A FINE ONE TO WIN.

Terry Pitches Great Ball and Our Singgers Beat the Giants Again. Those who saw yesterday's ball game at just as exciting a contest as anybody need look at. The home chaps won, but nobody was sure of it until "Shorty" Fuller was retired at first base in the ninth inning. Matters were so painfully close at that stage that had Mr. Fuller made a safe hit the result might have been quite different. But he didn't hit the ball, and the sigh of relief that went up from the 1,100 spectators in consequence could be heard a long way off. The truth is that it looked as if the home team were going to be doomed to defeat once more in the ninth inning after leading all the way. An Argument Between Pitchers.

It was indeed an argument of the most desperate kind between the pitchers, Russe and Terry, and the latter got the best of it because Rusie was directly responsible for two of the runs made by the home team. But both men pitched in remarkably fine form and neither of them could have been grambled at for defeat. Certainly Rusie's pitching was not the cause of the defeat of the Giants as much as the inability of his colleagues to hit the ball safely. More than once a single would have tied the score or won the game for the visitors, but Terry was too much for the batters from

In the sixth inning the Giants looked awfully threatening, but that hit which they aspired for was not to be had. They had three men on bases and two men were out. Terry had filled the bases by giving Doyle his base on balls. Buck Ewing was next at bat and one of these big hits of his was strongly hoped for by Manager Powers and President Day who looked anxiously on. But Buck failed to get the ball away safely and he forced a man out at second.

Some Very Exciting Stages.

All through the contest there were exciting stages and the local rooters were kept perspiring big drops of sweat. The pitchers could not well do better than they were doing, but the fielding was very, very shaky at times. Almost all the hits made off Terry's delivery were of the scratchiest kind as they never got past an infielder. Bierbauer as usual played in brilliant form and was "more than once

During the fifth inning rain began to fall and after the first half had been played and the home team had three men on bases, a run in and only one man out in their half "time" was called. Rusie was pitching so well that local a mirers were not very eager to have the contest resumed as the score stood 3 to 0 in the home team's favor. But the rain soon stopped and so did the run getting of the local team. But all's well that ends well and the victory places the home fellows clearly into fifth position in In the first inning Patsy Donovan gave the New Yorkers a pointer or two about hase running; in fact, he bewildered Captain Ewing by crossing the plate the most daring manner. Miller started off the second half and got his base on balls. Donovan forced Miller out at second and then Patsy stole second.

Donovan's Great Base Running. Elmer Smith followed with a grounder to first base, and while Boyle and Rusie were putting Smith out, Donovan actually got salely home. It is needless to say that he was cheered, and it is something for cranks to make a note of when a man s from second on a sacrifice hit. Ewing could hardly believe his own eyes, but Donovan was there sure enough.

Donovan's was the first run, and it looked as if it might be the last, judging from the way Amos Rusie was putting the ball across the plate. But another one was tallied in the fourth inning. After Donovan was out Smith got his base on balls, and stole second, afded by a wild throw by Ewing. Shugart's sacrifice sent Smith to third, and he scored on Beckley's single to Beckley tried to steal second but was easily thrown out by Ewing.

Mack's Tim-ly Stolen Base, The fifth inning came round and still another run was netted. Farrell got to first on a wild throw to first by Fuller. Mack made a single, sending Farrell to third. While Bierbauer was at bat, Mack started to steal second, and when Ewing threw the ball to that bag, Farrell started for home and scored all right. Bierbauer fouled out and Terry got his base on balls. Miller made a scratch single filling the bases and 'time" was called.

When play was resumed Donovan forced Mack out at the plate and Smith was retirell at first.

In the ninth inning Doyle started off with in the ninth inning Doyle started on with a base on balls and Ewing knocked out a fly, which Donovan caught. Danny Lyons struck out and Lawyer O'Rourke made a single to left and Boyle got his base on balls, filling the bases. With two strikes called on him Rusie made a scratch bit to Shugart, which was safe, and Doyle scored. Fuller went to bat with a chance to win or tie the game, but all he could do was to knock an easy one to Terry, who threw him out at first, and the agony was over. The

The Dispatch Nine Won.

THE DISPATCH nine had an easy time with the Commercial-Gazette yesterday, owing principally to the fact that the latter were badly crippled. The fielding of THE DISPATCH team was fairly good, credit being due to Penn, in middle, who got two hot liners, and to Hurley, who got in a neat double play all by thimself. Walton pitched a good game, some or the hits credited against him really being scratch. The score:

Mr. Von der Ahe's object in this change is to put Caruth-ers in the best possible position to command the tram, and first base is the only spot on the diamond from which to issue orders and to readily call players. Besides, it is the easiest position on the team to play.

