FIVE CASES FROM ARMSTRONG.

Many Minor Criminal Cases Brought to a Speedy Conclusion.

THE NEWS OF THE COUNTY COURTS

Armstrong Company was well represented in the Supreme Court yesterday. Among the attorneys from Kittanning present were: Ex-Judge Neale, Orr Buffington, brother of Judge Buffington, of the United States District Court, C. S. Crawford, M. F. Leason, J. H. McCain and J. P. Colter. Five Armstrong Company cases were argued.

The first was that of Sarah A. Thomas against Phillip Miller, executor of Richard Elliott, deceased. It is an action on a note claimed to have been a forgery.

The next were the cross suits of the Poterie Gas Company against George Poterie, and George Poterie against the Poterie Gas Company. One is an appeal from the decree of the Armstrong county courts in refusing to grant a preliminary injunction, and the other was an appeal from a decree granting one. The suits grow out of Mr. Poterie cutting the connection between one of his wells and the company's

The deceased was a salesman for Frischkorn Bros. and they gave bim a note for $117, on which they claimed to have paid him various sums at different times. Mrs. Bair attempted to recover the whole amount and secured a verdict in the lower court.

The appeal of the defendants in the case of R. A. and E. E. Hileman against L. F. Kroh and Margaret S. Kroh, from the Common Pleas Court of Armstrong county, is an action on a mortgage.

The appeal of Peter S. Hay, executor of Elizabeth Wagner, deceased, against Evora N. Smith, was argued. It is claimed Mr. Hay in his report on the estate charged up creditors in his favor amounting to over $1,100, but failed to credit the estate with his indebtedness to it.

There was an argument in the case of Samuel T. Davis against the Baltimore and Ohio Railway, operating the Somerset and Cambria Railway, from the courts of Somer-set county. It is an action for damages received by Davis while in the employ of the

The appeals of James Carey, T. J. Work and E. Booth Todd, from Lawrence county, were argued. They were convicted of the charges of train wrecking in October, 1891, and sentenced to the Allegheny County

Workhouse for two months each,
An argument was made on the appeal of Withelmina Henkel, executrix of the estate of Jacob F. Schaefer, from the decree of the Beaver County Orphans' Court. Her bill of costs for settling the estate was objected to on the grounds that witnesses are not allowed fees or mileage for attending hearings before auditors and masters in the Orphans' Court.

WHAT EACH COUNTY WILL SHOW. Getting Up Biographles of the State's Distinguished Women.

CONSIDERABLE ENTHUSIASM AROUSED

Assistant World's Fair Commissione Richard W. Lowdon, of Philadelphia, arrived in Pittsburg yesterday. He has been making a tour of the State in order to assist the ladies' auxiliary committees in getting an exact idea of their work and to find 'out what they have already done or mean to do. In regard to his trip Mr. Lowdon said: "I have been traveling about for five weeks, and in that time I have visited the majority of counties. A great many committees seem in the dark as to what to do; howover, ladies now seem to be taking up the idea with great enthusiasm

"I must congratulate Allegheny county on the efficient work their committee has done. If they get everything in they will have a very remarkable showing. Their crystal temple, together with the represen-tation of the handiwork of Allegheny county's working women, some of which is extremely unique, will attract great attention in the Women's building. I am here to assist the ladies in any capacity I may be needed. The work has been so well arranged, however, that there does not seem to be a great deal that I can do. I am going with some of the members to interview manufacturers in order to determine what the business men will do in regard to Allegheny county's crystal room. We expect to be able to report our success at tomorrow's meeting of the committee. What are the women doing in other counties? So much that it would be hard to enumerate everything.

"In Beaver county the representative exhibit by the ladies will be a beaver modeled in a clay peculiar to the locality. In Greene county they are preparing a fine collection of wool from a farm owned and run woman and her husband have lived unual pily together, and this is supposed to have led her to kill herself. Gallagher is a variety actor and did a specialty act with his wife.

