DOCTRINES OF THE COVENANTERS.

He Would Not Discipline a Church Member for Open Communion.

NEWS FROM SEVERAL NEARBY TOWNS

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. NEW CASTLE, Oct. 12 -A tremendous sensation was created in religious circle here this evening, by the announcement that Rev. W. R. Laird, who for more than four years has been the pastor of the Covenanter, or Reformed Presbyterian Church, had resigned because he could no longe preach the doctrines promulgated by that creed.

THE DISPATCH correspondent called or Rev. Dr. Laird to-night and asked him for a statement of his position. He declared frankly that for some time he had been convinced that in certain positions the Covenanter Church is not in accord with the Scriptural rule, and when he was attending the Sunday School Convention at Lancaster he received an invitation to preach in the First Presbyterian Church at Chester. He accepted, and the congregation at West Chester being pleased with him, extended to him a unanimous call. It came like a godsend to Rev. Mr. Laird, who was even then persuaded that the doctrines of the Covenanter Church were wrong. He accepted the call and will leave with his family for West Chester late this week.

According to the rules of the Covenanter Church he will not be permitted to preach a farewell sermon, as atter a minister denies the faith he has already severed his connection with the denomination. Rev. Mr. Laird came here in May, 1888, and six months later was elected a trustee and director of the Covenanter College, Geneva, Beaver county, occupying that position until his resignation. He is widely known in the Eastern States as a profound theolo-gian. He did not notify his congregation until to-day and the intelligence tell like a thunderbolt

Members of his church give as the particular reason for his resignation the following: Some time ago Miss Selma Moffatt a member of the Covenanter Church, took communion in a regular Presbyterian Church, which is clearly against the Covenanter doctrine. A session of the latter church is about to sit on the case, and Rev. Mr. Laird, as the presiding officer, would be obliged to pronounce her guilty of a breach of discipline. This he is disinclined to do, as he does not believe in close communion. If he would refuse to discipline Miss Moffatt, then the Synod would have to discipline him. He gets out of it, they say, by resigning.

The Farmers' Alliance of Cambria County Opposed to Corporation Men.

JOHNSTOWN, Oct. 12.-[Special.]-The State Farmers' Alliance is in session here to-day. In the absence of Chairman Potts, of Indiana, John Wright, of Summer Hill, is Chairman. State Secretary E. H. Werner, of Somerset, is present and made a notable speech to-night on questions relating to agriculture.

While the organization is said to be nonpartisan, it is alleged that the members, as a rule, will vote for L. D. Woodruff for Congress. This is said to be because his opponent, J. D. Hicks, is classed as a corporation man, being an attorney for the Pennsylvania Railroad. As the Alliance has a strong following in Somerset county, it is thought the opposition to Hicks may defeat him even in that Republican stronghold.

He met with a railroad accident at Beaver some months ago, and has been considered crazy at times since then, SHENANDOAH-Michael McKee, aged 65, was instantly killed by being crushed between mine cars on the Kohinoor dirt bank, and Jeremiah Burns, aged 15, was horribly mangled at Ellangos colliery by falling into revolving machinery.

STRAIGHT STAGE TIPS.

THEATBICAL business is improving steadily. Last night standing room was at a pre-minm at the Alvin and Duquesne Theaters, and the other houses were well attended. THE main attraction next week at Harry Davis' Eden Musee will be Marquis, a won derful stallion with elongated mane and tail. The gypsies made such a hit that they are re-engaged for another week, and in the theater a big minstrel show is to appear.

MANAGER CHARLES L. DAVIS has torn himself away from his beloved Alvin, and is rehearsing for his tour in "Alvin Joslyh" at New York. He carries a good load of friendly wishes with him, and THE DISPATCH will advise Pittsburgers of Alvin Josiyn's ap-proach battimes proach betimes.

The arrangements for the monster benefit of the Press Club at the Duquesne Theater on Friday, November 18, are nearing com-pletion. No such elaborate programme has ever been laid out for a benefit in this city before. It will be the biggest theatrical feast of the season beyond a doubt.

"THE RANCH KING" is pleasing large audiences at the World's Museum-Theater. It has a really good cast, and the stage effects are startling. Next week the company will give "Myrtle Ferns," a melodrama in which a realistic water scene will occur, showing Mr. Chitton's mechanical working boat.

A NEW farce comedy called "A Railroad Ticket," which has been making some little noise elsewhere, is next week's attraction at the Grand Opera House. It is said to be a novelty all through. The principal scove is laid in a ticket broker's office, and the score of comedians in the piece are said to get a good deal of fun out of it. Special scenery and methorized efforts are promined and mechanical effects are promised.

AT Harris' Theater next week the popular character actor and comedian, Daniel A. Kelly, will appear in the sensational melodrama, "The Shadow Detective." Mr. Kelly assumes three different characters during the play, successively an Irish policeman, an Italian and a Yankee tarmer. The scenic effects are good, showing the full workings of block signal system. Miss Helen Desmond plays the heroine.

