ANOTHER TOUGH ONE.

Shugart's Error Loses a Ten-Inning Game for the Local Team.

There is no satisfaction in crying over spilled milk. No matter how the accident occurs the result cannot be changed.

Shugart's error was a matter almost entirely between Hutchison and Baldwin, the two pitchers.

There were nearly 2,000 people at the game. The weather was very threatening, and it is not untrue to say that a boner game was never played on a ball ground.

GREAT BILLIARD WORK.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Shaw Entertain the Linden Club Members.

FANCY SHOTS WITH THE CUE.

Most Marvellous Performances With the Ivory Spheres.

THE ARTISTS SHOW THEIR SKILL.

The Linden Club was the center of attraction on the boulevard last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Shaw gave an astonishing exhibition of fancy billiards.

In preparation for the event the table was placed in the center of the dancing saloon.

arranged on a raised platform, were arranged a hundred chairs, every one of which was occupied by the time the performance began.

The audience, about one-half were ladies, who took as much interest in the exhibition as did those who were more familiar with billiards and the possibilities of executing difficult and fancy shots with the ivory balls.

The evening's entertainment opened with a game of pool between Mr. Shaw and a member of the club.

Mr. Shaw plays a game of 100 points or no count, but last evening he played a straight game and his highest runs were 54, 38, 1, 2 and 11, but when at the end of six minutes he had finished 118 points his adversary had but 21.

The lights were not arranged exactly as Mr. Shaw desired, but his skill with the cue was evident.

He brought the balls together from all parts of the table with ease and might have been counting points had he not completed his score and stopped to give an exhibition of some of his fancy work, at which he is without a rival.

Some Brilliant Fancy Shots. Some of the fancy shots were very brilliant and Mr. Shaw seemed to be able to make the cue ball perform as he pleased.

He placed these balls along the cushion and made the cue ball, after striking the first cue ball, strike the second and hit the third. Then he made a masse shot around an object in the center of the table, striking two balls in the other corner of the same end of the table. Best of the most striking of the hundred or so fancy shots he made was done with a tile hat borrowed from one of the audience.

First he made the balls jump into the hat one after another, and later he placed a ball on top of the hat and jumped ball after it had hit another ball on the table at the side of the hat, making it hit the ball on the hat as squarely as if it had been on the table.

Another jump shot that brought down the house was one in which he made the cue ball leave the table and knock a ball out of Mr. Shaw's hand, held at least two feet above. Then he sent the cue ball flying down the table to the other end, where it struck the cushion and came back in the air like the cue ball of a game of pool.

One display of his power followed the other so rapidly that it was difficult for the audience to keep track of them, and almost impossible to tell how they were accomplished.

The Champions Play Together. One of the most interesting features of the evening was a game between Mr. and Mrs. Shaw. The lady is the acknowledged champion lady billiardist of the world, and she played a straight four ball game against her husband's cue ball.

The victor and loser were almost as skillfully as her husband. No very long runs were made, but the game was interesting throughout and on several occasions Mr. Shaw made shots that were among the most difficult on the table.

With his fingers Mr. Shaw plays as many fancy shots as with the cue and he performs all kinds of twists and curves to them with apparently no effort. In the absence of bats, he used the cue ball to capture the intervals on the table and sent a ball in a serpentine curve around them, making it take the cushion near the far corner and strike two balls on the rebound.

Played With His Fingers. Six balls were placed along the cushion, and by a simple twist of the one ball he made it pass along and strike each in its course. Then he sent a ball up the table, and made it curve in a semi-circle to the right. And then one curved to the left and struck two balls in a row.

Nine balls were placed in a row near the cushion, and the cue ball was made to touch each.

Twenty Sent to the Corner. An hour and a half's entertainment wound up with the most showy of all the shots. Twelve balls were ranged along the cushion at the side of the table. Then the cue ball was sent rapidly Mr. Shaw made them go around the table twice, one after another, and they struck each in its course. Twelve balls were drawn with chalk. There were at one time ten of the balls in motion, but not a collision occurred, and when the circle was reached, each stopped as if held there by a magnet. It was a very pretty sight, and upon its conclusion Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were warmly applauded. The entertainment was a decided success in every way.

More Record Smashing. PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—The most successful racing week ever held in Rhode Island ended to-day in a blaze of glory. Hamlin, owner of the pair, were the victors.

HEAL POINTER'S MILE.

The Famous Pacer Astonishes the Sporting People Down at Providence.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—Most of the 40,000 who thronged the grounds of the Rhode Island Fair at Narragansett Pier came to see Hal Pointer's endeavor to break a record.

Without any special preparation for the track, which was only by four or five horses, the great side-whisper paced the fastest consecutive miles ever accomplished.

About 9 o'clock Geers gave Hal Pointer a mile in full harness on a 2 1/2 mile track, an hour later, accompanied by runner, Hal started on his trial against the watch. The quarter was reached in 33 1/2, the half in 1:04, and everything went as smoothly as the pace.

About 30 minutes later he started again, this time getting a perfect send off, every fraction of the mile showing accelerated speed. The runner was a long back and had flashed past the quarter in 32 seconds. The lead and lead passed the half in 1:03, and three-quarters in 1:54. Then the runner forged ahead, Pointer flying down the stretch with a magnificent burst of speed. Geers sitting as still as a statue.

As Hal's nose reached the wire a mighty cheer for the runner was heard. He stopped at 205, some on the quarter stretch, when they thought the race was over. He caught it 2:05 1/2, and as the official timers called it 2:05 1/2, the runner was back shares with Washington Fair Chicago, the honor of the fastest harness mile.

DOUBLE NOT WILLING. He Will Not Match Nancy Hanks Against Moquette, the Trotter.

LEXINGTON, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Bud Doble has wired Mike Bowerman that he will not trot Nancy Hanks against Moquette, the 4 year-old champion, on the 23rd of the month for any sum, and he further says that he will not match Nancy against any horse living.

This dispatch was in reply to a challenge sent Doble by Bowerman wherein he offered to race Nancy Hanks against the winner of the month's best harness race.

Bowerman thinks Moquette need not beat Palo Alto's kick-track record of 2:08 1/2 to win the $10,000 registration.

The promising bay yearling fly by Omandigo dam by Prince Charlie, property of records at the State Fair, will be on the track to-day and had to be shot.
