INDUSTRIALS LEAD THE DECLINE

Which fxtends to Nearly Everything on the Active List.

A WEAK CLOSE AT THE LOWEST PRICES

NEW YORK, Sept. 1 .- The full effects of the cholers scare were felt in the stock market to-day and weak margined holders of stocks and heavy short sellers vied with each other for a large portion of the time to obtain the ruling prices as they went. There were a great many stop orders uncovered by the rapidity of the decline, and thus the downward movement, which certainly did not lack speed, was accelerated. The losses were most notable in the industrials and specialties and Sugar at one time showed a net loss of 61/2 per cent, while among railroad shares the declines reached 3 per cent, nothing on the list escaping the general drop. The scare comes at probably the st opportune time, for the near approach of cool weather will soon put an end to the danger, and while there was no evidence that the holdings of large speculators or investors had been disturbed, the stocks sold now are undoubtedly passing into strong hands which will tell when the apprehension of disaster from the disease at our doors is over. At the same time there seems at present to be little encouragement to make ventures on the long side, with the depleted bank reserves, and to-day the announcement was made by some of the foreign houses that they would ship gold on Saturday. In view of these facts the market, after the decline was checked and the bears had withdrawn their forces, failed to display any resuperative power, though the display any recuperative power, though the demand from the shorts prevented any

The grangers, especially St. Paul, with New England and a few other shares, were remarkably well held in the early trading. but the pressure soon became general and the whole market gave way, the activity be-ing very heavy in consideration of the limits to which the market has of late been confined and the selling for both sides of the account was extremely urgent. There was heavy liquidation of speculative long accounts throughout the day, especially in the industrials, the banks in some cases discriminating against them, and the money question was again pressed home to many borrowers by a flurry in call loans late in the day by which rates were run up to 6 per cent, a figure which has not been touched in many weeks. This naturally hastened the liquidation and the late trading was equally as heavy and as excited as that of the first hour. The purchases for the short account from time to time served to check the speed of the decline and even in some stocks to rally prices a little, but the progress made was insignificant in comparison with the previous losses and the effect was hardly perceptible in the final changes.

The industrials came in for the bulk of the pressure, and, besides Sugar, General Electric lost about 4 per cent, and Cordage preserved dropped suddenly about 5 per cent. The changes in railroad shares were more moderate, but Western Union yielded 3 per cent and most of the active railroad shares in the neighborhood of 2 per cent. Burlington, Archison, Reading and St. Paul were the features, but New England, from its stubborn resistance to the pressure, was unique in contrast with the general weakness.

The market under the influence of the discriminating against them, and the money unique in contrast with the general weakness.

The market under the influence of the scarcity of funds closed active, leverish and weak at or near the lowest prices of the day.
The final losses of note include Sugar 5%.
Lead 3, General Electric 4%. Western Union 5%. Colorado Coal 2%. Cotton Oil 2%, and others of the active list generally from 1 to 2 per cent. The transactions were extremely heavy in comparison with those of late.
Railroad bonds failed to respond to the excitement in the share list, and while sympathizing to a limited extend in the downward movement, showed few changes of patinizing to a limited extend in the down-ward movement, showed few changes of note at the end of the day and these not all in the active issues. The Rending bonds were weak features, the firsts losing 1% and the second 1 per cent on comparatively light transactions. Atchison incomes were again the most prominent in the trading con-tributing $157,000 to the day's total of $1.264,-2600, and while weak, selling ex-interest, lost only a little over 1 per cent. The business was not widely distributed.

A STEADY CLOSE

Follows Depression and a Panicky Feeling

on the Chicago Board.
Chicago, Sept. 1.—Depression and a panicky feeling ruled on the Board of Trade on account of the cholera scare during most of the forenoon, and most of the articles dealt in went off sharply, wheat touching the lowest point reached for several years; but later in the day the action of the authorities at Washington and some other items of news caused a revulsion of feeling but later in the day the action of the authorities at Washington and some other items of news caused a revulsion of feeling and a reaction set in which carried prices well upward toward the closing figures of yesterday, and in pork and ribs to a higher level, leaving the trade in a more hopeful frame of mind than it has shown for some time past. Wheat fell during the first hour 1½c below last night's close, corn 1½c, oats ½c and pork 2½c, with lard and ribs also weak and lower. Big coverings by shorts to secure profits caused a reaction, but the general tone was weak. In wheat everybody seemed to have selling orders, and scalpers who had bought on yesterday's decline, and those who have been holding in hope of better prices, were free sellers, while there was hardly any buying except to cover shorts and take profits.

