VERY SLOW RETURNS

From the Election Boards Will Be One Result of the New Law.

TWO DAYS TO COUNT THE VOTES.

The Ticket-Printing Contract Held Over for Another Day.

EXTRAVAGANT WASTE OF GOOD PAPER

Pennsylvanians who have been accustomed to knowing all about the result of the election within a few hours after the polls close, will find it quite a different matter this year. They will be lucky if they learn how the State has gone, or even their own county, within two days after the election. There are some precincts in which it is expected two days will be required to count the votes. The Baker law with all its fine points is mystifying to the voter, but more so to the election officers. The latter are, as a rule, men of very ordinary intelligence, and it will be extremely difficult for them to comprehend their duties, which are three-fold more complicated than under the old law.

Even under the old law remarkable blunders were frequent. Cards of instruction will, of course, be sent to each polling place, but the legal phraseology in which they are couched will be hard for many of of the election officers to understand and their work will be slow and tiresome.

No Effort to Hold Back.

There will be no effort required as in the past to hold back the returns until after midnight of election day in order to secure an extra day's pay for services on the board. The Commissioners do not think the returns in this county will be delayed more than a day longer than heretofore except in a few districts, but they say it will take a full day to count the vote in nearly all. In the country where returns did not come in for two or three days under the old law it may be a week before they are heard from under the Baker law. At any rate the official figures on the election will not be definitely known for a week or more in the close legislative and Congressional districts.

Contrary to expectation the County Commissioners yesterday failed to award the contract for printing the tickets. The contract will be let to-morrow. In the meantime additional bids will be received. Several bidders put in proposals yesterday. What their reason for delaying the matter is the Commissioners will not tell until the contract is let to-morrow, but they say their explanation will be satisfactory to all concerned.

Want to Know, Don't You Know?

The Commissioners of a number of surrounding counties, including Lawrence, Butler, Greene and Fayette, visited those of this county to get pointers on the printing of the ballots. Incidentally they propounded a number of queries opening up some interesting points in the Baker law. The Fayette and Lawrence County Commissioners have about decided to disregard that section of the law which requires 50 per cent more tickets shall be printed than the registry list shows to be necessary in each district. They say they will rely on the judgment of their constituents to excuse them for disregarding this absurd feature of the law.

As the law stands, 75 tickets must be printed for every 50 voters in each district, or fractional part of 50. The tickets must be divided into two equal packages, one of which must be delivered to the judge of election in each district on the Saturday before election day, the Commissioners receiving the receipt of the Judge of Election for the package. The second package must be delivered to the same person on the Monday before the election. The second package shall not be opened, according to law, until the tickets in the first have all been used or voted.

A Great Want of Money.

Commissioner Mercer agrees that the provision is absurd, but says it is probably intended to prevent a district from being disfranchised in event of the first package being missent, lost or stolen. "But in a county like this, where the facilities for reaching every nook and corner are so ample, it seems like a waste of money," said Mr. Mercer. "Take the election district in which I live, for example. We have this year 385 registered voters. It has been about the same for years, but only once did we ever have 250 votes polled. Generally the number is 200 or less. According to this law we must provide 600 election tickets for that district. There must be 300 tickets in the first package. If we get out 200 votes this year we will be doing well, and making allowance for 50 or 75 spoiled tickets we will not need to open the second package at all. In a majority of districts the proportion of votes to the registered number is not nearly as large as ours and the surplus tickets will be even greater. In fact there are few districts where the second package need be opened."

Keeley Cure in Penitentiaries.

The National Executive Board of the Keeley League meets in Pittsburg, at the office of the National Secretary in the Ferguson block, on next Monday. Among other things a number of lecturers will be indorsed and the outline of bills to be presented to the Legislature of Pennsylvania and other States, with the object of securing the Keeley treatment for inebriety for jail and workhouse prisoners, will be drawn up.

A Minister Uses Whisky.

It is not so strange that ministers of the gospel use a stimulant when prescribed by reputable physicians, such as Klein's silver age and Duquesne rye whiskies. The physician who recommends them well knows their purity and age. Silver age sells at $1 50 per quart and Duquesne at $1 25. All other Pennsylvania rye whiskies six years old at $1 00 per quart, or six quarts for $5 00. Send for catalogue and price list to Max Klein, Allegheny, Pa.

From Rev. Dr. David McAllister.

You may remember that you put into my parlor over three years ago one of your Conover pianos and tested it side by side with one of the highest-priced instruments made. On the basis of that test I purchased the Conover piano. That decision has been fully justified by nearly four years' use of the instrument. The points which commend this piano to careful purchasers are these: 1. Its purity and sweetness of tone. 2. Its combination of power with sweetness. 3. Its fine mechanical adjustment of keys for ease and precision of execution. 4. Its capacity for remaining long in tune. Only an instrument of first-class make will stand this test. 5. The excellence of its frame, resisting even Pittsburg's and Allegheny's trying gas fires. This helps to account for the length of time it will remain in tune.
To Messrs. H. Kieber & Bro., 506 Wood street, Agents for Conover pianos.

"TID-BITS."

EXPOSITION. "Birds of a feather flock together." It is a noticeable fact that the Exposition is patronized by the best and most intelligent people of this and other cities. Intelligent people quickly appreciate the good things to be found at the Exposition.

EXPOSITION. "How well does the song of a passing bird represent the glad but transitory days of youth;" so it is with the Exposition; each day of gladness spent there reminds us that all too soon it will be past. Visit it while you can.

EXPOSITION. "An honest tale speeds best, being plainly told." We never deceive or mislead the public when speaking about the Exposition. Honesty is the best policy in everything; we want your patronage, but we also want your confidence; what we have to say is said plainly and honestly.

EXPOSITION. "Vanishing glories." The swan is said to sing the sweetest just before it expires. The Exposition grows more and more beautiful as the close of the season draws near. Slowly but surely the end is approaching.

(Something New To-Morrow.)

TWO GREAT DAYS.

Friday and Saturday, for Bargains in Men's Clothing at Our Store—P. C. C. C., Clothiers.

The men of Pittsburg and vicinity know us well. We cater continually to their tastes and one and all recognize us as the men's clothing house of this town. We don't bother with knick-knacks and small wear, but devote our entire attention to supplying the men with solid, serviceable clothing at lower prices than any other house. That's us. For to-day and to-morrow we will offer the best in the land in men's suits and overcoats and the prices are within the reach of all. Thousands of finest suits and overcoats at $7 50, $10 and $12. Not one in the lot worth less than $15 some as high as $25; but, during this great two days' sale, these three prices, $7 50, $10 and $12, will rule. We want all to know that our men's clothing is of the highest quality; it's only the price that's cheap. We will convince you if you call at our store to-day or to-morrow.
