SOME LUCKY HITTING.

The Clevelands Have Fortune With Then and Beat Our Sluggers.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 19 -[Special]-The most that can be said about the local team's success this afternoon is that long hits, the old-fashioned three-baggers, came just at the right time to clear the bases. Pittsburg hit the ball safely just as many times as the Cleveland tenm, but the Pittsburg's hits were scattered. It was a good fielding game. The only brilliant play was a chain lightning one-hand jumping eatch by Davis of Smith's line hit. However, the fielding was all of that satisfactory nature that sends the spectator home feeling that he has seen something worth paying for. Ehret was just a little inclined to be wild. He raised a lump on Zimmer's shoulder, felled Virtue to the ground with a blow on the knee and nearly kneeked the breath out of poor Dumpling Childs by hitting him between the ribs.

First Blood for Cleveland.

Cleveland secred in the first inning. Childs was given a base on balls, went to second on Burkett's sacrifice and crossed the rubber on McKean's hard line hit to right field. In the third two men were out when Burkett was given a base on balls: Davis followed it up with a hit to Bier-bauer, and, in his anxiety to throw the ball before he had it, Bierbauer fumbied, Mc-Kean hit sharply to left field and Burkett scored. Virtue followed it up with a tre-mendous drive for three bases over Kelly's head, sending Davis and McKenn home. He scored himself on McAleer's hot single to left field. One man was out for Pittsburg when Kelly hit safely to right. A slashing triple by Miller sent Kelly home, and Miller scored on Donovan's single past third base. In the next inning Cleveland duplicated its four. Zimmer, the first batter, was hit by a pitched ball, and Young sacrificed. Childs sent Zimmer home with a single to center, and Burkett's triple to the left field tence scored Childs. Davis hit a slow grounder to Bierbauer, who tried to catch Burkett at the plate, but failed.

Another Quartet of Runs. Davis scored the fourth run in the inning on Virtue's long three-base drive to center Beckley hit safely for Pittsburg and Farrell flied out to Childs. Bierbauer singled to left and Euret was given a base on balls, filling the bases. Kelly's hit to Young re-tired Beckley at the plate and had Young helded the ball quicker a double play would have resulted. Miller rapped a high-bounding grounder over Young's head and Eistbauer and Ehret came home. Shugart's two-base hit and wild throws by Davis and Virtue gave Pittsburg its last run. In the sixth a base on balls and a couple of sacri-fices put Burkett on third and he scored on Virtue's play between first and second to steal the latter base. In the eighth Davis' double, a sacrifice and an unguarded home plate gave Cleveland its last run. Score:

this office last evening fully explains itself:

DEAR SIR-As the Secretary of the Pittsburg

Football Club (Association rules) I strongly protest against the unwarranted assumption by certain members of the Western Pennsylvania Football pick of all its players, this being virtually a challenge of the league. Football Club against the whole of the League. There is no controversy desired or necessary in this matter. Our sole object is to promote football, whether we be in the League or out of it. And we know no better method of popularizing the game than by a match, or a series of matches, between the League and ourselves. All that the Secretary of the League has to do is to notify us of his acceptance of the challenge before mentioned.

Yours truly,

After that, however, the talent had an exciting time picking the winners. Diablo and Now-or-Never ruled respective first and second choices for the second race, but Count, backed down from 8 to 1 to 4 to 1, passed the choices in a driving finish and won a good race by a neck. Masher was backed heavily in the morning in the city rooms and made favorite at the track. He flattered his backer for five furlongs and then went to pieces, Glamor, 3 to 1, winning the third race in galloping style. Rock was practically left at the post yet he finished close up. Yorkville Belle, at evens, and close up. Yorkville Belle, at evens, and Leonawell 5 to 2, were choices for the Ocean View stakes, but Rex, 5 to 1, won the stakes in a gallop. Yorkville Belle was not rid-den any too energetically and finished last in the bunch. Fidelio,6 to 1, was second and Leonawell third. Simmons, 15 to 1, was never headed, finally beating Prince George in the fifth race, two lengths. The Prince was knocked about considerably. He should have won. The idea has been freely promulgated by interested parties that because we as a club will have nothing to do with any league, for reasons well known to all football players in this section of the country, we are professionals. We are nothing of the sort, our executive committee has deemed it nothing more than right than that the players of our club should have their hare expenses paid them such as loss of time and money expended in getting to and from playing grounda, every one of our players being working men.

There is not a man on our team but what is a bona fide amsteur, and certainly such cannot be said of at least one-half of each of the teams composing the Westren Pennsylvania Amateur Football League. We have no professional foot runners in our team, neither have we men who have gained a living directly or indirectly by the pursuit of athlette exercises.

