THE FIRE RECORD.

Reynolds, N. Dak.—A bank and a hard-ware store were burned at Cummings. The fire is still raging and the town is threat-ened. Reports are meager.

McKeesport, Pa.—A big new harn and other outbuildings, on the farm of Chris Liebrem, are a total loss. One valuable horse, two cowsend a caif, bay, grain and farm wagons and machinery were also burned. Loss over $2,000.

Cadiz, O .- The Arcade Hotel, at Cadiz, was again fired by incendiaries, Sunday night, but the building was saved with $3,000 damage. The hotel stables were burned by firebugs two months ago, with a loss of $4,000, and six days ago a fire and explosion wrecked one wing of the hotel.

A RATTLING FINISH.

Our Sluggers Defeat the Heroes of Cleveland in the Ninth Inning. Those pennant winners from Cleveland are a lot of very hard losers. They came to the city yesterday with considerable glory behind them and doubtless went to Exposition Park with the notion that they had nothing to do but win a game. For a time they looked a little more like winners than the local team entirely be cause Umpire Gaftney gave them the best of two very close decisions.

Had these decisions been given on the same principle on which almost all decisions are given the score at the end of the game should have been 2 to 1 in favor of the home team. But Mr. Gaffney rendered a decision in the fourth inning that beyond all doubt was fair, and beyond that it was a case fully 50 per cent clearer in favor of the base runner than a case he had decided in favor of Me-Kean in the sixth inning, and the visitors made a tremendous howl.

They Saw Some Fine Sport. There were about 1,400 people present and the weather was fine. A more inter-esting baseball contest could not have been esting baseball contest could not have been witnessed than that of yesterday, and the spectators will be talking about it to-day. For five innings it was one of the toughest arguments that has been seen on the home grounds. Baldwin and "Farmer" Young were the pitchers, and they were both out for blood. At the end of the fifth the score stood 2 to 1 in favor of the home team. The sixth inning came round and after two men were out McKean knocked a bounding grounder to

Kean knocked a bounding grounder to Miller. The latter fielded the ball splendidly and though McKean was out at first just as sure as ever man was thrown out, Gaffney declared McKean safe and there was a scene. Baldwin's arm had been hurt by a hit ball from Davis' bat and after Me Kean had been declared safe Tebeau made a single and McAleerfollowed with a triple, scoring the two runs. This caused a bitter feeling against Gaffney.

In the eighth inning Mack led off and knocked a little hit toward Young. The latter couldn't reach the ball readily and as sure as sunlight Mack reached first before Young got the ball there, but the umpire called him out. There were two safe hits in the inning after that and certainly Mack would have scored. Bad Decisions That Tickled Them.

Amid all this unsatisfactory work the Clevelands were shaking hands with themselves, but when in the ninth inning Mr. Gaffney declared Bierbauer safe at first and two runs tallied, they yelled all kinds of Bierbauer was safer on the bag than what McKean was, and there is no doubt about it, and had Umpire Gaffney decided otherwise there would have been conclusive reason for saying that he has been and is partial to the Cleveland Club. This charge has been made often. Most certainly the Cleveland players are hard and noisy losers whatever other good qualities they may have.

Both Young and Baldwin pitched great ball, and were both well supported. In the first inning Donovan got his base on balls and scored on a sacrifice each by Farrell and Van Haltren and a single by Miller. In the fourth Van Haltren made single and reached third on a fumble by

O'Connor and scored on Miller's sacrifice In the second half of the mning McKean made a triple to right center and scored on McAleer's sacrifice. In the sixth, after two men were out, as above stated, McKean sent a grounder to Miller and was declared safe. Tebrau made a single and McAleer's triple to right scored the two runs. It Was a Glorious Inning.

