MISCELLANEOUS POLITICAL ITEMS

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK, Sept. 16 .- The battle in the Empire State was practically begun to-day. There have been half a dozen sporadic cases of campaigning on both sides but nothing was really epidemic. Chairman Sheehan, of the Democratic machine, has been in town a month, and his opponents, Chairmen Hackett and Brookfield, have been in their chairs nearly two months. Mr. Sheehan has been engaged on the prelimi naries of the campaign in the State So have the Republicans.

The protracted bot weather and the interest in the labor strikes and more recently cholera scare, have been diverting public attention. But now the two machines are under way with a full head of steam. A capacious safe was moved into Chairman Sheehan's quarters to-day. There was a conference of un-country Democrats, more or whom will be here to-morrow.

It is proposed to fill the safe. It was announced that after Senator Hill speaks in Brooklyn he will speak in Virginia and possibly in South Carolina. The Democratic State Campaign Committee expects to devote time especially to the Democrats above the Harlem. The Tammany and Brooklyn fight will be directed by Mr. Croker and Mr. McLaughlin.

Flopped to the People's Party.

Sergeant-at-Arms James Parodise Oliver, of National Democratic Headquarters, received word to-day that Dr. H. A. Steber, ex-Assemblyman from the First district of Oneids county, had renounced Republicanism, and, like, Hon. J. K. O'Connor, is not afraid to say so. Unlike Mr. O'Connor, however, Dr. Steber is a convert to the People's party instead of the Democracy.

The Republicans in the Fifth Avenue Hotel have been incited to sturdier efforts than ever. Mr. Hackett, after conferring with Chairman Carter, of the National Committee, ex-Senator Platt and ex-Senator Warner Miller, has decided to sound a warning bugle call to farmers and citizens Telegrams have been sent all over the State calling upon all editors of Republican newspapers to announce that the registration days in the towns and rural districts are October 22 and 29. The edi-tors are requested to keep the announcement standing in their newspapers and to call upon Republicans to paste it in their hats and tack it upon their barns. The fight in this State, according to Republican managers, depends entirely upon getting out the up-country vote. Appeals to get out and register will be sounded from now on.

Whitney Gathering in the Boodle To-day was a rushing day at Chairman Harrity's Bureau of National Democracy. There were more visitors than at any time since the battle begun. The most encourag-ing news to Democrats was that Mr. Whitnev's committee to raise funds had got together again and was making headway. The last meeting of these gentlemen was held on Wednesday evening.

Speaker Crisp came to town to-day. He thinks the Democratic majority in the Georgia State ticket election will be 50,000. E. Ellery Anderson, for the Reform Club, challenged the managers of the American Protective Tariff League to a joint debate on the tariff question, Charles J. Canda, formerly Treasurer o the National Democratic Committee, will not as Treasurer for the National Association of Democratic Clubs.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 16.-There was a grand parade of Republican League clubs here to-night with 6,000 men in line. They were reviewed by Hon. Whitelaw Reid, General Clarkson, Representative Allen, of Michigan; General Fairchild, of Wisconsin; Henry Gleason, father of the League, and others. The streets were brilliantly illuminated, and thousands thronged the line of march. Shortly after the parade a crowd assembled in front of the Iroquois Hotel, and called loudly for Reid. Mr. Reid responded to the call and made a short address, which was well received.

The banners which were offered to the clubs making the best showing in the parade were awarded as follows: First prize, offered by the National League, to the New York State League; second prize, offered by Buffalo Republican League, to the Young Men's Republican Tariff Club of Pittsburg; third prize, offered by the National League, to the Buffalo Republican

A Likelihood of Two Legislatures Being Elected-Worse Times Probably Ahead Than During the Lieutenant Governor Conflict-All Depends on a Court's De-

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 16 .- [Special.] -- Politicians are speculating on what may be the outcome of the suit to test the constitutionality of the legislative apportionment acts of 1885 and 1891. Judge Bundy will deliver his opinion Monday, but it is stated that the Democrats will vote for their candidates nominated under the latter act, no matter what the Judge's decision, and it is conceded by both parties if the Democrats carry out the plan on which it is said they have agreed, there will be a tangle when the Leg-islature convenes that will outdo the Lieutenant Governor trouble of 1885.

