THE OUTLOOK IN IRON BRIGHT.

Fervid Speculation in Cotton is the Worst Feature Now.

FOREIGN TRAFFIC NOT SATISFACTORY

New York, Oct. 7.—R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, say: The first week of October shows more activity...

An Encouraging Iron Outlook. The iron industry is doing well. Notwithstanding the resumption of work by many establishments...

Perhaps the textile industries were never more prosperous than they are now, for while prices are remarkably low...

It is not a satisfactory symptom that the speculation in cotton is enormous, sales at this city amounting to 1,250,000 bales last week...

Business failures occurring throughout the country during the past seven days number 229, compared with 208 last week...

The Week in Wall Street. Broadstreet says: Speculative attention during the past week has been mainly absorbed by special movements...

The controlling feature of the situation seems to be that the influences which have restricted speculation and depressed prices are passing away...

The fact that the corn crop is now out of danger, and that current reports point to a much larger aggregate yield than has been hitherto indicated...
