COOLEY'S GANG IS BROKEN UP.

Their Chief Dead, Jack Ramsev Captured and No One Left to Lead Them.

BETRAYED BY ISCARIOTS

Who Led the Sheriff to the Place Where Frank Was Killed.

Ramsey Run to Earth by a Military Preacher and His Posse-Cooley and Ramsey Induced by a False Friend to Visit the Homestead for a Last Look Around It-A Systematic and Successful Search for the Outlaws-Crowds Throng the Cooley House to See the Leader's Corpse-His Funeral to Take Place This Morning-Peculiar List of Articles Found on the Body of the Fallen Leader-Details of the Capture.

PERCHAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 UNIONTOWN, Oct. 3 .- Jack Ramsey, the companion of Frank Cooley, who escaped he fate of the leader of the notorious avette county outlaws yesterday, was capured at 9 o'clock this morning near Fairchance with a man named David by Rev. Mr. Hunter, Chaplain of the Tenth Regiment, N. G. P., Milt McCormick and A. J.

THE COOLEY SISTERS.

Hicks, all of Fairchance. The two men were lodged in jail here at noon to-day. An immense crowd gathered at the jail to see Ramsey, but he was quickly hurried inside. It is believed that since the death of Cooley and the capture of Ramsey the remainder of the gang will disperse and leave the county.

The story leading up to the death of Frank Cooley and the capture of Ramsey is full of interest. It is the old story of the Judas Iscariot betrayal, and the principal Judas 1 this case is Sam Yeager, formerly one of e gang. Yeager was captured in Hopeood, about a month ago, and lodged in il. By some means Sheriff McCormick duced him to betray his former associates guilt. Yeager was to receive a good rmick's influence in getting him an easy Betraved by Their Companions.

The other principal in the betrayal was Brint Frey, who was with Cooley to the last, and was won over by Yeager. Through the efforts of Frey, Yeager agreed to have the Cooley leaders at Lute Cooley's residence last Sunday, which he did, and it was through his efforts that Cooley and Ramsey left their Winchesters at the house while they went out for a last look around the old homestead.

About three weeks ago, while the gang was quietly scouring the mountains in pursuit of plunder, and while the community was hoping they had lett the country, Sherriff McCormick, accompanied only by Yeager, left the jail about 10 o'clock one dark night. They rode up to the Cooley settlement. That the couple had left town was not known here, and that they were in the heart of the Cooley region was not known by the people up there. It was a secret midnight ride, but was the shrewdest move enacted n the long hunt for the notorious Cooley

Yeager on that night betrayed his fellows nto the hands of his pursuers. For three nours he led the Sheriff around and pointed

JACK RAMSEY. ut to him all their favorite haunts near he Cooley homestead, and about Fairchance nd Smithfield. He also led the Sheriff far ip into the mountains, and all the mountin retreats were pointed out.

The Betrayer Gives Away the Snap. Yeager unfolded all he knew, where the ang had gone when he was with them, and where they spent most of their time. He aid that Frank Cooley and Ramsey inariably spent Sunday at the Cooley hometead, and that the others posted themselves long the foothills as guards,

From that night the fate of the Cooley ang was sealed. Sheriff McCormick imrediately began a systematic search for the utlaws, which ended in the death of Frank looley yesterday and the capture of Ramsey o-day, and that virtually means the com-lete annihilation of the gang. None of he other members of the gang will dare to how themselves again in this county. Ithough one of their number, "Montana ete," is a desperate man, he will not make successful leader, and it is probable that he members of the gang yet at liberty will sfuse to train under him.

Ramsey's surrender to-day was as cowardas his desertion of his leader yesterday hen the Sheriff's men fell upon them. As ben the Sherin's men tell upon them. As on as his pursuers got him in close quarrs he threw down his revolver and surnidered without a struggle. When he was rought to town to-day hundreds of people pronged the streets to see him. While in se saloon, where the officers took him at his morrow morning at 9 o'clock in the little cemetery at Smithfield. His remains will be laid to rest beside those of his brother Jack, who was buried Sunday, July 24. It is expected that an immense crowd will attend the funeral, more out of curiosity and a feeling of satisfaction than respect.

