A VICTORY FOR PITTSBURG.

Elmer Smith's Fielding and O'Rourke' Error Were Responsible.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7 .- [Special ]-The 1.500 persons who went to the Polo grounds to-day saw four hours of as exciting baseball playing as the most exciting erank could ask for. They saw the New Yorks lose the first game after a splendid uphill fight, and judging from the phenomenal luck that followed the Pittsburgs, each one of them must have been provided with the left hind foot of a rabbit killed in a grave

The spectators then saw the New Yorks do some very artistic hitting. They batted the curves of Ehret till the spectators asked for a new pitcher. The Pittsburg manager, however, had no more pitchers to sacrifice and Ehret was compelled to face the cannonading to the bitter end.

In the first game Terry, once known as the Brooklyn Adonis, but now a plain Pittsburg Pirate, pitched for the visitors and he unbottled some of the patent shoots with which he has been surprising the Bos tons and other rising baseball organizations

Somehow, Terry's tortuous delivery had no terrors for the Giants. They hit the ball with a force and accuracy that would have assured victory, but for the efforts of young man of the uncommon name of Smith, who stood over in left field and shaded his eyes with a capacious hand while waiting for line hits.

E'mer Smith Did Well, He took in five hard driges, one of which

He took in five hard driges, one of which a screamer by Doyle, was collared right of the left foul line. Had this hit escap Smith's clutches, Pittsburg would sure have lost the game. The New York's we hitting grass cutters that obligingly bound into fielders' hands, and twice were the fielders. Despite all this unfortunate wor the New Yorks would still have won b for an inexcusably bad play by O'Rour in the fifth inning, when the score store a tie.
The New Yorks had scored a run in the first by Harry Lyons reaching first on Becley's fumble, stealing second and scoring Doyle's pretty double to left. Then in t second, the Pittsburgs tied the score Beckley's bunt hit, a passed ball and F ler's miss of Bierbauer's grounder. In t fifth inning Bierbauer opened by an out at first. Terry was sent to first on balls and Kelly hit safely to right.

O'Bourke's Fatal Blunder. With men on first and second, Miller hit sharply on the ground to left. O'Rourke ran in to meet the ball, and he picked it up cleanly just as Terry was turning third. I was a plain case of out at the plate, bu O'Rourke, balanced the ball in his hand looked two or three ways in an indecisiv manner, and then when it was too late threw to the plate. Terry scored, and a Donovan went out at first Kelly came hon on the sacrifice, then Miller, who has moved to third, came in on a passed ball Had O'Rourke thrown the ball when he picked it up, not a run would have bee

In the seventh. Rusie made himsel famous. Dovle's terrific bit to left wa taken by Smith, but D. Lyons and Mc-Malion hit for bases. O'Rourke struck at three wide balls and sat down. Boyle was sent to first on balls, and then Rusie pounded a three-bagger to right center elearing the bases and tying the score. Fuller was unable to send Rusie home. The Pittsburgs got the winning run in the ninth on Donovan's double, Smith's sacrifice and a wild pitch. The score: NEW YORK RBPAEPITTSBURG RBPAE

RED PHRET POUNDED

The Glants Battered His Curves All Over the Field.

The New Yorks apparently made up their minds that the second game should not be in doubt at any stage, and they opened on Pitcher Ehret in a savage man-

Burke got a base on balls and stole second. Ehret juggled H. Lyons' grounder and hit Doyle with a pitched ball. D. Lyons hit to Shugart, and Burke was out at the plate. Then McMahon came to the front with a three-baser, sending the ball under the right field ropes and enabling three men to patter over the home plate. McMahon was left at third.

Sad for Ehret.

