ALLEGHENT'S PRESBYTERY STIRRED UP

INFECTAL TELEGRAM TO THE MEPATCH.1" ROCHESTER, PA., Sept. 18.—The Allegheny Presbytery, which disposed of the Bausman heresey case but a few months ago, has another investigation on its hands which promises to be of equal interest. The departure from strict Presbyterianism in this case is along the line of perfect sanctifiention, or what has come to be known as the "Holiness doctrine." A few weeks ago Rev. A. J. McCrory resigned as pastor of the Bridgewater Presbyterian Church, which he had served for several years.

His resignation was the result of an unpleasant condition of affairs growing out of the promulgation of his extreme views, which were obnoxious to many of his members. He had, however, a strong following in the Bridgewater church, and those to the number of about a score withdrew from the church, either by lifting their letters or by simply absenting themselves from the services. Rev. McCrory has been preaching for some time to supply the Oak Grove Mission Church, four miles east of Rochester, many of the members of which have adopted his belief as to the "holiness doc-

McCrory Wanted an Organization.

On last Wednesday evening the session of the Oak Grove Church met with the followers of Rev. Mr. Mc-Crory in a hall which they had rented here, and formed an organization auxiliary to the Oak Grove Church. A petition was prepared asking the Presbytery to grant the organization, and it was presented at this afternoon's session of the Presbytery, which held its regular fall meeting in the Presbyterian Church at Freedom to-day.

The morning session began at 9:30 o'clock and was largely devoted to devotional exercises and routine business. The enrollment showed 35 ministers and 32 elders present. The resignation of Rev. Dr. I. N. Hays as pastor of the Westminster Church, of Allegheny, was accepted. Rev. J. L. Fulton, D. D., was appointed to preach September 25, and declare the pulpit vacant. The resignation of Rev. D. L. Dickey, of Glenshaw, was also presented. The consideration of the overture from the General Assembly pertaining to the revision of the confession of faith was deferred until a special meeting to be held in the First Church of Allegheny November 1, at 9:30 A. M.

The Committee Opposes the idea. At the afternoon session the petition referred to was presented by Rev. Mr. Potter, of Sharpsburg, Chairman of the Committee on Supplies. A motion to reter it to the Committee on Home Missions led to a very spirited discussion and to the re-enactment of scenes somewhat similar to those burget discussion and to the re-enactment of scenes somewhat similar to those burget discussion and to the re-enactment of scenes somewhat similar to those burget discussion and the re-enactment of scenes somewhat similar to those burget discussions and the re-enactment of scenes somewhat similar to those burget discussions are respectively. enacted during the consideration of the Bausman case. The committee consisting of Rev. Drs. Kennedy, James Allison and G A B Robinson withdrew to the vestibule with instructions to report before the close of the session. After a brief absence it returned and through its chairman, Dr. Kennedy, reported that theze was no need of such a mission in Rochester. Its proposed location was within 25 rods of the Presbyterian Church, which has just gone through a severe experience. Elder Frederick Rader, of the Oak Grove Church, spoke in behalf of the petitioners, who, he said, were not free to worship in any of the other churches. All they wished was a place to worship as they pleased, "They won't go into any other church," said he, "and if they are not given the privilege you may lose Oak Grove Church and the work will go on anyway."

They Had the Holy Spirit,

Rev. McKallip, of the Beaver Presby terian Church, inquired why they could not worship in the Bridgewater Church. Mr. Rader thereupon quoted Mr. Mc-Crory as saying that the Bridgewater Church had not prospered and never would.

Mr. McKallip proposed going to the bottom of the matter, and repeating his in-

"these people have got the Holy Spirit."

Mr. McKallip — Do I understand you to say that these other churches haven't got the Holy Spirit." What's the intention of these people and who is preaching to

He was informed that Rev. McCrory would probably do so.

The Moderator, Rev. Dr. S. B. McCormack, broke in with the declaration that it was time for the Presbytery to quit play-ing and ascertain the facts. "It is outrageous," said he, "for those people to come bere and ask for a new organization. It would be better if they have the Holy Spirit for them to infuse it into these other churches. It is time for the Presbytery to take charge of this thing."

Time to Apply a Com mandment.