Surprise is still expressed on all hands that after so long a series of shrewd tactics in dodging the authorities Cooley and Ramsey should at last have tempted fate in so foolhardy a manner as that in which they fell into the hands of the Sheriff and posse last evening. The old Cooley farm house where Lute Cooley and wite have raised their 15 children stands by the Morgantown public road a mile and a half beyond Fairchance and about that far from the foot of chance and about that far from the foot of the mountain under the cover of whose woods the outlaws have always felt safe.

It is a drive of about eight mil er from this place and late Saturday night the Sheriff gathered his deputies and started, his driver being the young colored boy who made his escape with Cooley the night the latter cut his way out of jail three years ago pending his sentence for the Mollie Ross outrage at Smithfield.

How the Capture Was Arranged. The party drove past the Cooley mansion to a vacant old log house that stands by the roadside a quarter of a mile toward Smithroadside a quarter of a mile toward Smith-field. Here they took up quarters and the team returned to town. In this old house they kept themselves concealed through Sunday in full view of the Cooley residence and by the aid of a field glass could observe every movement. Toward evening they quietly left their retreat and took positions along the skirt of the woods through which Cooley and Ramsey passed on their way to and from the mountain, leaving behind in the log house one deputy with the field glass, who was to signal if the outlaws started for their mountain retreat. The latter did not wait for nightfall, but about 5 P. M., in full daylight, fall, but about 5 P. M., in full daylight, walked boldly out of the Cooley house and started toward the woods, where, warned by the signal, Sheriff McCormick and posse were waiting to receive them.

When the Sheriff called on Cooley and Ramsey to surrender they started to run back to the Cooley house, 300 yards away, firing as they ran. They were in an open field, in the center of which stands an old when Cooley saw the posse gaining on him he took refuge behind this snag, from which he continued to fire until he emptied two revolvers. A neighbor who witnessed the battle from his house thinks in all about 20 shots were exchanged. The posiabout 20 shots were exchanged. The posi-tion of the combatants at the time makes it probable that the shot which killed Cooley did not come from the Sheriff's weapon, but was fired by one of the deputies, from whom the fugitive could not so well conceal his body. The ball struck the edge of the snag and glanced off into the victim's breast.

Jack Ramsey's Flight to the Woods. Ramsey easily distanced Cooley, being very fleet of foot. He ran to the Cooley house and exclaimed, "They have killed Frank! my God, what will I do?" He jumped the fence, crossed the Morgantown road and disappeared in the opposite woods. Among the articles taken from Cooley's person by Coroner Holbert besides his empty revolver were a large lot of 38-caliber empty revolver were a large lot of 38-caliber cartridges, a fine field glass, a black calicomask with holes for the eyes, a large gold watch, a pocketbook containing a $20 bill and some papers, several photographs of girls, including pictures of two of his sisters, whom he cherished for their fidelity to him to the end. There was also the badge of the Deputy Sheriff which the bandits stripped from Robinson, who had once run with them and afterward was caught and beaten by them because he betrayed them and joined the Sheriff's deputies. All these articles are stained with Frank Cooley's lifeblood as it flowed where he fell by the snag.

In his pockets also were found three letters. One of these was written to him by a ters. One of these was written to him by a southern Fayette county dentist, of his acquaintance, proposing that they pool and get the reward, the dentist to have $300 for handing him over to the Sheriff, Cooley to have the rest. Another letter from a friend, postmarked at Smithfield, Pa., March 22, is addressed to "Mr. Frank Pierce, Sedalia,

Once a Fugitive in Missonri.

Cooley's name was Frank Pierce Cooley, which shows him to have been in Missouri under the above alias at a time when officers were searching for him in Fayette county. It is since learned that he was in Sedalla last spring and got work with a liveryman, but was caught in appropriating funds and had to leave.
A third letter was dated Pittsburg, Pa.

A third letter was dated Pittsburg, Pa., February 26, 1892, and addressed to "The Cooley Boys in General, Fairchance, Pa." It is written in a good hand on a regular letter head sheet of Park Broa. & Co., Limited, Black Diamond Steel Works, and signed by Thomas Wickersham, 276 Thirtyeighth street. The writer assures them of his sincerity and identity by saying that he is personally acquainted with the Sweeneys, Abels, Nizons and a half dozen other families of the Fairchance neighborhood. He then states that he is heartily disgusted with this everlasting hue and cry about the "Cooley gang," that they are not half as bad as painted, and that he hopes they will yet come out all right.

The people of the southern end of the county say it was just such assurances of county say it was just such assurances of sympathy as this letter that encouraged the Cooleys to persist in their career of lawless-

A WANDERER FOR TWO WEEKS.