In the second Ehret was practically knocked out of the box. Fuller opened with a single and Burke followed suit. H. Lyons' grounder was juggled by Ehret and the bases were full. Doyle's single drove Fuller and Burke home. D. Lyons sacrificed, putting H. Lyons and Doyle on third and second. McMahon went to first on and second. McMahon went to first on balls and the bases were again full. O'Rourke hit for a base and H. Lyons and Doyle scored. Boyle popped a fly for Miller, but Crane hit for a single and McMahon scored. Fuller made his second base hit and O'Rourke trotted in. Fuller got caught off Brest, and when Crane tried to take advantage of the effort to catch Fuller and started for third he was easily run down. The side was out for six runs and Fitsburg's crack pitcher was feeling exceedingly tired.

pitcher was feeling exceedingly tired. Fuller's Home Run. Buckenberger seemed to feel that the game was lost, and he kept the pounded pitcher in the box. The New Yorks got after him again in the fifth, when, with one man cut, Fuller hit to left for a clean home run. Then Burke, H. Lyons and D. Lyons made singles, yielding two more runs, making a total of three for the huning.

In the seventh singles by Burke, Hardie Richardson, who had taken Doyle's place, and McMahon, followed by O'Rourke's double, gave two runs, and in the eighth a missed grounder and a low throw by Shugart, with singles by Burke and D. Lyons, yielded two more runs.

The Pittsburgs made three runs in the second on singles by Farrell, Kelly and Donovan, aided by Fuller's wild throw. In the sixth they made three more runs on Beckley's base on balls, singles by Farrell and Ehret, a low throw by D. Lyons and a passed ball.

Donovan was injured in the fifth, and Stenzel went behind the bat, Miller going to right. The score:

R. Brown, Alliance, O-It was the second or afternoon game. For a youngster catcher McMahon, of the New Yorks, is quite a batter. Boston friends of the late Pitcher Darby O'Brienhave raised $400 for his family. WHEN Merritt first arrived at Louisville he threw to second like a shot, and now he can hardly get the hall to the bag. The opposing players also steal third-on him with equal case.

ONE day it is one player and the next day another that bats in the runs for Cleveland. That is the beauty of not being obliged to depend upon one big batter to do all the heavy work. ADRIAN ANSON and his moup of ambition pupils are playing great ball just now. If they had settled down to their work a month ago the chance are that they would have been fighting Cleveland for the lead long before this.

What has become of Captain Kelly and his base-running abilities? A few seasons ago the King was considered one of the greatest of base steaters in the league, but by his record so far this season he ranks among the lowest. He stole only two bases in 22 games. EAST END GYM TENNIS.

Play in the Gentlemen's Singles to Com mence This Afternoon. This afternoon the East End Gym tennis tournament will commence at 30'clock at the East End Gym Park. It will be one of the events of the season in the tennis world, for before it is over ladies will appear before the nets for the first time in a tournamen here. To-day's play will be between the gentlemen, and it will be interesting from the fact that included in the entry list are a number of expert players. They have not been entered in any of the large tourna-ments bereabouts this year, but they have been practicing nearly all season on the Gym and other courts, and most of them are Gym and other courts, and most of them are in excellent form. At the practice games last week and the early part of this, Messrs. Barr, Aull, Dravo and McClaren have shown that they have not only good judgment in placing ball, but they are masters of both the back court and the net games. To-day in the tournament it is expected that they will play their best and that a very pretty series of sets will be the result.

Last night the drawings for the gentlemen's singles and the mixed doubles took place with the following result:

Preliminary round—J. A. Aull vs D. H. Barr.

OALLAND TERRACE TENNIS.

Scores of the Rounds That Have Been Played Up to Date,

The Oakland Terrace Tennis Club has been enjoying a tournament among its members for the past week and is still in the midst of play. The tourney began with singles in which Messrs. J. W. Parker, E. L. Porter, J. W. Grove, H. McElhaney, Thomas Neeley, F. C. Ewart, R. C. Porter, H. W. Rose, A. Nicholson and Dr. Haines took part. There were some hard fought matches in the various rounds, and it was demonstrated that several of the members rank high as players, a fact that will be proven later on, when they enter open tournaments hereabouts. In reality the finals were played between Mr. Parker and Dr. Haines, though the chart brought Mr. Rose into the final round, but he had drawn a bye and entered in the same finals with A. Nicholson, whom he defeated, and he defaulted to Mr. Parker in the finals. The match between Mr. Parker and Dr. Haines was very pretty. Both of them played strong games, and it was only after three sets had been played that Mr. Parker won. Mr. Parker played with his head and was successful in placing the balls. Some of his stops were very neatly done, and was rather too strong for Dr. Haines. The latter plays a very neat game, and puts a vigor into his strokes that makes the game interesting to the onlooker.