Rev. Turner suggested that it was time for the application of the Eleventh Com-mandment, "That ye love one another." Rev. Ambrose thought there could not be the right kind of people at the head of the Rochester Church, else they could not always be in a disturbed condition, as he thought they were. He was promptly called to order, and explained later that he had not been aware of the doctrinal point in-

Elder James Ewing, of the Rochester Church, asked to be informed in what way his church suppressed its members, as charged by Elder Rader. Rev. Donaldson called on Rev. McCrary to rise and explain. The latter replied that he had never asked anyone to go into the new organization. He supposed that if people would go out to the Oak Grove Church he couldn't stop them. "We had not," he said, "advised them what to do." He was not there to raise trouble, and asked the Presbytery to deal kindly with them. He declared his readiness to answer any questions put to him. Some Puzziling Questions Asked, Rev. Dr. John Fox had one ready. "Why don't they join the church?" said he. Rev. Mr. McCrory-They believe in the doctrine of sanctification, Dr. Fox-That is just what we want to

"Is it the higher life?" queried another "It's the doctrine of the Holy Ghost," replied Mr. McCrory. The latter was asked by Dr. Donaldson whether these people, with their ideas, would feel free in any other place, and re-plied that he didn't know.

Then another man rose up and asked a question: "Do they hold the idea of entire sanctification, and if so, is it Presbyterian doctrine, and if not are they, the Rochester Church, not to be commended for upholding MAGEE IN ALABAMA Presbyterian doctrine?"

Rev. Fox:— We can't grant it; it is a most preposterous idea and I can't see why it should not be disapproved by Brother Mc-

Proposed to Look After Heresy Rev. McKallip proposed the refusal of the request and the continuance of the committee. He thought that if there was any heresy going it ought to be looked after. "It is rather startling," said he, "to learn that the Holy Spirit is not a common possession of the churches. The possession of the Holy Spirit gives unity, but this proposes disinterration."

br. Kennedy declared that the Presbytery had made a mistake in the Bausman case by delay and roundaboutness and that there was dauger of falling into the same trap. He urged the members to decline to grant the organization and if there was anything wrong to appoint a committee and go to work to work.

Elder Bader declared that two years ago he would have looked at things in the same light, but he was convinced now that they, the members of the new organization, were right.

Too Good to Be Presbyterians.

At this stage one of the brethren put himself on record in this wise: "I have concluded in my own mind, that these people are too good to be Presbyterians and anything in opposition to Presbyterianism ought to be set down upon. I don't think some of the things they have said came from hearts consecrated."

After some further discussion a motion was made by Rev. Dr. Fox that a special was made by Rev. Dr. Fox that a special committee be appointed to confer with the session of the Oak Grove Church and with the Rev. Mr. McCrory and with all other persons whom it may be necessary to con-sult in order that the Presbytery may be more fully informed as to the grounds of any dissatisfaction that may exist with the other churches of the neighborhood and may act intelligently for its removal.

The motion was carried unanimously and the motion was carried unanimously and the following committee was appointed: Dr. W. O. Campbell, of Sewickley, Chair-man, and Rev. Ors. Newton Donaldson, of Bellevue, and J. L. Reed, of Leetsdale. Dr. Campbell was Chairman of the Com-mittee of Investigation in the Bausman case. Presbytery then adjourned to meet in the Providence Church of Allegheny the second Tuesday of December at 9 A. M.

The American Consul at Havre Says the Hamburg-American Company Denied There Was Cholern on the Rugia-How Cherbourg Was Kept Free From the Pestilence-Dr. Jenkins Forewarned and Defended.

New York, Sept. 13.-[Special.]-Mr. O. F. Williams, United States Consul at Havre, arrived at the Fifth Avenue Hotel tonight. He was a passenger on La Champagne which arrived at quarantine on Sunday morning, and was detained until to-day. Mr. Williams said: "Cherbourg is my district, and I sailed from there on Saturday, September There was no cholera at Cherbourg then. In Havre on Friday, September 2, there were 15 deaths, on Thursday 17, and on Wednesday 35. The disease was owing in part to the most rigid and careful purification of the city by the sanitary authorities. They used fire santary authorities. They used he engines for cleaning the gutters and the houses of the poor. The poor were pro-vided with accommodations in the barracks of the Chamber of Commerce, and disinfectants were placed in all the gutters, and together with medicines were given to the poor.