Peculiar Affection of the Young Son of s Prominent Memphis Gentlemen.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 3. - [Special.] - Two weeks ago D. C. Thomas, 22 years old, son of D. D. Thomas, a prominent citizen of Memphis, left here to go to New York to become a student at the Bellevue Hospital Medical College. When he reached New York young Thomas telegraphed his father he had arrived safely, but his whereabouts have been a mystery until to-day, when he turned up in Nashville.

A special from Nashville says that

A special from Nashville says that Thomas can give no explanation of his strange actions. Upon his arrival in New York, ten days ago, he registered at the Union Square Hotel. The last thing he remembers was that he left the hotel to go to the medical college, but he never reached it. Since that time his memory has been a blank. He carried a considerable sum of money, but this was found on his person when he reached Nashville to-day. The only solution his friends here can offer is that he was suffering from ten poary inthat he was suffering from tempoary in-

ARGUING FOR THE DELAMATERS.

His Attorneys Claim That They Cannot Be Convicted on This Charge.

MEADVILLE, PA., Oct. 3.—The Delamater case was resumed in court this afternoon. Joshua Douglass for the defense addressed the court as to the law in the case and was followed by Hon. A. B. Richmond, also for the defense, who addressed the jury and claimed that the defendant being indicted under the act of May 9, 1889, cannot be indicted jointly or in co-partnership, and one so indicted cannot be convicted. The proof must be conclusive against the entire three members of the firm. Thomas Roddy addressed the jury for the prosecution and will continue his argument to-merrow morning. dressed the court as to the law in the case

THE RAZOR'S WORK.

Young Actor-Manager Shoots Himself Because He Had Sworn To. lar—The Murderer Still at Large.

HE BELONGED TO A SUICIDE CLUB.

AN AWFUL OATH KEPT

and Left a Note to the Coroner to Bring in the Proper Verdict.

WAS A MEMBER OF A WEALTHY FAMILY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]
NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—J. Barlow Moorehead, a young actor, and manager for Garland Gaden, the author and star of the "Young American" Theatrical Company, was found dead in bed in his room in the boarding house at 56 West Thirty-fifth street at 1 o'clock this afternoon. There was a bullethole in his left breast, and on the bed beside him lay a 32 -caliber revolver. A picture of his mother lay on the body, close to the wound.

Mr. Gaden saw young Moorehead last evening about 6 o'clock and made an appointment to meet him at 1 o'clock to-day, when they were to complete arrangements for the production of the "Young American." Gaden lived at the Coleman House. He called at the Thirty-fifth street house about 1 o'clock to-day, went to Moorehead's room, and knocked repeatedly, but got no response. Fearing all was not right, he put his knee to the door, gave a push and snapped the lock. He found Moorehead in his night clothes, his face ghastly pale. It was evident that he had been dead for some time.

The Effects of the Dead Man. Gaden hurried to the nearest police station, and an officer was sent to take charge of the body, a messenger being dispatched for Coroner Schultze.

The policeman found five letters, sealed and addressed, on a table in Moorehead's and addressed, on a table in Moorehead's room. There were also a traveling bag and a trunk, containing wearing apparel. On the former was a nickel-plated tag bearing the inscription, "J. B. Moore, New York." Moore was the name under which the young suicide carried on his different theatrical

The letters were addressed to "G. C. Thomas, Drexel & Co., Philadelphia;"
"Mr. Lennon, Coleman House;" "Cabby 841, New York City," and "Charles H. Moorenead, Bridgeton, N. J." There was also a letter addressed to the Coroner of the city of New York. They were all taken to the station house, where the envelope ad-dressed to the Coroner was opened. Inside was found a letter head of the Garland Gaden "Young American" Company, on which was written;

Coroner of New York City: 1:45 A. M., Oct. 8. Coroner of New York City:

DEAR SIR—I have committed suicide, as per club. Please give verdict to such effect, and oblige.

Yours truly,
J. B. Moore.

N. B.—My proper name is J. B. Moorhead, of Philadelphia. G. C. Thomas, of Drexel & Co., Philadelphia, is my uncle. Please notify him.

J. B. Moorhead, Jr.

A Brother Actor's Story Told.