Big receipts and light exports were the prominent bear factors, independent of the cholera panic. It was pointed out that the statement of the poor quality of the Northwestern wheat crop was disproved by the inspection of the new receipts, of 45 cars of new wheat received at Minneapolis, 22 graded as No. 1 Northern, and it was said that only the small size of the berry prevented it from grading No. 1 hard. The statement sof-experts that the crop was unusually good, milling quality were also cited. Stocks in New York were demoralized and lower, and helped along the general depression. The deliveries of September were not as heavy as were looked for, only about 300,000 bushels, and this with some pretty good buying caused some advance after the lower opening, but the market breaking sharply. The report later was officially denied, and a better feeling at once became manifest. Then shorts began to cover freely, and a cold wave was descried in the Canadian Northwest. On top of these came the prompt action of the Government to avert cholers, the fact that 17 batloads of wheat were taken at New York for export and that 354,000 bushels were taken here for shipment. All of these things turned the tide and bushels; rye, 13,000 bushels; barley, 7,000 bushels.

Shipments—Flour, 35,000 barrels; wheat, 170,000 bushels; corn. 254,000 bushels; oats, 274,000 bushels; rye, 6,000 bushels; barley, 9,000 bushels.

On the Produce Exchange to-day the butter market was quiet and unchanged. Eggs—17@17%c.

Short Lines Pat Out Under Cover of the Cholera Scare

a Decline in Nearly All the Active Shares.

THURSDAY, Sept. 1. Pronounced weakness characterized the local stock market to-day. All the shares that were prominent in the recent upward movement, with the exception of Westinghouse Aurbrake, declined materially under rather free selling, and the close was at the lowest prices of the day. It is possible the word weakness is hardly the proper one to use in describing the market. Stocks often decline without being weak, the declines being nothing more nor less than natural and healthy reactions which create bases for further advances. Certain it is, however, that the general tendency was downward and that declines were established throughout the active list, some of which were little short of sensational. Westinghouse Electric suffered the most, declining to 34 asked, followed by Philadelphia Company, with a loss of a dollar a share from the house Electric suffered the most, decining to Masked, followed by Philadelphia Company, with a loss of a dollar a share from the previous close, Duquesne traction, P. & B. traction, Union switch and Signal, Central traction and Pleasant Valley, all of which closed on losses of more or less consequence. In a general way the declines were charged up to the newspaper reports of the progress of the cholera and the continued weakness in the Eastern markets. The action of President Harrison was accepted as meaning that the situation was quite as grave as outlined in the papers, and, while this served to increase the general apprehension, the probability that vigorous action would be taken, and the actual precautionary measures enforced apparently failed to have any influence whatever, either here or in the East.

While the declines might not have been established if the cholera had not crossed the sea, the market was ripe for a big reaction. The leading shares had advanced too rapidly in one instance, at least, under vigorous manipulation—and in all such movements reactions follow as surely as night follows day. Those who had profits in sight were holding off to see them swell a little, and many were waiting for an opportunity to do a little business on the short side. The arrival of the Moravia with cholera on board encouraged the latter element, and those waiting for increased profits began to realize that they had overstayed their time. Both elements commenced to sell, the result being the declines noted. The movement was nothing like a raid or a panic. Such things come only with asudden tightening of the money market, or with a succession of business disasters. Money is unusually abundant now, the general business situation is a healthy one and securities backed by merit cannot break much, even if the cholera should really get a foothold. The operations to-day were about equally divided between realizing and short sales, and there will certainly be a recovery at the proper time in the shares most in favor, as wel

A PENN AVENUE DEAL

Smithfield Street Concern Dickering for the Remainder of the Christ M. E. Church Property-A Few Other Big Transactions Cooking-Gossip, Permits THURSDAY, Sept. 1.

