-day to attend the Supreme Lodge meeting. Dr. J. D. Stoner, the Marine Hospital physician, has secured leave of absence for a month. His place will be filled by Dr. C. P. Wertenbaker, of Chicago. The latter registered at the Monongahela House yes-

ALMOST MASS SORES

Help. Cure Speedy and Com-

Late in the fall of 1890 I was afflicted with sals rheum or eczema. My face, head, and neck were almost a complete mass of sores and some other mars of my body were afflicted. I had been lesting it run, thinking it was nothing but a simple skin disease and it would cure itself, but I soon found out my mistake, for the sores became so painful I could not rest at inght. I called a physician and began to take his medicine, but it did not help me in the least. A friend of mine prevailed on me to try your CUTICURA HEMSDIES, which I did, using the CUTICURA ARESOLVENT internally, and from the start it began to help my health became better, my appetite keener, and
