The League Beco

Good Things Said About Stencil-Tw Games at Exposition Park To-Day.

ABOUT THE NEW PLAYER.

Another new player has been added to the list of our sluggers and he will be here in two or three days from now. Manager Buckenberger yesterday afternoon closed a deal with Jake Stencil, of the Portland club, of the North-west Pacific League. Stencil has been engaged as a general utility man, as he can catch and play the infield or outfield positions. He is also recommended as a good batter. Last year he led the League he is in now in batting, and he also heads the list so far this year. Something like $100 has been paid for him. He is a young and well-built man and a very speedy runner. Some Excellent Recommendations.

Last evening, speaking of Steneil, Manager Buckenberger said: "We have made the most careful inquiries about the player, and all the authorities we know who know him have advised us to secure him. Of course he may not he as good as expected." course, he may not be as good as expected; we have that risk to run, but I assure you he comes here highly recommended. We are sadly in need of a general utility man who can fill up a breach when anybody gets burt or is sick. Without such a player to fall back on our team get all broken up in a day. We have a good team at present, and we want to keep them good if we can.

Rain stopped yesterday's game at Exposi-tion Park before the first half of the first inning was finished. Piay started brilli-antly. Terry and Haddock were the pitchers, and the home team went to the field first. Terry gave Ward his base on balls, and then Tommy Corcoran knocked a grounder, and a hot one, to Shugart, who threw Ward out at second, and Bierbauer, by very quick work, threw Corcoran out at

It Was a Brilliant Play.

The play was certainly a great one. Broutbers went to bat, and while he was there the game was called, as the rain falling briskly. It did not fair up within the 30 minutes and the game was postponed. Two games will be played this afternoon for one price of admission, and the contests romise to be great ones. In the estimation of President Byrnes four of the greatest pitchers in the League will be engaged in the two games. During a conversation last evening the Brooklyn President said: "We baseball people in Brooklyn still look upon Terry as our own. He was with us for ten years, and the last two years we had him we hardly ever requested him to put on a uniform. He is a gentlemen, and once more he is a great pitcher. Although I would like to see our team beat him, I assure you that I will be pleased for his sake if he is victorious. Haddock is to be pitted against him, and let me say that Haddock is a fine pitcher. If all goes well the two of them, if rell supported, will make the first game a fine one.

Two More Good Pitchers.

"In the second game Stein and Baldwin will be the pitchers, and there are no better in the country than these two. Stein has been our best pitcher lately, and as Bald-win is now in good condition again, the pair ought to make matters extremely exciting Again, I say that four of the best pitchers in the country will contend against each other to-day." Speaking of baseball affairs in general

Mr. Byrnes said he was very well satisfied with the way things have been going. "There will be no big changes made for next season," he said. "Capitalists are not getting the returns they must have on account of big salaries, but there will be a fair and reasonable effort made to remedy that at the proper time. Players have not only been getting all the receipts of late, but also much of the magnates' money, and that kind of thing cannot continue, you know. We are having great ball playing nowadays, and I think it will be better next

Mr. Byrnes, and also Manager Ward, are in strong hopes of their team winning the in strong hopes of their team winning the pennant during this half of the season. They have reason to be hopeful, for they have, indeed, a very strong team, certainly one of the strongest ever sea in Pittsburg. The first game to-day will start at 2 o'clock and the second at 4 o'clock P. M.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 23.—By mutual consent two of the games of the present St. Louis-Boston series were transferred to this city through the efforts of President Speas, of the Kansas City Baseball Association, for the entertainment of the visiting Knights of Pythias. One of the games scheduled for yesterday was postponed on account of rain yesterday was postponed on account of rain and both games were played to-day. Kid Nichols and Shortstop Long, of the Boston team, who made their debut on the diamond in Kansas City uniforms, were given generous ovations when they appeared on the field to-day, and other favorites received great applause. The morning game was dull and uninteresting. Nichols pitched an almost perfect game, the Browns getting only four scattering hits.

The afternoon game was a lively one, being close and exciting. St. Louis tied the score in the eighth inning and won in the hinth, all by Staley's wildness. Attendance at the morning game was 5,418, and at the afternoon game 4,827. The weather was per-

DURYRA RELEASED AGAIN.

Holliday Got Too Many Hits Off the Washington Pitcher's Delivery.

CINCINNATI, Aug 23 .- [Special]-"What do you think of a fielder who would put an-other out of the business?" asked Jim Duryea this morning. "That is what Holliday did for me, as his terrific hitting cost me my head. I drew my release from Washington to-day."

The Senators play two games to-morrow, putting Killen and Meekin against Dwve and Sullivan. Chamberlain may be sus-pended until he is in condition to play bail. It is not beyond the possibilities that Dur-yes may be signed by Comiskey, if Retger proves a faiure. The latter is slow in re-sponding to order to report.

