An Episcopal Clergyman Making Specches for Cleveland.

HIS BISHOP DOES NOT LIKE IT,

And Dr. Painsford May Pe Disciplined, Even if He Ilas Always

BEEN CALLED A LAW UNTO HIMSELF

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, Oct. 17 .- Rev. George S. Rainsford, of St. George's Episcopal Church, is a man whose strikingly original ideas have many times attracted widespread attention. It is only a short time ago since that he startled his congregation one Sunday morning with a proposition to establish a barroom where the poorer members of his congregation and others could get their glass of ale, beer or light wine, without the demoralizing influences of the ordinary saloon, and, to add to their surprise, he said that he would favor keeping the proposed barroom open on Sunday, if the others of the city continued their practice of doing a "back door" business. He has now sprung another surprise in the form of taking the stump in support of the Democratic national ticket.

Among some denominations the engaging activity in politics of some of their ministers has been a frequent occurrence, but the Episcopalians never. It is against all the traditions and precepts of the church, and while there are isolated cases in local polities in which, where a question of morals of a com munity have been involved, Episcopal clergymen have taken an active part, Dr. Rainsford is said to be the first clergyman of that denomination who has taken the stump in a national election in the history of the church in this country.

Surprise of His Brother Preachers.

The dispatches published yesterday from Ridgefield, Conn., stating that Dr. Rainstord had addressed a large Democratic meeting at that point Saturday night, created great surprise among the Episcopal clergymen of this city and caused great re-joicing among the Democratic politicians. Speaking of the matter to-lay, a promi-nent Episcopal clergyman said: "Rainsford is a law unto himself, and I don't know that I ought to be surprised at anything he should do, but I never thought he would go this far." And a Democratic politician said: "It will do more than all the speeches Blaine could make it he spoke every day from now until election."

The dispatches quote Dr. Rainsford, in giving his reasons for supporting the Democratic ticket, as follows: "A tariff to foster special industries is wrong, and it needs large fortunes, which furnish funds that can be used in bribery, to continue its existence. There are thousands of honest Republicans, but thousands of immigrants, ignorant of any suffrage, and also many publicans, but thousands of immigrants, ignorant of any suffrage, and, alas, many venal Americans, and large campaign funds furnish temptation to bribe, which is immoral, and I, as a clergyman, must protest against any system that can build up a corruption fund. I also admire the Democratic candidate. I know personally that he gives no opinion until he studies a question thoroughly, and then he speaks truly."

The Preacher Pleases Democrats. Dr. Rainsford's congregation is one o the largest in New York, and is mainly composed of the laboring classes. He has always been prominent in doing everything in his power for the elevation of laboring men, and his influence with the laboring classes, in and out of his church, is very great. The Democrats believe that his sur port of Cleveland and tariff reform will in fluence thousands of votes among laborers, as his influence is of a very different sort from that of labor agitators and professional

"laboring men's friends."

Bishop Potter could not be found to give an expression on Dr. Rainsford's course, but a clergyman who knows the Bishop's views well, said that he was sure the Bishop would heartily disapprove of it, not on political grounds, but because of the impropriety of a clergyman of the church en-gaging in a political campaign.

There is a question as to whether or not Dr. Rainstord has not violated one of the canons of the church. Rev. Jacob S. Shipman, rector of Christ Church, in speaking of Dr. Rainsford's speech, said: "I think it is the sacred duty of every citizen, clergyman as well as laymen, to vote; but when it comes to a clergyman entering actively into a campaign, and making political speeches, I am most heartily opposed to it. I think their congregations will suffer from the effects of it, and I believe it will injure the church generally. As to Dr. Rains-ford's case, all consideration of politics aside, I think it a grievous mistake.

"I hardly think anything can be done by the Bishop toward disciplining him. There is a canou of the church that forbids a clergyman from engaging in a secular pur-suit of any sort, but I have my doubts whether Dr. Rainsford's act can be brought under that head, but I am sure that the teeling of the church, as a whole, will be decidedly against him."

