POLITICS IN THE STATE AND NATION

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Certificates of the nominations of candidates under the provisions of the Baker ballot law must be filed by the Secretary of State 26 days before the election, and the time limit expires next Monday.

"We lack but three Congressional districts and four Legislative nominations to round out our lists," said General Reeder, this evening, "and oddly enough the Legislative districts are in minority counties. The certificates may come by any mail. In any event, the Republican organization is fortunate, but it required hard work to secure that result."

A Good Record on Certificates. The last Republican certificates to reach Chairman Reeder were from this city, and comprised the nominations made by this week's conventions. They were forwarded to Harrisburg to-day and are now on file.

Democratic Chairman Wright was in Allegheny to-day, where the bulk of the Democratic campaign work is done. He reports a fairly clean record on the certificate line, although a number found their way to 1432 Penn square to-day, in a few of which imperfections existed. As a rule the various county chairmen have supervised the lists, and so delay has been permitted in filing. The form of ballot to be voted is still unsettled, and will be until Attorney General Hensel gives an opinion in the premises, the subject having been referred to him for disposition after last Tuesday's conference between the three State chairmen and Secretary of State Harris.

Completion Against Heresy. "I have not at any time thought Mr. Hersey prepared a ballot for the purpose of invalidating this State's election vote," said Mr. Reeder, "and I do not think Mr. Wright has avoided the question, as some statements have it. We have had a conference, after two or three weeks, to be sure, but it requires time to get busy men together.

"The ballot is defective, in my opinion, because it directs that a single cross opposite the name at the head of the ticket is sufficient to indicate that the voter intended to vote a straight ticket. The cross or mark, it appears to me, should not only be opposite the party name, but also opposite each group, such as National, State and county. That is my contention, and it is the view taken by a number of able legal minds. The Attorney General, however, will decide the question at issue in a few days."

Reports From Democratic Societies.

Secretary John D. Worman, of the Democratic Society, has the run of business at Democratic headquarters in this city. His first letter in his mail to-day told about the organization of the Jackson Club at Danville, 37 strong, with John L. Russell as the president. The societies so far reporting their delegates to the State Convention, September 20, are the following: Crescent Democratic Club, United Democratic Association, Twenty-third Ward Democratic Society, Second Ward Cleveland Club, Tammany Democratic Club, German Democratic Society, First Polish-American Democratic Club, Eighteenth Ward Democratic Club and the Twenty-ninth Ward West End Democratic Club, all of this city. Then come the Twenty-fifth Ward Democratic Club, of Reading; the Young Men's Democratic Club, of Allegheny; W. U. Hensel Democratic Club, of Berwyn; Central Democratic Club, of Somerset; Bank Club, of Pittsburgh; Robert E. Patton Club, of Beaver Falls; Democratic Society, Gettysburg; Democratic Club, Muncy; Democratic Society, Brookville; Democratic Society, Roundburg; Central Democratic Club and Appleby Democratic Club, Chester; Field Democratic Club, of Morton; Cleveland and Stevenson Club, of Glendon; Cleveland and Stevenson Club, of Lansdowne; Democratic Club, Media; Jackson Club, of Clifton Heights; Jackson Club, of Danville.

COL. HUFF KNOCKED OUT.

D. B. Heiner, of Armstrong County, Gets the Nomination at Saltsburg.

SALTSBURG, Sept. 9.—[Special.]—D. B. Heiner, of Armstrong county, received the Republican Congressional nomination in the Twenty-first district to-day. The fight has been a long-drawn-out one, starting away back in July. The only reason an end was reached to-day was the fact that the time allowed by the Baker ballot law had about expired, to-morrow being the last day. Ballot 438 was the one that gave Mr. Heiner the nomination. It was nearly 7 o'clock to-night when the ballot was taken. All day long vote after vote was taken without result. This ballot started out by Armstrong county giving her son the full vote. Indiana came next, placing 8 more to the county. Jefferson followed. Heiner then had 9 and was declared the nominee. Westmoreland handed over her 8 votes and made the nomination unanimous.

