THE ROAD WILL COST $400,000.

It Will De the Longest in Pittsburg, if Not in the State.

WORK TO BE COMMENCED IMMEDIATELY

Plans for a new incline plane on the Southside have been about completed. It will take a few days to arrange the particulars, but enough has been done to in-sure the breaking of ground within about two weeks. The engineers yesterday determined upon the final route and the work will be pushed rapidly forward. All the rights of way have been secured so that no trouble is feared on this score. Much of the ground passed over by the line has been purchased by the company. There was a little hitch as to the passing over the Irishtown and Brownsville roads, but this is now thought to be practically settled. It will be the longest plane in or around Pittsburg, if not in the State, being 4,000 feet long, and will cost nearly $400,000. The rights of way alone cost about $90,000.

The new plane will begin a short distance from Josephine and Twenty-first streets and end on Arlington avenue at its highest point near Bleil's saloon. The Irishtown road is crossed about 150 feet from where it besids round the hill. It is intended to ross both this and the Brownsville roads y an overhead bridge.

Putting in Immense Engines. The engines used will be the largest of t ly used in the city for a like purpose esides affording motive power for the ight plant, to be run in connection with it, rhich will supply all the light needed for he surrounding hill towns. The road will he surrounding hill towns. The road will strike Arlington avenue at a place where there will be an easy descent to Beltzhoover, Allentown and Knoxville. This will be a great advantage to all the hill residents, as the cars will be so constructed as to take up a number of loaded wagons and horses at one time. Everything will be built on a gigantic scale. It is intended to be complete in every particular.

The project has been under consideration for some time, but was not actively agitated till about four months ago, when a charter till about four months ago, when a charter was secured, the rights of way optioned and a survey made. Joseph Keeling, Jr., of the Keeling Ridge Company, and James F. Grimes, of the Knoxville Land Improvement Company, are the only stockholders in this city, but Eastern capitalists are argely interested in the scheme. It will be known as the Park Incline Plane. The Seventh Southside Incline

One of the interested men in speaking of the project said last evening: "While this ill make the seventh incline plane of the outhside I feel sure there is a splendid pening for another. The trouble with all lose built heretofore is that they do not on up far enough and it is necessary climb a good portion of the hill fter reaching the upper station. For eams this makes it necessary to use as any horses as though there were no inst point on the hill, and two horses can and the largest load, as there will be a own grade to all points. Another point if avor of this scheme is that most for the traffic comes from about or bove Twenty-first street and can be readily with the second of the second to be a s night. It was intended to begin work bethis, but we have had some hard fight-g to get through, and wanted to make are of our ground. Another meeting will e held with our attorneys to-morrow morn-g, when our plans will be perfected, and vill go East to consult with our partners. are anxious to get to work, and I think rything will be ready to go shead within next 10 days."
