nitted him under $3,000 ball, and he did not propose to sign a release until some-body signed a bond for that amount. This information he conveyed to the District Attorney. Superintendent Hill at once Attorney. went to Allegheny and had a long talk with Alderman McKelvey and Superin-tendent Muth. The result was a rather odd arrangement. Superintendert Hill went on Havers' bond for the sum of $3,000, taking an oath before the Alderman that he was the owner of real estate in Alderman was the owner of real estate in Allegheny county exceeding that value. Upon this the Alderman signed a release, the Superintendent binding himself to produce Havers when called upon by the Court of Quarter Sessions.

Wilted When the Cuffs Were On.

The release was given to Detective Steele, who went in the patrol wagon to the jail and secured the prisoner. When Havers was told that he was to be returned to the workhouse he grumbled and said he did not wish to go back there. A bandcull was put on his right wrist and the 'other cuff placed upon the left wrist of Detective Steele. The prisoner was led by main force to the wagon and was soon rattling over the vements toward the West Penn depot. Pavements toward the trees and asked ques-tions as to what they would do with him at the workhouse and how long they would keep him there.

At the depot Superintendent Hill was waiting, and the three went into the smok-ing car. There Havers and Mr. Hill had a Ing car. Inere havers and Mr. Hin had a long talk during the ride to Claremont. Havers said he had nothing against Mr. Hill personally, but he thought some of the keepers "had it in for him" ever since he had been sent there. He crouched down in his seat, pulled his brown straw hat over his even and distanced humble to Mr. Hill's his eyes and listened humbly to Mr. Hill's admonitions. Every now and then he re-marked that he wanted to do the square thing. He expressed sorrow for Eber-hardt's injuries, and said he wished he could have escaped without burting any-body. He is once again in his old cell in the workhouse, whence he will come when the Criminal Court demands his presence.

Scalded by Escaping Steam.

Otto Frey, a workman at the brewery of D. Lutz & Son, in Allegheny, was severely scalded yesterday morning by the bursting of a steam pipe. He was taken to the Allegheny General Hospital, and his re-covery is doubtful.

When Nature

Needs assistance it may be best to render it promptly, but one should remember, to use even the most percet remedies only when needed. The best and most simple and gentle remedy is the Syrup of Figs, manu-jactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

The Cook's Answer.

Oh! Mrs. La Rook Was a fine French cook, Who pri'ed herself in her art; For of pies and bread and cake She could bake That astisfied stomach and heart. "Oh! tell me the way," Cried a cook all astray, "Such dainties you make to devour." "The way it is plain If you'll only obtain And bake with Camellis flour."
