GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH.] NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Baseball magnates are now looking forward with some impatience to the meeting of the National League, which is to be held in Chicago on November 16. It has been predicted that this will be the most lively convention in the history of the game, and it is believed that it will be over the attempt to split the 12-club league. A great many observers of baseball would not be surprised if there should be a reorganization, and an eightclub League and an eight-club American Association start the season of 1893. The 12-club league is certainly unpopular, and there is very little chance of the four old Association clubs to make any money next season. This their owners appreciate, and they do not propose to commit financial suicide by continuing a season so disastrous as this one has been. On Saturday, representatives of the New York, Brooklyn, Boston and Cleveland clubs had an informal conference at Boston, and this it is said indicates that a change of some sort is

This latter statement will, of course, be denied by the magnates and their "official organ," but the fact remains that there is serious disagreement in the camp. The news first published in Pittsburg that the magnates had agreed on something like a uniform rate of salaries is quite true, although the flopping League organ may de-deny it. True, there was no resolution passed on the subject or minute made of it, but it was tacitly agreed by the majority to act as already stated.

That the magnates are troubled is quite true. A New York club official said to-day: "Most of us know what should be done. The 12-club league and double championship plan should be abelished, but there are strong influences at work to keep it going. The longer it exists the worse it will be for baseball. Good paying cities like Pittsburg should take a bold stand and decline to have anything whatever to do with a 12-club league, and if this were done the great big inilure would vanish at once."

THE HARVARD TEAM.

Some Interesting Gossip About the Players and Their Prospects Against Yale. CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 25 .- [Special.]-Only four weeks remain now before the Harvard-Yale football game at Springfield, and Harvard men are beginning to get anxious. So many men have been hurt, and so many men have been tried in different positions, that but little practice in team play has been had, and, as usual, Harvard is wofully deficient in this respect. Once in a while the men will brace up and show what they can do but there is no continuous good playing as far as team work is concerned, and too many flukes occur at critical moments to give any confidence in a Harvard victory on November 18, 1892.

The one great cause for hope is the fact that Captain Trafford knows just how much work should be done, and is going to have it done if he can. Trafford and all the coachers know that individually Harvard has, by all means, a better team at present than Yale: but they also know that this was the case last year, yet Harvard was defeated.

It is well recognized now that one man, be he ever so good, cannot get by II men, even though they are not so proficient. Yet Harvard was the case is a code, cannot get by II men, even though they are not so proficient. Yet Harvard has not learned even now always to bear this truth in mind. In some of their plays around the end on Saturday, however, signs of improvement were shown. Waters plays around the end on Saturday, however, stens of improvement were shown. Waters as the head of the interference was very good. But this is only one play, and one play will not win a Yale rame.

Often of late years it has been impossible to tell who were to play at Springfield until the very day of the game. Men have been shuffled all round, numbers tried and discarded and general uncertainty has prevailed. So far this year matters have seemed to be going the same old way. But this has been only the necessary preliminary to finding the best men. Now the matter has been decided pretty definitely. Quarter back is allout the only doubtful place. The same men will probably play all the time in the same places for the next four weeks, and it will be possible to devote the time to team play.

team play.

Mackie will play center, with Waters and Acton beside him. Newell will be right tackie, Hallowell right end and Foster probably left end. Trafford will play full back. The other positions have not been definitely filled yet.

Football This Afternoon

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the second team of the Pittsburg Athletic Club will meet the Central High School team at East End Gym Park. It will be a very interesting affair. The High School team won its first game from the Park Institutes a week or so ago, and the Gyms' second team is composed of men, some of whom have played a good game as substitutes in the first team. On Saturday the second team will play at Uniontown, and the P.A.C.'s will meet Indiana Normal School on the home grounds at the East End. The teams for this afternoon will line up as follows:

P. A. C. Seconds.	Positions,	High School.
James Aull	Center	Speer

Yale and Princeton Game.

New York, Oct. 25 .- [Special.]-The Athletic Committee of the University Athletic Club has undertaken the task of managing the Yale-Princeton football game. The commit-tee met Presidents Moffittand Fraser, of Yale and Princeton respectively, yesterday afternoon at the office of C. F. Matthewson, No. 45 William street, and formally agreed to do 45 William street, and formally agreed to do the work. The committee consists of C. C. Cuyler, Princeton, Chairman; Guy Richards, Columbia; C. F. Matthewson, Dartmouth; Wendell Baker, Harvard, and George Adee, Yale. Messrs, Fraser and Mofflit made several suggestions as to the manner of issuing tickets, arrangement of the field, etc., and the many other details incidental to the big event were discussed. The meeting instead until 6 o'clock, when the two college football presidents left town, thankful and contented that they had been relieved of a great responsibility.

