HIS DOUBTS OF SUCCESS SWEPT AWAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 .- The following will appear in the New York Herald to-morrow: I visited ex-Senator Thomas C, Platt at the Oriental Hotel, Manhattan Beach, yesrerday, and invited him to talk on politics. mator Platt lives at the Oriental during the summer. THE TWENTY-FIRST FIGHT.

It Looks Like Sloan-A Fight on the Dis trict Chairmanship. GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 4 .- ['pecial]-A great deal of interest is manifested in the meeting of the Democratic conferees Twenty-first district, composed of Westmoreland, Indiana, Armstrong and Jefferson counties, which meets at Kittanning on Wednesday. Captain John B. Keenan is the nominee from Westmore-land. He is chairman of the Westmoreland Democratic County Committee, and is not ambitious aside from redeeming the county from the clutch of the Republicans. Senator Sloan, of Indiana, it is safe to say, will be the nominec. Westmoreland is for him. He has also the indorsement of Jefferson and Indiana counties.

The district chairmanship will enter into a fight, if there be a fight at all. R. A. Mca hight, if there be a light at all. It. A. Mc-Cullough, Chairman of the Democratic County Committee of Armstrong, is the nominee of that county. He is a cousin of Austin Clark, the candidate for District Chairman, and will insist at the meeting that Mr. Clark receive the indorsement for the office against William Brennen, of Pittsburg. If this idea doesn't meet the approval of the people then Mr. McCullough may insist on the nomination going to Armstrong. The general impression is however that the nom-

HIS JEALOUSY OF DR. HAMILTON

Caused by Secretary Charles Foster Choosing the Chicagoan

TO HANDLE MAIN QUARANTINE MATTERS

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.-If Dr. Jenkins. the Health Officer of New York, is mad on account of a seeming intimation that there is a higher authority than himself to take a hand in the business of quarantining the country against the cholera, he has his counterpart in Washington in Dr. Wyman, the Supervising Surgeon General of the Marine. Hospital service. Dr. Wyman took matters in hand at the first report that the cholera might make its debut in the United States from some of the infected ports of Europe, and apparently convinced himself that he was the one person able and authorized to thwart the plague in its dark designs on the life, health and business of the country. While it is not denied that Dr. Wyman exhibited great energy and that he almost excited a feeling of awe in all who beheld him, so profoundly did he impress his visitors with his importance, in some way there grew up a lack of confidence in the executive ability of the great surgeon. As it is his belief that executive ability is his strong point, the doc-tor has been much humiliated by the fallure of the Treasury authorities to put absolute faith in him.

The Last Straw on the Camel's Back. An action of the Secretary of the Treasury to-day will have something of the same effect on Dr. Wyman as the labled straw had upon the back of the fabled camel and the more especially as it is the culmination of a series of incidents that have led up to what is a pretty row among the officials who have charge of the construction of coast defenses against the cholera. Last Thurs lay morn-ing Secretary Fester had a conference with Dr. Wyman. One result of it was a request from the Secretary, somewhat imperative in its tone, that Wyman telegraph Dr. John B. Hamilton, his predecessor, now stationed at Chicago, asking him to come on to Washington at once for consultation in regard to the quarantine against the cholers. Dr. Wyman promised to do so, but for some reason forgot to send until the following morning. Meantime, the Secretary had taken the precaution to telegraph Dr. Hamilton on his own account, and when the message of Dr. Wyman was put on the wires Dr. Hamilton had been four hours on the road from Chicago to Washington. Since Dr. Hamilton's arrival recognition of Dr. Wyman has been somewhat formal and ultra-official in its nature, and Dr. Hamilton has been called for protracted conferences. Hamilton and Foster in Partnership. As the last straw for Wyman's back, Secretary Foster and Dr. Hamilton departed together this afternoon at 4 o'clock for New York, for an inspection of the quarantine arrangements, for a consultation with Dr. Jenkins, and, in brief, for the purpose of gaining a thorough understand-ing of the whole situation, the dangers and the possibilities, the hopes and the fears.

Of course Dr. Wyman feels that it is a most extraordinary performance on the part of the Secretary to choose for his companion and adviser in this matter one of his (Wyman's) subordinates. It is virtually taking the whole business out of the hands f Wyman and passing it over to Hamilton, leaving Wyman merely the automatic promulgator to orders that origi-nate with Hamilton. Though Wyman centinues in his position of supervising Surgeon General of the Marine Hospital service, and though Hamilton be ordered Canadian border, it will be understood from this time on that though the voice is that of Wyman, the hand is that of Hamilton. Hamilton Might Succeed Crounse. A report has been put in circulation that Dr. Hamilton is booked for the position of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, to suc ceed Judge Crounse, who has resigned, but I have it from the best authority that there is no truth in the rumor. In that posi-tion, it is asserted by the ru-mor, Dr. Hamilton would be given sole charge of the entire sanitary regulations for the prevention of the cholera. Dr. Hamilton himself says he would not like to accept the position, as he has not only his college professorship in hand, but has also built up a fine practice in Chicago, which he would not desire to abandon. One result that is expected from the visit of Secretary Foster and Dr. Hamilton to

New York is that any lingering feeling of pique or jealousy that may still be harbored by Dr. Jenkins will be effaced by personal contact with such high official and sanitary maintained without further action on th part of the Federal Government. No Cause for Any Panic.