Young Moorhead spent last night with Nestor Lennon, an actor in the "Black Crook" Company now performing at the Academy of Music. Lennon was shocked beyond measure when Gaden rushed into the Coleman House after leaving the station and told him of Moorhead's suicide. Both men hurried back to the Thirty-fifth street house and took charge of the dead man's personal effects. Neither could as-sign the slightest reason for the young man's deed.
"Why, I only left him at 1 o'clock this morning, not much more than 12 hours ago," said Lennon to THE DISPATCH reporter. "He dropped into the Coleman House about 8 o'clock and suggested that we take a walk. I acquiesced and we we take a walk. I acquiesced and we strolled down Broadway, stopping at sev-eral places. We finally landed at Amberg's Theater, on Irving Place. We drank some wine, chatted a little while with some friends, and then left. From there we went to Koster & Bial's, where we enjoyed the performance right up to midnight. We drank a good deal of wine, but not too much, I'm sure. He told me while we were at Amber's that he never felt better in his life. He Asks One Last Favor.

"It was about 1 o'clock when we reached the Coleman House, and I said good night the Coleman House, and I said good night to him. He took a couple of steps and then turned, and with a more serious look than I had ever seen him wear before, said: 'I want you to do something for me.' 'Why certainly,' I said; 'what is it?' He took my hand and slipped two diamond rings on my middle finger. 'Never take them off as long as you live,' he said. 'Remember what I tell you. Never take them off.' I laughed.
"He said good night and I went into the hotel. Then it struck me that all might not be right. I resolved to make Moore. note. Then it struck me that all might not be right. I resolved to make Moore-head explain himself, and ran out of the hotel to the street. About a block away I saw my friend talking to a cabman. I shouted and started to run toward him. He either didn't hear me or did not want to, for before I had gone a dozen steps he jumped in the cab and the driver whipped up and was off."

Mr. Lennon had not seen Moorehead's letter to the Coroner. When THE DIS-PATCH reporter showed it to him and Mr. Gaden, and asked them if they could throw any light on Moorehead's meaning when he referred to "the club," Lennon turned white and gasped.

A Suicide Clubman's Death Kent.

"Now I remember. He told me something last night about a club he belonged to He said it was a suicide club, and that he joined it in Philadelphia or New York, I don't remember which. I thought he was fooling and paid but little attention to him." "He's spoken of it before, hasn't he?" asked Lennon of Gaden. "It seems to me that he has, but I always thought he was fooling," responded Gaden. Both men refused to say another word on the subject.
"Moorehead was a young man of wealth," said Gaden. "He inherited a fortune from hiskgrandiather, and his father, Charles H.

said Gaden. "He inherited a fortune from his grandfather, and his father, Charles H. Moorehead, of Bridgeton, N. J., is rich. Moorehead had graduated as a physician and had traveled much. He was the projector of several theatrical ventures in Europe while he was abroad, in all of which I believe he made money. When I first met him he was a very heavy drinker. He went to the Keeley Institute in Philadelphia for treatment about seven months ago. When he came out he was thoroughly eured, he told me, and would never drink another drop as long as he lived. One day he told me that long as he lived. One day he told me that if he ever found himself in the power of whisky again he would blow his brains out. For months after that he never touched a drop of anything. About three months ago, however, I noticed that he was drinking wine again, but he never drank to excess. The company was to open at the Chestrut Street Theater, Philadelphia, November 7."

SOLD INTO BLAVERY.

amer Montserrat Lands a Cargo of Islanders in Mexico

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.-Private ad vices received here from San Benito, Mexco, tell of the arrival there of the "blackbird" steamer Montserrat with 500 Gilbert Islanders sold into almost absolute slavery.

Islanders sold into almost absolute slavery.
The Montserrat left San Francisco nearly five months ago, having been chartered by the same people that sailed the ill-starred steam brig Tahiti.

It was stated then that its cruise to British Columbia was merely a ruse, and that it was really a slaver working under the nefarious contract system. The Montserrat has accommodations for 1,000 natives, but had difficulty in getting half the number, as the islanders had heard of the disaster to the Tahiti. All the natives were at once distributed among the coffee plantation planters near San Benito.

A Fatal Stabbing Affray at a Colored Entertainment in the East End-John Gordon Severs Warren Cook's Jugu-

A fatal stabbing occurred at a colored entertainment in the East End late last night. A colored congregation that holds services in Liberty Hall, Penn avenue, gave a stereopticon show for the benefit of the church. There was a large crowd present and when the lights were turned down to enable the lantern to do its work a number of men be-came noisy and created considerable con-

Order was restored until the entertain

Order was restored until the entertainment was nearly over. Then the trouble began again, and in the row that followed John Gordon drews a razor and slashed it across Warren Cook's throat.