Chicago Signs Harry Miller.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—[Special.]—Chicago to-day signed Harry Miller, the left-handed pitcher who made such a creditable showing against the Brooklyns Saturday. Miller started in the season with the Peorias, and was with the Istopenings until a few days ago. Anson thinks he has a corker. Fred Roat, who was secured from the disbanded Minneapolis club, was released. He has only played in a few games and he was showing badly. Miller will likely pitch against New York to-morrow. against New York to-morrow

The Alliance Team Disbands.

ALLIANCE, O., Aug. 23 .- The Alliance Base Ball Club, beyond all doubt the best ama-teur club in the State, having won 49 games out of 58 played this season, disbanded this morning on account of financial embarrass-ment. Sharp, Yeagle, Francis and Markel at once signed with the Canton club.

CONTESTS AMONG TENNIS EXPERTS

MONMOUTH RACE TRACK, Aug. 23. - The usual programme of six races, including two rich events, the private sweepstakes and the Monmouth handicap, were decided this afternoon over a fast track, under clouded skies and before 5 000 spectators. Air Shaft, first choice at 5 to 2, won the first race, the only winning favorite during the afternoon, the remaining five races going to long shots. Of the four starters for the sweepstakes of $1,000, Spartan, Taral up, ruled a consistent favorite throughout. He was beaten, however, by Minnehaha, the extreme outsider at 8 to 1. Lamplighter. Banquet and Reckon were the only starters for the Monmouth handicap. They ran at first, second and third choice at 7 to 5, 8 to 5 and 3 to 1. Reckon beat the flag and was never headed, winning easily by two lengths. Besides being a greatly improved mare, she was favored by the handicapper.

The plungers again rallied to and bet heavily on the Moyene gelding to beat the Laura Gould colt for the fourth race. The gelding looked all over a winner up to the last sixteenth post, where the Laura Gould colt came up with a great rattle, and, in a desperate finish, won by a head. Picknicker, 2 to 1, favorite for the free handicap, was defeated in the same manner by the 6 to 1 chance Leonawell, and as a climax to the wholesale slaughter of first choices, Osric, the 8 to 1, took the last race from Nomad, 1 to 4, by a length and a half.

SOME RAYS OF LIGHT

For Lizzie Borden in the Postponement of Her First Hearing.

THE CASE MAY BE DISMISSED,

But the State's Attorneys Stick to It They

Have a Chance

TO PROVE THAT THE GIRL IS GUILTY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] FALL RIVER, MASS., Aug. 23.-Despite the protestations of Marshal Hilliard, the only representative of the prosecution in town to-night, that the adjournment asked for yesterday by District Attorney Knowlton is not an evidence of weakness on the part of the Commonwealth, the general belief among the lawyers and the masses of people here is that the time has come when the authorities must acknowledge that they have acted rashly and without sufficient cause. Through the whole in vestigation made by the police and the District Attorney there has been a manifest attempt to keep the public in ignorance of the facts in the possession of the police.

And now, at the last minute, the prosecution makes it known that all the evidence will be brought out at the hearing, and the public can judge for themselves. But THE DISPATCH reporter was told late to-night, by one of the prosecution other than Marshal Hilliard, that the postpone-ment until Thursday was desired by both sides, in order to fully prepare the case. The hearing, said THE DISPATCH'S informant, will partake of the nature of a trial by jury in regard to all the facts being brought Protests of the Prosecution.

The prosecution emphatically states that it has no fear of the result and asserts that awyer Jennings was fully as desirous as it to have the examination postponed. Those who insist that the State has no case sgainst Lizzie Borden, and that it has at last realized that it has been wrong from the start, say that the clearest evidence of weakness in the case against the accused is the fact that the prosecution considers it absolutely that the prosecution considers it absolutely medical experts in order to have the prisoner held for trial. They say that had the case of the Commonwealth been strong enough without the expert testimony the postponement would not have been asked for; and further they allege that the repre-sentations of the experts are not satisfactory

Other evidence, they say, aside from the expert testimony, has not proven what it was expected to be. They point out that the District Attorney has been slow and reluctant from the beginning to take any action. These grities say that the properties tion. These critics say that the prosecution sees that it is mistaken and is now endeavoring to smooth its fall in the eyes of the public by showing its hand and saying that the suspicious circumstances justified the arrest of Lizzie Borden.

The State as Stubborn as Even But Attorney Knowlton, who tells the truth when he tells anything, meets all this with the assurance that the case of the State is as strong as it ever was, and that he asked for a postponement in order to give the defense plenty of time as well as to complete the preparation of his own side

The warmest friends of Lizzie Borden admit that the State need present only enough evidence to convince Judge Blaidsell that he should hold the prisoner to await the sction of the grand jury. But the District Attorney intends to make known all the evidence in his possession, so that if Lizzie Borden is held for trial her counsel will know just what they must fight.

The District Attorney is determined to give the accused woman every chance. He asked for the postponement of the hearing solely to enable him to prepare all his evidence and present it. Those who think the State is weakening are wrong. The Dre PATCH reporter was assured to-night that the case of the State is stronger than ever before, and that the prosecutors believe the prisoner will be held for trial. There are many, however, who say that even if the expert testimony is what the State expects there is not then enough evidence to warrant the binding over of Lizzie Borden. The Lawyers in Full Accord.