I repeat that we are bona fide amsteurs; if we are not, then there is no amateur cinb in the Union. What is more, should any one of the clubs composing the League imagine that they have a better club than ours we will play them at any time to suit their convenience for a trophy of the value of $100, each team to subscribe one-half of the value, and the gate receipts, after paying necessary expenses, to be caught whiled between the Allegane not feel itself strong enough to compite individually with our club, the League can have the pick of all its players, this being virtually a challenge of the littsburg Football Club against the Secretary McCracken, of the Homewood Driving Park, settled everything up yesterday relative to the race meeting last week. Last evening he said: "We come out ahead a little and if we had not we had money to pay all claims. Bad weather hurt us badly. Next year we will have one of the greatest summer meetings in the world."

Frank Herdic and Sam English left the city last evening to sell pools at the Meadville races which begin to-day.

Miss Chambers Wins Second Prize. Quite a large crowd assembled at the Pittsburg Tennis Club yesterday afternoon to see the contests for the second prize in the singles. There were to have been matches between Miss Chambers and Miss McKennan and Miss Hughes and Miss Roberts, but neither Miss McKennan nor Miss Robert appeared, and their matches were declared defaulted. This left Miss Hughes and Miss defaulted. This left Miss Hughes and Miss Chambers to play, and without exertion the latter won in two sets, 6-2 and 6-1.

While waiting for the young ladies to appear, Messrs. Carter and Pier played three close sets, all of them deuce. Pier played an unusually good game. Most of his strokes were effective and his placing excellent, and as a result he won the sets 9-7, 7-9 and 8-6. The mixed doubles will probably be played off to-day for second prizes.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 .- In spite of the fact that Madison Square Garden people, who are so much opposed to prize fighting and all that sort of thing, grabbed 50 per cent of the gross receipts at John L. Sallivan's benefit, the big fellow will still realize a neat sum from that entertainment. According to the count of tickets, which, by the way, did not include the shields of a good proportion of the New York policemen who were off duty and used their badges to gain admittance to the garden, $12,060 75 was taken in. This would leave for the beneficiary $6,030 37.

New Castle, Col.—A great fire is raging in the mountain timeer a few miles from here. The flames are sweeping everything before them, and it looks as though immense damage will be done to the forest. There are a great many people camping out in the vicinity of the fire, and it is feared that some of them have been burned to death. A CASE OF CANCER

Given Up by Seven Doctors.

"About ten years ago I became troubled with an itching and burning sensation in the back of my neck which was caused by my irritating a "mole," I consulted a physician and learned that I had a milld form of cancer. Like all those so afflicted, I wanted to conceal the fact, for cancer is a loath-some disease; but it grew so rapidly and became so painful that I put myself in the hards of a physician, who assured me that the cause of my pain could readily be overcome. The cancer was finally removed, the growth at that time being about the size of a silver quarter.

"In less than a month it broke out again "In less than a month it broke out again in a most virulent form and rapidly grew in size. The sufferings I underwent were agonizing. I consulted almost a score of physicians, but they all assured me my disease was beyond all hope of relief. Mr. Charles Burham, a neighbor and friend, who had previously been cured of the same disease as I was afflicted with at Hutchison's Cancer Hospital, came to see me on his return home and urged me to go to that institution.

"At the time I was so weak and exhausted that I could scarcely stand on my feet. My physician, Dr. Smith, said Hutchtson's Caucer hospital was the best place for me to go, There was not one of my family or friends but what expected when I returned home it would be in a coffin, and I fully believed such to be the case week of a Lucked in my trunk would be in a coffin and I fully believed such to be the case myself as I packed in my trunk the clothes to be used as a shroud when death came. When I reached the hospital at 8e-wickley, Pa., I was so exhausted that death seemed imminent. I was taken to a large, cheerful room and attended by the resident physician, Dr. I. B. Chantler, for several days until I had recovered sufficient strength for the cancer plaster to be applied. At that time the sore extended from one car to the other, and from the roots of the hair down about three inches on my back along the spinal column. Owing to my lack of vitality, great care was exercised in my treatment. The plaster was exercised in my treatment. The plaster was applied first in a very mild form, in consequence of which several applications were necessary. In a few weeks a perceptible change was noticeable in my condition, and one large piece of the diseased flesh dropped off, and I began to feel strong. The plaster was most effective in its work, and about three weeks ago the last particle of the foreign growth had come out, and this without the use of a knife or operation of any kind. I am now in better health than for 20 years. In fact, I have grown so strong and fleshy that my own family could hardly recognize me on my return, and those who had predicted my return in a coffin, looked upon me as one returned from the grave.

"The remedy used in the Hutchison Cancer Hospital, I cheerfully recommend as a certain cure for cancer.