The nomination of Mr. Heiner is well received by all, but it is somewhat of a surprise. The surprise is in the way Jefferson acted. She was pledged to Colonel George Huff, and just why her pledge was broken has not been explained by Mr. Bond. He will no doubt have a hard time telling his constituents how it all happened. There is no excitement in town to-night over the nomination.

A telegram from Kittanning says: D. B. Heiner arrived home to-night and was met at the depot by a brass band and a large crowd of his friends. The Republicans are celebrating the honor which has come to this county after 50 years' waiting. Mr. Heiner was twice elected District Attorney and County Chairman several times. He is one of the leaders in politics in this county, and is a warm supporter of Senator Quay, a leading lawyer, and a prominent member of the M. E. Church. He is a cousin of E. F. Acheson, the Republican nominee in the Twenty-fourth district.

A DEADLOCK AT BEDFORD.

The Prospects Only Fair for Its Being Broken During the Day.

Bedford, Sept. 9.—[Special.]—The Congressional Convention of the Twentieth district has been unable to make a nomination. Four sessions were held to-day and the only change was that the Soull and Ashcom conferees voted for Soull and Ashcom, making it impossible for the Cambria conferees to make a nomination, but they stood by Hicks, and the conference by this time is no nearer making a nomination than when it first convened. Hicks, the three candidates, are closed to-night, and it is thought an agreement is being made and the nomination will be made to-morrow.

REFORMERS WILL FIGHT

The Selection of Ernest F. Acheson as Congressman From the Twenty-Fourth District—Campbell Jobs to Run as an Independent Candidate.

The reform Republicans of Greene, Washington and Fayette counties met yesterday at the Central Hotel, Fairbury, and perfected their organization for the approaching Congressional campaign.

Alexander Todd, an attorney of the Washington county bar, was elected Chairman of yesterday's meeting. In assuming the chair Mr. Todd made an earnest speech, in which he alleged that the nomination of Ernest F. Acheson for Congress in the Twenty-fourth district had been accomplished by a deal between several of the county bar members of an Executive Committee from each of the four counties in the district were elected. The meeting was largely attended and many of those present have been recognized party leaders. Among them were four Congressmen, J. W. Ray, J. B. Donley, R. F. Denney, Esq., Sherman Grim, H. P. Atzeli, Colonel Chas. Hazard, Sym Farrar, William Denney, D. H. Lewis, F. R. Hollman, J. P. Leagarden, J. E. B. Baskin, C. Kirk, David Hart, B. C. McConnell, S. G. Ailles, L. W. Rank, J. W. Ray and J. B. Donley, both ex-members of Congress, made speeches during the meeting, and both denounced what they termed the method which is practiced in this district, and both insisted that the people should have a voice in nominating a Congressman. Sym Farrar also made a speech in the same strain.

GOING BACK ON TILLMAN.

Populists Not Inclined to Help Him Win Out Again.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—[Special.]—It is evident that there is a storm brewing for the Democrats of South Carolina which has not been forecast by the triumphant nomination of Governor Tillman to be his own successor, it appears that he has not been so friendly in his utterances toward the People's party as formerly. Apparently he concluded that his great popularity would be sufficient to elect him, regardless of the support of the element that was largely responsible for his election, and which was disposed to endorse his nomination at this time and refrain from making a distinctive nomination for the People's party. It seems, however, that the leaders of the People's party have become greatly dissatisfied with the Governor's recent course, and if the sentiment at the headquarters in this city is any indication of the action that will be taken, there will be a nomination of a State ticket composed of candidates whose identification with the new party is without reserve, and whose devotion to its principles will not be for the sake of office.

Editor Dunning, of the official organ of the party, published in this city, declares that the new party are done with Tillman; that they are strong in themselves to be entangled with men who merely want their votes, and that only candidates who are in and of their party will be chosen. With such a feeling of strength in themselves, and may probably have the help of the Republicans. A few weeks ago Mr. Dunning was a strong Tillman supporter.