The remainder of the Christ M. E. Church property on Penn avenue, between Seventh and Eighth streets, will very likely change hands in a few days. Negotiations for the sale are on and from present indications the deal will be closed within the time mendeal will be closed within the time mentioned. The price to be paid and the names of the parties interested are withheld for the present at their request. Quite an improvement will follow. A fine five or six-story brick business block will be erected and occupied by the purchasers, who are at the present time located on Smithfield street near the City Hall. This deal going through will likely cause a sale of the Smithfield street property of the intending purchasers, which would certainly realize a large sum, being situated on a very prominent corner and having erected thereona four-story brick business building.

Current Gossip. City property is certainly in great demand, and as a result prices are stiffening. Many orders have been placed in the hands of agents of late by corporations and firms in various lines of business for suitable in various lines of business for suitable sites upon which to erect large business blocks. In some instances a sudden jump in prices has deprived the down-town section of several new attractions in the line of large and handsome buildings, but a few sales, involving nearly $200,000 each, are in hand, and will likely be in shape for publication by the close of the week. The realty in question is located in the heart of the city.

in question is located in the heart of the city.

John F. Sweeny reports the completion of it new houses on Herrou Hill to be offered for sale on the installment plan. The houses are five and six-story frames located on Herron avenue and Camp street.

The plan of lots laid off by J. Palmer O'Neil at Ben Avon will not be placed on the market, Mr. O'Neil having decided to erect dwellings on the lots, and offer them for sale when completed.

If a deal now in pretty good shape goes through Grant street, south of Fifth avenue, will soon be improved by a bandsome sevenstory business block.

SUGAR IS BOOMING.

THURSDAY, Sept. 1. Another advance of 1/2c per pound on all grades of sugar was made in this market, in response to a further advance by refiners on all grades from No. 5 up. Creamery butter is very scarce in this market, and dealers have not been able to get much more than one-third of their orders filled at the sources of sapply. An order for 300 tubs sent in to Eigin Monday was scaled to 100 tubs, with the advice that all rders were similarly treated. This would seem to indicate higher prices, but it is stated that if the cool weather continues the production of butter will increase materially. Crop Expert Prime says: "Our great butter centers now report a decided shortage in the butter made this season, and they trace this directly to the heavy rains in June, which washed off and out so much substance from the grass that it did not have the butter yielding qualities of an average season."

Notwithstanding a Big Reduction of Stocks

in Public Stores, New York, Sept. 1 .- [Special.]-The special cable to the Iron Age says: Business in Scotch pig iron warrants has been of smaller volume and price has ruled somewhat easier, 41s 10d this week, although a further reduction to 395,000 tons in stocks in public stores has taken place. A scarcity is reported of certain brands and 2s advance for the same is asked by holders. Several makers, it is stated, have nothing to sell for September delivery. Cleveland warraits have advanced to 41s and are very firmly held, as there are only 16,000 tons in public stores. Hematite warrants have varied little from 50s, but are lightly traded in. There has been more business in the plate, but buyers require much coaxing, and ordinary Bessemers at lis 9d in Swanses seem to be unattractive. Most branches of the steel market have relapsed into duliness and prices are unaltered.

ROLLING MILLS BUSY And Chesp Lots of Pig Iron Are Growing

Scarcer.

New York, Sept. 1.—[Special.]—The Iron Age says: The week has been uneventful throughout the country, the happenings in the different markets having done little to help in rendering the situation clear. Reports from the principal counters indicates ports from the principal centers indicate that the rolling mills are all very busy for early delivery. The Western mills for the present are also well supplied with work, but are not relatively in as good a position but are not relatively in as good a position as the Eastern concerns. Our Chicago correspondent telegraphs that there are some indications of inquiry for future delivery, but generally speaking buyers are still holding off. A more satisfactory feeling is developing in Philadelphia. In piz iron, cheap lots are growing scarcer, but Chicago shows a weakening though more active market, while Cincinnati and Louisville are dull. In structural material the activity continues and is likely to be the feature for the balance of the season. Lead has stiffened. The other metals are duil.
