BEHIND THE TIMES.

Mayor Kennedy Issues a Circular to the People of Allegheny City.

A PLEA FOR PURE WATER

Is Indorsed by the Signatures of Over Eighty Physicians.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED

To Maintain and Advance the Prosperity of the Northside.

HIS HONOR'S APPEAL FOR A BOND ISSUE

Mayor Kennedy has prepared a circular letter to the voters of Allegheny City. It will be issued to-morrow. In it the Mayor ardently advocates the issue of $2,250,000 worth of bonds to pay for much-needed public improvements. His Honor declares that in this feature the Northside is behind every other city in the United States. He also makes an earnest argument for purer

The Mayor says in his letter: "Our water at present is taken from the river below Herr's Island, and at a point opposite Twenty-second street, Pittsburg. When the Davis Island dam is up, the back water extends about half a mile above an influent pipe, making dead water at that point. We have on the Allegheny side, above our influent pipe, four sewers, one of them draining all of Trov Hill, besides several tanperies and white lead works. On Herr's Island are two factories for making fertilizers, one large abattoir or slaughter house, and a large stock yard, all their drainings emptying into the river above our Water Polluted by Sewage From Hospitals. "On the Pittsburg side there are some 11 sewers, including large ones like Twentyeighth street, from West Penn Hospital; the Thirty-third street, draining nearly all the East End; the Forty-second street, from St. Francis' Hospital, and altogether the sewage from some 75,000 people, within three miles above our present water supply. The new dam at Herr's Island will make the water still worse; that the water is full of filth and absolutely smells when drawn from the spigots no one will deny.

"And now for the remedy. We propose to lay a 60-inch pipe, commencing at present water works, thence up the Butler road to Pine Creek and river bank and Claremont to Nine Mile Island, where we would get pure water. At this point we would place a small pumping station, at an estimated cost of $30,000, and deliver the water to our present works in Allegheny. The estimated cost of running this pumping plant per year would be $15,000. At Nine Mile Island there is an excellent site for reservoirs for the future, or, if the natural filtering system is adopted, the island would make a perfect place. Above the island for five miles the hills are close to the river and no chance for a town being built in the water main to Nine Mile Island, we will reserve the right to stop at Six Mile Island, so that if we find the water good at that point and the natural plan of filtering through the gravel practicable, we could stop there and save a large amount of money. If we stop at Six Mile Island, the sewers of the Poor Farm, workhouse and new town of Aspinwall could be extended below our pumping station.

"With regard to streets we are probably behind every city in the United States. It costs from $80,000 to $100,000 per year to clean and keep in repair our old cobblestone streets, or about three times the interest or the proposed bond issue for streets. Now that the streets are washed clean, the pub-lic can see their condition for themselves, and it simply resolves itself to this ques-tion: Our cobblestone payements are worn out. Shall we buy new cobblestones and repave, or put down good improved pavements? The actual saving in repairs, without considering the question of improvement to adjacent property, will more than save the interest and amount placed to the sinking fund yearly. I consider it a good business proposition to save money by replacing our old cobblestones with a good, substantial improved assessment. substantial, improved pavement.

Many New Sewers Are Needed.

'As to sewers, whether the bond issue i favorably voted on or not, certain work must be done next year; the present Butcher's run sewer is in a bad condition, and must be promptly looked after. A sewer to run from Butcher's run to the river, via Madison avenue, can be constructed at far less cost than the old plan of a street or open water way. Woods run must have a sewer from the river to Brighon road, to drain a large portion of the Tenth and Eleventh wards. A main sewer on Perrysville avenue is absolutely necessary, as that portion of the city is without any sewers.

Our light towers in the Old City should be removed, and an equal number of lights on mast arms used justend. A number of streets without lights must be looked after, besides new lights in the rapidly growing suburban districts.