STEVENSON AND THE HOOSIERS.

The Vice Presidential Candidate Swings Around the Indiana Circle.

CLAY CITY, Ind., Sept. 9.—General Stevenson and party entered the heart of the Indiana coal mining region to-day, and the Vice Presidential candidate found a goodly number of Hoosiers out to see him. He was almost exhausted from travel, but after four hours' sleep the General took the train for this place, and reached here a few minutes after 10 o'clock. Congressman Brookshire and the local committee met the guests and escorted them to the home of John Fair, where they dined. The next morning Mr. Stevenson gave a grove just outside of town. Mr. Stevenson was followed by Mr. Hunter and Mr. Brookshire. At 4 o'clock this afternoon the party left for Bismar, where a meeting was held to-night.

A Republican Commitment Resigns.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—William E. Sharon, member of the National Republican Committee for Nevada, has written a letter to M. H. DeYoung, acting chairman of the Executive Committee, in which he resigns as a member of the committee. Mr. Sharon says that owing to his views on the silver question he cannot remain on the committee.

The William Flinn Club.

All the Republican clubs in the city have elected delegates to the Williamsport convention, of which Colonel Bob Smothers is President. This club will meet on Monday night to elect delegates.

McAteer's Third Nomination.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—Congressman William McAteer was to-night given a third nomination for return to Congress from the Third district by a convention held under the auspices of the County Democratic Committee.

The Miscellaneous of Politics.

SENATOR DAVID R. HILL yesterday bought the J. K. Emmet ("Fritz") mansion in Albany, N. Y., for $50,000, and will live there.

The Republicans of the First Arkansas district announced that Jacob Triebel, of Helena, to represent that district in Congress.

The colored Republicans of New York concluded their conference yesterday in Troy, N. Y. The convention adopted resolutions endorsing "the wise, patriotic and grandly successful administration of President Harrison."

SECRETARY OF WAR ELKINS will open the campaign in Southern West Virginia in Huntington next Tuesday. The indications are that there will be an immense crowd present to hear Mr. Elkens, who will talk mainly on the tariff issue.

EX-CONGRESSMAN ESTERICK GIBSON, of Huntington, W. Va., has received a letter from Bob A. E. Stevenson, in which he states that he will soon visit Huntington and deliver an address upon the issues of the campaign. The Democratic proposal to make this the gala event of the campaign.

The Republican Convention of Colorado yesterday nominated Judge J. C. Heim, of the Supreme Bench, for Governor; James M. Downing, of Aspen, for Lieutenant Governor, and J. J. Eaton, the present incumbent, for Secretary of State. United States Senator Zeller and Wolcott addressed the convention during the day, advocating the support of Harrison above everything else.

A Tax Collector Missing.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Sept. 9.—William T. Holland, a tax collector, has been missing several days. His bondsmen have discovered a shortage of $1,200 in his accounts and are looking for him. He is said to have been in Elmira, N. Y.

THE CASE is better than he is painted, according to Carpenter's Russian letter for THE DISPATCH to-morrow.

THE NEW CHAMPION

Meeting with a Constant Round of Quavations on His Way North.

HE IS NOW BOOMED FOR CONGRESS

By His Old Friends in California, Who Say They Can Elect Him.

SULLIVAN STILL SWILLING LIQUOR

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 9.—At precisely 4:45 o'clock the Corbett special train dashed into the Union depot. The party on the train was met by the Mayor, James J. Corbett, the chairman, and Jim Daly, Prof. Mike Donovan, Denny Dillon, Bill DeLaney, who were his trainers and seconds, W. A. Brady, his manager, and a number of newspaper men who were the champion's invited guests.

Almost as soon as the train, which is covered with flags and bunting and has large streamers on the sides on which is printed, "The Champion of the World," pulled out of the depot at New Orleans this morning the entire party turned in. It was nearly 10 o'clock when Corbett got up. He was as lively as a cricket. His new honors rest easily upon him. He is, if anything, more reticent in his disposition than he was before he knocked out Sullivan.

