The past week was given up to charitable | Block House presented to them by Mrs. rather than strictly social affairs. It is a Schenley. That lady is to be made an ho orary member of the society, and the papers pleasant change to drop the regular round for her will be made out at the next meetof guieties occasionally and give a week or ing of the chapter in October. This is a proper recognition of the kindness of that lady, and it is a very graceful act on the part of the Pittsburg ladies. When the Block House comes into the hands of the two to the work of making pleasauter the lives of those whose lines are cast in shady places. It is true that nothing is so blessed as charity, and the ladies of Pittsburg realize this fact, as a rule. Two homes for Daughters of the Revolution, suitable arrangements will be made for its preserva-tion, and it will have one entrance on the new O'Hara avenue, so that it will be easily accessible, and will occupy a position worthy of its importance as a memento of the war that resulted in American indepenaged people occupied the attention of some of the noble women whose time is so largely given up to good works, and it is certain that when they listen to the words of their pasters on this Sabbath morning, as they say that he who gives to the poor lends to the Lord, they vill feel a holy calm stealing over them that could not be acquired Art Society will hold its one hundred and in any other way. eightieth reception in the Academy of Science and Art building. There will be an informal lecture by Mr. Colbert H. Greer, of New York, and an exhibition of Last week was only the beginning of charitable work for the fall and winter. There are many other important affairs to take place before long. The Southside Hospital Fair is occupying much attention just now, and there is every indication that when it opens, on the 7th of November, in the old postoffice building, the Ladies' Aid Society will have accomplished a great deal toward making it one of the most notable undertakings of the kind ever seen in Pittsburg. Po-morrow afternoon there will be an im portant meeting in the First Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Mrs. M. F. Hutchins, who is Chairman of the commit-Hutchins, who is Chairman of the commit-tee in charge of what will be known as "Pittsburg day" at the fair. On that day all the ladies of the Pittaburg churches will be in charge of the fair, and they will try to make it one of the pleasantest as well as the most profitable of all the days of the to do, of course, so that there will be much friendly emulation to see who will do most for the benefit of the hospital. It can be seen by this that the ladies are thoroughly in carnest, and it is expected that Mra. Hutchins' call for to-morrow's meeting will bring a very large number of ladies to the First Presbyterian Church.

That splendid institution, the Home for Aged Protestant Women, at Wilkinsburg, celebrated its twenty-first anniversary Thursday afternoon, and a more delightful occasion could not be conceived. The day was perfect, and the large, rambling mansion, hidden among the trees that shade its beautiful lawn, was truly a home to which it was a privilege to be invited. The Board of Managers, composed of women whose names are famous for their good works, in spite of their modesty in doing what they can for the needy, worked hard on the day, and it must be said that the results were such as to afford them thorough some control of the control of their worldly extence in the peaceful retirement of the house are like children in their worldly. children in their enjoyment of a holiday, holiday of all of them. The hundreds of with those who have been to Wilkinsburg every year for a decade, expressed the pleasure over the excellent manner in which the home is conducted, and there is little doubt that their satisfaction will be shown in a tangible manner as opportunity

"Maple Shades" is a title that suggests rural retirement, and the idea is well carried out at the place of that name that was dedicated to the use of the aged women of the United Presbyterian Church last week. This home is one of the most beautiful in Western Pennsylvania, and the women of the church to whose efforts is due the establishment of the inmates in so comfortable a place, deserve the greatest credit for their unremitting zeal and hard work in behalf of their less fortunate sisters. It was a good thing for everybody to visit "Maple Shades," to see how every detail has been thought out by the ladies. Woman's work always tells, particularly in matters of bower of roses, was one of the pleasures of

That the friends of the Fruit and Flower Mission are not neglecting that splendid charity is shown by the report of the September Committee. September has been a good month for the mission, there having been large donations of fruit, cut flowers, books, papers and eash, to say nothing of 30 gallons of ice cream received by the committee. Among the donors are seen the names of scores of ladies well known for their charitable work as well as of business men who find time to help the mission in a substantial way. The things sent to the mission are distributed among the hospitals and homes in the two cities, and many a sad face has brightened as the welcome fruit, flowers or books were brought to them. If everybody could follow the things sent to the mission to their destination there would be ten times as much given as is the case.

