One of the New Castle Car Robbers Breaks Down and Confesses.

NEWS FROM SEVERAL NEARBY TOWNS

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] BRADDOCK, Aug. 22 -A small str ke occurred at the Pittsburg and Braddock wire mill to-day, which made necessary the closing of the mill.

About three o'clock this afternoon one of the workmen, whose name is unknown, bad some difficulty with William Goodier, the timekeeper. Superintendent Fritch, hearing of the trouble, discharged the workman on the spot. Soon after the news spread through the mill and 14 men, among whom were four rollers, went on a strike.

To-night, when the night force went into the mill, they were detained by the strikers, who endeavored to prevent the night men from going in. The latter refused to listen to their arguments, and to-night the mill is running as usual. The night force will be divided to-morrow, and the mill will be kept running.

ONE CAR ROBBER BREAKS DOWN.

A New Castle Engineer Who Owns Home of His Own Pleads Guilty.

NEW CASTLE, Aug. 22-[Special.]-Engineer Martin Stark, Yard Conductor Hardy and Yardmaster William McMahon, all Pittsburg and Western Railroad men of this city, had a hearing this morning before Mayor Brown, charged with breaking open the scals and entering a car of that railroad on the night of July 4 and stealing 63 quart bottles of whisky and a case of cigars. During the hearing Stark, who has heretofore borne an excellent reputation and who owns a pretty little home, broke com-pletely down, and signified his intention of making a clear breast of it.

He said that about 10 o'clock on the night of the 4th he met Hardy in a bugy by ap-pointment, and that the two hauled four cases of whisky and one case of cigars to Stark's barn and hid them. Afterward the goods were divided between McMahon, Hardy and Stark. They burned the boxes in which the goods were shipped. A score or more of bottles were found hid in Hardy's house, in the cellar and loft. The defend ants were held for court. Hardy and Me-Mahon were remanded to jail, while Stark furnished the necessary bonds. Several other charges are to be made against other prominent railroad men in this city.

Circus Fakirs Reap a Big Harvest.

GREENSBUR G, Aug. 22 -[Special.]-The old shell game was worked here to-day with good effect. Early in the morning the farmers began to arrive with the intentior of visiting a circus. The fakirs connected with the snow were out in full force, while the farmers were out in pocket, having gone up against the same old game. The innocents lost at least $600, and it is al-leged by those who suffered that the game was carried on under the tents connected with the main show. Information will be made against the show people.

He Married for Revenue Only.

LIMA, O., Aug. 22.-[Special.]-Mrs. Henry Steiner, a handsome widow who lives near Bluffton, answered a matrimonial advertisement, and in a short time after met M. F. Munson at the house of a friend in this city. Soon after the two were made man and wife. Later he disappeared and did not return for two weeks, but when he came back he wanted his wife to lend him $1,000. This she retused to do, and he left the second time. She discovered that he had been married five times, and that he bears the reputation of a counterfeiter and black leg. One of his supposed wives lives in Kokomo, and has property worth $15,000, which she is shrewd enough to detain.

BRADDOCK, Aug. 22.-[Special.]-Last week John Rosely wamstruck on the head with a stone thrown by a colored man in the vards of the Edgar Thomson furnaces. The wound was about an inch deep, but was not considered necessarily dangerous, and the injured man made daily trips to the office of Dr. J. A. Miller to have the wound dressed. The wound developed into an absess to-day, and now the attending physician expresses doubts as to the man's recovery. Patrick Daugherty, an engineer on the narrow gauge line running from the Car-negie furnaces, was caught between two engines this morning and had his right leg hurt and was otherwise injured.

THE GREGG FARM WELL.

It Was Reported to He Making 35 Barrel an Hour Y-sterday-One of the Surprises of the Field-Pittsburg Parties Open a Pool in Kentucky.

The feature of the oil fields is the Forest Oil Company's well on the Gregg farm south of the Panhandle Railroad at Gregg station, and about a mile and a halt east of Oakdale. Saturday the Forest Oil Company officials stated that it was showing for a well, and was shut down on top of the sand, while there was a report current at Oakdale and on Fourth avenue that it was making 50 barrels an hour.

Sunday the drill was run a short time when the well surprised even the owners by starting off at 25 barrels an hour. It was allowed to remain at this point until yes-terday, when it was agitated a little, and immediately increased to 35 barrels an immediately increased to 35 barrels an hour, and the chances are that it can easily hour, and the chances are that it can easily hour, and the chances are that it can easily be run up to more than the reported 50 an hour. The Forest's No. 1 on the same farm, which is located west of No. 3, was declared a failure. The second well however seems to have captured the prize, and struck the cross cut which evidently extends in a northwest and southeast line across the lower end of the McCurdy field. This well demonstrates, as much as any of the ones in the late crop, that the possi-bilities of McDonaid are yet great, and that a territorry is not to be condemned by a dry hole or a small producer in any part o' that field. The region opened up by the Gregg No. 2 may prove a second. Wetmore or a Noblestown pool, or it may rite the south-western extension of McDonaid from Mc-Curdy down. Only the drill will teil, and as several other wells are starting the truth should soon be known. Thomas Gates, of Middle street, was also caught by a policeman while he was trying to sober himself up by beating his wife Mary. Mary showed few external signs of castigation, but she said that her heart was broken by the dreadful names which Thomas had called her. He escaped with $10 and costs. Andrew McGinniss, whose home is away as several other wells are starting the truth should soon be known. There was a slight decline reported yester-day in Patterson & Solin's well on the Kess-ler farm, back of Undercliffe, on the Pitz-burg and Western Railroad. Sunday mora-ting it was reported by an interested party to be making a tank every eight hours, or at the rate of about 28 barrels an hour. Yesterday the reports from it were to the effect that it was doing from 20 to 22 barrels an hour. It is proving to be a stayer notwithstanding the curpings of critics, and shows beyond a doubt that a good pool of oll exists in the locality in which it is located.