R. C. Porter won the prize in the consolations. He had entered the tourney immediately upon his return from Atlantic City and was not in practice, but he showed by his ability to regain his power, that he is not an opponent to be easily defeated and that he will give a good account of himself later on, for he is an entusiast, as are all the members of the club. The doubles were commenced vesterday and Rose and Haines commenced yesterday and Rose and Haines defeated E. L. Porter and A. Nicholson. Today the doubles will be continued, Messrs, Grove and Parker playing R. C. Porter and A. Nicholson. The scores for the tournament to date are as follows:

SEVEN HORSES FRIGHTENED OUT.

Kingston Was There and Spoiled the Betting and the Issue.

OTHER HAPPENINGS ON THE TRACK

SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACE TRACK, Sept. 7. - This was the most tame and uninteresting day's racing witnessed at the big tracks this season. There was absolutely no excitement. Kingston's presence in the race frightened outseven horses and spoiled both the betting and the race. The bookmakers refused to lay odds against him, and what little money changed hands was for either Hazelhurst or The Sheriff to run second. Gideon and Daly backed the Carmen colt from 10 to 1, to 4 to 1, in the betting on the first race, but their money was lost, as Bryan McClelland's Evanatus, the 5 to 2 favorite, captured the race by a neck after a hot tussle with the Carmen colt. Then came the Siren stakes, the only stake feature on the programme. It resulted in an easy win for the Bashford Manor's filly Ignite, with Pierre Loriflard's Derfargilla second. They ruled equal, first choices at 2 to 1. The Westerners lost back a lot of their winnings on Estelle in the fourth race, she being easily outfooted in the home stretch and beaten by May Win, a 5 to 1

Then Came the Best Events. The fifth race was the best events.

The fifth race was the best event of the day, the plungers splitting up on Tea Tray, 11 to 5, Sleipner, 3 to 1; Lowlander, 16 to 5, and Rex, 7 to 2. Lowlander cut out a clipping pace for seven furlongs and had nothing left to stand off Sleipner who won by three lengths. Hy Dy, the even money favorits, took the last race in runaway style and brought an uneventful day's sport to a close.

At the conclusion of the racing, the Board of Control announced that they Board of Control announced that they had suspended licenses of trainer Charles Oxx and Jockey 'Anderson and qualified the horse Watterson. This is the result of the alleged manipulation, he having been stop ped on Friday and permitted to win on Monday. The board also granted a license to Jockey Joe Flynn, who was outlawed for having ridden at the Winter tracks. Since then he has secured his discharge from James H. McCormick, to whom he was apprenticed.

Walden Tries to Even Up.

Trainer Jeter Walden, in retaliation for the taking of his coit Extra out of a selling race yesterday after paying $1,000, the coits entered selling price, to-day protested against any stake money being paid to Strauss by the association. Walden claims that Mayor Hugh Grant, of New York City, is Park Commissioner Strauss' partner in the coit Reginald, Jerome S, Philanthropist, Acilojam and others. According to the rules the names of every partner in racing property must be registered with the Secretary of the Board of Control. Strauss is given as the sole owner of the horses, Walden has submitted papers, alleging that Mayor Grant is Strauss' partner and protesting against Strauss being paid any purse or stake won by Reginald or the other horses, Mayor Grant will deny that he is financially interested in the horses, but the case promises to be a celebrated one, as Walden is determined to push matters as far us possible, SUMMARY. QUEEN NANCY HANKS.