The ninth inning came and Van Haltren led off. He reached first on a glaring muffed fly by McAleer. Miller was hit by s pitched ball and each man was advanced a base on Beckley's sacrifice. Smith got his base on balls filling the bases and there was tremendous excitement. Mack went our on a foul fly to Zimmer, and Bierbauer sent a hot one to McKean. The latter couldn't handle the ball in time to throw Bierbauer out at first. It was a tolerably close thing and Umpire Gaffney called the runner safe. He couldn't fairly have done anything else. Two runs scored and the visitors were all in a bunch in the infield, and Smith reach third and Bierbauer second. After the kicking was over Baldwin made a home run to left field and Donovan got his base Farrell made a single, and a fumble by Burkett sent Donovan home and Farrell to second. Van Haltren made a single to right and was thrown out at sec-

CHICAGO, Oct. 10 .- In a suit to recover $2,500 from the Pittsburg Club for services, Burns, the baseball player, filed a novel answer in court to-day to the plea of the club that he negligently, carelessly and imchib that he negligently, carclessy and im-properly performed the duties as manager, captain and third baseman for the club. Burns' answer says that he always acted with reasonable skill and ability in accord-ance with the rules of the club, but that he did not agree that he was competent to per-form the duties.

The Diamond. PATSY TEBEAU and his pals are very bad losers. THE Glasscock deal is entirely off. So say the To-DAY's local game is likely to be a lively one if all goes well.

THOSE Cleveland fellows are a great team and no mistake about it. If Brooklyn would only lose when our sluggers win we would be all right. "FARMER" Young nearly fell in a fit when BALDWIN really was in great form yesterday, and kept his nerve wonderfully.

AD. GUMBERT is not with the Chicago club on this trip. He is nursing a sore side.

ANSON will leave on an extended hunting trip through lows at the close of the season. IF our sluggers can beat the Clevelands to-day they, the former, will have won the series for the

EVERY member of the local team turned a somer-sault or tried to do so yesterday when Baldwin made that home run.

ONE more victory for the Clevelands and on more defeat for the Bostons will give the forme the pennant for the second season.

THERE will be quite an argument to-day for po-sition between the Brooklyns and the local team. Each lot have tough people to face. PITTSBURG'S total gate receipts at home up to decoher I. were $67,000. The grand stand paid $8,000. Over $30,000 was paid to visiting clubs. The club received $14,000 from visitors.

MANAGER-CAPTAIN PFEFFER expresses his perfect willingness to resign. "When the place was offered to me." he said, "I accepted it, as almost any ambigous player would have done. At all times I have worked untiringly for the club's good, and if I am deposed I shall have the satisfaction of knowing that I have done my best."

WHEN Manager Wright was asked if he had re-leased his players he answered smillingly: "No, not yet, but they are no better than any of the others, and it may come later. There has been no money in baseball this year, and it is hard to figure how to pay $5,000 salaries, when we get but $62 and $45 as our share of the receipts from games, as has happened to us lately."

Boston must be afraid of Cleveland, as the following from the Globe would indicate: "The league are always doing some unpopular act, and no matter how strong the public rebukes them they persist in being stubborn. Their voting in favor of an extra Boston-Cleveland series, while it has no bludding force in league law, and was simply an expression of individual opinion, is a fresh llustratration of their stupid persistency in doing the wrong thing.

REDUCTION OF 25 PER CENT.

Inducements That Railways Offer Visitors to the World's Fair.

At the meetings of general passenger agents of railway companies controlling the avenues of travel to Chicago from the East and South, recently held at Chicago. New York, Saratoga and Cincinnati, the subject of World's Fair rates for 1893 was fully discussed. With one exception, it was decided to sell round trip and one way tickets daily for all points beyond a radius of 100 miles of Chicago, good from May 1 to Octo-ber 1. The reduction on both kinds of tickets will be 25 per cent less than the regular tariff for first-class limited tickets. Unlimited tickets will stand at tariff, but top over will be allowed on limited tickets sold at regular tariff rates. Passengers can buy tickets to Chicago on one road and return on another, if they choose. The rates for one way tickets from Chicago will be one-half the rates to Chicago and return. This is done to encourage travel to other points. The rate between Pittsburg and Chicago will be one way tickets $9 00, round trip $18. The present unlimited rate is $14 and the limited $12.