There was a general melce. Charles Gordon, John's brother, hit a man named Soniers on the head with a handy-billy. Both the Gordons escaped. Cook was carried to his home, on Park avenue, below Shetland avenue, where Dr. W. B. Cathcart dressed the wound, putting in nine stitches. Cook had lost a great deal of blood, the jugular vein having been laid bare. The doctor thought the man could not live very long. not live very long.

Cook is about 40 years of age and has wife and family. The police are after the Gordons. At 2 o'clook neither one had been captured. A number of special officers are on the trail, however, and they will be captured, it is thought, before long.

TOO GREAT A DISGRACE.

Dann, Buffalo's Savings Bank Wrecker Takes Poison and Ends His Life.

BUFFALO, Oct. 3.-It looked at noon today as if Edward S. Dann, the wrecker of the National Savings Bank, would obtain a change, of venue to the high court of heaven. He was lying at the point of death in a state of unconsciousness that has lasted over 40 hours. His family physician, Dr. Harrington, thought his condition so serious that he had called Dr. Hopkins and Dr. Fotwell into consultation. Dann's attorney in the Supreme Court this morning had the trial of his client postponed one week. A sensational rumor flew about the city this morning that Dann had tried to take his morning that Dann had tried to take his own life, and that his unconscious condition was due to poison self administered. Dr. Harrington, while stating that Dann was a very sick man and would probably not recover, declined to state the nature of his symptoms. A positive statement has been made that the cause of Dann's sickness was necessary. poison. He died late to-night.

SHOT BY A WOMAN.

Joseph Fisher Dies From a Wound, bu Blames No One for the Deed.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3. - Joseph Fisher, 50 years old, of Landenberg, Pa., died at the hospital here to-day from the effects of a gunshot wound. Considerable mystery is attached to the circumstances surrounding the fatal shooting. The only person present when Fisher was shot was a woman named Ann Ruthvan. Fisher, so the doctor says, was shot from the rear.

The wound was in the arm, and death resulted from uncontrollable hemorrhages.

While being conveyed to the hospital Fisher exclaimed: "Why did she shoot?" When subsequently questioned regarding the manner in which he received his wound he answered: "No one is to blame." He was at his brother-in-law's house examining was at his brother-in-law's house examining a loaded gun. He did not know how he came to be shot. Fisher did not say the gun was in the woman's hand, but he did say that he "did not blame the woman." The Coroner is investigating the case.

THE REFORMED CHURCH SYNOD.

Money Appropriated for the Education of Students for the Ministry.

IRWIN, PA., Oct. 3 .- [Special.] -The business session of the Pittsburg Synod of the Reformed Church was resumed here this morning. The report of the Committee on Theological Seminary was adopted as a whole. A church now being built in Pittsburg will soon be ready for consecration. The sum of $18,000 was recommended by the Synod for the education of students for the ministry.

The statistical report shows an increase of 11 congregations in the Synod during the year; $108,000 was contributed for benevolent and congregational purposes during the year. Rev. William Rupp, of Myersdale, Pa., was elected professor of theology at the sem inary at Lancaster.

Weaver Disappoints West Virginians PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Oct. 3. - [Special.] -The People's party of this part of the State have been making extensive preparations for a great meeting here to-day, at which General Weaver was billed to appear. Late this afternoon, instead of the General came a telegram saying he couldn't be here.

Lehigh Collieries Working Full Time. WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 3.—The Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company's collieries at Honeybrook, Audenried, Trascknow, Beaver Meadow and many of them in and about this city are working full time, giving employment to thousands of miners, laborers and boys.

Won't Work With Bosses,

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 3.—It is said that Lieutenant J. G. Lydecker, engineer in charge of the Government works here, has asked for a transfer because two men under him were displaced to make room for men who are said to have control over Republican votes,

Where the Shoe Pinches. St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Peck is all right, and so are the workmen hose wages have been increased. It is the Democracy that is hurt. Give Us Rest. This is the prayer of the nervous who do not sleep well. Let them use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and their prayer will be speedily answered. Insomnia is the product of indigestion and nervousness, two associate ailments, soom remedied by the Bitters, which also vanquishes malaria, constipation, liver complaint, rheumatism and kidney complaints.