The crowds that gathered at the lonely wayside stations were a source of annoyance to the champion. He remained as much in seclusion as possible. When the train stopped at a station he fastened the door of his stateroom and drew down the shade.

Forced to Show Himself at Mobile.

At Mobile he was forced to come out on the rear platform and show himself. An immense throng had gathered in the depot. Many of them had been waiting there all night to catch a glimpse of the champion. The Mayor, Joseph Rich, a brother of Charles Rich, the owner of Riechburg, where the Sullivan-Kilrain battle was fought, headed a delegation that wanted to shake the hand of the champion.

There was tumultuous applause when the burly young Californian showed himself. He shook hands with everyone in reach, and had a pleasant word and a smile for all. The train was cheered as long as it was in sight.

At Montgomery the entire party had dinner. Politemore made a clearing through the crowd to the restaurant, and then they ate at the table and a space around the table to enable the waiters to supply the party with food.

There was no stop made after this, only for water until Birmingham was reached. Special arrangements had been made to convey the travel-stained passengers to the Caldwell House. Again Corbett had to run the gauntlet of a big crowd. By the aid of the police he and the party entered the carriages and were driven to their hotel. The crowd was a big one, even for Birmingham.

Great Cheers for the New Champion.

The cheers which greeted the young gladiator were deafening. This was all the more gratifying to him because Herbert Dixon was the last day of the Cochranton fair, and fully 10,000 people were in attendance, the attraction being the presence of Governor Pattison, who was largely advertised to deliver an address. The Governor, accompanied by Thomas Bradley, of Philadelphia, arrived early from Meadville, and no sooner was he on the ground than he was surrounded by a large crowd, who cheered him enthusiastically. After luncheon he addressed the people, and so great was the crowd that it was almost impossible to get within hearing distance. The Governor spoke for 30 minutes and was frequently interrupted by applause. He refused to talk on politics, saying that his present visit was one of pleasure and observation, and that he was not in the habit of addressing the people, and so great was the crowd that it was almost impossible to get within hearing distance. He refused to talk on politics, saying that his present visit was one of pleasure and observation, and that he was not in the habit of addressing the people, and so great was the crowd that it was almost impossible to get within hearing distance.

On the completion of his address Governor Pattison came to this city and spent several hours at the Prospect Hill Stock Farm, inspecting the fine trotting stock which is raised in the town. At the reception at the Exchange Hotel he was waited upon by many citizens. In response to a serenade by the Cornet Band he made a ten minute speech to an audience of 1,000 people in the city hall.

The Governor left for Pittsburgh at 2:42 A. M. via the Allegheny Valley.

DANCING GIRLS OF JAPAN BY Ed Perkins in THE DISPATCH to-morrow.

THE LATEST COOLEY OUTRAGE.

Three Old Peop's Bond, Gagged, Tortured and Hobbled by Them.

UNIONTOWN, Sept. 9.—[Special.]—After having passed from public view for about a month the Cooley gang consisted of three men, James Cooley, James Walters and Jacob Cover and Mr. and Mrs. John Walters, near Masontown. This couple are about 60 years of age. While they were sleeping last night the outlaws entered the house and stealthily entered their bedrooms. The old people were gagged and hobbled while the house was searched. The robbers did not find anything. They returned to their hands with their teeth and then lighted the paper with his teeth and threatened to throw him into the fire. The old man was so badly frightened that he did not know where to go, and the robbers got $80 from Mrs. Walters and $25 from Mr. Cover, together with a gold watch and other valuables.

NOT HYDROPHOBIA.

The Colored Dog Catcher, Though Badly Injured, in No Immediate Danger.

Washington Alexander, one of the dog catchers, an account of whose injury by being bitten by a dog while in the performance of his duties on Ross street was mentioned in yesterday's DISPATCH, is lying at his home, at the corner of Liberty and Twenty-eighth streets, in a serious though not critical condition. Thursday night it was feared hydrophobia would result, as he was out of his head much of the time. He tore at his hands with his teeth and otherwise displayed symptoms of that disease.