Rev. George H. Houghton, rector of the Church of the Transfiguration, said: "I have never before heard of a clergyman of the Episcopal Church engaging in a political campaign and making speeches. Of course I am opposed to any such course. It is not whot a ciergyman is ordained for, as you will see if you read the ordination vows, and it is against the teachings of the church. Dr. Rainstord is a law unto himself, but I don't think his course a proper

Dr. Rainsford will not return to the city until the latter part of the week. One of his assistants, when asked if the recto his assistants, when asked if the rector would make any more political speeches during his trip in New England, or any in New York after his return, replied: "I know absolutely nothing in regard to Dr. Ezinsford's plans as to making political speeches. This clipping you have just handed me is the first I have seen of his already having made one."

ready having made one." A Question for Each One to Decide. Continuing, in regard to his superior's course, he said: "The question of whether it is wise or unwise for a clergyman to go into a political campaign is one that every clergyman must decide for himself, it seems to me. When the morals and general welfers of the people are stable Jetter of to me. When the morals and general welfare of the people are at stake I think it is their duty to do so. Y u may be sure that Dr. Rainsford considered the question well before he took his present step, and decided in favor of what he considered his line of duty. I am sure it is a voluntary one on his part, and that he has absolutely no connection with the Democratic campaign speakers' committee, and I am sure everyspeakers' committee, and I am sure every-body who knows Dr. Rainsford will not for a moment question his motives."

He intimated that he thought Dr. Rainsford believed that a reduction of the tariff would be for the good of the laboring classes, and that his great interest in them prompted him to take the stump in support of Cleveland. It will be remembered that a clergyman played a very important part in Mr. Cleve-land's election when that gentleman ran against Mr. Biaine.

Society Leaders Non-Suited - Apparently

Ill Suited.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 .- It is settled that there can be no legal interference offered to Godey's by the four prominent New York Godey's by the four prominent New York ladies who figured last month. It was a daring scheme. Young blood has fired old Godey's to quite un-Godey-like enterprise. Colored plates of society leaders in their best gowns are to appear each month and the proposition is to take a different city each issue. They will be unmolested. Human nature insures that, for the pictures are not only true to life, but are really well done.

A GOOD PAYING INVESTMENT.

Pittsburg is away ahead of most cities in the matter of fine lodging houses.

At the corner of Liberty and Fourth streets there stands a lodging house that has acquired the reputation of being not finly the finest in Pittsburg, but also in the United States. The entrance is at No. 325 Liberty street. It is known as the Anchor Hotel. The botel occupies three floors, and has in all 52 bedrooms, in audition to the office, dining room, kitchen, pantries and storerooms. The rooms are carpeted and nicely furnished. Lodgers are charged 25c, 32 and 30c, according to the location of the rooms. The building is well lighted and well ventilated, and all the rooms are pleasantly situated. There are halls on each floor. The stairways are large and airt, and there is not a gloomy spot in the house. Toilet rooms are located on each floor. The building is lighted throughout with gas. The plumbing is first class in every respect.

Mr. Wallace, the proprietor, is oftering the hotel and fixtures for sale. Should the purchaser desire to start a bar in connection with the hotel he could do so. Mr. Wallace has five or six other business enterprises on hand, and this is his reason for selling. The work of attending to all of them is undermining his health, and he leefs that in his own interest he must let a paying business, of attending to all of them is undermining his health, and he leefs that in his own interest he must let a paying business, of attending to all of them is undermining his health, and he leefs that in his own interest he must let a paying business, of attending to all of them is undermining his health, and he leefs that in his own interest he must let a paying business, of attending to all of them is undermining his health, and he leefs that in his own interest he must let a paying business, of the Anchor Hotel is doing a good business, and now clears about $2,000 per year. It would be just the tuing for a man and wire with a lamily of grown girls.

Mr. Wallace also offers for sale the Coz A GOOD PAYING INVESTMENT.

Mr. Wallace is proprietor of "Ed's" steam laundry, located at 44 Liberty street. He has another laundry at the corner of Third street and Penn avenue, and he is going to build still another one in the East End. He is also proprietor of the Star Towel Supply Company. It will be readily seen that he cannot attend to all these enterprises at once and do justice to any of them.