"If the bond issue is favorably considered by the people and passed, the millage the first year will not be increased more than 1/2 to 1 mill, and when all the bonds are issued, the millage would not be increased over from 1 to 2 mills above present millage, and, in my opinion, 1 mill will cover all increase when all bonds are is-"To do the work by direct tax would make a millage of over 30 mills. If the bond issue is voted down, we must increase our miliage 2 mills for sewers alone, without considering water or streets. "The citizens of Allegheny are all aware of the fact that we must improve our water, streets and sewers. If this is done our city will steadily advance; if the bond issue fails, then direct taxation is the only remedy. Bad Water Causing Much Disease of which empty into the river above the influent water pipe: Sewers of Pittsburg, es-pecially those carrying the waste from the West Penn Hospital and the Mercy Hos-pital, the Thirty-third street sewer, draining nearly all of East Liberty, which will increase as that part of the city grows.

selves in Trouble. A new feature of the peddlers' license law was brought to light yesterday. Ordinance Officer McKenna arrested two men for peddling under licenses issued to other persons. The men arrested went to the City Treasurer's office and stated that they had bought the wagons, business and the licenses of two peddlers who had retired from the business, and demanded to know if they had not a right to sell under au-thority of the license plates thus secured. The Treasurer decided in the negative, saying the law made the plates not transfer-

When Mayor Gourley was appealed to he was more liberal, declaring his belief that under the circumstances the plates should be transferrable. His Honor in-structed the officer not to proceed with the suits. He says a peddler's license should suits. He says a peader's heense should be transerred the same as a liquor liceuse, when the party holding it withdraws from business and it is taken up by another person. TICKETS FOR ALABAMA.

A Million and a Half of Them Printed in

A million and a halt of Republican ballots to be used in the election in the State of Alabama were printed in this city a week ago and on Monday last the tickets were shipped to the Alabama State Committee. There are 12 Congressional districts in Alabama requiring that number of forms of ballots, making the job of printing an unusually heavy one.

The report that such a large number of tickets were being printed in this city for a foreign State created no little confusion among the Democratic leaders, and it was reported that a sample of the ballots was promptly forwarded to the Democratic national headquarters.

Judge McClung's Caustic Criticism of a Very Negligent Son.

for Manslaughter.

THE NEWS OF THE COUNTY COURTS

"This case is enough to make a man ashamed of the race to which he belongs," said Judge McClung in the Criminal Court yesterday during the hearing of Lawrence Cullen, who was required to appear upon a rule granted to Elizabeth Smith to show cause why he should not support his aged and infirmed father and moth

Elizabeth Smith said that Mr. and Mrs. Cullen were 81 and 78 years of age respectively; that they were invalids and had to support them herself. She said that the old couple spent a great deal of their time during the last six years in the poorhouse. Mrs. Smith said it worried her a good deal to have the old people there, so whenever she was able she had them come and live with her. These periods varied from four to six months, until during the last 15 months she has had the constant care and support of her grandparents at her home, 105 Webster avenue. During this time Mrs. Smith stated that Lawrence Cullen, although he told her he was earning $10 a day, never contributed anything to the support of his parents, except in May, when he gave them $30, and in July, when they received $25 from him.

Defining His Average Earnings. Lawrence Cullen told virtually the same story except as to the amount of money he earned. He said at first that he earned from $7 to $10 per week, but upon being questioned by the Judge if he thought that was a fair average for a glass worker to earn, he said: "That's what I've made in the last two weeks."
"I don't want you to state what you have made in the last two weeks, but tell what would be a fair average of your earnings," would be a fair average of your earnings," said the Judge.

"Wy don't you tell the Court that you make $140 a month as your employer told me yesterday," broke in J. K. P. Duff, attorney for Mrs. Smith.
"I don't make that," replied Cullen, and after some wrangling with the opposing lawyer he finally said he made on an averlawyer he inally said he made on an average $120 per month, but was only employed eight months during the year, as the glass works, at which trade he works, always close down in summer. He further claimed he had asked the old people to come and live with him and he would take Old Mr. Cullen said his boy at one time lived with him on the Southside, and upon one occasion, about six years ago, when the old man was very ill and thought he was about to die, he deeded over the little property he had, valued at $1,300, to his son, Lawrence. He said Lawrence took the property and sold it and never made a return of a cent to his old father or mother Plain Speech From the Bench.

Judge McClung turned to Lawrence Cullen and said: "So you, after selling your father's only properly and keeping the money for yourself, allowed these aged people to be sent to the Poor Farm." Cullen protested that he did not know they were in the poorhouse, and further averred that he sold the place for $550 and his parents told him to keep the money if it would do him any good.