Grand Autumn Excursion to Rhododendros Park, Lloydsville, Pa,

Park, Lloydsville, Pa.,
Via Pennsylvania Baiiroad. A grand holiday tour offering a rare chance to see the mountains in all the glory of autumn foliage. A special train will leave Union station on saturday, October 8, at $10 A. M., stopping at Shadyside, East Liberty, Wilkinsburg, Braddock, Turtle Creek, Wilmerding, Irwin, Manor, Jeannette, Greensburg and principal points east. The round trip rate from Pittsburg is $3, and proportionate low rates from points east. Tickets are good to return until October 9, inclusive, and good to stop at Altoona on return trip. This special train will stop at Altoona for dinner.

A GREAT BARGAIN, Hardman Piano $125.

A 7% octave Hardman piano in good condi-tion, of splendid tone and handsomely fin-ished case, for $125. A great bargain. J. M. HOFFMANN & Co., 537 Smith field street. An excellent Mason & Hamiin organ $35.

The art of making bread is a science in itself. When you have poor goods to work with it is impossible to turn out a good loat. If you will confine yourself to using "Rosalla" or "Our Best" flour you can always rely on having the best flour in the market. Have you ever tried either brand?

SMALL in size, great in results; De Witt's Little Early Risers. Best pill for constination, sest for sick headache and sour stomach. Novelties in silver, fine clocks, elegant presents, at Steinmann's, 105 Federal street. FOLLY OF FLOPPERS.

Republicans in Washington Pair Gresham's Vote With Sickles'.

BOTH MEN INFLUENCED BY SPITE

Instead of a Change of Heart or Belief in Opponents' Policy.

VETERANS STRANDED AT THE CAPITAL

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.1 WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.-There is no doubt in the minds of leaders of either of the old parties, apparently, that General Sickles has gone over to the Republicans, and nothing is thought to be more likely to happen than that the famous one-legged General, who has trained with the Demo-crats for long years, will take the stump for Harrison before the end of the campaign. Whether it is to offset this important desertion from the Democrats that the story of the schism of Judge Walter Q. Gresham from the Republicans was started is to some extent yet a mooted question in

The proof of the asserted action of the Judge in going over to the Democrats is not yet considered by e very one to be intallible. Republicans generally think that if Judge Gresham had fully decided to ally himself with the other side he would have said so in set words and not have permitted the news to be given out second-hand by an associate on the bench. There are Republicans, however, who are ready to believe that the reports in regard to the action of Judge are true.

A Hoosler's Size-Up of Gresham. A Republican official who is a citizen of Indiana, and who enjoys a close association with President Harrison, said to-day to the correspondent of THE DISPATCH:

"I do not like to impute to a gentleman who has so well deserved the admiration of the public any petty or mean impulse, but I am almost convinced that Judge Gresham is guilty of a feeling of personal spite against President Harrison that is wholly unworthy of him, and of which I had not supposed him capable. I do not know to a certainty if it be true that Gresham has definitely settled in his own mind what complexion his opposition to the President shall take, but that he is not adverse to the defeat of Mr. Harrison I am well assured from private information given by persons A Republican official who is a citizen of from private information given by persons who ought to know the frame of mind in which the Judge has been laboring for some years.

"If I wrong Judge Gresham in my estimate of him I shall only be too glad to be convinced of my mistake, but I have been convinced ever since the renomination of Harvinced ever since the renomination of Harrison that at some time prior to the election the Judge would in some way antagonize the Republican ticket. When it was announced that he would vote for the nominees of the People's party I was quite ready to believe the story to be true, though it did not agree with my estimate of his disposition that he would take that course best calculated to injure the chances of the Republican candidates. of the Republican candidates. Having heard what I had heard of him, I was convinced that he would go over to the Demo-crats, as that would possibly do Harrison more damage, especially in Indiana, than anything else the Judge could do.