As an instance, when the Rugia, of the Hamburg-American packet line, was ready to depart from Havre, her agent brought me a clean bill of health for my use. This bill I refused to honor, and she was compelled to leave Havre for New York without it. She did health. As a consequence, the compa-ny's ships did not call at the port of Havre. They were provided with clean bills from Hamburg, which was due probably to the fact that the Consul at that port was not permitted to know the truth concerning the cholera. I had my own difficulties in discovering that there was cholera in Havre. But after the discovery was made I cabled Assistant Secretary Wharton 'Asiatic cholera here. Many deaths. Facts suppressed. Inspect Touraine.' That cable was sent from Washington to Dr. Jenkins. It prepared him, and, although there was no sickness on the Touraine, it put Dr. Jenkins and the Government on grand

"Last night, on La Champagne, a meeting of the passengers was called for the pur-pose of denouncing Dr. Jenkins. It was my good fortune to speak at the meeting. I said that Dr. Jenkins was presumably a capable official; that his duties a capable official; that his duties were most arduous, and the embarrassments of his position had been multiplied by the presence of cholera; that the prevention of an invasion of cholera in New York was of vastly greater importance than the detention of a few hun-dred passengers on shipboard; that Dr. Jenkins was as desirous of permitting us to land as we were of landing; that it was our duty to support him rather than to criticise his action. The meeting adjourned and was not reconvened. I do not know Dr. Jenkins, and he is of the opposite political faith from mine, but, in my judgment, he is doing his ntmost with most em barrassing environments."

PRECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 NO. WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.-The Star publishes this evening, from its special correspondent at Montgomery, Ala., the follow-ing in regard to the recent visit of C. L.

POLITICAL MATTERS GETTING LIVELY

Magee: "The visit of "Chris" Magee, of Pittsburg, was the event in the recent history of Alabama politics. He came unheralded, and his mission was conducted so quietly that it was not generally known he was in the State until the day before his departure. His coming has naturally awakened interest among the adherents of Mr. Cleveland, who profess to see in this visit unmistakable evidence of a contemplated invasion by the Republican National Committee, and accordingly the danger signal has been duly hoisted by the Montgomery Advertiser and the old guards summoned to assemble and be prepared to march at a moment's notice. Mr. Magee Had Little to Say. "It Mr. Magee was cognizant of the exciting pitch to which his quiet little visit wrought up our political quidnunes, he did little and said less (publicly, at least) while here to betrav it. His studied indifference to public notice while in this city, and his careful avoidance of all interviews rendered him a poor subject for newspaper men, and all that could be authoritatively said about the well-known Pennsylvanian had to be based on previous knowledge of his history and views. There were, however, some overt acts by which it is fair to interpret the meaning of his visit to Alabama at this time. His conference at Selma with prominent Third party and Republican leaders; his visit to ex-Commissioner Kolb in this city, and to Chairman Bawman, of the Kolb Democracy citing pitch to which his quiet little visit Chairman Bawman, of the Kolb Democracy committee at Birmingham, are facts that will support the statement that the Penn-sylvanian's mission was strictly political. As a consequence to a general belief in this fact, rumors of a deal between the Republican and People's party in Alabama are rife.

Bellef in Contemplated Fusion. "Belief among organized Democrats in a contemplated fusion of the two parties is greatly strengthened by the positive utterances of the Montgomery Advertiser, which has long been regarded as the organ of the organized Democracy in Alabama and as such is supposed by its partisans to speak by the card on things political. The Advertiser claims to know that Mr. Magee was sent to Alabama to execute an important trust. If this be a fact, most likely the country will be enlightened to its exact character on the 14th of this month, when the People's party will meet in convention at Birmingham to formally organize and nominate candidates for Congress from the nine districts."

The secret of Mr. Magee's visit, if there be one, will then, in all probability, be disclosed, and the predictions it has inspired refuted or verified. Until that event transpires, the name of Chris Magee will be used to conjure up many a political yarn, out of which more or less sensation will be extracted.

DEMOCRATS JUBILANT.

Harrity, Dickinson and Others Celebrate the Result in Maine-They Consider the Reduced Majorities Great Encouragement for the Party of Free Trade,

NEW YORK, Sept 13.-[Special.]-Chair-man William Frank Harrity, of the National Democratic headquarters, was almost elated to-day as he discussed the result of the gubernatorial election in Maine. Usually Mr. Harrity is reserved, but as the news of the reduced Republican majority in the Pine Tree State was digested by his mathematical experts his calm was disturbed. He declared that the political General Henry Cleeve, Maine's Governor-Elect outlook for the Denocratic party was very encouraging, and that no better evidence of this could be furnished than in the recent returns from Vermont and Arkaussas, and now from Maine. Mr. Harrity predicted that at the election in Florida on October 4 the Democratic majerity would show an in-crease. He declared that in November the party would be sure to carry all the Southern States. Congratulatory telegrams passed between him and the Democratic State leaders of Maine.