A Remarkable Challenge

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.-[Special.]-S. G. # AMATEUR WHEELMEN,

The L. A. W. President Opposes the Cash Prize Movement.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—It develops that the principal object of the Racing Board of the League of American Wheelmen, which for three days was in session in this city, was to suppress news in which the public are interested. The records passed upon were public property. In addition to the Johnson and Wendle cases already referred to the board has decided these cases: J. P. Bliss, who entered and rode in class races at Baltimora when he had no right races. Bliss, who entered and rode in class races at Baltimore when he had no right to enter, was suspended for 60 days. Roy Keaton, of the Lincoln Cycling Club, of this city, was suspended indefinitely pending investigation as to amateur standing. Regarding the cases supposed to be pending against the cracks of the East nothing at all could be learned.

Before leaving the city Colonel Burdette, President of the Racing Board, said that he was unalterably opposed to cash prizes. He declared if the prize league was formed the men who raced would be declared professionals and never reinstated.

The Half-Mile Run Record Broken. QUEMENS, L. I., Oct. 25 .- At the Queen's Athletic Club grounds here to-day, Miller Kenyon, of the Columbia Athletic Club Washington, broke the half-mile run record of 2:1814, by doing the distance in 2:12 2-5.

THE Bostons' benefit to-morrow promises to be the most elaborate of anything that ever occurred of its kind. Manager McGunnigle is to open a fine billiard hall in Brooklyn, and a nost of friends will wish him all luck.

THE four extra clubs hooked onto the old National League are four millistones around the neck of the national game. THE officials of the local club are confident that the pitching force of their team next year will be stronger than it was last season.

If the magnates want to retain any prestige at all for the initional game the 12-club league should be abolished as soon as possible.

The Bostons will play a picked nine for the bracilit of the helpless and bed-ridden Charles J. Foley, on the Boston grounds next Saturday after-noon.

ARTHUR CLARKSON, Sid Farrar, W. H. Wheelock, James McGarr, M. J. Slattery, Jack Ryan, James Sullivan, A. Ferson, J. Cooney, James Callopy and J. H. Fitzgerald are among the players reserved by the Eastern League. Miscellaneous Sporting Notes QUITE a number of new local football teams ar eing organized.

It is likely that the betting on the big football games this year will be very brisk. SATURDAY'S football game between the Colum-bia team and the Three A's promises to be a great NO. 12 of Goodwin's "Official Turf Guide" out, and it is a most valuable book for all person interested in turf affairs. CHRSS EXPEBT LASKER continued his victorious career yester; my by defeating J. M. Hanham after 36 moves. The latter selected a Philidor detense and got by far the worst of the opening. Moreover, he compromised his position by prematurery advancing his pawns of the queen's flank. After, Lasker had paid due consideration to the little attack he initiated a break into the opponent's citated and the end seemed near. However, the Major made a gallant struggle, but he was finally obliged to give up the exchange and resigned later in the game when a mate could not be avoided. Lasker has now won eleven games, lost one and drawn one. Dr. Simonson will play to-day.

son arrived here to-night to attend the meeting of the State Board of Agriculture. He will remain here until Friday morning, or as long as the annual meeting of the board continues. This evening he and the gentlemen accompanying him were ten-dered a reception by the people of Indiana. The Governor is the guest of J. W. Clark, son of the late Justice Clark, and his visit here has been quite in the nature of a social call as well as an official errand. The usual effort was made to interview him in relation to the political situation, but beyond the declaration that he thought refused to be pumped. He was painstaking but very adroit in doing this, switching the would-be interviewers off on to discussions of the World's Fair and the marvelous achievements of the Chicago people in connection with it. In the course of a really interesting dissertation on this subject, Governor Pattison said what may prove true prophecy in the time to come: "The Chicago man is a type," said he, "of that Western element which is sanguine beyond all argument, argumentative beyond all belief, and which has wrought out the most wonderful results in what was at one time rated one of the most unpromising of fields. We will do well to bear in mind, and to teach it to those who are to come after us, that hereafter in the history of this great country the East will not dominate the situation. Whatever is good for the teeming West will have to be con-