WEST VIRGINIA AWAKENED

By the First Speech of the Campaign, Made by Secretary Elkins. WHEELING, W. VA., Sept. 16.-The Republican campaign in this State was formally opened to-night by Secretary of War Stephen B. Elkins at Davis. Davis has a population of 3,000 and is one of the new towns that have recently sprung up in the northern coal regions of the State, through which runs the West Virginia Central Railroad, of which Mr. Elkins is one of the principal owners. Excursions were run to Davis and an immense crowd greeted Mr. Elkins when he arose to speak. It was composed principally of miners railroad employes and farmers. The speaker received an ovation and listened to throughout with close attention, being frequently interrupted by applause Secretary Elkins' speech was devoted principally to a discussion of the tariff, the speaker claiming that the great prosperity of the country is due to it. He spoke of the progress of the industrial development of the country, and of West Virginia in particular. On this point, he said: "The Republican party claims that the bistory of industrial progress in this country shows the only safe way to reduce the price of manufactured products is by protecting our home industries and manufactures, trusting to home competition to regulate prices and prevent monopolies. It also shows for the last 30 years that under the operation of the protective system, the price of manu-factured goods in the United States has been reduced, while wages have been in-creased and the cost of living decreased."

WORKING ON THE HUNS

Expectations That They May Break Away From the Strikers.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL MEETING.

Hugh O'Dennell Goes to the County Jail to Await a Hearing.

NEWS OF THE GREAT LABOR WORLD

The situation at Homestead has materially changed within the past 24 hours. "The Advisory Committee and company have locked horns over the Huns and Slavs, and upon their action depends the length the present contest will last. There are about 600 of these laborers, and they now hold the key to the situation. The company is said to be in great need of men to do the heavy work in the mills. No other class of men is so well suited to this work and for this reason the company has been putting forth every effort to induce them to return.

This movement has been going on for some time. At various times several of these men have applied for work individually, but this did not suit the purpose of the company, and they were urged to try to induce their countrymen to return in a body. For the past three weeks rumors of their efforts have been started, but have been as promptly denied. But the matter was brought to a tangible form Wednesday evening, when the town was flooded with circulars calling for a meeting of all the Huns and Slavs yesterday forenoon at 9 o'clock.

Trying to Win the Huns.

Two hours before the time set for the meeting these men turned out in large numbers, and were earnestly discussing the situation in groups on the street corners. The meeting was to have been held in a building on Third avenue and the City Farm Lane. It was reported that the company had paid $25 for the use of the house and offered to secure a liquor license for the owner next year, if he would allow the meeting to be held there.

The Advisory Committee checkmated this movement by sending its members out among the assembling foreigners to per-suade them not to attend. As soon as a number would collect in one place, and begin to be addressed by Alex. Wisloski, a clerk in the Carnegies' office, and Frank Arnold, of Leisenring, they would be ap-proached by an Amaigamated man and would disperse. This practice was so energetically pursued that within an hour few people could be found on the street in this raighborhood. this neighborhood.

Wisloski used as an argument to win over the Huns and Slavs the offering of all these men work with the same pay they were receiving before the strike. He is also said o have assured them on the authority of the company that the prosecution of the three cases against Hungarians for the mur-der of Quinn would be dropped, but this was afterward denied by representatives of the company, who said no one had any au-thority to make such a statement as coming from them.

There was a large force of coal and iron police and deputies on duty to prevent any outbreak. No disturbance occurred.

The Mission Proved Futile.

Treasurer Curry with one or two of the company's men came down to attend the meeting, as advertised, and confer with the men. It was intended that they make known the terms upon which the men would be taken back into the mills. After finding that the Huns and Slavs could not be induced to meet, he returned to the works, his mission having been futile.

