Superintendent Muth, and gave to that official some interesting reasons for his desperate effort to break jail. He said he had been driven to thievery by ill-treatment, and had been sent to the workhouse several times rightfully. But he declared positively that he was not the man who tried to break into the house of Councilman George Schad in July, 1891, and who then assaulted Schad. "I did not do that thing." said Havers, with a display of earnestness, "and I was sent to the workhouse wrong. That made me mad, and I thought of breaking out ever since I went there. Then they used me badly there, and I swore I would get out. I didn't intend to do up Eberhardt, but I couldn't get out without doing it. He saw me and pulled a gun on me, when I hit him with a club. Will Do Something Desperate.

"I will not go back to the workhouse," the prisoner said, slapping his leg with his clenched fist. "I swear I won't go back there. Before I do I'll do something desperate. I'll kill somebody before they get me in there again."

Havers told the Superintendent that he was willing to go to the penitentiary, if he had to go to jail at all, but he desires no more of the fare and treatment at the work-

Shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning a man named John Helsch, driving a wagon for Suydam's white lead works, saw Havers, whom he knew well, lurking be-hind a pile of taubark in Groetzinger's yard on River avenue, Allegheny. That region is occupied by bark and lumber yards, and is a good place for a man to hide. Heisch hurried to the Ellsworth fire engine house, on River avenue, and told Captain Brown. The Captain, Helsch and Fireman Edward Hinner ran to the bark yard, and as they neared the place Havers ran out and made off along River avenue as fast as his legs could carry him. He turned up McFadden street, closely pursued by an increasing band of men, and cut around the corner into East Ohio street. There he ran into the arms of his old friend, Richardson, and the on, and the latter, seeing that the fugitive was likely to be caught, did the catching himself. He held Havers until the firemen arrived, and they soon had him in a patrol wagon.

Four Burgiaries Since Escaping. At the police station Havers was searched, and the things found on him fur-nish evidence of four burglaries committed These burglaries were committed on four different nights and show that in the long hours when the police were searching high and low for the escaped convict, that hunted man was following his criminal vocation and stealing plunder to furnish him with food. Thursday night the house of John Sad-dier, at No. 242 Howard street, was entered, and there were stolen two shirts, a pair of pants, a coat, a revolver, two hats, a pair of dler yesterday identified the revolver found on Havers and the hat. The clothing belonged to a son and will have to be identified by him. Havers said he threw away the revolver taken trom Eberhardt, because it would not shoot pockets. On Saturday night somebody broke into the house of David Auberger, at No. 11 Howard street, and stole two small gold watches belonging to Mr. Auberger's daughters, and $5 in cash. These watches were recovered from the prisoner.

Friday night there were stolen from the house of W. S. McGowan, on East street extension, a razor and a child's bank, containing a 50-cent scrip piece. The razor and the shinplaster were in Havers' pockets.

His Last Busy Night.

Sunday night, after visiting a speak-easy on the Pittsburg side of the river, Havers entered the house of H. M. Horst, at No. 162 Madison svenue, and stole a pocket-book, an elbow key and $1 13 in pennies. All of these articles were found in the prisoner's pockets. On these four burglaries Superintendent Muth will, this morning, make informations before Alderman McKelvey. If the workhouse authorities will wait for the prisoner house authorities will wait for the prisoner, preliminary hearings will be held Thursday siternoon and Havers will be held for court. He will then probably be surrendered to the officials of the workhouse, whence he can be brought on the demand of the Quarter Sessions Court for trial. Superintendent Muth has requested the acting superintend-ent of the workhouse, Mr. McLaughrey, to wait at least two days before claiming the prisoner.

For the Claremont affair Havers is liable to be charged with jail breaking, for which there is a penalty of two years, with feloni-ous assault on Keeper Eberhardt and with larceny from the person. All these charges it pushed, will confine the young man to, the penitentiary for many years. Charles Stanton, sent up from Pittsburg for vagrancy, escaped from the workhouse Monday atternoon. He was an outside workman, and simply slipped away when he saw a chance. He ran away once before, and the officials are not bothering about him. They say he will come back when he gets tired of his outing.

Honest Advice.

Indigestion and liver inactivity, throat and lung troubles, tired and sleepy feelings are often cured by the simplest remedy. Klein's Sliver Age or Duquesne tye whisky will do it. They tone up the system, help digestion and generally impart life and vigor. They sell for $1.50 and $1.50 per quart respectively. For sale by dealers and druggists general y. Saved His Child's Life.

A. N. Dilferbough, York, Neb., says: "The other day I came home and found my little boy down with cholera morbus, my wife scared, not knowing what to do. I went straightway and got a 25-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhors Remedy, and gave it according to directions. You never saw such a change in a child. His limbs and body were cold. I rubbed his limbs and body with my hunds, and after I had given him the second dose he went to sleep, and, as my wife says, 'from a deathbed he was up playing in three hours.' It saved me a doctor bill of about $3, and, what is better, it saved my child. I can recommend it with a clean conscience." For sale by druggists.