A MYSTERY STILL

The Death of Ackeler Is Considered Peculiar by the Coroner. The Coroner is still at work on the case Ackeler, who was found in the Allegheny river Saturday. Yesterday Michael Flory and George Bolshus, of Allegheny, told Coroner McDowell that they knew him. They were not sure as to his first name, it being either James or Joseph.

These men last saw him about two weeks ago. He then had his peddling outfit with him. From then until Saturday they have known nothing of him. The Coroner thinks there is something peculiar about the death. There were no marks of any kind on his body, but the fact that his pack was gone is strange.

Only One Favorite Lands in First on the Morris Park Track.

BANQUET WAS THE LUCKY RUNNER

Important Trotting Races and Good Time at the Lexington Meeting.

GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY MORRIS PARK RACE TRACK, Oct. 10.-The last week's racing of the so-called legitimate season was inaugurated with fair weather and 5,000 spectators. Only one favorite, Banquet, won and the plungers were pretty well cleaned out. The Champagne stakes, for which Runyon was an odds on favorite, was won by the Annie F. colt. He made the running from start to finish and won in a gallop with post odds of 20 and 25 to 1 against him. His owners, Gideon and Daly did not fancy him. They were thoroughly disgusted at letting the colt win without their usual heavy Fred Taral was plunged on to win the fifth, but Lyceum outfooted him in the closing furlong and won in a hustling finish. The struggle for the last race was one of the best of the meeting, Gascon 3 to 1 winning by a neck, with Sirocco 5 to 1, Addie 3 to 1 and Carmen colt 5 to 2 only heads and necks away. Summaries:

A PENNSYLVANIA LAUREL

New Record Made at Lexington by a Colt From This State. LEXINGTON, Oct. 10.-This was a great day at Lexington. There was a big crowd and the racing was exciting. All finishes were close, compelling the winners to go their level best for their money. Expectation was highest for the third event, the Transylvania $5,000. A Massachusetts horse Kremlin, of the Allen farm, Pittsfield, Mass. ook the prize in straight heats in neck and him down with never a break in the three miles. Kremiin had a record of 2:11% and so had Walter E, but the best previous record among the 13 entries in this contest was 2:10½ held by Little Albert. Kremlin's best ime in the race was only a quarter of a time in the race was only a quarter of a second under his record.

But the unexpected and the really great event of the day was the breaking of the 2-year-old race record by one second in the second heat of the second race by William Penn. Time 2:18%. Here is a laurel for Pennsylvania, for the plucky bay colt comes from the Phonix farm, Phonixville, Pa. Kindig was his driver.

In the big race, one wheel of Little Albert's byke went down. The driver was not thrown. The track was never faster and these trots have the biggest fields and make the best time in the history of trotting in Lexington.

TROTTERS AT INDEPENDENCE. A Long Fall Meeting Opens and the Pros pects Are Good. INDEPENDENCE, Oct. 10 .- The four weeks' meeting opened to-day with good weather and large fields in the two events on the card. Attendance was made mostly of the trainers, drivers and breeders. The horses quartered at Rush Park greatly exceed those in attendance at any previous meeting, and while the time may not be phenomenal as that of the August meeting, the large entries in each class promise a horse race in every heat.

The 2:30 trot, with 35 entries and 15 starters, was the class called to open the meet, and though they had to beat down a breeze from the west they made exceptionally good time. Haddee B won the first heat, and then Peduro came in for next two, but in the next heat he made a bad break on the home stretch and lost his chances of the race. Equinox took this and the remaining two heats handlip. Summary: those in attendance at any previous meet

The other event, the 3:00 pace, showed up with 13 starters and furnished good sport. P. T. Barnum took the race in straight heats after Trump and Dr. Christy had a heat aplece to their credit. 3:00 pace—

In making the challenge Reagan said: "I want to run McClelland one mile for $250 a side. I will run him either in Pittsburg or here, give or take expenses. I will leave the deposit up two weeks for him." GIBBONS TOO SICK TO FIGHT. Jackson Says He Is Most Anxious to Meet Corbett in the Ring.

