BEANFLOWER SEEDS USED BY PEASANTS

RESPONSE OF THE SOCIETY OF MOSCOW, OCT. 7.

AM stopping in the Slavonic Bazaar here in Moscow. It is one of the biggest hotels in the world, and though this is a land of famine I have never lived so well as I have in Russia. The Russians eat as much as any other people on the face of the globe. Their meals are big ones and they are always nibbling between them. The hotels of this city and St. Petersburg are among the largest in the world. The hotel at Moscow must cover five acres, and you can feed 1,000 people in its restaurant at one time.

The restaurants of these Russian hotels have separate cellars from the rooms of the hotel and you pay for your meals when you get them.

very fair dinner here for 75 cents, and I had for this amount to-day a soup, a roast, some fish, some game and dessert. This meal was served under a great dome and my table was next to a marble fountain in which fish were swimming.

You Can Order Your Fish Alive.

When I ordered my fish I stepped up to the fountain and pointed out the fish I wanted to the white-gowned waiter, and he took a net and dipped it out and sent it to the kitchen. It was a live fish, and within ten minutes after the waiter had caught it I was drinking with bread and butter and nothing more. I order the water brought in a tumbler instead of a cup, and I have adopted the Russian method of drinking with bread and butter and nothing more. This breakfast I pay for with my room, and I am expected to give my waiter from 50 cents to $1 when I leave for having served it to me. The servants of a Russian hotel are generally men. They have a livery, and the porters and the messengers go about with curiously shaped caps on their heads and their pantaloons stuffed in their boots. The feathers in their caps indicate their different ranks and all their wear long coats, which in some cases are belted at the waist. The porter of the hotel, who is the interpreter and head of the information bureau, is dressed as gorgeously as a dandy, and his coat always sparkles with gold lace. You always find him about the door of a hotel, and the hotels here have no offices nor lobbies such as we have.

Keeping Accounts With Buttons and Strings. There are no clear stands, news depots and telegraph offices connected with the hotel, and the bureau of the rooming room of an establishment like this makes you think of that of a mercantile house. The bookkeepers work behind glass partitions and they keep a large set of books. They are their counting with buttons strung on wires, just as the Chinese do, and this means of calculation is found in every business house in Russia. In front of his hotel there are always about 50 droshkars, and the moment you go out there drive up to the curbstone and beckon you to ride. They take you to Russian and continue to do so until you have taken one of them. The rooms of the hotel are very comfortable and you will find finer floors in the hotels here than in any here in the world. They are laid as boards, and you have not to find a hotel here which has not been seen by me.

kill the king, and then they pushed on to the capital. Some Life at Its Best. That good King Josiah died, and all things went wrong again. Jehoiakim in his stead, and Jehoiakim was but another line of royal reptiles. In his days lived Habakkuk, the prophet of the Jews. He was a man of God, and he was not corrupted. The reformation had not accomplished all that good men had hoped for, but he was a man of God, and he was not corrupted. He was a man of God, and he was not corrupted.

A REVIEW OF SPORTS. Corbett's Claim That He Introduced Purely Scientific Boxing. WHAT HE SAYS ABOUT SULLIVAN. Something Must Be Done to Arouse Waning Interest in Baseball. LOCAL PROSPECTS FOR NEXT YEAR.

there, there is not that amount of interest being centered in the contest as there was in former similar contests. Of course, there are many causes for this lack of enthusiasm, and one of them is the double season. The truth is that something very great will be needed to restore the national game to its former prestige.

Probably the most important and interesting sporting feature of the week has been the publication of the letter written by James J. Corbett to his friend, Frank S. Sullivan, who is his opponent in the fight which he is to have on the 27th inst. at New York.