The Most Recent of His Conversions. "I have been told, however, by a very good authority, that there are in existence letters from Judge Gresham to leaders of the People's party which indicate an intention on his part of supporting the candidates of that party. His determination to affiliate with the Democrats must have been reached subsequent to the writing of those letters. "I see it stated that the action of Judge

Gresham does not surprise many who know him on account of his convictions in favor of 'tariff reform.' Now, when did the Judge become a convert to the vague propositions of 'tariff reform?' Certainly not so long ago, as in 1888, when he of 'tariff reform?' Certainly not so long ago, as in 1888, when he was fairly crazed with his desire for the Republican nomination for the Presidency. At any time during these four years he could have formally announced himself on the question of the tariff if he had experienced any radical change of heart, but he has chosen to remain silent until the arrival of that time when the publication of his intention would have the greatest power to injure the would have the greatest power to injure the political prospects of the man who was the insurmountable obstacle in his way for the nomination in 1888. If, therefore, the re-port in regard to the action of Judge Gresham be true, I am fully convinced that his conversion to the Democratic party is not the result of his wrestling with and receiving new light on the tariff problem, but that his inspiration is wholly due to his desire, for purely personal and spiteful reasons, to compass the defeat of Harrison." Veterans Stranded at the Capital.

It is to be regretted that a meeting so grand in all respects and so successfully managed as that of the Grand Army should have an aftermath of vagrancy, but that is the fact. The last of the visitors who can get away have departed, but there remain hundreds of the old soldiers who were im-provident, or who made a wide miscalcula-tion of the amount necessary to put them through their visit and get them safely home. Many of these old boys in blue have been succored in one way or another, but appeals for assistance are still being made for them in the local press. It is in-sisted that the committee in charge of the entertainment might well devote some of the surplus cash left from the encampment fund to sending home these stranded peo-

It is said that there is, or that there should be, a large surplus, but as no statement has been given out by the Finance Committee up to this time, the assertion cannot be verified. It is expected that as soon as the returns are all in from the auction sales of old material the committee will give to the public of Washington, which was taxed $90,000 for the affair and which subscribed $50,000 more, an itemized statement of receipts and expenditures. It will be interesting to the people of the whole country to learn the exact cost of free lodgings, entertainment, decoration, etc.

Mrs. Harrison Again Falling. It is said that there is, or that there

Mrs. Harrison Again Failing. The physicians of the White House again report symptoms more unfavorable in the case of Mrs. Harrison, and if the change case of Mrs. Harrison, and if the change continues for the worse for a day or two it is feared the patient will not be able to withstand the attacks of her disease. The Star this evening says that all hope of recovery is abandoned. "To assuage her pain," says that paper, "and to make her declining days as comfortable and as cheery as possible is all that medical science or the tender care of beloved ones can hope to do for her. How long the life about which the sympathies of this great nation have been for her. How long the life about which the sympathies of this great nation have been so touchingly manifested may be prolonged is a question none may answer. That the President and family are, firmly convinced of this is beat shown by the anxiety they make no attempt to hide, for on every face, especially that of the President, the terrible strain of the past five weeks, the loss of sleep and days of anxious watching are plainly evident." plainly evident"

TWO THOUSAND STUDENTS.

The University of Pennsylvania Begins Its Session With a Full House.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—To-day the University of Pennsylvania began its 142d annual session, with 2,000 students present. The freshman class is the largest in the history of the institution, numbering over 700 men, of which the college department has 180 and the medical about 30.

Among the new features of the University this year are the graduate department for women, which opens with 30 students, and School of American History and the Laboratory of Psychology, which has been reorganized and enlarged.

SURPRISED AT MR. SMITH.

Mr. Haberkorn and His Wife Say He Gave His Consent to the Marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Emil Haberkorn held a re ception yesterday afternoon in honor of their recent wedding at their home, No. 228 Dinwiddie street. Quite a large circle of musical and literary friends were present. Mrs. Haberkorn looked very charming in Mrs. Haberkorn looked very charming in a pink dress, and the bridegroom's appearance has improved since his illness during the summer. Both Mr. and Mrs. Haberkorn were much surprised at Mr. Smith's statement that he had not given his consent to his daughter's marriage. They maintained that Mr. Smith willingly and unconditionally had approved of the marriage, and it was not until Saturday that he changed his mind. He did not so inform Mr. Haberkorn person-Saturday that he changed his mind. He did not so inform Mr. Haberkorn personally, but simply bade Mrs. Haberkorn, then Miss Emma Foster Smith, to leave the parental roof, which she did, and took up quarters with Mrs. Fletcher, the sister of Mr. Haberkorn. This changed the young couple's plans, and precipitated the marriage. For the present they will make their home at their brother-in-law's house, 228 Dinwiddie street. Mrs. Haberkorn expects shortly to resume her literary work.