Cleveland would be elected the Governor

Works Well Liked at Braddock. BRADDOCK, Oct. 25.—[Special.]—General Superintendent C. M. Schwab, of the Homestead Steel Works, was hastily summoned from the works this evening to the Edgar Thompson plant. There he was greeted by a body of 1,000 workmen, including Superintendents Gailey, Cosgrove and Killeen, with other officials of many departments of the big works. When he was ushered into the presence of so many of his former workmen, cheers were sent up that made the building ring, the band burst forth with a strain of music, and Mr. Schwab could only bow in speechand Mr. Schwab could only bow in speechless acknowledgement of the reception. J.
M. McCanley, of the Transportation Department, then stepped forward upon a temporary platform beside Mr. Schwab, and in behalf of the employes of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works, presented him with a Mexican onyx cabinet, a silver tea set of rare beauty and great value, and a beautiful diamond necklace for Mrs. Schwab.
Mr. Schwab, in acknowledging the gifts, said he hoped every man present would experience the happiness he hunself had known during the three years he was Superintendent of the Eligar Thomson works.
Then the band struck up again, and as the

Then the band struck up again, and as the men took their departure from the big engine house where the presentation had been made, Mr. Schwab asked of Mr. Gailey the privilege of shaking hands with every one of them.

The Company Asks Them to Build Box Car. as Cheaply as Gondolas.

BETHLEHEM, PA., Oct. 25.-Fifty employes of the Stemton Car Works at Stemton are on strike. They have been building large gondolas for $15 a piece. Six men could build one in a day. The company has a contract for a lot of new box cars which they gave to the men to make at the same price. The employes claimed it would take two days to make a box car and objected to the decrease in wages. They offered to build each box car for $19. The company re-fused and gave the men until to-day to ac-cept $15. The works are idle.

Gas Is Short at East Liverpool. EAST LIVERPOOL, Oct. 25 .- [Special.]-The cold weather to-day discloses the fact that East Liverpool cannot hope to be warmed by natural gas this winter with the present sources of supply. As soon as there was a demand for fires the consumers found that both companies pretending to supply this city had not enough gas from their lines to warm half the town, so the factories have all been cut off. Still the supply for domestic use is altogether insuf-

A Second Strike at Niles. NIES, O., Oct. 25. -[Special. ]-The bitter fight in the Coleman-Shields mill here, which was recently settled, has broken out again. The roughers and catchers are now on strike over a difference in regard to work in the job mill. The management is thoroughly disgusted, and has stated the terms on which work must be resumed at once or the mills will be shut down again to stay. Women in Home Missions HARRISBURG, Oct. 25.—The opening session of the decennial meeting of the Woman's Home Mission Society of Penn-sylvania was held here this evening. Rev. Robert E. Speer, General Secretary of the Foreign Missionary Board in New York, made an address. Dr. Roberts, Senior Sec-retary of the Board of Home Missions, was the principal speaker of the evening.

He had managed to accumulate $350. This he left with his brother John. John and his wife wrapped it in a cloth, placed it in a tin box, and put the box in among the filling of a bed tick. There it remained undisturbed and was gradually forgotten. One day last week it was decided to refill the tick, and its contents, including the box, were dumped out and set on fire. Last Saturday a small boy who was poking among the sches found the box. The bills were partially descroyed, but can be redeemed, and the coins were fusid. THE WEATHER.

NEW POSTAL CARDS ON SALE They Fold Like a Sheet of Paper and Closely Resemble a Letter.

The new two-cent postal cards were put on sale yesterday. They consist of two cards joined togethe and folded like a sheet of writing paper. The idea is to put the address on one postal card, and the receiver can tear off the other and return the answer on it. It is an English scheme, and was adopted as an improvement in the mail service. The only objection Assistant Postmaster Edwards had to the new card is that small letters are liable to be concealed between the folds, and it will give the postal clerks more work to guard against mistakes. NEW YORK, Oct. 25.-A great gale is raging on the Atlantic. All the steamers that arrived here to-day had hard work weathering it. The Guion steamer Arizona, from Liverpool, experienced the gale for three days. The Hesbay, from Antwerp; Didam, from Amsterdam, and Saale, from Bremen, had a tough time in the storm. IN JAIL FOR DESERTION.

The Wife of a Theatrical Man Claims Her Husband Is Not True. George D. Wing was given a hearing before Alderman Gripp yesterday on a charge of desertion preferred by his wife, Sarah Wing. She alleges that last September, while they were living on Second avenue. Wing deserted her. He is a theatrical man and follows the theatrical troupe on their stands doing whatever they give him to do.

He denied her story emphatically and alleged that she deserted him and went away with another man and that the suit was only a scheme to extort money from him. In default of $500 bail he was committed to await a trial by court.