There is no apparent break in the ranks of these foreigners. They are standing as firm as ever and one of their leaders claims they will not accept any overtures from the company. The Advisory Committee is putting forth every effort to hold these laborers n line, as they know, if they desert, the strike will be practically settled. No little comment was excited yesterday by the announcement that John Rattigan, a roller and prominent man in the Amalga mated Association who returned to work a few days ago, was being simply used as a missionary for the locked-out men. A member of the Advisory Committee was seen last night and would neither affirm or leny the report, but his actions seemed to indicate that there was some truth in the

In speaking of the course the Amalgamated Association took to break up the proposed meeting in the morning, David Lynch said: "We were afraid there would be a riot should a meeting be held, and in that case we would have been blamed. Once before we had great trouble to prevent the Huns and Slave from assaulting one of their countrymen in one of our meetings when he urged them to go back and it was found he was working in the interests of the com-

Not Afraid of Desertions.

"We feared the same thing to-day. These people are very hard to handle, as you do not know what they will do. We are beginning to understand them now, and do not think they will desert us."

A member of the Salvation Army was ar-rested yesterday and lodged in the guardhouse for raising a disturbance near the mill gate on Eighth avenue. He was reprimanded and released during the afternoon. All the troops now in camp who were in the National Guard in 1877 and on duty during the strike of that year will meet at the headquarters of the Fifteenth Regi-ment to-night and have a reunion. There are about 75 of these and preparations are being made for a pleasant time.

They Don't Know Each Other. Good detectives are never allowed to know each other. So it is at Homestead. This was demonstrated the other day.

This was demonstrated the other day. One of the score of sleuths, who are steadily draining the strikers of their secrets, several days ago made this fact known. He imagined that he was not putting enough heart into his work. Shortly he joined a party of strikers in a saloon on Eighth avenue. They drank around several times and then the party adjourned to the outside. The detective glanced up the street and saw a rough look. glanced up the street and saw a rough looking man coming down the avenue. He said to his fellows: "See that duck coming there? I have been watching forhim for The crowd instantly remarked that it would see that fellow was put where he would not bother any one in the future. As the rough looking individual passed several of the strikers followed him.

The next day a man with a badly bruised and cut head arrived in Pittsburg. He was one of the Pinkerton force and was the fellow who the night before was pointed out to the Homestead strikers as a suspicious character. He wanted the whole town of Home-stead arrested. That evening the Pinker-ton man who thought he had been derelict in duty came to report. He told how solid he was with the strikers now, and recited how he had driven a man out of Homestead. The Noted Labor Leader Arrested Near the Court House_His Attorney the Victim of His Own Confidence-Ross Falls to Show Up.

Hugh O'Donnell, of Homestead fame, was arrested at Grant street and Fifth avenue at 1:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was sent to jail, charged for the second time with murder in connection with the Homestend riots. John F. Cox, attorney for O'Donnell, promised to surrender his client to Magistrate McMasters at 1 o'clock yesterday When the accused did not appear at the time specified Deputy Sheriff Miller and Officer Pat Farrel started out to hunt O'Donnell. The officers met him at Fifth avenue and Grant street. Farrel approached and placed O'Donnell under arrest.

"You are the first man that ever laid hands on me," O'Donnell said, Iooking sharply at the officer.

"I will not be the last one," Farrel replied. "You promised to appear before the Alderman at 1 o'clock. I have a notion to put the nippers on you."

However, the nippers were not used. O'Donnell was taken before the Alderman, who committed him to jail. The prisoner was then taken into court, but the Judge refused to hear his application for bail and Another mass meeting under the auspice of the Amaigamated Association was held at the Opera House in Beaver Falls last night. It was presided over by J. P. Sheehan. The speakers were George Dilton, Secretary of the Flint Glass Workers' Association; Mr. Bakewell, of Homestead; W. H. Carney and William T. Roberts, of Homestead. While the meeting was not as largely attended as previous meetings, still it was the most successful held yet, for the reason that no wild visionary Brooms or Wards were allowed to give utterances to their sentiments. The speeches were replete with facts and figures.

A BAD YEAR FOR LABOR.

But There Is no Split in the Amalgamated Says President Welhe.