Flower Sticks to His Big Figures. BUFFALO, N. Y. Oct. 3.-Governor

Flower arrived in Buffalo to-night. In an interview he declared the Democrats would carry New York State by 50,000 majority and Grover Cleveland would be the next President.

Worth,

The Parisian Costumer, says:

"I consider the De Long Patent Hook and Eye the best I ever saw."

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS.

BELTZHOOVER BOROUGH,
ALLEGHENY COUNTY, PA.

TO CONTRACTORS—SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at the office of H.
Gollings & Son, corner of Beltzhoover avenue and South street, up till 12 o'clock noon OCTOBER 13, 1892, for the constructing of a double crock sewer 24 inches big each, on Murry avenue from Third street to Second street, down Second to Howard avenue, said streets situated in said borough. Plans, specifications and further information can be had at the above-named office. Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Notice, all hids will be rejected that are not in at the above specified time.

TEFFERSONVILLE, IND., OCTOBER 1,

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., OCTOBER 1, 1892—Scaled proposals, in triplicate, will be received here until 11 o'clock A. M. (Central standard time), TUESDAY, the 1st day of November, 1892, for furnishing at the Q. M. Depot here, 100,000 gallons of mineral oil, of 135° flash test, in cases of two five-gallon cans each. Government reserves right to of 135° flash test, in cases of two five-gallon cans each. Government reserves right to reject any or all proposals, and to accept the whole quantity, or any portion of the mineral oil bid for. All information furnished on application here. Envelopes containing proposals should be marked "Proposals for Mineral Oil," and addressed to COLONEL HENRY C. HODGES, Assistant Quartermaster General, U. S. Army, Depot Quartermaster.

HAT you can get a better Suit at your tailor's than you can buy of us. You can get a dearer one-not a better one. Being measured by your tailor does not add virtue to cloth or beauty to pattern. A Suit or Overcoat of ours, fitting you perfectly, is full as good evidence of a fit as your tailor's assurance that he can

The marks of perfect tailoring are so predominant in our clothing that the difference is never discovered that the garment was not made directly for you.

The difference is known to the wearer-and greatly appreciated, too-in the fact that the cost was one-third to one-half less than the order transaction would have cost.

Come to us for demonstra-

OPPOSITE CITY HALL. se27-rrssu

ESTABLISHED 1870.

BLACK GIN KIDNEYS,

Is a relief and sure cure to the Urinary Organs, Gravel and Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder.
The Swiss Stomseh Bitters
TRADE MARK. are a sure cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and every species of indirection. digestion.

Wild Cherry Tonic, the most popular preparation for cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and lung troubles.

Either of the above $1 per bottle, or $6 for $5. If your druggist does not handle these goods write to W.M. F. ZOELLER, sole M'Ir., Pittsburg, Pa.

TAILORING. Correct Fall Suitings and Overcoatings, H. & C. F. AHLERS, Merchant Tallors. 420 Smithfield st.

AT LATIMER'S.

PANNE Are a study this season, and nowhere else can they be studied better than here. Each and every pattern is a masterpiece. Rich in coloring, design and finish.

Bengaline Poplins enormous of the 80c, $1 and 42-inch $1.25 grades. We never before attempted to sell such qualities at these low prices. ALL-WOOL DRESS GOODS.

FINEST

QUALITIES.

rich novelties. The delicate, subdued, quiet colorings are in the lead-more stylish than ever. You know we sell cheapest, but to fasten it indelibly on your mind we offer a mammoth line of 75c and 8oc quali-

Stronger and yet stronger grow these staples in public favor. The Browns,

Navy and Myrtles are more popular. We have the most attractive assort-

Will be largely worn this Fall in fancy stripes, but more especially in the solid colors. Our sales are

Hundreds of pieces of new ties at 50c for one week only.

NOVELTIES. ment in the two cities at the price.

BLACK * SILKS

NOVELTIES.

Stylish ladies crowd our Silk Counters daily. The prices cause much activity. Changeable Silks are more popular than for years, and the sales of corded and striped and the shaded varieties are immense. Anticipating the great demand for these goods we placed orders double those of last season. There's no question about our prices being lower than any other house!

We invite the most critical inspection of our grand stock of New Fall Dress Goods, which, we believe, is the handsomest, and is not equaled anywhere at the prices.

T.M.LATIMER.

138-140 Federal St., - 45-46 S. Diamond,

ALLEGHENY, PA.