HENRY E. DIXEY is gradually slipping back into Adonis, and Pittsburg will be privileged. next week to see this graceful comedian in the intermediate stage. He will revive Audran's tuneful conic opera "The Mascot," which ran a long while this summer in New York, and, from the names of his principal supporters, it appears probable that it will be the best performance of "The Mascot" Pittsburg has seen in years.

Tury have a rule at Harris' Theater forbidding admission to barefooted boys. A few nights ago a newsy, whose feet were innocent of any covering, borrowed a chum's shoes and gaily ascended to the gallery. Once there he slipped out upon the fre-escape, and, taking off the shoes, dropped them to his obliging friend, who was walt-ing on the Fifth avenue pavement below. The shoes reached the ground safely, but scared the pedestrians badly among whom they fell. they fell.

SEVERAL years ago, before the Boston Ideals went out of existence, a dainty little singer, with a sweet and well- trained voice, made her debut on a Pittsburg stage in "Mignon," and scored a success. Later she "Mignon," and scored a success. Later she was one of the first Maid Marians Pittsburg saw in "Robin Hood" Since then we have lost sight of Juliette Corden, but she will be Bettina in Dixey's production of "The Mas-cot" next week at the Duquesne. NEW YORK, Oct. 12 .- This, the third day of the Columbus jubilation, was one of God's own making. The blue waters of the rivers are to-day bluer than ever in the the school with a handsome silk flag. Mr. Francis received the flag in behalf of softened sunlight that falls through the haze of autumn time. the school. The members of the council were present in a body. Music by the Superior Band concluded the exercises.

The first formality of the day ashore took place at 6:08 o'clock this morning. Then it was that at the Battery wall "Old Glory" was run up the great liberty pole, and it is safe to say that when 10 o'clock drew near, there was not a seat or standing room to be had anywhere on the route of the parade, in windows on roofs, on the stoops, lampposts, stands or elsewhere, where a human being could find perching room. Fabulous prices were paid for windows and balconies, in fact, only a millionaire, or person born un-der a most lucky star could aspire to a seat in the latter.

Leading the procession were 12 heralds. with 12 trumpets; and from the way each herald blew, each seemed to possess the wind of old Acolius.

Some Historic Scenes in the Parade. Farther down the line was a band of sunworshiping Toltees, and then a group of prehistoric Americans. Still beyond was a glimpse of Columbus with his hardy crew of mariners, gazing for the first time at the shores of the New World. It was a carnival, some say, greater and more magnificent than eyer shown by the famed Mardi Gras, of New Orleans, or the Veiled Prophet procession of St. Louis. In the procession were 18 great floats representing historical and mythical sub-jects, Cappa's Military Band following grander display of soldiery in line of march in times of peace than that which wound its way through the brilliantly, beautifully decorated thoroughfares of New York. The first division was made up of soldiers of the United States Army, in command of Colonel Loomis L. Langdon, U. S. A., the the United States Military Band, a battalion of cadets from the United States Military Academy at West Point, and batteries from the forts. This division numbered 3,500 men and six bands. The United States Naval Brigade, 1,200 strong, com-prised the second division. Then followed about 7,000 National Guards in the third division, and 8,000 G. A. R. men in the fourth division. Letter carriers, fire departments, volunteer firemen, Italiau and French military organizations, German-American societies, and independent organizations made up the other ten divisions.

The Columbus Monument Unvelled. Archbishop Corrigan blessed the Columbus monument and it was unveiled by Annie Barsotti, daughter of the President of the Columbus Monument Executive Committee.

It is probable that New York has never witnessed such a sight as the one presented about the line of march as the hour 10 A. M. for starting the parade drew near. There have been here several large parades and some immense crowds during the oast few years, notably those which gathered to see the parades incident to the centennial celebration of the inauguration of Washington, but they can hardly be compared with the crowds which gathered to-day. The people have learned by experience how to see a monster parade-how to build nountainous stands at the most convenient spots, and how and where to locate the tens t thousands of movable stands which are to be found at every street corner. In order to avoid disturbance of peace these cart stands, some of them accommodating nearly

EX-GOVERNOR BEAVER WILL JOIN

Pennsylvania German-Americans in Session at Bethlehem.

LEBANON, PA., Oct. 12 --- The second annual meeting of the Pennsylvania German Society was held here to-day. The annual report of the Secretary, F. R. Diffenderfer, showed the condition of the society to be very flourishing, with a membership of 1,400, comprising many of the foremost men of the State. Twenty-seven new members were proposed to-day, among them ex-Governor James A. Beaver. Among the letters of regret that were read at the morning session was one from Christopher Heydrick, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania,

Coke Trade Picking Up.

GREENSBURG, Oct. 12.-[Special.]-A new era of prosperity is coming to the coke region, particularly that part of it lying slong the Sewickley branch road. The mining town of United has been the first to show sign of renewed activity. For several months the coke ovens owned by the H. C. Frick Company have been closed down. Last evening 195 ovens at the Point were fired and more will be lighted up as soon as the necessary repairs can be made to the plant. Four hundred miners and coke drawers will be given work in this instance. At Mammoth the company has a force of men at work repairing and building ovens preparatory to firing up next week.