"At the hospital everything is done for the comfort of the patients. The best of medical skill is in constant attendance, and thoroughly trained necessary to the fact of medical skill is in constant attendance, and thoroughly trained necessary to the fact of having gone to Hutchison's Cancer Hospital, Sewickley, Pa., for treatment.

EDUCATE THE INDIANS.

Frank Beaver Says Intelligent Reds Should Have the Right to Vote.

Frank Beaver, of Seneca, Mo., chief of the Peoria Indians, registered at the Central Hotel yesterday. He was on his way to Washington to see the G. A. R. encampment. He is an intelligent buck, whose redskin name is Lanepashaw. He said his father died when he was young and an uncle took him to raise who gave him the name of Frank. His Indian name translated means Beaver. There are 168 people in the tribe, and the next chief will be elected by ballot.

"The Indian problem," he said, "is not hard to solve. It is impossible to civilize the old men among the Apaches and Sioux, but much can be done with the children. The Indians need education, and when they become intelligent they should have the right to vote. Now look at me. I suppose I know as much as the average American citizen, and yet I are deviced education. citizen, and yet I am denied citizenship. The educated Indians feel this barrier keenly. My people are all civilized, and we live quietly on our reservation. Every member was allotted 200 acres of land and 3,200 were lett over. We want to sell the land, but the Government will not permit it. Some day we will have lots of trouble with squatters. The land belongs to us, and we should have the right to do as we please with it."

Colored Men's Emancipation Celebration Wound Up in Trouble Yesterday.

The colored men's emancipation celebration did not pan out yesterday as was expected. Mr. Allen, the Chairman of the Arrangement Committee, and Mr. Brackton came in for a considerable share of abuse and were threatened with arrest. There was no ox roast, and none of the speakers advertised arrived; neither were there any athletic contests nor any arrange-ments therefor. A number of those pres-ent who had bought tickets before going to the grounds demanded the return of their money, and riot ensued. The affair wound up by the expulsion from the grove of the entire picnic party, who vowed vengeance upon the head of its promoters.

A ROMANCE OF OLD AGE.

An Alliance Pastor Surprises His People

by Wedding His Old Love. ALLIANCE, Sept. 19. - [Special.] -A pleasant secret was told here to-day by Rev. Harrison Jones, ex-Chaplain of the Fortysecond Ohio Volunteer Infantry, Garfield's old regiment, probably the best known divine in the State. It relates to the marriuge of himself and Miss Hulda P. Way, of Cleveland, by Rev. Martin Munn, of Wichita, Kan., on the 6th inst.

The happy couple are old acquaintances. As the groom quaintly put it, he knew all her good qualities and she knew all his bad ones, so he took her for better and she took him for worse. Rev. Mr. Jones is 69 years old, and his bride is also up in the sixties. They will reside in this city.

The fathers of two boys named Lahev and Alton, living on West Market street, Allegheny, reported at police headquarters last night that the lade, both of whom are aged 13 years, had left home in the afternoon and have not been heard from. The Labey boy ran away several months ago, and was away from home over two weeks. He was found out in Ohio. His father thinks he may have gone out the Ft. Wayne road again.

A Supposed Elopement.

Emma Deitrich, the wife of Charles Dietrich, was reported to have eloped with Harry Heiner, a Duquesne motorman, last night. It is said that Mrs. Dietrich is a little demented and has repeatedly left her husband when her mind became unbalanced. Her husband admits the absence of his wife but he refuses to believe that she has

"TID-BITS."

EXPOSITION_"'Tis not in mortals to command success; but we'll do more, we'll deserve it." Why is the Exposition such a success? The question is easy answered! Because it deserves it. It is a pronounced favorite with o.d and young.

EXPOSITION—"If music be the food of love, play on: give me excess of it." One never grows weary of listening to Levy and his wonderful band at the Exposition; it is indeed a rare treat. Crowds of delighted visitors attend the concerts each afternoon and evening.

EXPOSITION—"It matters not how long we live, but how," some persons do more good in a few years than others in a life-time. The same is true with an enter-prise like our Exposition. This is only its fourth year, but see the power it has been for good to this city. EXPOSITION-"The man that hath no music in himself is fit for treason's, stratagems and spoils; let no such man be trusted." How anyone can stay away from the Exposition, when Levy and his glorious band is discoursing such sweet music, is an unexplainable mystery.

SOLDIER BOYS AND VETERANS.

The President will speak to you as a comrade. It is for me to greet you in behalf of the business interests affecting the wolfare of the whole people, in behalf of trade and commerce, of the husbandman and artisan, of the employer and the employed, in behalf of all men and women from every section who love the Union.