Dwyer's Banquet, 20 to I, and Marcus Daly's Montana, 11 to 5. It was one of the best races of the year, not in point of time, for it was slow, being run in 2:09 l-5, but in point of quality and quantity. The Suburban winner of 1892, Montana, with Garrison up, ruled a hot favorite at 11 to 5, with Lamplighter second choice at 9 to 2, and very long odds against the others. The pace was slow for a mile, with Montane beaten at that point. Then Lamplighter came away and won easily by a length, Hamilton having ridden him in exceedingly

CHAMPIONS AT TENNIS

Opening of the Tournament of the Sewickley Association.

DRAWINGS FOR THE DOUBLES.

Moorhead and Pier Meet in the First Round of the tingles.

GOOD PLAY SEEN BY A LARGE PARTY

Tennis is now the reigning attraction at Sewickley. Yesterday afternoon the annual tournament of the Sewickley Athletic Association opened under the most favorable circumstances. The weather was about right; the attendance was large and appreciative and the entry list was just long enough to assure a pleasant week for all the devotees of the game. The audience was composed mostly of the residents of Sewickley, who take a great interest in all that goes on at the S. A. A. grounds. Many of them were ladies, friends of the partici-pants, and they were generous enough with their applause to call out the best efforts of the contestants.

The courts are excellently situated and the afternoon sun, which shone out fiercely for awhile, was not particularly troublesome. A wind came up about half-past o'clock and interfered somewhat with those players who were expert enough to pre-judge the strength of their strokes before the ball was within reach. It spoiled sev-eral of those nice "places" that Moorhead is distinguished for, and it carried the balls once or twice outside of the side lines, when without its interference they would have counted.

Court Celebrities on the Ground, There were many familiar faces among the players. E. B. Vaill, who has been away in the East for a month, was there and he carried his nut-brown color, that told of an enjoyable outing, with him. S. W. B. Moorhead had concluded to enter the singles and was pitted against Arthur Pier in the first round. This was unfortu-nate for Pier, who deserved to have been drawn against some other antagonist, and thus to have been able to meet Moorhead further along in the match. Fate willed it otherwise, though, and Pier will next strive for the consolation prize.

Coster, of the Pittsburg club, was there but he won his match by default, neither Thompson nor Whelan, of Altoona, appearing, and in consequence did not play. Christy was ih his stamping ground, but neither Porter nor Woods, who are with him on the committee of arrangements, played yesterday. Mr. Woods will not play at all being out of practice owings. played yesterday. Mr. Woods will not play at all, being out of practice, owing to his acquirement of legal lore which is now in progress. There were also some faces that are not so familiar, and some of them may win places further along in the rounds. The probability is that the finals will be played between Christy and Moorhead. The first round has not yet leen worked out, but it is probable that the semi-finals will be between Vaill and Moorhead, Christy and Coster.

The Big Match of the Day. The interest of the day centered in the first match that was played—that between Moorhead and Pier. This is the fourth time that these two have met over the net in tournaments this season, and this had, no doubt, a good deal to do with the play. Pier had been beaten in the other matches and he expected to be beaten in this one. Therefore he played a losing game. Nevertheless it was a gamy fight, and when the conclusion was reached at the end of the second set he was not so far behind Moorhead in the number of points made. Neither played at his best, and while both sets were "dence" it was not so much due to points earned as to points lost by misplays. The fact that the backstop nets were sp close to the courts made it difficult for the contestants to return a ball that had been naments this season, and this had, no doubt, the courts made it difficult for the contestants to return a ball that had been lobbed or to stop and return a swit tdrive.

There were some very pretty bits of volleying, however, scattered along over the 28 games that were played. In the first set it looked for a time as if Moorhead would gain an easy victory. The games stood at one period 53 in his favor, and another one would have won him the set, but Pier palled up and won the next two, making the games five all. Then each won a game and Pier inp and won the next two, making the games five all. Then each won a game and Pier took the next, putting him in the lead, but there he stopped and Moorhead carried the next three games and the set. The second set was also a "dence" set, but in this Pier got no further than the fifth game. Of the 28 games 14 were "dence" games, and the majority of these were in the second set. A summary of the two sets is as follows:

Moorhead, 1st set. 2d set. Total, 19 12 12 13 1. Pier. 1st set. 2d set. Total 48 45 37 16 14 16

Vaill Plays a Good Game. E. B. Vaill played two matches and won both by good judgment in placing his balls. In both he played a strong game and in the first he was entirely too strong for his opponent, Handy, of Hazelwood, who only capt ured one game in the match. The second match between Vaill and Campbell, of match between Vaill and Campbell, of Sewickiey, opened with the former playing rather b fully. Campbell took four of the first five games, but Vaill braced up and captured five straight and the set. He also only allowed Campbell two games in the second set, and it was owing to his ability to place the buil at his pleasure out of his opponent's reach. Mr. Vaill's vacation has certainly improved his game. To-day he will meet with Moorhead, and the round will be more than ordinarily interesting.

