NO CHANCE TO APPEAL

From the Decision of Election Inspectors in New York City.

NO COURT TO BE HELD HOLIDAYS

To Afford an Aggrieved Citizen an Oppor

A WRIT OF MANDAMUS TO BE ISSUED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK, Oct. 21 .- In setting aside the order of Justice Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, fining Timothy J. Donovan $250 and imposing ten days' imprisonment on him for his failure to obey a writ of mandamus requiring him to accept the vote of Horace M. Lower in the Seventh elec tion district of the Second Assembly dis trict last election, the Court of Appeals, October term, has abolished the practice of having a Supreme Court Justice hear applications for mandamus on election day. Other election days have been busy days at the county Court House. The Justice assigned to duty for the occasion up to about 3 P. M. has had his hands full of business, and, indeed, it has sometimes been necessary to have more than one judge act.

Since the adoption of the booth system of voting many questions have arisen concerning it, and last election day many voters applied for writs who declared that the Inspectors had without proper cause refused their votes.

No Count to Be Held on a Hollday.

Lower was one of three whose votes were refused. He had found difficulty about folding his ballots. He obtained an order to show cause why a writ of mandamus should not issue against the Inspectors, returnable forthwith. The Inspectors did not appear at the hearing, and Justice Law-rence issued a writ of mandamus against them. It was alleged that Donovan had set the writ at naught, and, when it was served, had said that he would not regard the order. Two of the Inspectors wanted to obey the writ, and the other, while voting with Donovan, did not use words setting the Judge at defiance.

The general term affirmed the order ad-judging Donovan in contempt. The appeal was on the ground chiefly that no court can be held on a holiday, and that a mandamus can be issued only by a court, and not by a judge. This is not as clear to the mind as judge. This is not as clear to the mind as to lawyers, who are obliged to discriminate between orders of Court and orders of judges. In a long opinion, written by Juege Andrews, with Judge Gray dissenting, the Court of Appeals decided that this position was well taken, and that no Judge where a special statute was pleaded, can issue a mandamus, but that it must issue from the Court. The Only Remedy With the Legislature.

"The right of a voter to vote," says the Court, "may be lost unless this power shall be conferred. Under the statute no court can be opened within the State on the day of any general election to transact any business except for the purpose of receiving a verdict or discharging a jury and for the exercise by a single magistrate of certain jurisdiction in criminal cases.

"The voter who is refused the right to vote can resort to no court for relief until after his right is lost, as no court can entertain his application on election day. If an enlarged jurisdiction in these cases is expedient, the remedy is with the Legislature."

Not a Campaign Issue. A good many people seem to have an idea that the Presidental campaign is not attracting as much attention as usual. Maybe it isn't, but one thing is certain, those new "Grandtather's Hat" cakes recently put on the market. "Grandfather's Hat" cakes recently put on the market are proving immensely popular. We are sold that the Marvin Bakery, Pittsburg, Pa, with all their facilities for baking great quantities in a short time, can scarcely supply the demand. And it isn't political sentiment that is making the demand, either, for Democrats as well as Republicans buy them. "Grandfather's Hat" cakes are really delighted rainties and it is no wonder that the people like them. Ask your grocer for them. tunity to Ask For