William Weihe, President of the Amalgamated Association, denies that there is any weakness in the ranks. "In a large organization you will always find a few kickers. These men, if you happen upon them, will talk, but never do they air their views at any of our meetings. The Amalgamated Association is stronger to-day than it ever was. For the year ending June, 1892, we was. For the year ending June, 1892, we had two lodges more than we had the previous years. Since 1885 our progress has been steadily upward, adding new lodges every year. This has been an exceedingly bad year for labor, not only in Pittsburg, but all over the country. This of course has caused a greater number of men to be discontacted and then the 10 respectively. duction did not suit many. We try to please the majority for we cannot please every one."

The Winter Advance Will Go Into Effect October 1, This Year.

The local freight agents got back yesterday from the meeting of the Central Traffic Association in Chicago. It was decided to increase the rates on articles of iron and steel October 1. The rates to Chicago will be increased from 171/4 and 15 cents to 20 and 17½ cents. On account of the dullness in the market, the pig iron rates which would have expired October 31, were extended to December 31.

An Effective Means of Shutting Out Cholera at State Lines.

ALL RAILROAD OFFICIALS CO-OPERATING

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16. -[Special.]-The Committee on Sanitary Supervision of Passenger Traffic met to-day at the office of Dr. Benjamin Lee, Secretary of the State Board of Health. The object of the meeting was to arrange the details of inspection work on the State border, especially the inspection of immigrants. There were present, besides the members of the Board, William J. Latta, General Agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad: Van Smith, Superintendent of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; Dr. Morris, physician of the Phila-delphia and Reading Railroad; James Potter, the Philadelphia manager of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; Dr. Charles Mc-Intyre, of Easton, Medical Inspector of the Lehigh district; Dr. William B. Atkinson, Medical Inspector of the Delaware district, and Dr. Henry Leffman, chemical and bacteriological analyst to the State Board of Health.

It was found that there was a quorum of of the board present, and a special meeting of the board was held with Howard Murphy as the Chairman.

Lots of Work to Do, and No Money. The first problem which confronted the board was the necessity for undertaking a large amount of work which it is entirely without the means to prosecute. To meet this emergency, it is stated, that if the Governor cannot provide the funds private individuals will be found ready to provide it. It was thought advisable to make an appeal to the public-spirited citizens of Philadelphia, and the Secretary was accordingly in-structed to request Mayor Stuart to call a meeting of leading citizens for consultation with the board, in order to devise means for meeting the emergency. The time of the meeting will be determined by Dr. Lee, after a conference with the Mayor.

The committee then reconvened. In regard to the railway inspectors it was de-cided that they should all be reputable physicians, of widened and extended experience, and that each should be provided with a suitable badge.

Inspection Stations to Be Established. The following inspection stations will be established at once: Morrisville, opposite Trenton; Easton, State line on the northern order and State line on the southern bor

This would be possible with immigrants to Philadelphia from New York, when the nspection could be made at Jersey City. The inspectors will be required to ac-company the train to the State border, and if no suspicious case is developed, to punch the certificate of each passenger and in-dorse it on the back. If a case of cholera cours in transit the car will be side-tracked at the most convenient point, and left in charge of the New Jersey authorities. If near the border of this State similar action is to be taken at a point inside the State line which has been decided upon as a quarantine hospital station.

The Arrangements for Quarantine. The Pennsylvania Railroad has already made arrangements for a quarantine station at a point this side of Morrisville. The inspector of the board on the Southern border is now at Cumberland making arrangements with the officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in that city. Pennsylvania Railroad, has for some time held the appointment of special inspector to the State Board of Health for this end of the road. He has during the past few weeks destroyed by fire large accumulations of unclaimed baggage, clothing and bed-ding, which has been left not only at the Philadelphia station, but at points all over the State. He was to-day given authority also to destroy personal effects, clothing, bedding, etc., in transit, which by their filthy condition might prove a breeding place for cholera germs.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 16. — [Special.]—The State Board of Health was in session all last night and did not conclude business till this evening. It secured the opinion of the Attorney General that it had the power to establish strict quarantine regulations, and then proceeded to form rules for the government of the stations which have been established in the State. Two of my boys were seriously affected with eczema, so that it was intolerable to bear. I had tried all remedies by physicians, who failed to resilieve us, but in one month from the time I began using CUTICURA REMEDIES we were all well. One of my boys had it about five months. I would recommend them to all persons so afficted.