[BY CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.] LONDON, Oct. 10.—Early this afternoon it became known that Austin Gibbons was so sick that it was almost impossible for him to fight Stanton Abbott at the National Sporting Club for a purse of £500 and the middleweight championship. Consequently he paid the forfest. Abbott finding that Gibbons was free. paid the forfeit. Abbott finding that Gibbons was five pounds over the stipulated weight 130 pounds, offered to walve the weight, but Gibbons still refused.

Abbott then offerred him £150 of the purse, but the American was obdurate. Baxter then replaced Gibbons, so as not to disappoint the crowd, and beat Abbott in the tenth round. Peter Jackson made a speech, saying that the ambition of his life was to meet Corbett, and that he was ready to accept the National Sporting Club's offer of $15,000 and $5.000 stake. SELECTING SITES TO-DAY.

Chief Bigelow to Locate the Columbus
Grove and Italian Monument.

To-day Chief Bigelow will visit Schenley Park to select sites for the Columbus grove and the Italian monument. Yesterday a resolution was passed in Councils giving the united Italian societies of the city the right to erect a monument to Columbus in Schenley Park on the anniversary of his discovery of America.

The resolution as submitted to Councils did not specify what sort of a monument would be erected. To make sure that none but a proper statue would be raised, it was ed by making it necessary to have Chief Bigelow's approval before the monu-ment could be built. This will not prevent the united Italians from going ahead with their demonstration. It was arranged that on Columbus day the foundations could be laid. This was all the donors wanted.

Hoyt is chiefly known still as the writer of farces-plays that are built upon a pattern patented by their author and more successful than any other form of contemporary drama. But he has in the last two or three years shown that he is ambitious to figure as a playwright of great dignity, and "A Midnight Bell" and "A Texas Steer," es-pecially the former, contained serious interest and character and plot far more carefully drawn than any of their farcical predecessors had boasted. But "A Midnight Bell" was not exactly in tune, and "A Texas Steer" ran backwards sometimes; Mr. Hoyt seemed hardly sure of his legs on the high seas of legitimate comedy. But he evidently did not despair, for last night at the Duquesne Theater he exhibited a better work, as it seems after but one faulty rendering, than anything he has yet done. The play is called "A Temperance Town" it is a matter of superstition with Mr. Hoyt, apparently, to use the indefinite article "a" for the initial word of all his titles. He can afford to be superstitious. "A Temperance Town," the programme informs us, "a more or less truthful preentation of certain phases and incidents of life, relating to the sale and use of liquor, in a small village, in a prohibition State."

The description is more truthful than most programme guide-posts are. The treatment of much of the life is really faithful, and though a rich wash of humor covers the picture, many of the characters are true to nature, to Vermont nature especially. The plot of the play is not deep nor of much importance in reality. A clergyman and a collection of cold water cranks are pursuing a crusade against liquor in the village. The daughter of the clergyman tries to give the saloon keeper a tip of the threatened raid, and does actually minister to the rumseller's sick child. Her clerical father discovers her sympathetic action and turns her out of doors on Thanksgiving Day. She falls on the snow outside the church in which her father is denouncing the drinking man as a neartless brute, and the town drunkard covers her with his and the town drunkard covers her with his coat and then carries her home. The contrast between practical and impractical humanity is sharp, of course, and the morality, if a trifle shaky, is not devoid of real value. The curse of any sort of cranktyranny is pictured in clear colors; and the hypocritical reformer is lashed without mercy. This will be fully appreciated in Pittsburg, and the enthusiastic applause of last night's audience showed that the play appealed strongly to local sympathies. The performance began at 10 minutes to 9 owing to the train bringing the company being late. The play was well acted on the whole, though some of the cast are far above their fellows. The work of George Ober, first as the oldest inwork of George Ober, first as the oldest in-habitant and then as the judge, was excel-lent. Better character acting has not been seen here for years. His senile song "I feel as young as I used to be" was framed in a wealth of graphic expression and by play, all illustrative of a chipper old age. George Richards was almost as clever as "Mink," the town drunkard, and Eugene Canfield was as grotesque as ever in one of and Miss Evelyn Proctor was clever in a light role. All the play was applauded loudly.