Guthrie, of Pittsburg, started out a winner of the round between himself and Bansemer, of Hazelwood, but he tired after taking the first set and lost the match only after three sets were played.

Christy won his match with Kirby, of Hazelwood, taking the first and third sets. rame, but his play shows that his hand has game, but his play shows that his hand has not lost its old time cunning with the racket, and before the tournament is over he will meet an opponent worthy of his best efforts. When Chri-ty is playing his best game it is one that is bound to win. He carries everything before him by an irresistible for and fascinates the onlookers by the spec and brilliancy of his drives, smasses and volleys. It is to be hoped that the spell comes over him when he plays to-day and comes over him when he plays to-day and to-morrow.

Both sets between McClintock, or the "3 A.'s," and sburn of Sewickiey, were deuce sets. They were hearly evenly matched and played an interesting game, Osburn taking both sets. The scores made yesterday are as follows:

SINGLES-FIRST BOUND. Campbell, of Sewickley, beat Whelan, of Altoona Valli, of Pittsburg, beat Handy, of Hazelwood, Moorhead, of Pittsburg, beat Pier, of Pittsburg. 9-7, 7-5.

HOVEY THE WINNER,

Christy and Osburn vs. Nevin and Paul.

He Defeats Larned for the Tennis All-Com rt, R. L. Aug. 30.—The day for the final match in the national tennis tournament saw pleasant weather, a large crowd of people and the courts in fine condition. It was the match for the all-comers' prize between Hovey and Larned, winners in yesbetween Hovey and larned, winners in yes-terday's contests. Each had many backers. Larned's persistent and strongest work throughout the week made him a formi-dable rival in the minds of many, even against a man with the recognized ability of Hovey. Larned was nervous, and one by one games were scored for Hovey, who was playing in the same careful, conservative style as yesterday, and Larned did almost if not quite as much to give Hovey the first set as did that player himself.

With the beginning of the second set Larned braced to do better, but the set went to Hovey 6-2.

Larned was doing good work: though Hovey took the ninth game he could not quite win the next, and five games-all was announced. Hovey took the odd game, both men playing well. He took the lead in the next, and with Larned at 30 passed his man down the side line and had won the all-comers' cup for 1892. Hovey won as follows. 60, 62, 75.

The final match in the consolation series was played this atterneon by Malcolm Chace and D. W. Chandler, and, as expected, resulted in favor of the former. Chace took the first two sets with the greatest ease, but in the third Chandler, who is a little fellow, worried the big Providence boy badly, and made him work hard to win. Chace was playing well, but somehow seemed unable to win against the dogged persistency and steadiness of his opponent. Chandler took the first four games straight, and then the tide turned, and Chace made it 4 all. Chandler won the odd games each time till 6-all was called, when Chace finally braced and landed a winner of the consolation purse. Chace beat Chandler 6-0, 6-1, 8-6. landed a winner of the consoli Chace beat Chandler 6-0, 6-1, 8-6.

He has magnificent physique and shows signs of surpassing his previous records.

Sullivan Money Wanted.

A local sporting man has left $500 at this office to bet that John L. Sullivan will not knock James J. Corbett out in 10 rounds when they meet. This is a fair offer, con-sidering the odds offered on Sullivan to win. Considerable local betting has taken place on the battle at 100 to 60 on Sullivan. One big bet was made yesterday.

Their Final Deposit Up. Toroxyo, Aug. 30.—The final deposit on be-half of O'Connor and Hanlan and Gaudaur and Hosmer has been made with the tem-porary stakeholder or a double scull cham-ponship race for $500 a side, to be rowed at Rochester on Monday next, O'Connor leaves for Rochester to-night. The veteran English cricketer, Charles Absolom, 74 years of age, played in the two days' match on August 2 and 3, taking on the first day four wickets for 12 runs, and on the second day 11 for 33.