There are some who predict openly that the case will never go to trial. They say that if Judge Blaisdell, bowing to the will of District Attorney Knowlton, holds the prisoner for trial, the District Attorney will enter a nolle pros. Others say that on Thursday the Government will move the discharge of the prisoner. This is denied by the prosecution, yet it has been remarked that Lawyer Jennings and that Lawyer Jennings and the State authorities seem to un-derstand each other very well. The police, however, realize that with the abandonment of the case against Lizzie Borden the mystery of the murder will remain unsolved and all hopes of clear ing it up will be more remote than ever be-fore. To the police it is Lizzie Borden or no one, and, as was remarked to-night, "the colice will never allow it to be no one Lawyer Jennings will make no further fight against Judge Blaisdell presiding at nght against Judge Blaisdell presiding at the examination. He contradicts the state-ments published in other papers, but Mr. Jennings assured THE DISPATCH reporter that while he still maintained that Judge Blaisdell was probably disqualified from presiding at the hearing, yet he realized that it was hopeless and ludicrous.

FROGS THAT BAT CHICKEN.

Adventures of the Georgians With the Croakers of the Chickamauga.

avanuah Morning News.]

People living on the line of the Chicanauga river are somewhat excited over a number of strange and enormous frogs that infest the neighborhood. These frogs-for they greatly resemble frogs—were brought to this country from the Mississippi swamp in A. D. 1866, and put in the Chickamauga river near this place. They are said to be of enormous size when grown. These being very small when brought are just now beginning to show what they can do. They are doing some mischief now. One has been catching chickens and is thought to have been driven to the mountains for refuge during the high waters, and while on his way back to the river, being very hungry, he caught a chicken to appease his hunger until he reached the river, where he could get fish, as they live principally upon fish.

When driven away by high tide and starved for a few days they will attack a person. They are said to be good food for man, but have never been tried yet, as they are very hard to capture. The one that of enormous size when grown. These being are very hard to capture. The one that passed through would have been captured, but the man had to go to the house for his gun, and the frog made one leap and was out of a fair shot after devouring a number Feeundity of a White Anta Termes fatalis, the white ant, is possessed of the most extraordinary egg-laying propensities of any known creature; she often produces 86,400 eggs in a single day. From the time when the white ant begins to lay until the egg-laying season is over—usually reckoned by entomologists as an exact lunar month—she produces 2,500,000 eggs. In point of fecundity the white ant exceeds all other creatures.

WHAT ENGLISH WOMEN WEAR.

A Tailor Gown of Linen for Outdoor Functions-Accordion Plaiting Again.

A very smart gown the English woman affects now at out-of-door functions is the tailor gown of linen, writes an occasional correspondent of THE DISPATCH from London. It is made either of gray linen, called brown Holland in the shops, or of white duck, or a fine white linen that launders beautifully. The skirt is the approved bell skirt, made precisely like a serge skirt, with deep stitched hem and in particularly thic costumes has the side pockets like trousers pockets. The coat is nade up unlined, like the regular cloth coats worn with outing costumes, and has the buttonhole in the lapel like the regulation cloth coats. With such a linen coat and skirt, a pink or blue or red or some one of the giddy shirts now in fashion, with stiff bosom, collar and cuffs, is worn, and is belted in with either silver or leather. The most correct thing in four-in-hand ties is to have it the same shade as the coat and skirt, and to have its ends pinned down to the bosom with a gold safety pin. A woman turned out in a toilet like this, a sailor hat in which the band combines the color of skirt and gown, and flat-heeled canvas shoes, heavy gloves with broad stitching on the back, and a tightly rolled parasol with a handle like a club, is voted "very smart" indeed. The zouave jackets form part of the prettiest afternoon gowns now turned out. A particularly pretty one appeared at Goodwood, and accordion plaiting is coming in again. The gown was of that mossy shade again. The gown was or that mossy snade of green which seems equally becoming to blonde and brunette. The skirt was perfectly plain, of green velvet, with corded seams, the cording of silvery silk, which was also intertwined with a twist of velvet round the foot; a short train of deep rose chiffon, according plaited, was let in at the waist and spread like a fan toward the foot. The effect was that of a velvet apron over an accordionplaited skirt. The bodice was of the platted skirt. The bodice was of the rosecolored chiffon, also accordion-plaited, and was made precisely like the old-fashioned sailor waist, falling full around over a siver filagree belt. The sleeves were of the accordion-plaited chiffon from shoulder to elbow, and shaped like a melon, and from the elbow to wrist there were tight cuffs of green velvet, the edge corded with the silver and closely buttoned with silver buttons. Then came buttoned with silver buttons. Then came the tiny zouave jacket of green velvet, embroidered round the edge with silver. two shades were combined in the chiffon parasol. A moderately large hat of fine green chip was trimmed with tips in the wo shades and a bow of silver ribbon, the whole costume being charmingly picturesque.