Last night, although suffering considerable pain, he rested easier and was perfectly rational.

HIRED A BOY TO BUY BEER.

A Johnstown Man in Hard Luck Tries the Law and Order Plan.

JOHNSTOWN, Sept. 9.—[Special.]—A man was arrested on a charge of conspiracy here to-night. This afternoon Charles Hoffman, agent for the Bergdoll Brewing Company had a hearing for violating the Brooke law, and was acquitted. The charge was made by the city, and now that Hoffman's place to get the boy to buy liquor.

Sulka formerly ran one of the finest saloons in this city, but sold out a few months ago. These prosecutions are the result of financial difficulties.

Godfrey Held for Embarrassment.

R. J. Godfrey, charged with obstructing the Supreme Trial of the Order of Solons, at a hearing before Alderman McManis was held for court. A. S. Mandorf, and John M. Ball, in connection with the same case, were held for conspiracy.

A QUARANTINE CAMP

To Be Established at Sandy Hook, by Order of President Harrison.

STEAMSHIP COMPANIES WARNED

That They May Be Barred Out of the United States Entirely

IF THEY DON'T BRACE UP NIGHTLY

LOON LAKE, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The President had a full day to-day. He got up at 7 o'clock breakfast and started a few minutes after 8 o'clock with W. H. Phillips for a drive to Saranac, which was reached by 12 o'clock. After a most delightful drive in the fresh air of a beautiful morning, the President was driven to the Ampersand Hotel, where he was met by a committee of the villagers of Saranac, and in the brake of F. L. Fisher was driven about the environs of the town until 12 o'clock, when the people assembled in the village square.

The President was introduced by Dr. Trudeau, the President of the village, and made the following brief address: "MY FELLOW CITIZENS—I like to think that we have here in America everything that any other country in the world has and some things in excess. Where, in other lands, shall be found a healthier and where shall be found a balmier air than here in the Adirondacks—where skies and scenery more calculated to lift the drooping spirits of the invalid, to lift one's veins and give health to the heart of the God-fearing man, I think I can assure you. I thank you most sincerely for this friendly demonstration. I will not attempt to discuss public questions, or to say more than that we cannot escape our responsibility as American citizens, and it is well worth the while of each of us to think what contribution we can make to the peace and happiness of our neighborhood and to the glory of the great nation of which we are citizens. [Applause.]

Everybody Cannot Be a Hero. "It is not possible for all of us to make a sacrifice that shall be conspicuous; to play some great part upon some great stage while the rest of men look on, but it is possible for everyone to make a substantial contribution to the peace and happiness of the community in which he lives (applause), and out of this contribution, out of these neighborly neighborhoods, our nation is made, just as from these rural springs of water, the great river flows full of life. So from these little daily contributions this great American society comes, with its homes, its schools and churches, and growing all the free government of a free people. I beg to return to all of you again my thanks, and will follow any programme your committee has arranged for personal presentation." [Great applause.]

At the conclusion of his remarks the President shook hands with all the citizens and then drove back to the Ampersand for dinner, which was served to the party in a private dining room. The start back was made at a few minutes before 6 o'clock. Loon Lake being reached at 6:30, the President himself driving the four-in-hand the latter half of the trip. The people of Saranac did all honor to the President, the village being handsomely decorated for the occasion. All along the route the farmhouses were trimmed with flags, and at the little village of Bloomingdale, where horses were changed, a band welcomed the President, who descended from the brake and shook hands with the people.

The President's Significant Warning. Before leaving this morning the President was advised that it was desirable to have a part of Sandy Hook reservation as a camp for detained passengers, but that the War Department hesitated in granting permission. He sent a dispatch to the Acting Secretary of War, saying that while he was not fully advised as to the particulars, he was anxious to do all in his power for the comfort and safety of the people, and later, upon the receipt of telegrams from the Secretaries of Treasury and Navy, who are in New York, he sent the following:

To the Acting Secretary of War. In view of representations made by Secretaries Foster and Tracy, I direct that a sufficient portion of the reservation at Sandy Hook be set apart for use as a camp for the quarantined steamship passengers.