Although so much of the week was given to charity, Hymen was not entirely neglect-Maybury, assisted by Miss Lydin Haywood, and the guests were: The Misses Lizzie Potts, Lestie Ray E. Stedman, E. Hemmel, Ada Maybury, Lydia Haywood, Jennie E. Parker, of Pittsburg: hiss Edith McCombs, of Avalon; Misses Olive and Jennie Walker, of Allegheny, and the Misses Ada Gwynn, Martha Davis and M. Walker, and Messrs. Mattin Gwynn, J. Baker and Emmanuel Ecker, of Sheridan. Musicand daucing were indulged in until a late hour. Musical selections were rendered by Mr. Emmanuel Ecker on the plano, accompanied by Arthur Gwynn on the fure and Mr. J. Baker on the violin. After supper was served the guests departed with the knowledge of having spent a very delightful evening. ful of his duties. There were several marriages in which Pittsburgers were interested, although most of them were conducted in a quiet manner. One of the pretty weddings took place at the residence of Mr. John H. McEiroy, Walnut street, East End, when Miss Jennie Wailes Dickson became the bride of William J. Reno. Still another wedding, on the same date, took place at Mansfield. It was then and there that Miss Violet Bedell and Mr. William L. Monro exchanged marriage vows. Both are wellknown and popular in this city, and there were a number of witnesses of the ceremony from Pittsburg. Not so bad for one day!

ered at his beautiful residence Wednesday evening in honor of his birthday. The evening was spent very pleasantly with music and dancing. About midnight supper was served and the guests began to leave for their respective homes. One enjoyable feature or the affair was the conveyance to and from Chartiers of guite a number of Southside folks in a waron drawn by four horses. Some of those present were: The Misses Thursby McLauthlin, Ella Powers, Anna E. Long, Tillie Lauth, Norah Kimberg, Mrs. Laura Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Will Cready, Mr. and Mrs. B. Krugh, Mr. and Mrs. W. Spence, Mrs. M. A. Thomas, Messra. Harry Long, I. Will Smith, Will Spence, Jr., Luther Price and Frank Thomas. The afternoon tea given by the mission ary societies of the Bellefield Presbyterian Church last Thursday was one of the most pleasant affairs that live long in the memory. The ladies in charge do not know the meaning of partial success in anything they undertake, and their ten was delightful in every way. The King's Daughters took an active part in the entertainment, and, as usual with them, the part was a creditable

The Park Place Hotel, Sewickley, is a grand old place, and entertainments there are always something to remember with pleasure. A reception is to be given there to-morrow by Mrs. N. E. delightful manner Wednesday evening by a party of friends who gathered at her residence, Perrysville avenue. Several hours were pleasantly spent with the aid of music, dancing and refresuments. The guests were, The Misses Margaret Cooke, Ray Cochran, Mattie Dixon, Mattie Crooks, May Bearn, Abia Henau, Stella Paulin, Ella McCue, Emma McCue, May Nettinz, Bertha McFarland, Jemima Brown, Nellie Graham, Gerrude Graham, Bertie Weitchel and Messra. Gien McCue, David Martin, Charles Staple, Frank Paulin, Clarence Paulin, John Riddie, John Day, Thos. Matthews, Will Dixon, John Hug, John Troutman, Jas. Zimmer, Frank Netting, Will Nesbit. A birthday reception and musical was held last Wednesday evening at the resi-dence of Miss Gertrude Clark, Elm street. Miss Clark was assisted in receiving by her cousin, Miss Loretta Christy, of St. Aloysius cousin, Miss Loretta Christy, of St. Aloysius Academy, who made many triends by her charming personality. Guests were present from Oakland, Hazelwood, Allegheny, Southeide and Connellsville. Vocal and instrumental music was rendered by the Misses Miller, Clark, McCormick and Abel and Messrs, McCormick and Jones. Miss Marguerite Wise and Miss Emma Crafg rected a number of selections in a charming manner. Many handsome and elegant presents were received and a delightful evening was seent.

