

A SOLID PROSPERITY Indicated by the Fact That a Cholera Scare Doesn't Injure THE BUSINESS OF THE COUNTRY.

THE OCCASION USED BY STOCK BROKERS TO SEE-SAW THE MARKET.

A LESSON TO LEARN FROM STRIKES

Special Telegram to the Dispatch. New York, Sept. 18.—The Country's Solid Prosperity, is the title of Matthew Marshall's article for to-morrow's Sun, which reads as follows: The announcement on Wednesday that a few cases of Asiatic cholera had appeared in the city itself was made the occasion of a depression of prices on the stock exchange similar to that which was produced a fortnight before, when the steamers from Hamburg with cholera victims on board began to arrive at quarantine. How far the sellers of stocks were really frightened, and how far they only pretended to be so, it is, of course, not possible to say, but surely five or six cases of cholera among 2,000,000 people should not cause profound alarm. One case, indeed, was not discovered to be of the Asiatic variety until more than a week after it occurred, and then only by a careful microscopic investigation. Nor, in this case, had the disease spread from the patient to healthy persons, although, of course, no steps have been taken to prevent it from doing so.

CHOLERA NOT SUCH A RARE DISEASE.

If the truth could be known, probably not a year passes without dozens of deaths taking place in the city from intestinal troubles which, upon examination, would be proved to possess the true cholera character. They do not run into an epidemic because the conditions do not favor it, and those now coming to light will, there is evident reason to believe, be equally as strictly confined to the months during the summer months the deaths from cholera and cholera morbus frequently amount to several hundred a week, those now attributable to Asiatic cholera being hardly more than a fraction, and certainly ought not to create a panic.

SHREWD STOCK OPERATORS ARE AWARE OF THIS FACT AND ACT ACCORDINGLY.

Shrewd stock operators are aware of this fact and act accordingly. If by hold and persistent sales they can produce a nominal fall, a real fall is likely to follow it and to give them luck at a profit which they have sold. We have all seen the thing done over and over again, and yet we continue to be influenced by it. Fortunately, the country's prosperity does not depend upon the New York Stock Exchange, and is little affected by its vagaries. It is too solid in its nature and rests upon too broad a foundation to be so seriously impaired even by the ravages of cholera in the worst form that it can assume. Nor are the exportation of goods, the recent labor troubles and the alleged misdeeds of the McKinley tariff as described as indications of a decline in it. The industry of 60,000,000 of people, with millions of acres of fertile soil and vast quantities of minerals, is too immense to be swayed by such petty agencies.

DISCOUNT THAT IS FREQUENT.

Undoubtedly, strikes such as that at Homestead against a reduction of wages, that at Buffalo for higher wages, that of the New England strikers against a change in the date of fixing wages, and that of the building trades in this city against the employment of non-union workmen must be admitted to have had a great deal of discount among the earners of their living by manual labor. In this respect, however, they do not differ from the rest of mankind, especially that portion of it which dwells in this country. The laborer in a State would not be discontent with the sale of his produce, and if every one of us, both native and foreign, were not discontented with his lot in life and striving to better it. Discount begets enterprise, stimulates ingenuity, and promotes industrial activity.

A MCKEESPORTER TWICE ASSAILED.

At First Beaten for No Apparent Cause, and Afterward Robbed. MCKEESPORT, Sept. 18.—(Special.)—Stewart Carroll, a well-known resident of this city, about 60 years old, and a brother of Squire James Carroll, was waylaid last night between 9 and 10 o'clock and dangerously injured. To add to his affliction, he was robbed at 10 o'clock this morning. Saturday evening he was on his way to the East End. At the junction of Fifth avenue and White street he was pounced upon by three unknown men. What their object was is not known, but one of the men in the right arm broke the bone badly and terribly lacerated the flesh. Another blow in the mouth cut the lips and almost broke the nose. Another mangled the flesh about the right eye, while still another injured the old man's leg and left him lying beside a fence, terribly beaten and helpless. This morning at 4 o'clock he regained consciousness and staggered to the office of Dr. O. S. Weddell, who set the broken bones and sewed up the other wounds. Mr. Carroll again started home, when he was met by a stranger, who wanted to change from one pocket to the other $15 in money, and while in the act the stranger snatched the money and escaped by leaping upon a moving freight train.

HORNOR'S ACID PHOSPHATE Imparts New Energy to the Brain, giving the feeling and sense of increased intellectual power.

A Cholera Preventive. A prominent physician, in talking of the cholera scare, said that many of the fatalities were directly due to the use of unwholesome food, which weakened the system and furnished fertile ground for the development of cholera germs. It is the imperative duty of everyone to take special care in the direction of eating, said he, and see that the digestive organs are kept normal. He might have added that the most wholesome bread is made from the rich, pure Camellia flour that is made in this city, and, as the most widely used article of food, everyone should eat bread baked from it.

I Can Walk a Mile

Easily, although for a long time before taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I could not walk a step without help. I had a terrible running sore on my leg, resulting from milk. The flesh was black around the sore, which seemed to be eating into the bone. My mother says she Mrs. CHAS. ABBELL never saw such a sore leg. Nothing did me any good till I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. The pain grew less until it ceased wholly, the dark color disappeared, the sore has healed, and the leg is perfectly healthy. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla.