Lawrence Cuilen's wife was then examined. She said that she was sure that her husband did not know of his parents being in the poorhouse. She stated they lived in Bellaire, O., until recently, when they moved to Blair's station. About four years sent a letter and an invitation to the wed-ding to the old folks, but never got any re-ply. They afterward found a letter from them which had gone to the Dead Letter

After this testimony had been given, Judge McClung said: "Taking for granted everything that the defendant says, I make an order that Lawrence Cullen shall pay $25 per month to the support of his father and mether."

At this point the younger Mrs. Cullen turned to the Judge and said: "There is a stepson of Grandfather Cullen, son of Grandmather Cullen, named Jack Harrison, who makes good money as mine inspector up the street."

"Well," replied the Judge, "I will be glad to obtain the names of any others who should contribute to the old couple's support, for I should like to have the amount

Early yesterday morning the storm, which had been raging in the Northwest for the past two days, and which added so much horror to the big Milwaukee fire Friday night, struck Pittsburg at the rate of 25 miles an hour. Its speed was soon increased during the evening to 30 miles.

Soon after the wind became a gale the mercury began to fall. It wavered a moment in the tube, slid down a little, and as one big gust of wind followed another, the metallic fluid was gradually shoved down, until by evening it was chasing the freezing point. The people on the streets hurried along with their coats and wraps buttoned up, and with peach-blossom noses. No one tarried at the corners and each one attended strictly to his own particular busi-

The Reckless Wind.

And the wind played antics with the pass-ing throng. Hats, bonnets and other head adornments were removed unceremoniously from the craniums of unwary pedestrians, and were promiseuously scattered about the streets. Clouds of dust and dirt were whisked along by the driving blasts, and added to the annoyance of the people. It was an unu-sual wind for Pittsburg, but not much damage was done. The telegraph, tele-phone and electric wires suffered some. All were more or less wrecked in all parts of the city but these to the Feat were the city, but those in the East End were damaged the most. At the telegraph offices it was reported that the lines in West Vir-ginia, Eastern Ohio and along the lakes were badly crippled. As night drew on, the wrecks became more numerous and caused much trouble to the operators.

Sergeant Stewart Talks. Weather Observer Sergeant Stewart ves terday afternoon gave a synopsis of the weather as follows: "The storm that is now raging is only the lower edge of the storm center that has been playing havor in the Northwest and on the lakes. It is gradually moving eastward. There has been much snow all along the northern part of the country, and at places the weather has been quite cold. The barometer, which has been very low for the past 18 hours, is rising rapidly, and I think the wind will fall early in the night. Another storm has made its appearance in Montana, and the weather is becoming decidedly colder in the far West, but warmer in the States south of the Ohio river. There will be no rain, but the weather will become clearer and colder. The wind is now blowing at the rate of 30 miles an hour. At places on the lakes it reached as high a speed as 36 miles an hour, and was severer in every way than in this A PERMANENT GALLERY.

MR. JOHN W. BEATTY returned a few days ago from Scalp Level. Ir the smoke nuisance does not abate in this city Pittsburg artists may migrate in a body to some sunnier clime. Ms. M. B. Leissen had a large spirited com position in crayon of the landing of Columbus adorning a Fifth avenue window during the Columbus celebration. MR. JOSEPH R. WOODWELL has four large paintings completed for the World's Fair art gallery. Nearly all the Pittsburg artists expect to be represented also. MR. BRYAN WALL left a few days after his return from Michigan for Scalp Level for a few weeks' sketching while the autumna glory still lingers on the woods and fields. The Pittsburg Art School, under the direction of George Hetgel and John W. Beatty, now has some two dozen pupils on its rolls. There is also a department of china painting under the charge of Miss Mary Barnett.

THE Pittsburg members of the Advisory committee of the World's Fair for Art are Joseph R. Woodwell, 291 Wood street, and John W. Beatry, 413 Wood street, from whom blanks and information may be had. Some of the builders of this city may find it profitable to erect some studio buildings such as are to be found in any city in this country of any pretentions. MR. AND MRS. J. ELWER SALISBURY have written that they have arrived safely in Paris after a pleasant voyage. Mr. Salisbury intends to put in a severe course of study this winter, returning next year. He still retains his studio here, where a choice collection of paintings can be seen, and to which he is to send specimens of his work in Paris during his stay.

