HOPE IN HARD LUCK

Experience of a Non-Unionist in Homestead Told by a Friend.

HOW HE GOT INTO THE COUNTY JAIL

Deputies Prepared to Resist Interference With Workmen.

MORE HOMESTEADERS APPLY FOR WORK

James Harper, one of the non-union men at the Homestead mills, called at the county fail last night to extend a word of encoun agement to Thomas Hope, an engineer from the mill, who is held for court on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. It was too late to see Hope, but Harper promised to return this morning during visiting hours. Harper told this story about Hope's arrest: "I had no acquaintance with Hope previous to going to work in the mills,' said Harper, "but since being there I have found him to be a very pleasant, decent sort of a man. His arrest last Thursday night was an outrage. Hope was taking a drink in a saloon in Homestead when several men got round him and began to call him vile names and abuse him for working in the mill.

"Hope saw he was likely to get into trouble, and, after taking two drinks, was about to go out, when one of the men dared him to go out and fight in the back yard. He made no reply, but started for the front Hope Suddenly Became Unconscious "All at once his senses left him. He don't know whether he was struck on the head or his drink had been drugged, but the next thing poor Hope knew he was locked up in a cell without knowing how he got there. White in the lockup a Homestead man was put in, but not placed in a cell. Hope and two other men who were in cells were but in, our not packed to catch hold of them, threatening to wipe them out of existence. The borough officer, who seemed to be afraid of this fellow, finally came and let him go.

"Next morning Hope was taken before the 'Squire and fined $10 and costs, amounting to $17.40, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Constable Stewart went with him to get the money at the mill office. After it was paid the constable drew another warrant from his pocket and rearrested Hope for carrying concealed weapons. He was locked up again. At the hearing 'Squire officer held him for court. Now he is in jail, and they say he'll have to stay there until the grand jury meets in December or January. The man is a stranger here, and the only way he can get free is for the firm to go his bail. Under the circumstances they ought to do it. I mean to lay the case they ought to do it. I mean to lay the case before Superintendent Potter myself to morrow, and if he won't act I'll get some of How Hope Was Fooled. Harper insists that the officers tricked Hope into paying his fine so they could get their fees out of him before sending him to their fees out of him before sending him to jail on the other charge. Hope did have a revolver in his pocket when arrested, but Harper declares it was not out of his pocket until taken out by the arresting officer.

It was reported to Deputy Sheriff Ritchie yesterday that a concerted effort was to be made this morning to prevent a number of non-union workers who live at Gehringtown going to work. To prevent this a force of deputies will be on hand at 50 clock, and any crowd which may assemble will be promptly dispersed.

Two more Homestead men applied for work yesterday morning at the mill, one of them being a heater. They were told that there was no work for them.

there was no work for them.

Mr. David Lynch during Saturday's meeting stated that he had been repeatedly offered back, not alone his former, but better positions. The mill management emphatically denies ever having made such offers. the streets, mixing with the streets, mixing with the streets, mixing with the strikers. This leads the deputies to believe that no further violence may be looked for during the continuance of the lockout.

Stole Once Too Often.

George Harris, who was placed in the Alle gheny lockup Saturday, charged with the larceny of a coat from the Pittsburg and Western depot, had $136 in cash on his person when arrested. The officials of the depot have been missing packages from the depot for a long time and suspecting Harris set a trap for him by tying an old coat up in paper and placing it behind a looking glass, Harris tried to carry off the package, but was caught in the actand arrested.

Information Will Be Made. Henry White, John Stewart and T. H. Johnston are confined in the Fourteenth ward police station on a charge of disorderly conduct, but will have an imforma tion made against them this morning for assault and battery. They were fighting in Coltart Square, Oakland, last night and, when remonstrated with by a citizen, they assaulted him. They will have a hearing this morning.

THE BATTLE OF LIFE.

No Need to Despair if We Are On the Lord's Side and He Is Fighting for Us-The Beauties of Christian Grace-Trusting in the Cross.

Rev. Dr. Sutherland, of the Seco system of the course of his sermon he said: "The most im. Men's skill and strength are subject to eclipse and overthrow even when guided by intelligence. On all hands men are subtect to political everthrow, commercial dis-aster—to ruin of various kinds. What a book the faithful record of our victories and defeats would make! No wonder there should be listening ears when the hope is held out that life need not be a failure—that we need not be the toys of capricious for-we need not be the toys of capricious fortune.

"Many of you know the feeling of despair that comes when some leader—some supreme man who has been removed, perhaps suddenly, at a crisis when no human eye could see a successor apon whose shoulders his mantle might fittingly iall,
and I know of no single year in the history of the world or of the church in which so mar supreme men—men of exceptional powd and influence have been taken away that this present year. Great statesmen, great leaders of reform, social and moral, great poets, orators and preachers, men of mark, of wide-wide reputation have fallen
before the hand of the great reaper Death, and we feel the loss to ourselves and to the world. In narrow circles the same experience appears. How many families are filled with anxiety when the head, the stay is removed. The battle is not over but the leader is gone. Some of you know what this means, you know that words cannot be found to express the soul's sorrow in such a crises.

"In our troubles and anxieties how dark

"In our troubles and anxieties how dark things would look and do look when no light from God comes to us. What a difference it must make in the struggles of life to hear a must make in the struggles of life to hear a voice from heaven saying to us: The battle is not yours but God's. George McDonald, in his lecture on Hamlet, says of the overanxious Polonius that his theory of life would have been sound if the devil had been God. So, often our theory of life would be sound if there was no God. We do not take God into account enough in looking at the experiences of life.