The marriage of Miss Mattle P. Hunter, of Wilkinsburg, to Mr. Detmar P. Knox, of Al-legheny, which occurred Wednesday evening at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, was one of the prettiest home wed parents, was one of the prettiest home weddings of the week. Rev. S. H. Moore officiated. The bride looked very lovely in a gown of white silk, and carried a bouquet of bridin roses. After receiving the congratulations of their friends, the guests were ushered into the dining room, where an elaborate supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Knox will be "at home" to their friends at the residence of the bride's purents until they go to "housekeeping." The couple were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents.

Among the pleasant social events of last week was the birthday reception and musicale tendered Mr. M. J. Meatey at his nome, 415 Larimer avenue, last Thursday home, 415 Lavimer avenue, last Thursday evening. Some pleasing musical numbers were rendered by the Larimer Avenue Mandolin and Guitar Club. Dancing and cards were indulged in until a late hour, and refreshments were served about midnight. Among the guesta were the Misses Balz, Dollam. At last the critics of the World's Fair nusic managers have got what they have been calling for. The important announcenent first published to-day covers the whole field as fully as could be asked at this time, seven months before the opening. And its shows in clearest fashion how utterly groundless has been the outcry against Mesers. Thomas and Tomlins for their supposed provincialism and selfseeking.

Their plans, as originally announced and now shown to be well under way, are characterized by the broadest view of the unexampled opportunities placed in their hands. If they receive the hearty support and encouragement they have the right to demand from all loyal lovers of art and country, no limits can be set to the present value and future influence of the great musical events included in this inspiring general plan. It is the purpose of the announcement issued to-day to show what has thus ar been accomplished in developing this plan.

Orchestral Music. An appropriation of $175,000 for a permanent orchestra of 120, was made June 30. certs will be given at which the services of an orchestra will be required and that the time of giving those concerts which depend upon the presence in Chicago of visiting choral societies and of distinguished foreign composers, can not be fixed with certainty for many days in advance, the imperative for many days in advance, the imperative need of a permanent orchestra will be seen. Provision being made for the appearance at the exposition of the representative orchestras or New York City and Boston, invitations have been sent to the New York Philharmonic Society, Anton Seidl, conductor, and the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Arthur Nikisch, conductor, to give several concerts

Co-operation has been asked of the organized choral societies of the entire country and from the assurances of support already received a series of demonstrations covering the entire period of the Exposition is confidently expected. Invitations to comparate in testivals of oratorio music have been sent to the following named representative Western societies:

from "Israel in Egypt" and "Judas Maccabens;" first part of Mendelssohn's "saint Paul;" selections from the Requiem Mass of Berlioz, and selections from the compositions of Wagner. Choice of works to be sung by united Eastern societies is at present the subject of correspondence.

In addition to the several festivals by a chorus of 2500, to be given in Festival Hall and in conjunction with an orchestra of 200, and eminent soloists, each society named above has been invited to prepare an independent work for performance in the Music Hall, in connection with the Exposition orchestra. The Choral Festivals by representative organized societies, which it is expected will be held in May and June, and in September, will each occupy three days of a given week, and the remaining days of the week will be alloted to individual societies for a separate appearance.

Under date of September 24, invitations to join in a demonstration in the Music Hall of the Exposition were sent the following representative male choruses of the country:
Boston Apollo Club, Conductor, B. J. Lang, Breativa Analla Club, Conductor, B. J. Lang, Breativa A

Boston Apollo Club, Conductor, B. J. Lang, Brooklyn Apollo Club, Conductor, D. J. Lang, Brooklyn Apollo Club, Conductor, B. W. Foicy, Cluckinstil Apollo Club, Conductor, B. W. Foicy, New York Mendelssohn Glee Club, Conductor, oseph Mosenthal, Philadelphia Orpheus Club, Conductor, M. H.

oss. San Francisco Loring Club, Conductor, D. W. oring.