Ex-Postmaster General Donald M. Dickinson, Chairman of the Democratic Campaign Committee, said: "To borrow a current phrase, Maine is an upper-cut righthander for our friends, the enemy. Following the Vermont disaster there will be gatherings in hot haste for prolonged congatherings in hot haste for prolonged con-sultations among the fat fryers, and the, this year, somewhat reluctant fried. It means, for one thing, that money as a means in an election is a com-parative failure under the new ballot laws. parative failure under the new ballot laws. The election is an object lesson to Democrats everywhere. The organization of Morton and his associates in the State was the best the Maine Democrats have had in twenty years, and therefore it got out and polled our vote. Organization by school and road districts and voting precincts will do this, and nothing else will."

A BLESSING IN DISGUISE

Is What Some Republicans Think the Result in Maine Will Prove to Be-It Ought to Make the Workers Wake Up and Redouble Their Efforts.

WARRINGTON, Sept. 13.-[Special.]-Senator Pettigrew, of South Dakota, was in the city to-day on his way west from New York, and gives it as his opinion th the reduced Republican majority in Maine will be of benefit, as it will make the Republicans wake up and double their efforts. The Senator says the betting in New York is in favor of the Republicans. Secretary Foster, of the Treasury Department, said to-day, in regard to the Maine

election: "The reason that the Republican majority was not larger was that our people did not vote. There was no excitement over the election, it being regarded as a sure thing anyhow. We were all informed as to the situation. McKinley has told us all along that he would not be able to get, out the that he would not be able to get out the full Republican vote at this September election. I do not think the lack of interest will extend to the November election. "In 1880, you know, we lost the State at the September election, but we had it all right in November. I remember that the Chairman of the State Committee in Ohio thought it would be a good idea to have a lot of meetings on the night follow-ing the Maine State election in 1880, so that the returns might be read by the speaker from the platform. I spoke at Urbana. I waited until the last to speak, so as to read the returns. I spoke for an hour, looking around every now and then for the messenger boy who never came. Afterward I learned that some news from Maine had been received, but it had not been thought wise to have it announced at the meeting. "There was no significance in the Demo cratic victory then, and there is no signifi-cance in the reduction of our ma-jority now. I do not think there is going to be any lack of interes in Maine or in any other Republican State in November. I stand by the prediction I made you a short time ago, that the Democrats will not carry a single Northern State unless it is Nevada. Our folks in New York are very confident."

Sores on Face and Read From

We have reached the cloak stock in closing the stock of the late firm of John P. Knable & Co. Here we find many choice Wraps, Jackets, etc., to be slaughtered. In this department we intend to keep up the policy we have adopted in other departments, of more goods for the same money than have ever been offered at any clearance sale.

SALLERS

This is absolutely true of our Fall Opening in every phase and aspect. We present new features both in our stock and surroundings. Naught goes but merit and we have it in everything. Prices are scattered to the winds. With our opening we inaugurate a new policy-To give the best values obtainable for the least money. We will command your custom through this medium, and we feel our efforts will be appreciated.

NOW FOR THE STARTLERS.

Our Clothing Department is overwhelmed with new goods-too many different varieties and qualities to specify. We are letting these elegant Suits and Overcoats go at prices ranging from $10 to $12 and $15. We have added a

CHILDREN'S DEPARTMENT,

In which you will find the best, most stylish and durable makes. We show the natty Vestee, in two and three pieces, nobby designs in Jerseys, Little Reefers, Single-Breasted Pleated Suits ranging in ages from 4 to 14, Double-Breasted Three-Piece Suits, ages 8 to 16. These Suits mentioned can be had at the lowest to the highest prices, according to the purchaser's taste and pocket. Our selection will surprise and astonish you.

CONVINCING ARGUMENTS

In Fall Hats. All the latest blocks, comprising the Dunlap, Miller, Knox, Youman and imported English styles. Here are the prices: $1.50, $2, $2.50 and $3.

EVIDENCE CONCLUSIVE.

We have surpassed ourselves in Fall Underwear. We offer both light and medium weights in the following goods at prices unheard of. We can't describe-only mention them. Our stock consists of Merinos, French Balbriggans, Natural Wool and full-fashioned Cashmeres. Our special goods are the celebrated Tivoli, the Royal Rib, Wright's Hygienic, Way's Worsted Ribs and the Norfolk and New Brunswick. These come in all shades and variations of colors. The prices range from 49c to $1.39, the top notch.

Our Neckwear includes the nattiest, nobbiest and latest things in America or to be had by importation.

Our list is not ended but our space is exhausted, and we now await your investigation.