I bid you welcome in behalf of the President and his Cabinet advisers, in behalf of the Congress of the United States and the National Judiciary administering collectively the Government you have secured and in behalf of a whole people, made lifustrious by your herofsm and that of your adversaries now your friends. I greet you in behalf of a stalwart North and a loyal South, of a sun-illumined East and commanding West, under the shadows of the Capitol, you have preserved in this beautiful city, founded by Washington and made sacred by the services and sacrifices of Lincoln, and in full view of Virginia, the birthplace of Presidents and the burial place of heroes. Your march to-day and to-morrow will recall to you, as it will to us, the greatreview when Grant ranged himself by the side of the President of the United States; when Meade saluted for the veterans of the East and Sherman for those of the West, and when the light that fell upon the dome of the Capitol was flashed back from the sword of Sheridan. They are brilliant illustrations of your prowess, still leading your ranks, or among them, and I wish that I could summon them all: but the glories of the battle names recall them with vivid personality. In the order of time this may or may not be your last grand review, but I express the hope of a grateful people that heaven will bounteously lengthen out your lives before you are called to the other shore to rejoin the ranks of your companions. And now my countrymen, in behalf of the whole American people, I dedicate this "Grand Army Place" and the commemorative memorials which it is believed will be nereafter erected upon it, to the everlasting glories of the Grand Army of the Republic. The President Sends Regrets. General Palmer at the conclusion of the address read the following from the Presi-dent regretting his inability to be present: LOON LAKE, N. Y. Sept. 18

To General John Palmer, Commander in Chief G. A. R. G. A. R.

I had looked forward with much interest to the great rehearsal in Washington next Tuesday of the victors' march of 1885. I would have estimated it one of the highest honors of my public life to have welcomed to the National Capital, and to kave reviewed in its historic avenue, this representative assembly of the men who not only saved the city from threatened destruction, but made it the worthy political capital of an unbroken Union. It would also have been one of the most favored and tender incidents of my private life to have taken these comrades again by the hand, but all this has been denied to me by the intervention of a sad and imperative duty, and I can only ask you to give to all my cordial greetings and good wishes. Accept my sincere thanks for your very kind and sympathetic message.

FOR HONOR AND OFFICE.

Cities Vieing With Each Other to Obtain the Encampment Next Year-Four Candidates Named as the Next Commander in Chief-To-Morrow Will Decide.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The fight for the honor of entertaining the G. A. R. a A. J. Barchfeld was elected President; year hence and for the honor of being its William Clark, Vice President; George H. | Commander in Chief from now until the next annual encampment has begun and will wage with increasing but friendly intensity until the two matters are settled Wednesday and Thursday. The West seems to regard the location of the next encampment as hers by right next venr, and with sanguine confidence that what is hers she will secure, has two cities in the field vicing for the encampment. Lincoln, Neb., has lately begun to urge its claims. Indianapolis has secured a promise of very cheap rates for the veterans from the Hoosier capital to the World's Fair, and has a strong reinforcement to its State fol-lowing in the Chicago posts, who are for Indianapolis. Lincoln developed a great deal of strength last year in the competition in which Washington won, and this year the Nebraskans represent that because they were beaten last year their capi-tal should be selected at this encampment. Lincoln has a strong support from the West and will make a good fight. Four active candidates are in the field for ncessor to Commander in Chief Palmer. They are: Colonel R. H. Warfield, of Cali fornia; Coionel Charles P. Lincoln, of the Department of the Potomac; Captain A. G. Weissert, of Wisconsin, and Brigadier Gen-eral S. H. Hearst, of Ohio. Colonel Warfield has a united following in the far West and friends in all parts of the country. Colonel Lincoln seems to be the leader in the race, but custom has always given the post of Senior Vice Commander to the En-campment City, and as Colonel Lincoln is a resident of Washington his selection would make a precedent that might be troublesome hereafter. Captain J. M. Pipes has been indorsed for Senior Vice Commander by the Department of the Potomac. Captain Weissert, of Wisconsin, would be much stronger as a candidate were it not for the fact that the Badger State was honored not long ago in the person of Gen-eral Lucius S. Fairchild. General Hearst is weakened by lack of support in his own State (Ohio), and without her united sup-port he can hardly win. Several State del-egations will hold caucauses at which they will decide on whom they will support and the way Pennsylvania decides this evening to go as a unit is likely to point the way for other States.

BRIGHT

There is nothing brighter in suits than a bright boy. It's a shame to inflict cheap, shoddy clothing upon such a lad. Nothing can suit the season and the boy so well as one of our nobby, Double-Breasted Cheviot Suits. They will look better, wear better and cost less than such suits . usually do. Durability and elegance are strong points in favor of a suit, and they are the two points about our Home-Made Suits which render them more suitable for bright boys than any ever offered. From $2.50 to $5.00 we can fit any boy between 4 and 14 years of age. We also carry a full line of boys' headgear. You can find nowhere as large a selection of Boys' and Chil-