A Woman Solemnizes a Marriage.

WOOSTER, O., Oct. 12.-[Special.]-A novel wedding took place in Canal Fulton to-night. The contracting parties were J. Will King, a prominent young resident of Smithville, and Rev. Ellen Runkle, of Dalton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mrs. Mattie Mummaw. Both the bride and Rev. Mrs. Mummaw are regularly ordained ministers of the United Brethren Church, and were recently granted licenses permitting them to solemnize marriages. The wedding to-night was the first at which Mrs. Mummaw officiated.

Trying to End a Three-Years' Fight.

ZANESVILLE, Oct. 12 .- [Special.]-J. J. Rebman, of Knoxville, has been secured as Superintendent of the rolling mills of the Ohio Iron Company and an effort will be made to end the long conflict with the Amalgamated Association by starting the mill with non-union labor. The mill was shut down nearly three years ago, when the former employes joined the Association and the management refused to sign the scale.

A Cambria County Coal Deal.

JOHNSTOWN, Oct. 12 .- [Special.]-J. L. Mitchell, the well-known coal operator, has made a deal at Ebensburg by which he secures, the title to 1,100 acres of coal in this county. Most of the territory is in Adams township, and is said to be underlaid with coal veius from four to four and a half feet thick. The best of them are below water level and will be worked by shaft.

Two New Coal Railroads

JOHNSTOWN, Oct, 12 .- [Special.]-Negotiations are completed for extension of the South Fork branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad from Duulo to Scalp Level, and also for the building of a railroad from the Baltimore and Ohio at Foustwell to Ashtola, about 15 miles, so that the coming spring will see both roads in operation.

Tri-State Brevities.

Theater. It has been translated into Amer-ican by Rosenfeld, and is entitled "The Family Circle." The company gathered by Charles Frohman is undoubledly strong, and among other good actors in the east is W. H. Thompson, who was such a brilliant success in the Pitou company last year. "The Family Circles" had a run of 100 nights in Boston cud has mude a good deal of hunch. Boston and has made a good deal of laugher elsewhere,

WHEN "The Isle of Champagne" was here it will be remembered that a horse of singular decrepitude and decorated with straw champagne bottle envelopes was a feature of the finale in Act II. One night the boy who had charge of the steed tethered it to an had charge of the steed tethered it to an empty barrel and slipped through the stage door to get a peep at the show. The horse had enough life in it to scare at the discharge of a gun in the opera, and finding nothing heavier than a barrel to prevent its flight, started off on a starring tour then and there. No horse appeared on the Duquesse stage that night, but a trightful vision resembling something equine was seen flitting about the Point then and dawn. Next morning a policeman found the curiously ornamented animal on the river bank. This week they are using another travesty upon horse flesh in "A Temperance Town," but as yet it has kept to the beaten track as an actor. THE Armstrong European Novelty Com-pany came to Manager Wilt's rescue at the Grand Opera House yesterday. The doors were opened for the first time this week at the matinee. The Armstrong Company gives a performance which keeps to the beaten the matheet. The Armstrong Company gives a performance which keeps to the beaten track of vandeville, and is quite as good as the common run of variety entertainments. Hamilton and Glynn are a little better than the average musical comedians, that is they play better on the banjo and violin. They got a deserved encore for a clever duot. The King sisters' club swinging and dancing were good, if their slangy song was not. Miss Emilie Pearl sang with unusual power and feeling a couple of songs, the initer of them, "My Sweetheart's the Man in the Moon" being a sample of the modern popular song. The greater part of its air is stolen from "Comm' Thro' the Rye." The knockabout trapeze act of Basco and Roberts showed their agility, but was marred by vulgarity particulariy out of place before an audience composed largely of ladies. Other acts good in their way were Frank Riley's dancing. Reto's elastic movements on the silver pedestal ladder, John J. Sheehan's songs, the funny and dancing frolie of Harry Edwards and Daisy Kernell, and Ramia and Arno's gro-tesque work.

Thus many thousands of families were made happy to-day by the fact that the head of such leanny family hired a large wagon had such happy family hired a large wagon, had a large stand built upon it, stacked the body of it with plenty of refreshments and then invited his family and their most intimate friends to take part in the day's celebration.

Different Ways of Seeing the Sights.

The sight of these moving pyramids of seats rolling through the streets on the way to the position they were to occupy was one of the features of the morning. Everybody seemed happy even if they did have to pay a quarter for a 3-cent badge or invest 50 cents in the privilege of stand ing for an hour or so upon an overturned drygoods box, only to have it stolen from them in the long run and resold perhaps a dozen times during the course of the day. Fully 50,000 men, by the time the parade started, 10 A. M., were either on the march or ready to join the parade.

The Pennsylvania troops arrived here yesterday. They are a fine body of men; o much so that a French naval officer, who watched them march, was heard to exclaim: "Mon Dieu! If these are the mobiots, the citizen soldiers of America, what must the regular troops be like?"