"One of the most religious things, we can do is to let God come into our lives and control them. In public and in private affairs nothing so helps us as to believe that whoever is on God's side will in the end be brought off more than conqueror. One of the first things we usually ask about any question is 'Who and how many are in favor of it? If we think the thing, the cause, the idea has a majority we rest easy. But the idea has a majority we rest easy. But the fact is that God has started all the great movements in history by minorities—sometimes by very small minorities. The explanation of the peculiar history of the church can only be that the battle is God's outtle. All we need in order to be strong to noder a surrow to overgous obscales is to endure sorrow, to overcome obstacles, is to let God fight for us."

THE BEAUTIES OF DIVINE GRACE.

t Beams Upon the Christian's Heart Unti

the Band of Hope Expands. Rev. R. B. Mansell, D. D., pastor of the Fifth Avenue M. E. Church, preached yes-terday morning on the text, "But by the grace of God I am what I am." He said: "The transforming power of divine grace found an important witness in Saul of Tarsus. This scholarly and proud man was led to experience and profess the saving power of divine truth. Though he had been taught by Gamaliel, he was lea to acknowledge the infinite superiority of the Great Teacher. "Grace is a beautiful word which stands at the heart of our most sacred associations, and awakens our oldest and sweetest mem-ories. We call it unmerited favor, but the ories. We call it unmerited favor, but the richest favor is poor grace. Philology traces it back to the root expressive of joy, gladness, happiness. The Greeks had their graces, forms of ideal loveliness, shapes of such perfect beauty that the beholder ever possessed a perennial joy. So the infinite joy of the ever beautiful God works the wondrous glory which makes the vision of God the last heatitude of man.

"Grace is not a material substance and has no physical existence. It cannot be analyzed by the chemist, or examined under the microscope. It is beyond the range of natural sense, and yet its existence is averal as God. It can be known, felt and possessed by man. It is not a material but a spiritual agent.

"God's grace plants in the human soul that "God's grace plants in the human soul that inner happiness which translates itself into outer loveliness and as the inner sees the outer loy multiplied it grows fuller, deeper, higher, heavenlier. The subtle energy which exists in and flows from the material sun is invisible, and so is the grace of God. They only become visible when excited by contact with material objects. We know that there is a physical energy which is the cause and accompaniment of life in mater, and yet we can neither understand or explain its essence. We also know that there is a spiritual energy or grace which is the cause yet we can neither understand or explain its essence. We also know that there is a spiritual energy or grace which is the cause or accompaniment of divine life in the human soul which we can neither understand or explain. The philosophy is beyond our grasp, but the fact is patent. Just as the sunshine wooes the rose until response comes in its revealed exquisite beauty, so plays the sunshine of divine grace upon the responsive heart until the end of hope expands into the fruition of immortality. Grace tells of its presence by a throb of joy, a thrili of satisfaction, a sense of peace which pervades the soul, and which presents to the world a changed like as its necessary complement. God gives to our life the charm of His own, and causes the light of the heavenly world to shine down upon it. True Christians are in the world but yet not of the world. They live in the very fragrance of Paradise and have their conversations in heaver."

PUT YOUR TRUST IN THE CROSS.

When a New Venture Is Made Power and Wisdom Are Necessary for Success.

Rev. W. P. Turner, D. D., pastor of the Walton Methodist Church, vestefday preached from the text, "But We Preach Christ Crucified." Among other things he said: "The cross is central in the Bible and in Christianity. In pulpit ministrations the in Christianity. In pulpit ministrations the faults and true estimates of the cross are keenly felt. In the shadow of the cross we learn the evil nature of sin, the wonderful love of God and its attractive power.

"There is great confort in the thought that the power and wisdom of God are in the cross. Entering upon a new field of labor the thought is full of in-piration. In undertaking the work we desire to accomplish, wisdom and power are required—that wisdom and power may reside in the cross. Banish, therefore, all fear, be full of hope, and go forth strong in the grace that God supplies through his eternal Son."

HE ROBBED THE TILL How Peter Kelly Made Extra Money Of

His Employers. er Kelly, a 16-year-old boy, of Colum bus, O., is in the Allegheny lockup charged with larceny. He hasbeen employed for some time past as an assistant doorkeeper and ticket seller at the World's Museum, and since he has been there the proprietor from the money drawer. from the money drawer.

The boy was suspected, and marked tickets, nickels and dimes were placed in the drawer and young Kelly was soon eaught. He had a key to the money drawer, and at the close of each performance he would open the drawer and slip out half a dozen tickets and some small chance. He would sell the tickets to boys at a reduced price and keep the change. The marked tickets were watched for at the door and the boy who offered them was made to tell where he got them. In this way young Kelly was caught.

BOTH SENT TO THE WORKHOUSE.

Sentenced to Sixty Days.

John Millhouser and his wife were arrested Saturday night by Officer Coen. They live on South Twenty-seventh street, and have always been the source of much complaint from their neighbors. Last night when arrested they, with a number of others, had assembled in the house and were others, had assembled in the house and were indulging in a free fight. The officer, hearing the rumpus within, broke in the door, but succeeded in capturing only two. They were looked up in the Twenty-eighti ward polic station. When brought before Judge Succop Mrs. Milhouser said she had been to the workhouse several times for selling liquor without a license. They were both sent to that place for 60 days.