The Alvin Theater.

That a good play can stand repetition was again proved at the Alvin last night, when Joseph Murphy appeared in "Shaun Rue." The play is well known here and no detailed comment is necessary. Larry Dono van's part was acted by Mr. Murphy with his usual artistic skill and carefulness. The sincerity with which his work is stamped is not only characteristic of him alone, but extends to his whole company. Miss Belle Melville is very forcible as Kate Donavan, and Mr. F. De Vere looks the picture of honesty and manliness in General Cavanaugh's role. Some clever work was done by Mr. Sheehan as Lawyer Waddy, and Miss Ella Baker's true representation of the orphan boy Jim won her deserved applause. It was gratifying to notice that the scenery had not been neglected, but was nearly new all way through. A big house was present and not sparing in its manifestation of ap day matinee. The house was closed last night on account of the "Bulls and Bears" Company disbanding in Baltimore last Saturday night. The Specialty Company is said to be a very strong one, comprising some of the best people on the vaudeville stage. Among them are Napier and Margeelo, grotesque bars; Sheridan and Forrest, skeich artists; Emelie Peare, vocalist; Cain and Orondorff, black face comedians; Lloyd sis-ters, song and dance; John Sheehan, parody singer; Hamilton and Glynn, musical ar-tists, and Frank Reto, contortionist. Scats are now on sale at box office.

The Academy of Music.

Gus Hill never travels about the country with what the public calls a "bad show." He has always something good and attractive and this week he has a really good lot of performers at the Academy of Music. His "World of Novelties" is something worth the while of anybody's seeing. Last evening the house was crowded with an enthusiastic audience and they had any number of opportunities to cheer and laugh.

Leonard and Flinn are extremely funny Irish comedians and Baggeson, the "human corkserew," is certainly what he is claimed to be: "an anatomical puzzle." He is wonderful. John and Harry Dillon, John R. Harty. Bryant and Saville, Marion and Bell, and Estelle Wellington were all heartily anniqued. Van thusiastic audience and they had any num ington were all heartily applauded. Van Leer and Barton are very droll representatives of the colored race, and Harris and Walters are passable as vocalists and com-edians. Of course Gus Hill swings his clubs as well as ever. A one act comedy, "A School for Scandal," concludes the entertainment. It is, indeed, an attractive show all through.

The Harris Theater.

One of the best shows seen at the above house this season was yesterday greeted cordially by two of the largest audiences "The Kid" is a remarkably good farce comedy, and the company is not only a large one, but there are a number of very clever people, particularly Ed Chrissie and Dottie Pine, the soubrette. A number of genuine novelties are introduced in the elevated railroad station scene.

World's Museum Theater. Those who like lots of breezy Western sensationalism in a drama will enjoy "The Ranch King," which was put on with a good deal of cleverness at this house yesterday. Large audiences appreciated the acting of Miss Louise Agnott and Joseph D. and having among its members such clever performers as the Austius, in their classi-cal groups; Wood and Beasley, musical artists, and the McAvoys' sketch team, naturally won a great deal of applause. At both evening and afternoon performances the house was crowded. THE WEATHER. For Western Pennsylvania Ohio and West Virginia: Generally Fair; Warmer; South Winds.
