MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 12. THE PITTSBURG DISPATCH 1892

The make and trim in the better grades are fully up to custom

Talmage's sermon selected for publication this week. It is from the text, Isaiah 35; 8-10: "And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called the way of holiness; the unclean shall not pass over it, but it shall be for those; the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein. No Hon shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there; but the redeemed shall walk there; and the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing

There are thousands of people here this morning who want to find the right road. You sometimes see a person halting at cross roads and you can tell by his looks that he wishes to ask a question as to what direc-tion he had better take. And I stand in your presence this morning conscious of the fact that there are many of you here who realize that there are a thousand wrong roads, but only one right one; and I take it for granted that you have come in to ask which one it is.

Here is one road that opens widely, but I have not much faith in it. There are a great many expensive tollgates scattered all along that way. Indeed at every rod you must pay in tears or pay in flagellations. On that road, if you get through it at all, you have to pay your own way; and since this differs so much from what I have heard in regard to the right way, I believe it is the wrong way down over it, and all the redeemed of earth invelup over it. The a King's highway, of course it is well built. Bridges spiendidly arched and but-tresses have given way and crushed the passengers who attempted to cross them. But Christ, the King, would build no such thing as that. The work done, He mounts the chariot of his love, and multitudes mounts with Him, and He drives on and up the steep of heaven amid the plaudits of gazing worlds: The work is done-well done -gloriously done-magnificently done! Still further, this road spoken of is a clean road. Many a fine road has become miry and foul because it has not been properly and dou because it has not been properly read for: but my text says the unclean shall not walk on this one. Boom on either side to throw away your sins. Indeed, if you want to carry them along, you are not on the right road. Froofs af Being on the Bight Boate.

The King sent his Son to build that road. He put head and hand and heart to it, and, after the road was completed waved his blis-tered hand over the way, crying, "It is fin-ished?" Nupoleon paid 15,000,000 frances for the building of the Simplen road, that his cannon might go over for the devastation of I taly; but our King, at a greater expense, has built a road for a different purpose, that the banners of heivenly dominion might come down over it, and all the redeemed of earth havel up over it.

Proofs of Being on the Right Route.

That bridge will break, those overhanging rocks will fall, the night will come down, leaving you at the mercy of the mountain bandits, and at the very next turn of the road you will perish. But if you are really on this clean road of which I have been speaking, then you will stop ever and anon to wash in the water that stands in the bash of the eternal rock.

Ay, at almost every step of the journey you will be crying out: "Create within mea clean heart !" If you have no such aspirations as that, it proves that you have mis-taken your way; and if yon will only look up and see the finger board above your bead, you may read upon it the words: "There is a way that seemeth right unto a a man, but the end thereof is death." With-out hollows no man shall see the 1 ordered out boliness no man shall see the Lord; and i you have any idea that you can carry along your sins, your lusts, your worldli-ness, and yet get to the end of the Christian meet you are an affaily mistakes that is race, you are so awfully mistaken that, the name of God, this morning I shatter the deinsion. Still further, the road spoken of is a plain road. "The wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein." That is, if a man is three-fourths an ighot he can find this road fust as well as if he were a philosopher." The imbecile boy, the laughing stock of the street and followed by a mob hooting at tim, has only just to knock once at the gate of heaven and it swings open, while there has been many a man who can lecture about procumatics and chemistry and tell the has been many a man who can lecture about pecumatics and chemistry and tell the story of Faraday's theory of electrical polar-ization and yet has been shut out of heaven. There has been many a man who stood in an observatory and swept the heavens with his telescope and yet he has not been able to see the Morning Star.

Earthly Learning Not Heavenly Wisdom.

Many a man has been familiar with all the higher branches of mathematics and yet could not do the simple sum, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and ose his own soul?" Many a man has been a fine reader of tragedies and poems and yet could not "read his title clear to mansion in the skies." Many a man has botanized across the continent and yet did not know in the safes. Many a man has botanized across the continent and yet did not know the "Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Val-ley." But if one shall come in the right spirit, asking the way to heaven, he will find it a plain way. The pardon is plain. The peace is plain. Everything is plain. He who tries to get on the road to heaven through the New Testament teaching will get on beautifully. He who goes through philosophical discussion will not get on at all. Curist says: "Come to Me, and I will take all your sins away, and I will take all your troubles away." Now, what is the use of my discussing it any more? Is not that plain? If you wanted to go to London, and I pointed out a highway thoroughly inid out, would I be wise in detaining you by a geological discussion about the gravel you will pass over, or a physiological discussion about the muscles you will have to bring into play? No. After this Bible has pointed you the way to heaven, is it wise for me to detain you with any discussion about the mature of the human will, or whether the atomenent is limited or un-limited? There is the road-go on it. It is a plain way. "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of "This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners. And that is you and that is me. Any little child here can understand this as well as I can.