BENJAMIN HARRISON. The President advised the Secretary of the Treasury of this order at the same time cautioning him as to the difficulty of maintaining a proper quarantine at such a camp if established, and also of a possible embarrassment that might arise from the removal of the passengers to the jurisdiction of the New York officers. Both of these questions must be left to the judgment of the officers on the ground and who know the situation. He also directed that notice be given to all steamship companies that if they persisted in bringing emigrants from infected ports it might result in their being denied entrance to our harbors.

EX-PRIVATE IAMS COMPLAINS. His Notoriety Has Knocked Him Out of a Good Position.

Ex-Private Iams, since his return from a visit to his father in West Virginia, has been living quietly in Allegheny. He spoke yesterday of the effect his punishment and subsequent notoriety had upon him personally. He had previous to the Homestead affair been traveling for a soap house, but owing to the unfavorable comments of the press was discharged from his position and has not yet been able to secure another.

When asked if he intended to stay here until after the cases are disposed of, he answered that he would not if he could get anything to do. In order to do so he must work, and he claimed that exaggerated reports of his character as an inflammatory Anarchist had seriously impaired his chance of getting a position. He was going to try. He thought he could demonstrate that he was a loyal citizen, and while it might take some time to prove that he was not any way in sympathy with lawlessness, he hoped that the effects of the harsh criticisms upon his conduct would die out.

Next week the grand jury will probably act upon the information made by him against the officers.

AN ACTOR'S WIFE DISTRESSED. All Her Money Was Used to Bury Her Husband and Children.

Mrs. Mary Scanlon, 27 years old, with a bright little daughter 4 years old, yesterday applied at the Department of Charities for assistance to get her home in Dallas, Tex. The woman explained that her husband had been an actor. She and her three children traveled with him. Near Chicago the husband died. Before he was buried two of the children died from diphtheria, and all her money was expended in burying the three.

The charity authorities of Chicago had sent her to Pittsburgh. Chief Elliot decided to send her to her home, where she said she can make a living by teaching music.

OVERCOME BY GAS FUMES. Patrick Kavanaugh Rendered Nearly Unconscious at the Edinboro Furnace.

Officer Cochran, of Allegheny, found a man on Freshman avenue yesterday morning, as he supposed, drunk, and had him sent to the police station. There he gave his name as Patrick Kavanaugh, and his residence as in the rear of 294 Market street. He was put in a cell and a short time afterward superintendent Keph went down to see him. Kavanaugh was calmly eating a sandwich and was as sober as a judge. He was asked

RAW AS PIECE MEAT Six Months Under Three Doctors, No Benefit. Completely Cured in 3 Months by Cuticura. CUTICURA has been a blessing to me. My baby was about four weeks old when she first got eczema. It was on her head and all over her body, which was raw as a piece of meat. I doctor for six months with the best doctors here, and she still kept getting worse. A lady friend of mine advised me to get CUTICURA REMEDIES. They proved to be just as good as you recommended. Baby was six months old when I began to use CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in three months she was cured. She is fifteen months old now and is well and hearty. I am very thankful that I got hold of such good remedies. I am not ashamed to recommend them to any one. MRS. RICHARD CROFTON, West Middlesex, Mercer Co., Pa.

Acne and Fleishworms I have tried your CUTICURA SOAP and SHAVING SOAP, and find they do even more than you say. In fact there is more remedial power to one of your pieces of soap than there is to some of the three-dollar treatments of these dermatologists for acne, fleish-worms, etc. It has cured me of the above affection, and I think it can cure others if they use it right and according to directions.

Cuticura Remedies The greatest skin cure, blood purifier and humor repeller of modern times. Instantly relieves the most agonizing forms of eczema and psoriasis, and speedily, permanently, economically and infallibly cures every species of torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning,