Springdeld (Mass.) Orpheus Club, Conductor, E.

Juiter, Jr.

Cuiter, Jr.

These societies were asked to prepare for joint performances: Music to Œilpus Tyrannus, J. K. Paine: Columbus, a cantata, Dudley Buck; Frithjof, a cantata, Max Bruch. Three concerts by representative male choruses are planned, at each of which the united chorus and certain of the individual societies will take part, the works named above to constitute the climax of each programme. It will be the endeavor of the lureau to present the compositions of J. K. Paine and Dudley Buck under the personal leadership of the composers.

Other Choral Demonstrations.

Other Choral Demonstrations. Yet another choral arm of the Exposition is the Chicago Apollo Club and its auxiliary, and the Chicago Festival Chorus—together numbering 2,500.

Regading the works intended to be performed during the six months of the Exposition, it can be said that all the great classics and the nobler compositions of modern composers will be included. Among these may be mentioned Bach's "St. Matthew's Passion;" Handel's "The Messian;" Mendersson's "Elijah:" Beethoven's "Ninth Symphony;" Mozart's "Requiem Mass," "The German Requiem," Brabins; "Requiem Mass," "The Gorman Requiem," Brabins; "Requiem Mass," "The Godien Legend," Arthur S. Sullivan; and works by Dvorak, Saint-Saens, Massenet, Tschalkowsky, and other composers.

Plans are rapidly being developed regarding choral demonstrations under sections 7 and 8 of the classification. The concerts to be given under sections 5 and 6 of the classifications are in the control of the German and Swedish societies respectively. Since the classification was prepared the Welsh societies have accepted the use of Festivo Hall for series concerts.

International Concerts. Invitations to representative European composers to visit the Exposition as guests and to conduct programmes of their own compositions, have been sent, through the courte-y of the State Department and of resident American ministers abroad. Acceptances have already been received from Camille Saint-Saens, of France, and Dr. A. C. Mackenzie, of England, who will visit the C. Mackenzie, of England, who will visit the Exposition in June and September, respectively. Each of these distinguished musicians will appear as conductor of his own choral and instrumental compositions, and it is the privilege of the bureau to announce, in addition, that Camille Saint-Saens will take part in several concerts of chamber music, and will appear as interpreter of his own pianoforte concertos, and as organist. Among the German musicians invited were Dr. Jonannes Brahms and Dr. Joseph Joachim, both of whom find it impossible to accept.

chim, both of whom find it impossible to accept.

Had the invitation been accepted which the bureau sent to the Berlin Quartet, of which Dr. Joachim is leader, it would have been possible to present at the Exposition the most notable interpretations of the great masters of chamber music. Announcement of substitute plans will be made.

The bureau concludes this announcement by quoting from its initial prospectus the words which express the two central ideas governing its plans: First to make a complete showing to the world of musical progress in this country of all grades and departments, from the lowest to the highest; second, to bring before the people of the United States a full illustration of music in its highest forms, as exemplified by the most enlightened nations of the world.

How About Your Fursi Soon the cold winds will remind you of winter and your far garments. How about these? Have the moths played havoe with them? Do they look sharey, much worn, or are they old-fashioned? Please bear in mind that I can make them look like new, reshape and re-dye them, and all this at a trifling expense to you, considering the firstclass work turned out by me. Bring your

Marion Harland endorses and uses Cleveland's Baking Powder.

February 5, 1892. After long and careful trial of others, I prefer Cleveland's Baking Powder for several reasons. . . Cleveland's is a pure cream of tartar and soda mixture, not containing alum or ammonia or any other substance deleterious to the human stomach. Cakes, muffins, biscuits, &c., in which Cleveland's Baking Powder is used, keep better. . . A like quantity of Cleveland's Baking Powder goes further and does better work than any other of which I have knowledge. It is therefore cheaper.