A delegation of eminent Chinese diplomats passed through Union depot last night and attracted a great deal of attention. The peculiar dress of the men caused a large crowd to gather round them as they walked to their train. The party was composed of Chun Toi Chew and Chun Yuk Cho, both of the Chinese legation of San Francisco accompanied by the translator of the Wash accompanied by the translator of the Wash-ington legation, Ho Shen Chee. They had been spending several weeks in Washing-ton with their countrymen and were on their way to Chicago, where they were go-ing in the interset of the World's Fair. Through the interpeter they told the re-porter that although China as a nation would not be represented at the Columbian Expanditor minister amile the Columbian Exposition, private capital from the rich Chinamen of all the prominent cities has been contributed, and the display will be no small feature of the Fair. The interpreter said he was in favor of the larger appropriation, and thought the Government made a gross error in cutting the amount down. The party will remain in Chicago several days, where they will con-sult with the World's Fair officials.

to take the man into custody.

Thanks to a clever dramatist's pruning pen, and the addition of more capable actors and actresses, "The Struggle of Life," which commenced its second season at the Bijon Theater last night, comes back to us much improved. Not all of the weak teatures have been eliminated, but enough has been accomplished to make "The Struggle Life" with its stirring scenes and magnificent scenery one of the strongest attractions on the road. The one or two hitches consequent on a first night's performance did not prevent the large crowd present last night from seeing and appreciating the many good points, seldom an audience shows much enthusiasm as was displayed during the second act in acknowledgment of both play and scenery. The cast is very much improved, William Stafford, who now assumes the part of Edward Brockton, the here, makes a great deal of a character which practically tell flat last season in the hands of Frederick Paulding. Even the scenery seems better, particularly the view of Battery Park and New York Harbor on a moonlit winter's night. This is certainly one of the best of recent stage pictures. "The Struggle of Life" will be continued the balance of the week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. Manager Starr, of Harris' Thea-ter, has accomplished wonders in reno-vation of this popular house, con-sidering the short time the theater has been closed—only two weeks. It is thoroughly repapered, repainted and otherwise beauti-fied, has a new curtain and scenary and fed, has a new curtain and scenery and a lot of new chairs and carpets. The opening attraction is "A Wild Goose Chase." It was enjoyed by two large audiences yesterday. The play is more pretentions as to plot than most farce comedies are, and the plot than most farce comedies are, and the specialties are introduced in an easy, natural way. The plot is an interesting one, too. The company is equal to the demands upon it. W. R. Trel-ligan, who hasn't been seen here for some time, is the hero, and the soubrette, Miss Annie Banlar is a refreshing little circl time, is the hero, and the soubrette, Miss Annie Hanley, is a refreshing little girl. Charles Osburn's make-up as a tough is worthy of notice, also. "The Tyrolean," a play well spoken of in Cincinnati, where it is being given, is to follow the week's run of "A Wild Goose Chase." Harry Williams' Academy of Music opened for the season last evening, and a good "opener" it was. There was a crowded house to greet the "Austin Acme Australian Vaudeville Stars." They have guite a long name, but they are clever and Australian Vaudeville Stars." They have quite a long name, but they are clever and entertaining lot of artists. The perform-ance was good from beginning to end. The Japs, Ando and Qume, are sensational per-formers, and Filson and Errol, in their dialogue, entitled "Woman," acted and sang in first-class style. The Whitings, Miss Emma K. Giles, W. H. Burke, Misses Huested and Gever, John and Nellie Heatey, La Petite Freddie and the Salambos were all well received, and are excellent artists. The boxing exhibition between Paddy McBride and Walton was without doubt the best of the kind there

Lewis Hazlett, of Butler, has secured leases on 6,000 acres near Slatelick, in Arm-strong county, and, with other Butler par-ties, is patting down a well which will be finished up before long. He has traced the face of the coal from the Murraysville gas field and claims that the coal proves that Murraysville is on the flagdad anti-clinal, and lines up with Slatelick, which is also on a line between the Crooked creek gas developments and Ford & Co.'s gas terri-tory in Butler county. At McDonald the Boyal Gas Company's No. 1 Mark Robb, and Greenlee & Forst's No. 6 Marshall have been dropped from the list of those making 29 barrels an hour, or more. With the exception of the Forest's Grear No.3, the others are all down to 20 barrels an hoar. The production was unchanged yes-terday. The Gauges.

stealing 3,600 pounds of zine out of cars on the Pittsburg and Western road. The metal is worth 12 cents a pound, and they sold it for about 5 cents. The thefts have been going on for some time, and about a week ago the first arrest was made. Mushallam was the principal on whom the authorities worked and persuaded to testify. He says the thieves had a habit of stealing the metal, loading it in a skiff, hauling it to a distant point and burying it in a cinder bank, after which in a day or two they dug it up and sold it to an Englishman who operates a little foundry. One night a week ago the gang bought some beer with the proceeds of a sale and all became stupid from frequent potations. They lay down to sleep on the river bank near Forty-second street and when Mushallam awoke he found that his companions had robbed him. He fell out with the gang and gave them away and the arrests followed. All of them have been held for court, Mushallam naving been given a hearing last night and lodged in jail. The English foundryman is under bail on a charge of receiving stolen goods and will be given a hearing on Thursday night before Squire Rheams. It is thought they sold some $400 worth of the metal for about $175.