Sheepshead Eay Races Turn Out Dull | She Again Breaks the World's Record This Time It Is of the Mile Trotted on the Regulation Track-The Watche Sr. PAUL, MINN., Sept. 7. - Nancy

Hanks has again broken the world's trotting record. Gailantly she spun around the course under the guidance of the veteran Budd Doble, and when she passed under the wire the Judges wildly waved their hats and proclaimed that the pretty mare had covered the mile in 2:07 flat. The scene that followed was indescribable. Turfmen who recognized the full significance of the performance simply went daft for the time being, forgot their dignity, threw hats and canes in the air and otherwise gave expression to their joy. It was a wonderful and very unexpected performance. Previ-ous to the event bets were freely made that Nancy could not do better than 2:14. It was a regulation track like that on which she trotted at Chicago.

The day dawned beautifully. It was not 1 o'clock when the crowd began to pour into the grand stand, all eager and anxious to witness the attempt to lower the record. Not a seat was left in the stand at 2 o'clock, and when 3 o'clock came the track was lit-erally surrounded, and a conservative esti-mate would have told Nancy that there erally surrounded, and a conservative estimate would have told Nancy that there were 50,000 people present waiting to see her. At 1:45 o'clock she came on the track with Doble in the famous sulky.

As the famous mare appeared the applause was deafening, but as she was being prepared for the start a hush came over the great throng. For an instant the mare stood as if irresolute, then a little jerk of the reins started her sailing toward the wire. The air was as still as death and, as Nancy came forward at a rattling gait, the crowds strained their necks as if fearful of losing even the slightest detail of Nancy's efforts.

A second start was thought necessary by Doble, however. This time Doble nodded his head and a great cry arose, for Nancy was off. The gallant mare flew up the track, making the quarter in $2\c), and the cheers broke out afresh. Steadily she flew around the turn, and so steadily that the beople cheered wildly. Now the applause grows deafening, and all watches tell that she had reached the half in 1:03\c). Doble is driving as he never drove before, and Nancy increases her speed, reaches the three-quarters in 1:3\c), and Nancy is coming at a rattling gait. She is steady and acting nobly. Never did a mare trot so without a break. Now as she enters the stretch the quiet is intense. Doble is leaning forward and giving her free rein. She seems to know what is expected and settles down with the idea of increasing her record.

Like the wind she comes down the stretch, and as she reaches the wire she turns her pretty head toward the grand stand as much as to say, "Well, I have done it," and as if conscious that if she had broken the world's record. Again a hush comes over the crowd. They want the announcement of the time, and scarcely half, a minute clapses before they all grow wildly impatient. And when the card is put out reading "207" the excitement knows no bounds. Doble was carried to the stand on the shoulders of the crowd.

PEOPLE COMING AND GOING.

P. J. LaBoenf, of Albany, was a guest at the Central last evening. He is a manufacturer of collars and cuffs and says that the business has increased all the way from 60 to 200 per cent since December last. There are 26 manufacturers of the same class of goods in Albany and Troy besides himself that have not been able to fill orders within three weeks after being received. The chief difficulty encountered with the increase in business is in finding capable help. Mr. LaBoeuf attributes this remarkable condition of affairs to the McKinley bill.

well as putting on new paint.

CAPTAIN BROWN thinks the coal operators on the Monongahela river will ask the coal diggers for a reduction in mining rates within the next month. Many of the operators are now away summering, and consequently cannot get together and talk the matter over. The railroads, Captain Brown says, get their coal dug for 3 cents per bushel, while the river operators pay one-haif cent more. It is claimed that the miners are getting this exica half cent from the operators without a corresponding amount of labor.

THERE'S SOMETHING FISHY

In many of the glittering advertisements that appear in our daily papers, the trouble usually being that "truth" is most conspicuous by its absence. One sharp, short "fact" is worth all the vaporings and smoke and fog that divert from the main point the attention of the purchaser.

Here is a short story which is neither fishy, scaly nor addressed to the marines: We are selling our Home-Made Black and Fancy Cheviot Suits at $12 and $15. We are not bankrupt, nor will you be if you buy of us. We have had no fire, nor will you get burnt if you select our

We did not buy these of an overloaded, hard-up wholesaler, nor are these job lots; but clean home-made clothing, warranted to give entire satisfaction to the last thread. If any repair is needed we'll do the repairing free of charge within one year from date of purchase.