THERE were some notably fine etchings on exhibition at the different art stores this etched by James S. King from the painting by S. J. Ferris, shows us a high born lady of of the period, with her sedan chair, and lackey at the doorway of a picturesque snow covered colonial mansion. The photogravure, "Greek Girls at Play," from the painting by Sir Edward Leighton, President of the Royal Academy of London, shows spirited action in the figures and draperies. Mn. Dr Wolff Scanlan, who recently returned from a four years' course of art studying in Europe, is to open a studio here. Besides a course of three years in Paris at the Julian and Colarossi Academies under Bongereau, Constant Lefebore, Fleury, Courtois, Blane and others has traveled and sketched a great deal in the British Islands, Switzerland, Italy and Northern Africa. He thinks no country in the world excels the Orient for picturesqueness and gorgeousness of color. He reaped a rich harvest of sketches especially in Italy and Tunis.

Mr. Stevenson had great trouble with the Arabian models, as they are very erratic and independent. They generally earn enough the first day to keep them in dissipation for a week and are slow to return, while the poor artist is going crazy looking at his uncompleted picture. of his time henceforth to oriental interiors THERE was an exhibition at the Gillespie gallery this week of some two dozen spec mens of the best European artists. There mens of the best European artists. There were some notably good examples of Bougereau, Rico, Troyan and Millet. Among the other artists represented are Rosa Bonheur, whose painting is a very poor printing of that famed artist; De Neuville, Hagborg, Moxeau, Grolleron, Lessel, Huguet and Jacquet. The Millet, which is very small with a single figure, is quoted at $10 000, Millet was never out of financial difficulties, and would have been glad to have received 100 :rancs for his picture. Perhaps he did not even receive 50 for it.

TO TALK ON POLICE REFORMS.

Mayor Gourley to Open the Discussion in the Prison Congress. Mayor Gonrley yesterday received an invitation to address the National Prison Association at their congress in Baltimore the first week in December on the reforms and improvements immediately required in the police systems of large cities. His Honor is also asked to open the discussion on the police report, the most important subject to come before the congress. Major McClaughrey, Police Superintendent of Chicago, to whom the preparation of the report has been intrusted, extends the invitation. Warden Wright and Chaplain Milligan, of the penitentiary are anxious that the the penitentiary, are anxious that the Mayor should accept and he probably will.

BAD SHIN BONE SORE

Grew Worse Under Many Doctors and Many Remedies. Entirely Cured

In September, 1887, I had a sore come on my shin bone, just above the ankle. It began to pain me so much that I thought best to consult a doctor. He said it was a bad looking sore, and it might be a month or two before it got well. I thought I could not endure it that length of time. I tried his remedies, and the sore kept growing worse. Then I tried another doctor, and received no help. Then another, who was sure he could help me, but still the sore kept growing worse, kept growing larger all the time. I had another doctor examine it. He thought that perhaps the bone was affected, and I all the time. I had another doctor examine it. He thought that perhaps the bone was affected, and I had better go up to Albany. I had a good surgeon examine it, and he said the bone was not affected, and that it could be cared, but I had to att with my foot elevated. A surgeon doctor, from the city of New York, stopping at our house, said the same thing. In September, 1880, I was about my work as usual, I went to put on something to ease the pain. a stream of blood poured out. Got a doctor as soon as possible. It was thirteen weeks and two days before I went out of the house sgain. A gentleman boarding with us wrote you for your book. His wife had fold me what a wonderful remedy CUTICURA was, and what it had done for her little girl. I said to the lady. 'I have a mind to try CUTICURA.' She said. 'I have some with me I will give you.' I commenced at once, and it was the first olintment that I ever put on that agreed with the sore. Then I telt encouraged, for I had used so many different kinds and received no good. Then I got the CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and the sore is entirely healed, and has been for the eight or nine months. I say CUTICURA a cured me. I shall ever speak in highest terms of it, as I think and know that it did me agreat deal of good. Wish more people would try it.