From Crawford women's seminary. the floral specimens, including over 800 specimens, and in addition to this a col-lection of the medicinal herbs of Crawford county, including 253 different specimens. From Warren county a complete collection of the wild flowers of that section will be put on exhibition. Venaugo county ought to attract attention. Its ladies have had made in paraffine a model of the Indian god made in paraffine a model of the Indian god with its accompanying hieroglyphics which is one of the curiosities of that county. A medallion head of Colonel Drake, of oil well fame, is to be constructed of the same material. Forest county is famous all over the country for its beautiful mosses and ferms. Some of its women botanists will prepare a collection of these. Others have ferreted out a bearskin rug tanned and prepared by a woman. The Eric county Isdies have had an excellent field for their labor, and have made excellent progress. A model of the block house in which General Anthony Wayne died, and a model of the ship Niagara, in which Commodore Perry won his victory on Lake Erie, are two very interesting exhibits > which presents the model of a loc cut from carbon, engine and tender all com-plete. In Northampton county there is the largest slate deposit in the United States. The ladies have hit on the novel idea of having a pedestal and vase made of the material. It was designed by a pupil of Miss Emily Sartam, of Philadelphia. The sisters of one of the large convents in Luzerne county will offer a magnificent set of embroidered vestments. The Harrisburg ladies are very proud of a carved table of hard wood constructed entirely by a woman. Clarion is to have a cabinet made of the woods of the county and carved by a number of hands. The ladies of your county tell me they are endeavoring to secure the loan of a fine sideboard, the carving entirely the work of one woman. It belongs to Mrs. Hepburn Johns, of Sewickley, and is said

Biographies of Famous Women "The counties have each been asked to furnish for the women's building a picture and brief biography of their most distinguished woman. Caveron county has announced Victoria C. Woodhull as its candidate for that honor; Nellie Bly (Miss Eliza-Cochrane), from Armstrong county; Re-becca Harding Davis, from Washington county and Grace Greenwood (Mrs. Lippen-cott,) from Beaver county. The women's exchanges are to be well represented. I am told your own exchange has been so fortunate as to secure one of the most desirable locations in the building. ## BUILDING A NEW BOAD.

San Francisco People Want a Shorte Water Route to New York. H. S. Harrison, owner of the San Francisco Hotel Gazette, was in the city yesterday. He went to California in 1857, and ever since has made it a rule to visit his old bome in Springfield, Mass., every two years. He is on his way there now. Mr. Harrison states that California will give the Republican party a good majority, as the Republican party a good majority, as usual.

He says the people of San Francisco are in dead earnest about building a road to Ogden to compete with the Southern Pacific. The latter line has gouged business men on the coast about as long as they will stand it. Senator Stanford and other Southern Pacific men realize that there is too much money behind the new project, and they will not try to block the deal. The survey of the new road was completed a month ago, and work will be commenced shortly. Mr. Harrison says $100,000,000 can be raised, if necessary, to build it. All the stock has been taken. The people are determined to be no longer at the mercy of one transcontinental line.

A great deal of freight is being shipped from the Pacific coast to New York in Clipper steamers going vis Cape Horn. Mr. Harrison added that the people in California, rich and poor alike, are willing to contribute something toward the Nicaragua canal scheme. It is estimated that if this channel was cut through that vessels could make the trip from San Francisco to New York in 14 days.

The story is the masterpiece of the long series of successful works by this noted authoress. It will at once take rank above her "Molly Bawn," "Phyllis," "A Born Coquette," "Airy Fairy Lilian," "Doris," "Mrs. Geoffrey," "Rossmoyne," "Faith and Unfaith," "A Week's Amusement," "Portia," "A Little Rebel," "Lady Branksmere," "Lady Patty," etc., etc. The new story is entitled

LADY VERNER'S FLIGHT.

For a long time "The Duchess" has occupied first place in the hearts of all lovers of high class fiction. As every body now knows "The Duchess" is Mrs. Hungerford, but that wasn't learned in a day. She kept her identity concealed for many years. Meanwhile her books were selling fast on both sides of the Atlantic. She was impersonated by unscrupulous impostors. It was asserted and then denied that she was an American; then followed the statement that she was an Englishwoman. It is now known that Mrs. Hungerford is Irish, with more than an ordinary proportion of wit and imagination. Her "Wild Irish Girls," it has been remarked, are capital company. The books by Mrs. Hungerford owe their popularity to their freshness, brightness, lightness and other pleasureable characteristics, all of which are combined in the highest degree in

LADY VERNER'S FLIGHT.

The new story is a light, airy romance; the style is sprightly, unaffected and energetic; the plot contains just that amount of complexity to make its gradual development delightful; and the characters—particularly the women—are drawn with that mixture of realism and idealism which the great majority of readers prefer to the cold, hard matter-of-fact methods adopted by some writers of eminence.

LADY VERNER'S FLIGHT

Will reveal Mrs. Hungerford's powers to great advantage. The heroinealways the most interesting character in a story-is at once brought before the reader, and curiosity is aroused in her surroundings, ambitions, hopes and fears. The course of the story will reveal many un-expected surprises and situations, and a powerful novel of modern life will be perused to the last page with breathless interest.