Before leaving for New York Dr. Hamilton assured the correspondent of THE DIS-PATCH that there was emphatically no cause for a panic on account of the presence of the cholers at the marine gates of the country. Nevertheless, he would earnestly advise every city and town in the country to take the best possible measures for the prewhile no panic will be created by the precautions, it is the proper time to provide thorough machinery for dealing with it if should come. Dr. Hamilton would advise not only horough eleansing of towns and cities, rigid inspection of private and public drains by health officers, and a remedy applied wherever needed, a frequent and copious flushing of the sewers when there is a lack of rains, but also a reasonable prepara-tion for the care of persons at-tacked with the disease, if there be any, by the construction at once of comfortable hospitals of a cheap and temporary character, that any chance victim of the contagion may be promptly isolated from all others not so afflicted. As to individuals, his only advice would be to be cleanly, to live upon a light, well-cooked, wholesome diet, being careful to take nothing into the mouth that by any possibility could convey cholera germs into the stomach. He asserts that cholera is not nearly as contagious as most people think nor as several other contagious diseases. How the Germs Get in Their Work. It is pretty well established that the cholera germs must enter the system through the mouth, and therefore by the medium of the food or by unclean hands or unmedium of the food or by unclean hands or un-clean articles placed between the lips. Every utensil employed in cooking or eating should be placed in boiling water immedi-ately before using. Food of all kinds should be thoroughly cooked, but if raw vegetables or truit be taken, it should be while they are fresh and not long exposed to the air after plucking, and fruit should not be eaten either in a green or an over-ripe state.

not be eaten either in a green or an over-ripe state.

With simple care, such as every person should give to himself at all times, and with the precautions of the quarantine and a general cleaning up of the towns and cities, and provision for the isolation of patients the moment they are attacked, Dr. Hamilton is according that there will be very little to convinced that there will be very little to fear from cholera this year, or any other year. At the same time, he would prefer to excite concern rather than an overween-ing confidence, which might lead to indif-

When the train left for Linesville, Crawford county, seven members of the National Guard were on board. Some of them were drunk and at times noisy. A gentleman from Scottdale, who sympathized with the strikers, was in the car with the soldiers. At Jamestown, Mercer county, while the train crew were at supper, the Scottdale man made some remarks which angered the soldiers, and in an instant they attacked him. CHARLEY MITCHELL'S OPINION.

He Thinks No Man Can Stand Before Su'livan Four Rounds.

IBY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH, 1 LONDON, Sept. 4—[Copyright.]—In sporting circles the coming Sullivan-Corbett fight absorbs attention. Corbett naturally has a larger proportion of backers here than in America, and there is quite a strong under current of opinion that the time has finally come when the champion will meet his first defeat. This feeling is based largely on the defeat. This feeling is based largely on the impression that the big fellow will be overconfident and that be will so into the ring in not the best condition. It is generally understood among Corbett's friends here that he will play Rilrain's waiting game for at least 10 and perhaps 14 rounds.

Mitchell's opinion, that no main alive can stand up before Sallivan during the first four rounds, is generally held here. It will be another case of trying to tire out the champion and make him lose his discretion and temper. There is not a great deal of money up on the issue, and betting is so irregular that it is impossible to give prevailing quotations. Peter Jackson will not express an opinion on the result. He says he will not challenge the winner, but he stands ready to fight any one.

FAST WHEELING THIS. Champion Zimmerman Shatters All Records for the Mile.

CLIPTON, N. J., Sept. 4.—The main feature of the meeting of the Passaic Athletic Club was the riding of the scratch men in the bicycle races, Zimmerman, Taylor, Windle and Borlow. Zimmerman's riding was a and Borlow. Zimmerman's riding was a revelation. In the mile handicap he attempted what appeared to be an impossible task. Starting from so atch he had in front of him almost three score of opponents on marks ranging up to 200 yards. Notwithstanding this he flushed right in the wake of the first three, riding the mile in the world's record time for competition in 2 minutes 19 seconds.

Showers have fallen in the Central Valley, the Lake region, on the South Atlantic, the Gulf and Lower New England coasts since last evening. The belt of showers in the Central Valleys is due to the eastward movement of a trough of low pressure that is being followed by a cool wave. The air pressure in the East is highest over the South Atlantic States. A second high pres sure area has advanced southward over the Northwestern States from the Saskatche wan Valley since last evening. The temper ature has risen slightly over the Atlantic States, the Upper Ohio Vailey and the Lower Lake region, but has fallen in the Central valleys and in the Western and Northwestern States, in which latter section trosts are anticipated for Monday morning. Clearing, cooler weather will prevail in the Central valleys; fair and warmer weather in the Sates on the Eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains, and showers among the Allegheny range, over the Eastern Lake region, in the eastern portion of the Cotton Belt, and probably along the Atlantic Coast States, the latter by Tuesday.

Sam Kelley, of the West Sides. The battle

THE Emplish Turf Record says that no other thing has done more to reduce the turf to a purely money-making scheme than the practice of aprint, racing. In the good old days, when horses were run for the love of the sport, a race at less than a mile was a thing unheard of. In those days horses were bred and trained to run two, three and four miles, and there were many heat-racing events at those distances. Now a horse is trained and nerved up to run a five-eighths or a three-quarters or a seven-eighths dash, which is only a hustle at the post for the best of the start, a flash and all is over. The best horse may be way back in the race, unable to get through in time, or forced into the position by a bad start.
